New Legislative Districts Created

Senate district I for the Minnesota legislature includes the area above, following reapportionment by a panel of judges. The area includes the former 67th legislative district plus Lake of the Woods county, Red Lake county and portions of Beltrami and Polk county. Added territory is shown in the shaded area of the map above.

Former House District 67A included Kittson, two tiers of counties in western Roseau county and the west three-fourths of Marshall county and was represented by Rep. Richard Fitzsimons of Warren.

District 67B included Pennington, east Marshall and most of Roseau counties and was represented by Rep. Andrew Skaar of Thief River Falls. Sen. Donald Sinclair of Stephen served the entire district.

Under the reapportionment ordered by the court, Marshall county is split east to west, placing Rep. Fitzsimons and Rep. Skaar in District 1B and leaving District 1A without an incumbent representative. Sen. Sinclair, the state's senior senator in years of service, announced earlier this year that he will not seek reelection.

District 1B now includes the south two rows of townships in Marshall county with the exception of Eckvoll, Valley, Moylan and Espelie, all of Pennington and Red Lake counties and the Polk county townships of Higdem, Sandsville, Farley, Brislet, Helgeland, Esther, Northland, Tabor, Angus, Brandt, Keystone, Euclid and Belgium.

District 1A includes all of Kittson, Roseau and Lake of the Woods counties, the northern two rows of counties in Marshall plus Eckvoll, Valley, Moylan and Espelie, and the Beltrami county, townships of Benville, Spruce Grove, Minnie, Lee, Hamre and Steenerson and the unorganized territory of north Beltrami county.

When Rep. Andrew Skaar of Thief River Falls was elected in 1962 for his first term in the legislature, he represented the 66th district which included Pennington and Red Lake counties. Later realignment created District 67B which dropped Red Lake and added east Marshall and most of Roseau county. The current reapportionment will create the 'third arrangement of district area which he will face in 10 years of state legislative service.

SCD Members Plant 16,000 Trees Last Year

Landowners in the Marshall-Beltrami soil and water conservation district planted over 16,000 trees during the past year for farmstead windbreaks, field windbreaks and plantings for wildlife or beautification. This amounts to over 30 acres of trees.

Anyone interested in planting trees next year should contact the district conservation office on Grygla to obtain assistance in planning the location, species and preparation required.

Tree ground should be summer-fallowed for at least a year before planting and kept cultivated for two to three years

800 In County Will Receive Set-Aside Checks

Set-aside payments will begin promptly with the beginning of the fiscal year on July 1 for farm program participants who have made early certification of compliance in the 1972 feed grain and wheat set-aside programs.

During July, approximately 75 per cent of the 800 Pennington county farmers enrolled in the set-aside farm programs probably will receive payment checks, according to an estimate by Winton Knutson, chairman of the Pennington county agricultural stabilization and conservation (ASC) committee.

Farm program payments are dependent upon producer certification, Knutson pointed out. "Early certification means an early payment," he said. "However, no one should make certification until he knows he is in compliance."

When a farmer certifies compliance, he reports the exact acreage of his set-aside land and program crops and designates the location of his set-aside acreage on a photocopy of his farmland. He also certifies that he has complied and will continue to comply with all program regulations. Certification is made at the ASCS county office.

As soon as a farmer certifies, ASCS begins processing for his program payments. Payments cannot be made before July 1 but the law provides they must be made as soon as possible thereafter.

Also as soon as a farmer certifies, his farm is subject to spot-check for compliance. A number of farms in the county are chosen at random each year for spot-checking.

While commenting that early certification means early payment, the ASC committee chairman also said that accurate certification, he may not change his mind nor make acreage adjustments, and a mistake can mean loss of some or all of his program payment.

Final certification date in Minnesota is July 15. Some 100 county farm program participants have already certified, Knutson reported.

He is hopeful that the number of early payments this year will exceed last year, when 50 per cent of the total earned by Pennington county farmers had been made by July 6.

"However, it all depends on how soon farmers come in to the ASCS county office to make certification. Judging by last year, if a farmer certifies by June 16, he will receive payment during the first ten days in July. After that, the time between certification and payment will range from 15 days to three weeks," Knutson said.

The 23rd annual Northwest Dairy Day to be held tomorrow will reward many of over 200 young people in the area for their part in the dairy industry. Major events are the dairy show and the coronation of a new Northwest Dairy Princess. All activities will take place at the Pennington county fairgrounds on the west edge of the city.

This year's show supervisor will be Harold Rosendahl of Norman county. Walter Schon of Fosston will handle the public address system for the day.

Steve Filipi of Angus, winner of the showmanship contest at Dairy Day 1971 will present a showmanship demonstration at 10 a.m. to open the day's activities. According to Stuart McLeod, president of the sponsoring Northwest Dairy Improvement Association, 184 entries have been received for the dairy show. Participants in the show will represent Beltrami, Clearwater, East Polk, Kittson, Lake of the Woods, Red Lake, Mahnomen, Marshall, Norman, Pennington, Roseau and West Polk counties.

Judges for the dairy show are Marty Carrico of Selkirk, Man., and Arnold Sandager from the University of Minnesota.

Awards for showmanship, best uddered cow of the show, grand champion grade, grand champion purebred, overall show champion, individual herd, county herd and participation for seven to 11 years at the annual Dairy Day event will be given.

Special honors will go to two area young men. Dave Dahlgren of Roseau will be awarded a purebred calf for being chosen last year's showman of the champion grade animal. A young dairyman who previously participated in Northwest Dairy Day and is now in the dairy business will receive special recognition during the show.

Highlighting Dairy Day events will be the coronation of a new Northwest Dairy Princess. Judging will take place throughout the day. Rudy Mehlhoff is in charge of the princess contest. The coronation will take place at 4 p.m., immediately following the awards presentations.

Elect Fremstad As Head Of MFT

James Fremstad, counselor at Franklin elected president of the recently elected president of the Thief River Falls chapter of the American Federation of Teachers.

Fremstad will succeed Mark Schug, social studies instructor at Franklin, in the position.

Also elected to offices in the organization were Loiell Dyrud, English instructor at Lincoln high school, vice president; Ken Fletcher, special education instructor at Franklin, secretary; and Miss Cynthia Brooks, teacher at Washington elementary school, treasurer.

Leaf Spot In Alfalfa Found In Grygla Area

Common leaf spot in alfalfa was identified in the Grygla and Fourtown area last week by University of Minnesota extension plant pathologists. This is a fungus infection that can cause serious losses of quality and nutritive value in alfalfa fields.

It appears as a yellowing of the leaves with brown spots visible in the affected leaves. There is no treatment recommended, but cutting as early as possible will prevent it's effects.

If producers notice this yellowing in their fields, it is recommended that the field be cut without delay. It is not likely to reoccur on second cutting unless moisture and temperature conditions are favorable during July.

Soil And Water Districts Show Results For '71

During 1971, the 14 Minnesota soil and water conservation districts in northwestern Minnesota gave 3,335 landowners, operators and other land users technical assistance on conservation, planning and application one or more times during the year, according to Jerry Young, area conservationist in Thief River Falls.

The soil and water conservation district boards of supervisors in 1971 received 357 applications from landowners operating 158,442 acres to become district cooperators. To date, the 14 boards have approved 6,878 individual landowners covering 2,862,282 acres as district cooperators.

Soil conservation service personnel assisting the 14 districts developed with the landowners 212 complete soil and water conservation farm plans and made 37 inventories and evaluations at the owners' requests.

The role of the districts and the soil conservation service has expanded over the past several years to include working with units of government. During 1971, 77 units of government were assisted in developing resource plans, making inventory and evaluations and site selection for public facilities.

There were 119 groups of landowners assisted with either an inventory and evaluation of their problem or the development of a total resource development plan.

Ready For State Pageant

WHY SO PENSIVE? Surrounded by materials dealing with the Miss Minnesota pageant to begin on Tuesday, Roxi Langlie, Miss Thief River Falls, has reason to do a little day dreaming. She will leave by private plane early Tuesday for Austin where she will be one of 49 contestants for the title of Miss Minnesota and a chance to represent the state in the Miss America pageant. For additional photos, see page 5.

Roxi Langlie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Langlie and Miss Thief River Falls of 1971, will leave early Tuesday to participate in the Miss Minnesota pageant at Austin. She will compete as candidate number 37 among the 49 reigning queens entered in the event.

"How This Land Can Sing" is the theme for the pageant and will be emphasized in a production number which will open the final competition Saturday night. Finalists will be announced following the production number and each of the finalists will appear in evening gown, swimsuit and talent competition.

Preliminary pageants will be held during the week with each contestant to compete in one phase of competition on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights. Miss Thief River Falls will compete in swimsuit on Wednesday, evening gown on Thursday and talent competition on Friday. She is a member of the "blue" group of candidates which follow that particular schedule.

Rehearsals will be held each day and Roxi's personal interview with the judges will take place on Thursday. A new event this year will be a bicycle parade on Wednesday at 3 p.m. with all candidates riding bicycles in the parade.

Roxi will leave at 7 a.m. Tuesday with her chaperone, Mrs. William Wood, and Thief River Aviation pilot Harvey Deterling. Registration will be at the Holiday Inn in Austin. While in that city for pageant competition, however, she will stay with a host family in a private home. An awards breakfast will be held Sunday morning.

Miss Langlie was crowned Miss

50 Per Cent Of Students Return Dental Cards

Only 50 per cent of the grade school children in this community have yearly check-ups by their dentist. This is indicated by the yearly pink dental card program in School district 564.

When students complete their dental work they are urged to return the dental card to their school. The report is requested by the Minnesota department of dental health.

According to Mrs. Margaret Race, school nurse, the low percentage of dental check-ups in this area is surprising. Participation in the immunization program is almost 100 per cent among these same children, she said.

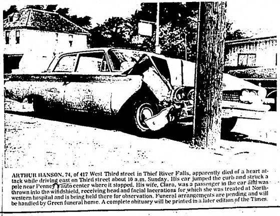
The highest dental card return this year was in Mrs. Madeline Robarge's fifth grade at Northrop with 90 per cent. The second high was Patrick Klemison's sixth grade at Knox with 82 per cent. High return at Washington was Mrs. Peterson's thrid grade with 69 per cent. At Mark Twain, Mrs. Hanson's third grade had 65 per cent. Mrs. Waale's sixth grade at St. Hilaire had 50 per cent return of cards, which was the average dental card return.

Elks Hold Flag Day Exercises

Elks Lodge 1308 of Thief River Falls will hold public flag day exercises and program today (Monday) at 8 p.m. in the Elks hall.

The local Lodge is participating in a nation-wide Elks program, a "demonstration for America", to show support for democratic institutions.

The public is invited to attend



ARTHUR HANSON, 74, of 417 West Third street in Thief River Falls, apparently died of a heart attack while driving east on Third street about 10 a.m. Sunday. His car jumped the curb and struck a pole near Penney's auto center where it stopped. His wife, Clara, was a passenger in the car and was thrown into the windshield, receiving head and facial lacerations for which she was treated at Northwestern hospital and is being held there for observation. Funeral arrangements are pending and will be handled by Green funeral home. A complete obituary will be printed in a later edition of the Times.

Fluoride Program Starts Recently In Local Schools

A fluoride application program was started in the Thief River Falls schools recently, according to Mrs. Margaret Race, school nurse.

Self-application of fluoride paste to children's teeth was approved by Thief River Falls dentists and offered to area thrid graders last month.

Fluoride application treatments were introduced to Minnesota schools a short time ago by the department of health.

Fluoride has been added to water and dnetists have applied the fluoride directly to teeth as a help in preventing tooth decay. The results have been termed beneficial.

But not all children take advantage of their dentist's treatment and rural children do not have fluoride in their water supply. So 270 children in thrid grade participated in the first fluoride treatment. Five or six applications will be given over a period of three years.

Next year fourth and fifth graders will also take part in the program if parents are interested. The only cost is the price of a toothbrush.

The self-application is not a substitute for the thorough treatment given by dentists, but it should help, Mrs. Race said. Better and more frequent tooth brushing is also emphasized by dentists and the schools in preventing tooth decay.

Variety Noted In Activities At Oakland Park

Activities recently at Oakland Park nursing home have included a bridal shower, birthday parties and church circle visitations, in addition to the open house and grandparents day activities reported in an earlier edition of the Times.

The bridal shower was given in honor of Mrs. Lollie Owen, charge nurse for a number of years at Oakland Park. For the occasion the activities room was decorated by the residents with pink streamers and white bells. Upon her arrival, Mrs. Owen was presented with a corsage of small roses and a miniature orchid. Mrs. Gertrud Ross pinned the corsage. Planning the event and serving as hostesses were Emma Christianson, who played the piano for group singing, Alice Sehlstrom, and Elna Swanson, who also read an appropriate poem which she had composed. I. W. Larson extended the best wishes from the residents. A gift was presented to Mrs. Owen along with a number of articles made by the residents. Lunch served by the hostesses featured pink and white cup cakes.

The April birthday party was hosted by the women of the Black River church with Mrs. Arlo Scholin in charge of the program and refreshments. Honor guests at the party were Jennie Olson, Henry Hanson and Ed Erickson, who had birthdays during the month of April.

At the May birthday party, a group of women from the Zion Lutheran church of this city presented the program and served lunch. Mrs. Ronald Mooers was in charge. Musical selections were presented by Gurha Zawee, a student from New Guinea, and Erick Thorsgard. Miss Zawee also played the ukelele and sang several selections in her native language.

Two circles from Trinity Lutheran church visited residents at the home recently. The Miriam circle, with Mrs. Gunderson in charge, served afternoon coffee and visited with the residents, as did members of the Eunice Circle. Since members of the Eunice circle, are working women, they visited the home on a Saturday afternoon, and the following Friday afternoon, they provided angel food cake for the afternoon lunch.

On Memorial day, all the residents wore poppies provided by the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Neil McFarlane moved from Canada to the United States in 1880 and settled near Grayton, N. D. A few years later, he moved his family to Roseau county, homesteading there. Several of his children also homesteaded in Roseau county and lived there all their lives.

The descendants of Alex, Minnie, Carrie, Neil, Mary, Maggie and Wilbert McFarlane are planning the reunion. A potluck dinner will be served at noon, followed at 1:30 by a short program featuring some of the history of the McFarlane family.

Friends and neighbors of the families are welcome to drop by to visit and renew acquaintances.

Debbie Hanson-Tom Price Vows Said In Strathcona

Baskets of white and pink gladioli interspersed with white lilies and green carnations graced the altar at the Grace Evangelical church at Strathcona for the recent wedding of Miss Debbie Hanson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hanson of Strathcona, and Tom Price, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Price of Wolverton.

Rev. Robert Ludwig of Roseau officiated at the double ring ceremony. A friend of the couple, Roy Gjovik, presided at the piano and organ, and played the traditional processionand and recessional. Alvina Hanson, cousin of the bride, and Jimmy Gjovik, a friend of the couple, sang "Hawaiian Wedding Song," and "One Hand One Heart." As the couple knelt at the altar, Rev. Reimer, pastor of the Wolverton Grace Evangelical church read the poem, "Prayer of the Bride and Groom" and Marchelle Svoboda, friend of the couple, sang, "We've Only Just Begun."

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. Along the aisle, the pews were marked with baskets of assorted imitation flowers made by the groom's mother.

For her wedding, the bride selected a floor-length A-line gown of satapeau fashioned with full bishop sleeves. Alencon lace, embroidered with pearls, enhanced the neckline. Matching lace motifs were scattered across the lace edged circular train. Her bouffant shoulder-length illusion veil was held by a lace headpiece. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses, green mums and miniature white carnations, complemented by babies' breath.

Shirley Hanson attended her sister as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Naomi Zak and Debbie Olson of Thief River Falls, friends of the couple. All wore identical green gowns featuring misty sheer over acetate taffeta bodices and gracefully shirred skirts of scalloped lace. The bodices, styled with lace bibs and sheer sleeves, were fashioned with raised waistlines, outlined in satin. Each attendant carried a basket of white and green mums with babies' breath and trailing ivy.

Flower girl was Cheryl Strandberg, cousin of the bride. Her gown, designed like the bride's, was fashioned by Mrs. Minnie Hanson, grandmother of the bride. She carried a basket of rose petals.

Judy Johnson was the bride's personal attendant.

Best man was DuWayne Price, brother of the groom. Groomsmen were Kurt Hanson, brother of the bride, and Bruce Dobois, friend of the couple. They wore identical green dinner jackets with black trimmed lapels, black bow ties and dark trousers. The groom was attired in dark trousers and a white dinner jacket. Ushers were Kevin Hanson and Jim Price, cousins of the bride and groom, respectively. All the men of the wedding party wore green and white carnation boutonnieres.

The mother of the bride was attired in a peach colored dress accented with black accessories. The mother of the groom wore a pink princess styled dress with sheer sleeves. Their corsages were of white carnations and pink roses.

Honored guests were Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Hanson, godparents of the bride.

A reception for about 250 guests followed. Serving as host and hostess were Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Hanson of Warren, great uncle and aunt of the bride. Susan Hanson was in charge of the guest book.

The bell-shaped wedding cake, baked and decorated by Mrs. Berdean Knutson, friend of the couple, was cut and served by Mrs. Russell Elseth of Karlstad, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. DuWayne Price of Tacoma, Wash., sister-in-law of the groom. Pouring were Mrs. Elmer Hagstrom of Strathcona, great aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Jack Price of Hawley, aunt of the groom.

Helping to serve the guests were aunts of the bride, Mrs. James Johnson of Roseville and Mrs. Larry Johnson of Stephen. At the bridal table were Lona Hanson of Thief River Falls, cousin of the bride, and Marchelle Svoboda of Badger, friend of the couple. Wayne Hanson and Rose Strandberg, brother and cousin of the bride, poured the punch. Head waitress was Mrs. Randy Lorenson.

Gift carriers were cousins of the bride, Loretta Johnson of Osage and Guy Strandberg. Opening and arranging the gifts were Ronalie Bauttheaur, Jeannette Willard, friends of the bride, and Vicky Lorenson, cousin of the bride.

For her going away attire, the bride wore a floor-length crepe dress styled with a black and white skirt topped by a white fitted bodice with a turtle neckline. To accent her attire, she wore black accessories and a corsage of green carnations.

The couple is presently making their home in Alexandria. The groom is employed by Bellanca Aircraft. Photo, Agnew Photography, Mahnomen.

KITCHEN KARNIVAL

Features from the Kitchen of

Grandpa Fix

Today Kitchen Karnival is invading the kitchen and private life of Grandpa Fix. To my knowledge, it is the first time we have published a recipe from a man. I hope it is just the beginning, as there are many men in the area who enjoy cooking. However, that was not the case with Grandpa Fix. When he began cooking, about eight years ago, his experience was limited to frying eggs and an occasional batch of pancakes.

After several years of doctoring, after a bout with pneumonia from which grandpa never seemed to recover, his ailment was diagnosed and he was given the verdict, "so far there is no cure." Although he continued working for a number of years, the time came when he had to retire. Without his determination, the adjustment period would have been difficult. When his wife went to work, he took-over the kitchen, rearranged the cabinets to his liking, and learned to cook. Those first meals were sad. Whenever he had a cooking problem, rather than call his wife, he'd call his married daughter or some of his wife's friends.

Time passed and he became more proficient in the culinary arts and with the passing of years, five grandsons were added to the family circle. As the grandsons learned to speak, they would come with broken toys and say, "Grandpa, fix." He has mended everything from a plastic top, found in a carmeled pop corn box, to a ceramic pixie who's "arms and legs wouldn't bend" as it was forcibly pushed into a wishing well for a swim.

There is no generation gap between Grandpa and his grandsons as they turn the soil with their trowels, feed the birds, watch lady bugs drink a drop of spilled fruit juice, read story books or play the kid-game, "Are You Ready". From them he has learned about dinosaurs, and the thorough indoctrination being done in the advertising field. It is difficult to say who is benefiting the most or who is the most thankful—Grandpa Fix, his little men, his wife or his daughters, who on Sunday will be able to say, "Happy Father's day, Dad." Her empire bodice was styled with Juliette sleeves, featuring wide buttoned cuffs. A nine-foot train completed the gown. She carried a bouquet of carnations.

Miss Jane Rice of Abilene, Tex., was maid of honor. Train bearer was Melodi Walsberg, sister of the bride.

Johnny Combs of Denton, Kans., served as best man. The ushers were Victor Walsberg, Jr., brother of the bride, and Bill Bynum, both of Wichita.

Karlstad Given $750,000 Loan For Nursing Home

Village of Karlstad was granted a $750,000 loan recently for the construction of a 52 bed nursing home. Announcement of the approval of the loan was made by Minnesota Senator Walter F. Mondale and 7th District Congressman Bob Bergland.

According to Rep. Bergland and Sen. Mondale, the loan was issued by the U. S. department of housing and urban development (HUD) and is part of a comprehensive program for health care in the Karlstad area.

Work began on formation of the project about two years ago by the Karlstad hospital board and the Karlstad village council. The Agassiz health planning council approved the project last January.

Now that the loan has been approved, completion of the shop drawings by the architect will be the next step. Then plans will be submitted to the state and HUD for approval. Bids may be let in August and construction is expected to begin in September. Once underway, construction will take approximately nine months for completion.

The loan from HUD will cover the entire cost of the project, but does not include the land and development costs incurred by the hospital and village. Village-issued revenue bonds will provide for the repayment of the loan.

Since the bonds are guaranteed by HUD, the members of the hospital board feel they will have a low interest rate.

Construction site for the nursing home is in the southwest portion of the village on property formerly owned by George Rasmussen on Washington and Second street. Rasmussen donated the property with the provision that it be used for some public good. The Karlstad Property Corp. has cleared the title on the property and with other village property nearby, the total amount of land is about six acres.

The 52-bed nursing home is designed for intermediate care of patients who are able to get around on their own. Facilities will contain a kitchen and central dining area along with recreational facilities, provisions for diversified activities, physical therapy facilities, a chapel and a personal service area for barber and beautician services.

Both soil conservation service personnel and soil conservation district personnel assisted district cooperators establish the following practices in the northwestern corner of Minnesota during 1971: 86,000 acres of acceptable conservation system; 58 acres of critical area plantings; 122,000 acres of crop residue management; 11 animal waste disposal lagoons; 3,441,000 feet of shallow field drainage ditches; 305 acres of farmstead feedlot windbreaks; and 103 grade stabilization structures for the stabilization of ditch outlets;

Also 38 acres of grass waterways; 522,000 feet of field windbreaks; 19,000 acres of minimum tillage; 40,000 acres of pasture and hayland seeding and management; 215 livestock ponds; 80 acres of recreation area improvement; 26,000 feet of recreation trail and walkways; 425 acres of stripcropping; 129 structures for water control; 181 acres planted to trees for reforestation; 13,100 acres wildlife upland and wetland habitat management; and 180 acres of woodland improvement.

"These practices reflect an action program on the part of landowners and the soil conservation service and the soil and water conservation districts in northwestern Minnesota to treat and manage resources according to their capabilities. This concern for the environment and its quality is reflected in the wide variety of assistance being given," Young said.

Approval Given For Rest Area Near Erskine

Minnesota Department of Highways has obtained approval from the Federal Highway Administration for design of the Oak Lake safety rest area on highway 2, about 1½ miles east of the intersection with highway 59, near Erskine.

The project includes construction of a central building housing restrooms and a lobby equipped with an information board, drinking fountains and telephones. Two parking areas will accommodate 20 cars and seven car-trailer combinations or trucks on the 10-acre site. A surfaced terrace is planned overlooking Oak Lake. Two picnic shelters with tables and 11 "open" picnic tables on the grounds are provided in the plans.

Access and exit driving lanes would be illuminated by overhead fixtures with the lighting system extending along walkways in the area. The site development layout provides for a third parking area if needed in the future.

The improvement will be financed under terms of the 1970 National Highway Beautification Act, according to the proposal submitted.

Roseau Boy Is Injured In Fall From Tall Tree

A bird in the hand is worth two damaged intervertebral discs to a Roseau boy.

Rodney Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Johnson, fell some 58 feet from a tree at the Northwest Angle clutching a raven chick recently.

Rodney had the bird in his hand just as a branch gave way. The boy fell, grabbing at branches on his way down.

Rodney reportedly lay unconscious for about three hours before recovering. He awoke with the raven in one hand, a tree branch in the other. There was a deep impression in the ground where he had fallen.

He managed to walk to the family cabin and was brought to the Roseau hospital where he was put in a cast for his injured spine.

Rodney is making a pet of the raven which was uninjured in the capture mishap.

THREE PHASES of competition are involved in the Miss Minnesota pageant this week in Austin. Miss Thief River Falls, Roxi Langlie, is shown as she will appear in evening gown, swimsuit and talent competition. The evening gown is bright baby blue polyester chiffon over polyester crepe and was made by Roxi's mother. The swimsuit is a bright orange and the talent costume has a long sleeve, purple top and bright print skirt. Roxi will play the guitar and sing "Songs To the Aging Children Come" for her talent number at the pageant.

Noise Limit Law To Be Enforced By Patrol Teams

Minnesota highway patrol teams which will enforce the state's new highway noise limit law have undergone training in the use of the noise measuring devices they will employ. Enforcement will begin this month at locations throughout the state.

Under a 1971 law, it is illegal to operate a motor vehicle whose gross weight is 6,000 pounds or more or a motorcycle which scores more than 90 decibels of sound on the "A" scale at speeds above 35 miles per hour.

Patrol officers have been trained in the use of the delicate testing instruments and the tricky environmental conditions required for accurate readings of the sound. Three teams will be assigned to the work at changing locations, two men using the instruments and one manning a patrol car in radio communication with the instrument team.

Trucks exceeding the noise limits will be issued warning tickets requiring correction of the defect. Noise-creating defective mufflers and tires will be handled as separate offenses. While major attention will be given to truck traffic, the teams will take readings on other motor vehicles exceeding the noise limits, and issue warning tickets.

Noise limit on vehicles other than trucks is 86 decibels at speeds above 35 miles per hour. At speeds of 35 MPH and less the noise limit for trucks and motorcycles is 88 decibels and for other vehicles, 82.

The law also places noise limits on vehicles manufactured after January 1, 1975, aimed at reducing truck and motorcycle noise to 86 decibels and other vehicle noise to 84 decibels.

Senator Mondale Accepts Party Renomination

Pledging himself to help "restore the kind of government that can reclaim the respect of its people," Senator Walter F. Mondale announced his candidacy Saturday for another term in the United States Senate.

Sen. Mondale, 44, made the pledge in Rochester in accepting the Democratic-Farmer Labor nomination to run again for the Senate seat he has held since 1964. He told the DFL convention that "our party. . .can help turn America from a brutal war to humane peace, from neglect and despair to commitment and hope.

"I want to be part of that effort," he said.

"Together, we can make government decent again—make it strong in its integrity, and guided by feeling and compassion."

The challenge facing elected officials, Mondale added, is to take the steps that are necessary to stem "the growing conviction of the American people that their government can't solve their problems and won't listen to their needs." He said the Democrats must share the blame for "this dangerous mood of frustration and despair," but added that "three years of a cynical and indifferent administration have taken a heavy toll on American life."

As he has in the past, Mondale repeated his calls for abolishment of the Congressional seniority system and for establishment of a publicly supported campaign-financing system that will "get politics out of the clutches of money.

"But institutional reform is only the beginning," he said. "If government is going to meet the real and urgent needs of its people, we can no longer afford to waste billions of dollars on useless military hardware, on extravagant unneeded ventures in space, and on tax give-aways to big corporations.

"As I travel throughout this state, no one tells me that they need a space shuttle," he added. "And yet every day, I see and hear a desperate need for jobs, for decent farm income, for a fair tax structure, for air to breathe and water to drink, for decent health care, for quality education, for social security and retirement programs that lead to a secure and dignified life, and for so many other basic obligations that a democratic government owes to its citizens.

"Our party must see that those needs are met," he continued. "That is the kind of government our party should stand for—the kind of government we should administer whenever we hold office."

Janet Cummings Will Enroll At Mankato State

Janet Cummings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elton Cummings, has been accepted for admission into Mankato state college, Dr. Ross C. Alm, director of admissions, announced this week.

The school of health, physical education and recreation offers a major in recreation and park administration which prepares graduates as professional leaders, supervisors and administrators for municipalities, schools, youth agencies, campus, industries and other governmental units. Miss Cummings plans a recreation major.

Shorthand Still In Demand By Many Employers

"From time to time educators counsel students not to take shorthand because "shorthand is on the way out, it is being replaced by dictating machines". In fact, many people not involved with education have been predicting the doom of shorthand for years, says Adolph Beich, assistant professor in the division of business at the University of Minnesota technical college, Crookston.

"Is the shorthand-writing secretary or stenographer really on the way out? Look at the facts," he asserts.

The best barometer of job opportunities available is the "help wanted" section of the newspaper, the job openings listed with the Minnesota manpower services department or the placement services of various educational institutions offering secretarial training. Judging by the job openings for secretarial help, businessmen are not aware that shorthand is being replaced by "machines".

While it is true that there has been a decline in the need for shorthand writers, he points out, there are still jobs that go begging for someone skilled in shorthand.

Locally, the Minnesota manpower services department reports that two-thirds of the clerical-secretarial job openings since the first of the year have had a shorthand requirement at varying degrees of skill.

"In the last six years since the founding of the U of M, Crookston, a few students have enrolled in our secretarial program after being turned away from a job offer for lack of this 'dying' skill," Beich says.

In a recent survey conducted by Mrs. Adelyn Olson in the Minneapolis St. Paul area, this need is verified. Of the 339 firms surveyed, one-third of all the businesses and one-half of the 84 large businesses indicate they consider a shorthand background when hiring office personnel, even when the jobs are non-secretarial. Firms feel such people are better-trained workers.

An employment agency in this survey indicates that there are two calls for shorthand ability as opposed to one call for dictating machine operators.

Shorthand is favored by many businessmen because of the human element,—for rush jobs, technical work and confidential material. Machine dictation is preferred as a convenience, however, for dictation after office hours. Machine dictation is favored by some employers as a matter of economics—two individuals are not needed for the dictation process.

Salaries for secretaries trained in the use of shorthand are generally at least $50 per month more.

Stenography is also a lucrative field for men, Beich says. At a time when the country is experiencing a high unemployment rate in many fields, young men need to consider the opportunities available for male secretaries. Secretarial jobs are plentiful in most areas.

Promotions to administrative or staff supervisory positions are often made from within a firm from capable secretarial personnel. There is a tremendous amount of influence and responsibility involved in working for executives and being constantly in the eyes of management. The secretarial field can be a "door opener" for a lucrative career for men as well as women.

The University of Minnesota technical college is offering courses in accounting and beginning shorthand during the summer sessions starting June 19.

Adults in the community are encouraged to take advantage of these educational opportunities by enrolling in one or both courses.

In the past, employed people in the community have arranged to take a business class during the day to update their skills in a number of business courses offered during the regular school year.

"Money alone is only a mean; it presupposes a man to use it. The rich man can go where he pleases, but perhaps please himself nowhere. He can buy a library or visit the whole world, but perhaps has neither patience to read nor intelligence to see. . . .The purse may be full and the heart empty. No More Magic

Sen. George McGovern captured the California primary over Sen. Hubert Humphrey by a five per cent margin—about one-fourth the spread which pollsters had earlier predicted. It seems that the left-leaning McGovern currently has the inside track for the Democratic nomination for President, but we would be surprised if Sen. Humphrey is at all ready to curl up and play dead.

Humphrey has lost some of his magic, however, and that loss is analyzed in a recent editorial in the Pope County Tribune as follows:

As recently as 15 months ago, the name of Hubert H. Humphrey was a magical word in Minnesota politics.

All DFL candidates wanted to be associated with Humphrey and down through the years, numerous congressmen and state office holders have ridden to victory on the coattails of the popular Humphrey.

But suddenly the name Humphrey doesn't have the attraction for the voters it once did. The Minnesota Poll released last week showed that as recently as Jan. 1971, 54 per cent of the voters approved of Humphrey and 34 per cent disapproved.

While his popularity since that time has never attained the 54 per cent mark, it did get as high as 48 per cent to 42 against as recently as March of this year.

But the last poll reveals that for the first time in his long political career, Humphrey is now on the negative side of the ledger, with 44 per cent disapproving of him and only 41 per cent approving.

Why this sudden turn about? In our opinion, it's due to three factors. In the first, place, Humphrey has generally been associated with the "establishment", and despite his earlier outstanding record in the field of civil rights, many of the younger voters are challenging what he's doing today.

Younger voters affiliated with the DFL have switched their allegiance to Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota in droves.

Secondly, Humphrey, as he has for many years, tries to straddle both sides of the issue, only now he isn't getting away with it. His stand on bussing, or should we say, stands, is a masterpiece of political double talk. Humphrey has always promised everything to everyone, but the people aren't buying it anymore, even from him.

Thirdly, Hubert is perhaps suffering from too much public exposure. Try as he might, he can't rid himself of the "made by Lyndon B. Johnson" image, which is not exactly a political plus in these times. He has the stigma of a loser after losing the 1968 presidential election to Richard Nixon.

People who once worked hard for his campaigns are now deserting his camp for McGovern, the bright new face on the Democratic horizon. Once the trend had set in, it's difficult to reverse it.

Humphrey is the favorite of the Democratic party leaders, but the electorate is rebelling against political authority, and he's been hurt by the attitude.

Each one of these factors by themselves isn't hurting him too much politically, but add them all up and you know why the name Humphrey doesn't light up the Minnesota political horizon as it once did.

Open Meetings Questioned

Decision by a Duluth judge recently that the school board in that city could, under certain circumstances, close its doors to the press and public, has created quite a stir across the state. The news media and school officials alike have expressed high interest, although Judge Luther Eckman's ruling was for Duluth only.

Judge Eckman issued a list of nine exceptions to the state's open meeting law which the news media worked long and hard to obtain as a protection for the public. A Duluth television station has indicated it will appeal the decision to the state supreme court and is being supported by other members of the state's news media in its appeal.

In our opinion, the state's open meeting law is quite clear. "Except as otherwise expressly provided by law all meetings, including executive sessions, of the governing body of any school district, however organized. . . .shall be open to the public." That shouldn't be difficult to understand.

What is at stake in the question? The basic right of the public to know what its elected officials are doing in the offices to which they have been elected is at stake. And since most people do not attend these sessions in person, they depend on the news media to tell them what is taking place.

The feelings of most of the state's editors and broadcasters was expressed by Jack Finnegan in a recent column in the St. Paul newspapers when he said: When newspapermen or broadcasters demand that meetings be open, they are not merely being self-serving—seeking a scoop to sell newspapers or generate an audience. They are attempting to uphold the rights of the public. It is the public which should be demanding that ALL meetings of public agencies—including committees where most of the real work of government is done—be open at all times. The media only represents the public. It seeks no special rights. The Duluth decision is a major step backward."

It is impossible to say what implications, if any, the Duluth judge's decision will have upon schools in this area or this community. We have a good working relationship with Thief River Falls school board and administration which has evolved from mutual respect and confidence. This is not to say that something couldn't happen which might strain that relationship, and it would be to everyone's advantage to have clearly defined law as a guide to follow.

We think that school officials here recognize the truth in a statement made by Robert Shaw of the Minnesota Newspaper association in a bulletin for MNA members.

"School boards should realize that the school system as a whole will ultimately suffer from secrecy," he writes. "If the taxpayers are suspicious because they haven't been able to get the facts, they won't support bond issues. . .they won't support the school in any way. The public has to be taken in as a partner in the decision-making process."

The news media must also recognize that it assumes an important responsibility in reporting completely, factually and accurately on those meetings which school boards and other public bodies hold

With Open Arms

The following comments are excerpted from an editorial in the Murray County Herald at Slayton:

"(George) McGovern, to most who believe the wise course is in the middle of the politcal road, has only two or three things going for him. One, and most important, he is obviously an excellent campaign organizer. Two, he is well financed. Three, he is outwardly a very nice fellow. And that's where it ends.

"McGovern's campaign statements to date have dealt in generalities, much as have the comments of Gov. George Wallace. His big theme has been a complete pullout of Vietnam right now—without saying how the residual forces there are to be protected or what fate will be faced by American prisoners of war in the North. He recently pointed out to a California group at a swimming pool dedication that the costs of the war in Vietnam for one month would build a pool of "this kind in every neighborhood in California.'

"Last Friday he came up with an income supplement plan whereby every family of four receiving a salary of less than $12,000 per year would receive income supplements to be paid for out of increased taxes on all those earning more than that amount. Under this program, a family of four of no income would receive from the government 'supplements' of $1,000 each or $4,000 per year. The amount of supplement would decrease depending on income from the zero point to $12,000 per year.

"He says the plan would eliminate the present 'mess of welfare' in America.

"It would also find a huge number of people who are now at least trying to get ahead give up the ghost and deliberately attempt to reach the "zero income" level—and they would be successful. In addition, under his plan the penalties for those in the extremely high income levels would be so great that any incentive that might exist at that level would be eliminated. Thus, as usual, the moderate and middle income groups would pay the bill.

"And, just so the candidate can't be accused of being too specific, a spokesman for him said that the whole idea was subject to considerable change.

"George is running on the wrong ticket. He doesn't belong with the Democrats, and he certainly doesn't belong with the Republicans. There are others, however, who would embrace his philosophies with open arms."

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Mrs. Lindholm usually reads the KITCHEN KARNIVAL in your paper. When she called to my attendtion the comments by E.M.S. in Thief River Falls Times, issued for June 5, I listened carefully. Later, I read those lines for myself. In these utterly mixed-up times, it is good, indeed, to be reminded: God did place a separation between sexes. . ."male and female created he them." Having read aforementioned "preface" with real appreciation, I'm led to send you a timely quote in the form of a reply to an interrogation. The question and reply follow:

What Is A Square?

"Everybody knows a few squares. I know one. He's that strong, polite, God-fearing young fellow who freely admits that he prays, weeps for joy, plays with little kids, kisses his mother, goes to his dad for advice, and thinks old folks are great. He wears clothes that fit him, puts savings in the bank, has his hair neatly groomed, likes school, can't imitate all the television comics, avoids dirty discussions about sex—he even blushes. He goes to church, drinks milk, drives within the speed limit, is in bed by 12, doesn't smoke and expects purity in girls.

"As a result of his unusual behavior, he suffers the loss of gang companionship; but he gains the gratitude and admiration of his parents, family and teachers, has an unjaded imagination, and enjoys spiritual perception. To some he may seem a strange fellow, but I LIKE HIM!"

—Amon.

With sincere appreciation of unmiddled thinking and unpretentious utterance,

In God's Grace,

7 ways to wring every dime out of your telephone.

If you're using the phone improperly, you may be wasting more money every month than the recent rate increase amounts to on your bill. Here are some tips that will help you use the phone more efficiently. Most of them will save you time and money. Some of them will also save us time and money and that will help us give you more economical service in the long run.

1. How to get Direct Dial savings.

Even though you can't yet dial long distance calls direct in this area, you can still benefit from low direct dialing rates, available on many long distance calls. Here's how: Simply call the operator who will dial your station-to-station call anywhere in the continental U.S. . . . and you'll get the low direct dial rate. Greatest savings are after 5 p.m. weekdays and all weekend. For calls within Minnesota, for example, you can save up to 77 percent on a 3 minute station-to-station call over an operator-assisted, person-to-person call. Direct dial rates do not apply to pay telephone, person-to-person, hotel guest, credit card, or collect calls, or calls charged to another number.

2. So you don't know the out-of-town number.

If you do not know the number you are calling in the distant city; dial "0", and tell your local operator the name of the town you're calling and you'll get the out-of-town Directory Assistance operator. There is no charge for this service.

3. Don't make bad business out of a bad connection.

If you get a wrong number, or can't hear on your call, report it to the operator, and you won't be charged.

4. It pays to call when we're least busy.

On an in-state station-to-station call after 5 p.m., you can talk 10 minutes for $1.30 or less on the new Gopher State Bargain Rate. And you can talk twice as long, 20 minutes for $1.30 or less, if you call after 11 p.m. and before 7 a.m. These calls are at direct dial rates even though you do not have direct dialing. Simply dial the operator who will direct dial the station-to-station call for you. However, if you require further services of the operator, the Gopher State direct dial rate does not apply. Nor does it apply between 7 a.m. and 5 p.m. weekdays or on the legal holidays of Christmas, New Year's, Independence Day, Thanksgiving or Labor Day.

5. You could still look it up.

On local calls, instead of dialing Directory Assistance, keep a record of the people and places you call most often. There's a place for them in every phone book. Just in Minnesota, we spend over $6.1 million a year looking up numbers, 70 percent of them already in the book. Naturally, you share that cost.

6. Repair service.

The Telephone Company will repair your phone promptly without charge. Call as soon as you can so that you can get the maximum use at all times out of your telephone.

7. Plan before you install.

The installation charge is the same to have 1 or 3 or 6 phones put in . . . so long as you do it all at once. Add-as-you-go, piecemeal installations add up fast.

Chief's Corner

— by —

Roland E. Waller, Chief
Thief River Falls Police Dep't.

Since the Sno-cats are now properly stored in the garages and the summer is again upon us, it is time to take a hard look at another safety need in our fair city. Each month on the first Monday, the Pennington county safety committee meets to discuss different subjects of concern. The subject always brought up is that of water safety on the two rivers that flow together here.

Recently, as I looked out my front window at the boat traffic on the Red Lake river, I realized that some words of caution to both the persons in the boats and persons outside are needed right now. There was a beautiful red speed boat zooming back and forth pulling a skier. Each time this boat made its turn around near Narverud's corner, it seemed that the skier would not avoid hitting a dock. The speed of the boat and the wide turn made it very dangerous in nature. I wonder what the operator of the boat would think if he did cause the man on skis to be injured in such a situation.

Most of this is old stock, but boat operators are warned to have an observer in the boat when they are towing a skier. Courtesy should be the rule when other boats and swimmers are in the area. Remember the river is narrow and speeds should be kept down for turns and for other persons on the river.

Swimmers should take special precautions to keep out of the path of boats. I watched a couple of swimmers last year and noticed they were so very low in the water that a boat driver coming past would have had a hard time seeing them in the water. I was quite sure one boat was headed directly over them, but he saw them at the last minute and turned away in time to avoid them. Swimmers should take care when using floating devices such as an inner tube or factory-made devices. They should be sure they can swim to shore if they should fall off the device. Definitely, they should stay out of the path of boats passing by.

Most of you are aware that for the past two summers the dredge has been working in the area of Narverud's corner. The floating pipeline extends out far into the river in this area and could be hit very easily by boats that did not see it soon enough. As the boats get around the bend they find the river is completely blocked by the dredge pipe. Any boat coming around the point at high speed may find the riders sitting on top of the pipeline before they know what has happened.

Another dangerous scene came into my view the other day. It was a very small and shallow boat with three young boys in it. The water was very close to the top of the boat and the motor was a high riding motor what would die every few feet. The boy operating the motor in the rear of the boat had to stand up to pull the start cord and would almost upset the boat each time he pulled the cord. Finally, he did fall into the river. I was not able to see how he got back into the boat. If you, as a parent, have this type of boat and are now aware of the way it is being operated, I trust you will demand a safer operation when you allow your child to be in it.

Another note to those operating the fast boats near the dredge. There is a metal buoy attached to an anchor and cable for the operation of the dredge. This usually floats off to the right front of the dredge. If a speeding boat were to hit the buoy, it would take out the bottom of the boat in a big hurry. Please be alert that you do not hit this floating object near the dredge.

Remember. . .canoes have to be licensed. . .you are required to have a life jacket or life-saving device in the boat for each person in the boat. . .60 per cent of all persons drowned had no intention of even getting wet. . .the sheriff's department and the conservation officers will be patrolling the two rivers watching for violators of the boating laws.

Common Sense & Caution Advised When Swimming

Minnesota department of health advises caution and common sense as the public uses the state's lakes and rivers this summer. The warning is prompted by the fact that Minnesota had 105 drownings last year connected with water recreation.

Start a practical water safety program by simply learning to swim and float, the department suggests. Then just observe a few time-tested rules about having a good time in the water.

Be sure to exercise respect for the water and recognize your own limitations. Swim only when rested, never when overheated or chilled. Early in the summer season give your body a chance to adjust to increased activity and to build up strength for swimming longer distances. An attempt to exceed your swimming ability or endurance may be an invitation to trouble.

Always swim with another person, preferably in a safe and familiar place where a lifeguard is near. Before wading, swimming or diving in an unfamiliar place, find out the depth of the water and whether there are hidden rocks, strong currents or sudden dropoffs. Don't swim after dark or during a thunderstorm.

If you find yourself having difficulty in deep water, keep calm and think out your plan of action. If caught in a current, swim with it and at the same time angle toward shore.

If another bather is in trouble, extend your reach when making a rescue by using a towel, plank, rope or shirt. If he is too far out, throw a ring buoy or use a boat. Only as a last resort, and if well trained, should you attempt a swimming rescue.

Hunters Required To Register Deer In 1972 Season

This fall for the first time, Minnesota hunters will be required to register all deer taken during the firearms hunting season, the department of natural resources announced this week.

Previously, only hunters taking deer with bow and arrow, bear hunters and moose hunters have had to submit their game for registration.

Purpose of the new rule is to give the department a more accurate check on the number of deer harvested and where they are taken.

Approximately 1,000 checking stations will be established and will be operated by private individuals under department supervision.

Gas stations, taverns, sporting good stores and similar locations used by the public will be authorized as registration points and signs will be posted to identify them to hunters.

Prior to the season, a list of all checking stations will be sent to the news media and a list of the towns in which the stations are located will be available to hunters.

At the station, hunters will be asked to identify the location where the deer was taken and a note will be made of the deer's age, sex, date taken and the license number of the hunter.

Hunters must register their deer within 48 hours following the close of the season they select under the state's new system, which allows hunters to select the three or five consecutive days they wish to hunt within the month of November framework.

Deer must be registered within the county where taken or in an immediately adjacent county.

Parties interested in operating a deer registration station should contact their local game manager. Registration stations will be paid 10 cents per deer for their registration work. They may receive additional compensation through increased business from hunters and the interested public.

Game and fish director Mike Casey said department personnel would continue to register deer taken by archery hunters, and all bear, but that all deer taken by firearms hunting must be submitted to one of the new authorized checking stations.

Leech Lake Regatta

They call it "LLR 2" which means the second annual Leech Lake regatta will be held next month. This promises to be one of the most exciting sailing ventures of the year and Leech Lake is an ideal place for it.

The second of the annual Leech Lake regattas is scheduled for July 1-4 on beautiful and spacious Leech Lake.

Last year over Independence Day weekend, nearly 60 sailboats from six states throughout the midwest participated in the first of the Leech Lake regattas.

"LLR 2" will be extended one day this year, according to co-chairmen John Elsenpeter and Gary Trimble, to permit cruising classes to encompass more of scenic Leech Lake and broaden the racing events for the smaller boats in Walker Bay.

As last year, the Leech Lake regatta will be family-oriented allowing sufficient time for participants to enjoy the many other recreational resources of the area and the activities of the July 4 celebration in Walker.

Jack Culley, Minneapolis and Bruce Nicolle, Wayzata, are responsible for operations.

In anticipation of a greater number of participants this year, hotel, motel or resort accommodations should be made at an early date.

Trophies will be awarded for both the smaller olympic course entries and the larger cruising entries with the Hyrd traveling trophy going to the sailor with the best corrected time for all days of racing in the cruising competition.

Woman Dedicates Canoe Classic Trophy

A beautifully sculptored trophy, which will be awarded the winner of the 1972 Aquatennial canoe classic, was dedicated recently by Mrs. Betty Ketter, Brooklyn Park, to the memory of her husband, the late Karl L. Keeter, founder of the Minnesota canoe association which now has 1,500 members.

The award, done in bronze and mounted on mahogany, was done by the well-known Twin City sculptor William McDougall.

Mr. Ketter was a former International champion of professional canoe races in America and Canada and well known in canoeing circles in both countries. His son, Karl N. Keeter of Richfield, is in charge of entries for the canoe classic committee.

The canoe classic will cover 102 miles on the Mississippi River, starting at Watab, seven miles above St. Cloud, with the first leg of the gruelling race ending at Anoka state fairgrounds. The final lap Sunday will finish at the University of Minnesota showboat landing on East River Road.

The race, with $4,000 in prizes being offered, will be one of the three largest in the world, according to co-chairmen Robert K. Pillsbury Jr. and Dr. Robert Schultz. The event, which will be the first Aquatennial major canoe race since 1961, is under the direction of vice commodore Jerry O'Neill.

Good Bass Opener

When the walleye season opened the fishing was slow. Conditions were a week or ten days late. Then came the hot weather and the bass fishermen had a dandy opener. Bay Lake at Deerwood and Lake Minnetonka were excellent. Jim Dongoske of Jim's Tonka Sports at Spring Park, predicted this. There were several bass contests on Minnetonka and we'll have a full report in a future column.

Another good area was Longville. Craig Buetow of the Muskie House reports some excellent crappie fishing as well. Several stringers of two pound crappies came out of Woman, Big Boy and Girl Lakes. The biggest walleye in this area was a 8½ pounder from Thunder Lake. Several six pounders were taken in Woman Lake and Lake Inguadona.

Another big walleye was taken from Loon Lake near Aitkin by Dale Lorenson of Cannon Falls. The fish weighed nine pounds ten ounces. The bait was a shiner minnow.

Baudette Report

Lake of the Woods and Rainy River out of Baudette have had an excellent start in the 1972 fishing season. Mrs. Donna Hamre of Elmer's Sportsmen's Center calls it "Fantastic", with northerns and lake trout hitting. Jake Jenson of Roosevelt had a lake trout weighing 28 pounds 4 ounces.

This is one fishing season that young Tim Connix, son of the Baudette high school band instructor will always remember. On Saturday he was fishing with his father in Rainy River when he snagged a rod and a reel. So, he was up early Sunday morning trying out the rod and reel on the dock just below his home on Baudette Bay, using his favorite bait - a red and white daredevil, and on his second cast the big one hit - a 16 pound 1-ounce northern, which he happily weighed in at Elmer's.

Alexandria Report

Our friend Harvey Hammergren sends us this information.

"Paul Beckwith of Spirit Lake, Iowa along with Lael Loving, Ron Troxell and Rueben Barow of Albert City, Iowa fishing on Lake Darling brought in 11 walleyes and the largest weighed 5 lbs. They also caught 2 northerns, the largest weighing 6 lbs. Leonard Johnson of Alexandria, Ray Olson of Garfield and Albert Olliken of Minneapolis caught their limits while fishing on Lake Mary and the fish were caught between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. The largest walleye was 4 pounds and minnows were used as bait."

Chuck Snelson from Alexandria and a partner were fishing on Lake Geneva and caught 12 walleyes weighing 2½-4 pounds and they were in before 7 a.m.

Minnesota Pros Win

The first annual Lake Minnetonka professional fishing tournament was all Minnesota as far as the first four places were concerned. The winner was Gary Roach of Merrifield who scored 1,162 points. A string of six small mouth bass taken Sunday morning decided the event in his favor. The largest small mouth bass caught in the tournament was his three-pound, nine-ouncer.

In second place was Al Linder of Brainerd with 1093 points. Third place was won by Rod Romine of Brainerd, fourth place by Ted Capra of Minneapolis and fifth Joe Wasco of Chicago. All but Wasco work for the Lindy fishing tackle company of Brainerd.

Professional fishermen each of whom paid a fifty dollar entry fee, came from Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois and Missouri.

Oddly enough not a walleye was caught in the two days of competition.

The biggest northern weighed six pounds on the nose, while the top large mouth bass weighed four pounds four ounces and the top small mouth bass weighed three pounds nine ounces.

Fishing News From Around The State

Gene Boyer of Du Bar Marine at Prior Lake reports some good bass fishing. Kevin Sutter of Burnsville caught a large mouth weighting 4½ pounds, while Kirk Boyer had one weighing 3½ pounds.

On Leech Lake where fishing has been excellent, Mr. and Mrs. John Griffith and Larry Peterson all from Rochester, Minn., had limits of walleyes in the two and three pounds class. They used shiners. They were fishing out of Walker Bay Resort.

Small Mouth Bonanza

Jerry Fuller at Park Rapids tells us that one of the largest strings of small mouth bass ever caught in the Park Rapids area in modern times was taken by Lyle and Von Vold. The twelve small mouthed bass taken from Bottle Lake averaged 3½ pounds apiece.

Pool Schedule

Mon., June 12—8:30-5:30 swimming lessons. 7-10 open swimming.

Tues., June 13—8:30-5:30 swimming lessons. 7-9 open swimming. 9-10 ladies lessons.

Wed., June 14—8:30-5:30 swimming lessons. 7-9 open swimming. 9-10 ladies lessons.

NEW BEAR BREED

There's a new breed of bear rivaling the traditional Teddy for childrens' hearts: guitar-strumming, bluegrass-singing grizzlies, starring in the "Country Bear Jamboree" at Walt Disney World in central Florida. The 20 bears in the Pepsi-Cola/Frito-Lay sponsored Jamboree do such paw-stomping favorites as "Blood On The Saddle" and "Mama Don't Whip Little Bu- [illegible] home growls to "Audio-Animatronics," the Disney patented combination of lifelike sounds and actions in three-dimensional animated figures.

Melvies Leads Fast Pitch Softball Loop

In a head-to-head meeting of undefeated league leaders Friday night, Melvies claimed sole possession of first place in the men's fast pitch softball standings with an easy 6-1 win over VFW on the fairgrounds diamond.

The winners upped their season record to 4-0 as they scored all of their runs in the first two innings against VFW, now 4-1. Melvies pushed across two runs in the first without the benefit of a base hit as three costly VFW errors did the damage.

Home runs by Lee Christianson and Mike Schmitz finished the Melvie scoring in the second inning. The lone VFW run was scored in the last of the seventh on a double by Wayne Smith and a pinch hit triple by Larry Hawkinson.

Christianson picked up the win for Melvies with a five-hit performance, including ten strike outs in the seven inning affair. Harlie Drees suffered the loss.

Grain Belt posted its first win of the campaign Thursday night with a 6-2 triumph over Hartz, behind the fine two-hit pitching of Howard Dalager.

Mike Drury and Paul Walker supplied the offensive punch for Grain Belt as they both hit second inning homers, with Drury's being a three-run blast. Grain Belt added single runs in the third and fourth, while both Hartz runs came in the top of the fourth.

Dalager walked just three and struck out six while picking up the win.

In other action during the week, VFW beat Schmidts 6-1 behind Mike Niebauer's one-hit pitching Tuesday night. The losing pitcher was Kermit Malberg who had a no-hitter going until the lead-off batter in the fifth inning collected in infield hit.

The two hurlers locked in a tight 1-1 ball game until the top of the fifth when VFW erupted for three runs. VFW added single runs in the sixth and seventh frames, including a solo homer by Niebauer in the sixth.

On Wednesday night Falls Diesel throttled Arctic Cat 16-6 behind the pitching and hitting of Earl Graham.

Graham was perfect at the plate as he collected four singles in four official at bats, along with a sacrifice fly and four rbi's. Graham was equally effective on the mound as he limited Arctic Cat to just three hits.

Meanwhile, Falls Diesel pounded out 13 hits in the game, including Graham's performance, a three for four effort by Jeff Vacura and an inside the park home run by Rex Rugland.

The league standings after the weekend action find Melvies on top with a 4-0 mark, followed by VFW 4-1, Falls Diesel 3-2 Hartz 2-2, Grain Belt 1-2, Schmitz 0-3 and Arctic Cat 0-4.

Games scheduled this week will send Falls Diesel against Schmidts tonight (Monday), Hartz vs. VFW Tuesday, Schmidts plays Arctic Cat Wednesday, Melvies faces Grain Belt Thursday and Falls Diesel will take on Hartz Friday.

Lincoln Athletes Enter State Meets

Ten Lincoln high school atheltes participated in three Minnesota state high school league state meets over the weekend in Minneapolis.

Senior Mark Liden turned in one of the better performances with a seventh-place finish in the state tennis meet on the University of Minnesota courts Friday and Saturday.

Liden won his first two matches Friday with a 3½ hour marathon 8-6, 2-6 and 12-10 triumph over Bruce Goldetsky of St. Paul Highland Park and a 6-3, 6-3 victory over seventh rated Kevin Turner of Mankato.

Liden's short victory string was snapped in his third outing with a 6-0, 6-1 loss to Edina's outstanding Bob Amis, the defending state singles champion.

In consolation action Saturday morning Liden lost to Fred Sickert of Rochester Mayo 6-0 and 6-2.

Edina repeated as team champion in the tennis meet with St. Cloud Tech finishing second and Moorhead and Rochester Mayo tied for third. Thief River Falls finsihed tied for 14th out of 36 schools. Bemidji and Crookston, the other two region eight schools with meet entries failed to score a point.

In the state golf meet Friday on the University of Minnesota course, the Prowlers' Lee Sorensen and Jay Moum finished in the middle of the large field as bad weather and high winds hampered play. Sorensen shot a 165 with rounds of 82-83 while Moum recorded a 167 with rounds of 79-88.

Northfield won the state golf meet team title.

Seven members of the Prowler track squad participated in the state track and field meet Friday and Saturday at Macalester college with the Lincoln 880 relay team turning in the best performance, although none of the Prowler athletes qualified for the finals.

The 880 relay team of Jon Markstrom, Steve Beich, Kent Smith and Markoe Hanson turned in a school record time of 1:33.1, breaking their own mark of 1:33.8 set earlier this season.

Other Prowler athletes taking part in the state track meet included Rande Smith in the discus, Mike Fitzgerald in the 440, and Hanson in the 100 and 220-yard dashes, along with the sprint medley relay team of Don Rierson, Kent Smith, Fitzgerald and Rande Smith.

Moorhead easily won the team title with Jim Gravalin winning both the 100 and 220-yard dahses.

County Board Acts On Solid Waste Disposal

Pennington county's board of commissioners met Tuesday and received information about several subjects and conducted other business.

Information was presented about requirements for a solid waste disposal system for the county. Under new regulations a sanitary land fill must be covered with a minimum of six inches of dirt each night. St. Hilaire will be permitted to continue with its present system. Goodridge has also requested to continue but must acquire a new site.

A resolution was passed to apply for participation in a water bank program. Additional information is not available at this time.

The cost of level was reported to be up by 5.5 points or about 3.2 per cent. This information can be used to adjust salaries for county employees but no action was taken.

Office hours of the veterans service officer was discussed. No action was taken on that matter either.

The board voted to participate in a proposed correctional center to be located at Crookston provided a majority of the 11 counties presently in the plan agree also.

Permission was granted to Great Lakes Gas Transmission company to build another line along its present installation. Construction is planned to begin August 15 and be completed by January 1.

Terry Courneya, Pennington county extension agent, presented information about the canoe trail which presently has six sites for launching canoes and small boats in Pennington county. Garbage cans will be provided by 4-H clubs but arrangements have not yet been made for emptying them. Overnight camping will not be permitted at the sites.

Courneya also presented preliminary information about a proposed snowmobile trail to be centered around Thief River Falls. This is still in the planning stages and details were not available but will be printed in the Times when they are more definite.

Restrictions On Most Highways Are Now Removed

Road restrictions in Minnesota have been removed except for seven-ton restrictions on trunk highway 1 from the north junction of trunk highway 89 to the west Beltrami county line and highway 210 from Duluth Fond-du-Lac to Thompson; and five ton restrictions on highway 24 between the junction of highway 12 to highway 15, highway 40 from Milan to the junction of highway 119 and highway 113, beginning 12 miles east of Waubun to the junction of highway 71.

With issuance of the recent road restriction bulletin, the Minnesota department of highways announced that these bulletins will no longer be published. In the future, only a "Prosposed Road Restriction Map" will be issued.

Firms needing road restriction information may obtain the 1973 proposed road restriction map by writing to the road information office located in room G-17 at the highway building on John Ireland boulevard in St. Paul. The zip code is 55155.

Potato Growers Will Elect Two New Directors

Ballots are now in the hands of the potato growers of area one potato council for the election of two directors to serve on the council for the next three years, according to Dr. Rollin Dennistoun, acting chairman of the Minnesota Potato council.

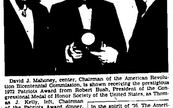
Nominated for council membership are: Richard Hvidsten, Stephen; Oliver Lansverk, Fosston; and Earl Mallinger, Oslo. The two elected will serve on the area one potato council, whose responsibility is to promote, research, develop, advertise and ad in the marketing of potatoes for growers in the council area.

All growers are asked to make sure their ballots are returned to the state commissioner of agriculture, St. Paul, immediately, to make sure their votes are included in the tabulation.

Other members serving the potato growers of this area are Frank Thompson, Baker; Orris Brakke, Comstock; Paul Driscoll, East Grand Forks (all elected); and, Thomas Sczepanski, Stephen, and Robert Jenks, Crookston, appointed by the governor of Minnesota.

Dr. Dennistoun, administrative supervisor of the department of agriculture, is chairman of the Minnesota Area No. 1 potato council, and Wayne Barker is the council representative.

Congressional Medal Of Honor Society Cites Bicentennial Chairman



David J. Mahoney, center, Chairman of the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission, is shown receiving the prestigious 1972 Patriots Award from Robert Bush, President of the Congressional Medal of Honor Society of the United States, as Thomas J. Kelly, left, Chairman of the Patriots Award dinner, looks on. The presentation of the award, which acclaims Mahoney's "outstanding contribution" as Chairman of the Bicentennial Commission, took place at the recent gala dinner in New York City's Waldorf Astoria Hotel, attended by more than 1,700 industry, civic and political leaders. In making the tribute address, Bob Hope called Mahoney a "great American" and cited his numerous efforts in the nation's behalf. As President and Chairman of Norton Simon Inc., Mahoney heads up one of the nation's leading consumer goods companies. In his Patriots Awards acceptance speech, Mahoney pointed out that Americans must be keenly aware of a "sense of the future" if they are to continue to achieve the goals and ideals which have made the nation great. Mahoney said that the task of the Bicentennial Commission is not to arrange a "big birthday celebration in 1976 or to set up an exposition displaying our wares. Fireworks and trade fairs are not in the spirit of '76. The American Bicentennial must make us conscious of our purpose, aware of our mission, thoughtful of our ideals." He said the American Revolution is still underway, "just as vibrant and dynamic as ever — and as long as we have men of courage to rally around her flag, that revolution will never end." The Bicentennial Chairman, who has already spearheaded a major series of programs and events to herald the nation's 200th anniversary celebration, noted that the nation is described as the 'land of the free and home of the brave' and he reminded Americans that "at a time when we hear all too much of the gospel of defeatism and despair, we would do well to remember that we shall remain the land of the free as long as we stay the home of the brave."

Proceeds from the $100-a-plate dinner went to the Congressional Medal of Honor Society's Scholarship and Welfare Fund, which aids the widows and children of Medal of Honor holders.

Hearing Planned On Construction Of Care Centers

Agassiz health planning council will hold a public hearing June 27 to discuss the need of two acute care centers which are being planned for the area.

The meeting is open to the public and will be held in the lower auditorium of the Grand Forks armory at 615-1st Avenue North in Grand Forks, N. D., at 6:30 p.m. on Tuesday, June 27.

Object of the hearing is to determine the need to authorize construction of an acute care hospital and the renovation of St. Michael's unit of the United Hospital.

The 16 million dollar acute care hospital would be built on the medical park stie and would provide 260 acute care beds.

Renovation of the St. Michael's unit of the United hospital would provide for a 39-bed postacute care and transfer unit at a cost of about $40,000.

These projects may affect the provision of or need for health services in the community.

Individuals, institutions or municipalities wishing to voice feelings for or against these projects are encouraged to attend the hearing.

Facts or opinions presented may have a bearing on the issuance or denial of a certificate of need for these projects.

Miss Reed Named To Take Part In Right To Read

Two area teachers have been selected as directors for this area in the right to read program.

Miss Viola Reed, teacher at Goodridge, and Ray Dusek, instructor at Crookston, will be among 22 reading directors for the eleven regions of Minnesota. They will represent Region I which includes 38 school districts in northwestern Minnesota.

The goal of the right to read program is to eliminate functional illeteracy in the United States.

The U.S. office of education has overall responsibility for the program and the National reading Council center assumes the role of involving the private sector.

Ten million dollars in discretionary funds drawn from a variety of sources within the Office of Education makes up part of the program's 1972 fiscal year budget. With passage of the Emergency School Assistance Program Act (ESAP), $10 million more will be available.

Chief state school officers nominate school districts to participate in each of the four types of projects. Schools are chosen on the basis of criteria set up by the right to read. Selected school districts will receive a plan of action and during the planning period, technical assistance will be provided upon request.

Dusek and Miss Reed will attend a preparation session for the program beginning June 15 at Anoka junior college.

The Minnesota plan begins with the assumption that each child can acieve mastery of reading skills. Aptitude is seen as the amount of time required by the learner to atain mastery of a learning task. Right to read means that the schools are asked to give each pupil the competence he needs, regardless of his initial and apparent interest, his cultural background, his home life, or his ability as measured by culture bound tests.

Reading directors will return to their respective schools at the beginning of the school term to provide in service and technical help to implement the right to read program in the local school.

Army Announces Bonus Plan For Some Enlistment

United States army announces a special bonus plan for young men enlisting in certain careers in the infantry, armor and artillery. The plan calls for payment of $1,500 for a four-year enlistment.

The bonus is payable in full following successful completion of basic and advanced training. This normally occurs about four months after enlistment, depending on the career field selected.

Men with prior service are eligible for the bonus plan if they have less than three years active service, have not previously received a reenlistment bonus and meet other requirements.

Besides professional training, young men in the bonus plan will also be eligible to volunteer for the widest range of enlistment travel options ever offered by the army. These include guaranteed assignments in Europe, Alaska, Hawaii, Far East and Panama, as well as Units of Choice in different parts of the United States.

The army now starts enlisted men at $288 a month, with increases following basic training. It also continues to offer the traditional benefits of free meals, housing, clothing, medical and dental care, along with 30 paid vacation days a year.

For further information on the army's new bonus plan, call SFC Francis Trim or SSG James Long at 681-1154 or stop by the office at 209 East 3rd street, Thief River Falls.

Two Tie For Best Idea Of Month In Do-It-Yourself Competition

One Wins By Making Most Of His Time. The Other By Rolling His Own.

You too can make your time count by developing your ability to work with tools. 1. William J. Koranda of Chicago, built his own clock and tied with 2. Carl S. Goss of Lewistown, Pa., who built his own Redwood Camper to win "Best Idea of the Month" in Do It Yourself contest sponsored by Wen Products of Chicago.

Each monthly winner receives a trophy, a home workshop of four newest Wen Power tools, and qualifies for Best Idea of the Year, trip for two to Greece, $500 spending money and Grand Prize trophy and assortment of tools.

The clock, made of solid Cherrywood is 6'4" tall, weighs 80 lbs., and runs 8 days. The Camper is built from 3/8" ply wood, has one inch of styro foam insulation and exposed redwood beams. Roof is 1/4" fir plywood, the joints covered with a strip of fiberglass cloth, and the whole roof covered with roof coating. Corners are sealed with aluminum angle. Both winners used portable electric saws, drills and sanders.

Challenging the craftsmanship of all Americans, the Do It Yourself Contest is open to everyone. Application blanks and contest rules can be acquired at any hardware dealer.

Region I Ass'n. For Retarded Holds Meeting

Region I association for retarded children (ARC) recently held its spring meeting at the First Lutheran church at Roseau with 30 members present. The region includes eight counties, Pennington, Kittson, Marshall, Polk, Norman, Roseau, Red Lake and Mahnomen.

Congressman Bob Bergland was the keynote speaker for the day. His topic was "Federal Legislation Affecting the Handicapped". He said that the Federal Government stands ready to aid programs for the mentally retarded, developed within the community. He stated that of 7,000, 000 handicapped citizens in our country, two-thirds have been denied an education. A new bill is being introduced in the legislature which will zero in on the profoundly retarded who have been neglected in favor of the educable retarded.

Another speaker was Eric Allen of Thief River Falls, a special education director. He told of the new future for special education. He urged associations for retarded children to keep working with education to get special services into schools so all mentally retarded may be helped.

Ken Ose discussed the advancement of the sheltered workshop in Thief River Falls and the possibility of another being established in Crookston this summer.

Jim Tackes, executive director of the Minnesota ARC, discussed the state convention which will be held at Marshall, June 9 and 10.

Mrs. Sanna Brovold, executive director of Region I, reported for the group homes committee, Camp Sunshine, special olympics, and the Northwest retardation advisory-planning board and announced that there will be three weeks of camping for the mentally retarded at Sand Hill Lake Bible camp near Fosston this summer.

Harold Gray from the retardation center of Fergus Falls state hospital explained the organization and future plans of the center. He stated that more capable patients are being discharged, leaving the severely retarded who need more care.

Officers were elected for the year. They are president, Mrs. James Larson of Beltrami; vice president, Leonard Olson of Warren; secretary, Mrs. Oscar Aanden of Beltrami; and treasurer, Willis Eken of Twin Valley.

Association members at the meeting toured the Roseau children's home during the noon recess. Dinner was served by the Ladies of First Lutheran church.

Tentative plans are for the Polk county ARC to host the fall meeting at Beltrami in November.

In Memoriam

In remembrance of our beloved son and brother David, who was taken from us so suddenly twelve years ago June 11.

Your gentle face and patient smile
With sadness we recall.
You had a kindly word for each
And died beloved by all.
The voice is mute and stilled the heart,
That loved us well and true,
Ah, bitter was the trial to part
From one so good as you
You are not forgotten loved one
Nor will you ever be.
As long as life and memory last
We will remember thee.
We miss you now, our hearts are sore.
As time goes by, we miss you more.
Your loving smile, your gentle face,
No one can fill your vacant place.

Missed by his family, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Nordhagen, Leslie, Bruce, Richard, Steven and Shirley. 1t47p

Economic Stabilization

Questions and Answers

Internal Revenue Service

Q—Is it true that small businesses are exempt from wage-price controls?

A—Yes. Companies with 60 or fewer employees are exempt from wage and price controls, except for firms in the health and construction industries. Small local governments with 60 employees or fewer have also been exempted from wage controls and most price controls.

Q—Will the Internal Revenue service process an exception request from a landlord who is charging rent in violation of stabilization regulations?

A—No. The IRS will not process exception requests from landlords charging rent in excess of that allowed by stabilization regulations. However, if a landlord rolls back an illegal increase and refunds rents collected under that increase, the IRS will process his exception request.

Q—Does a landlord have to notify his tenants when he seeks an exception from the rent regulations?

A—Yes. A landlord must notify his tenants of the exception request at the time it is sought. If the exception is granted, he must also notify them of the proposed increase at least 30 days before its effective date.

Q—I am legally able to raise my tenants' rent 15 per cent because I installed central air conditioning units in every apartment. Can I increase monthly rent 10 per cent before obtaining approval for the remaining five per cent increase from the IRS?

A—No. A landlord must obtain prior approval from his IRS district director for any part of an increase based on a capital improvement that will raise rent in excess of 10 per cent. This is the case even though he increases rent only 10 per cent and seeks approval for the remaining percentage increase.

Q—How will using industry-wide average productivity figures reduce prices and increase productivity?

A—Firms with productivity gains above the price commission's industry-wide average are required to deduct only the industry average as an offset to their cost increases, thus encouraging above-average productivity gains. On the other hand, firms with productivity gains below the new industry-wide averages must now use the industry average figure instead of their own lower productivity figure. Therefore, their allowable cost increases will be proportionately smaller.

The industry wide productivity figures may be found in the May 3, 1972 "Federal Register," which can be obtained from the superintendent of documents in Washington, D.C. In addition, new PC-1 instructions contain a detailed example describing the method by which companies may compute the extent to which productivity should offset allowable costs. For further information on productivity computation, persons should contact their internal revenue office.

Q—If an employer and union execute an agreement after Nov. 14, 1971, which provides that any portion of an increase denied by the pay board will be paid when controls are lifted or relaxed, does that provision constitute an increase in wages and salaries chargeable against the pay board's 5.5 per cent standard?

A—Yes. This provision for payment of disallowed wage and salary increases is consideration for work currently performed. It is, therefore, a form of deferred compensation which, under economic stabilization regulations, does constitute a wage and salary amount reasonably subject to valuation.

Six 4-H'ers will represent Pennington county at the 4-H junior leader conference to be held on the St. Paul campus, University of Minnesota, June 19-23.

About 650 junior leaders from throughout Minnesota are expected to attend the conference.

The five-day conference will revolve around the theme "Consider." The theme will be broken down into three areas: Communications, change, and expressions of love and feelings. Activities within each of these areas include workshops on verbal and non-verbal communication, a drama presentation and a variety stage show.

A banquet; sponsored for the 50th year by the greater Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce, will be held at the Pick-Nicollet hotel in Minneapolis on Thursday, June 22.

Cycle Training Law Clarified

Persons under age 18 seeking a motorcycle endorsement must be actively engaged in taking a special motorcycle training course before they can apply for the endorsement, Minnesota department of public safety director W. R. Hoaglund said today.

"Apparently there are many young people who misunderstand the law and are applying for the endorsement before enrolling in the course. In fact, some have purchased machines and plan to practice driving them on the permit before taking instruction.

"This requirement makes sense because we want to insure that these young people have a certain amount of training in both the classroom and on the cycle before they acquire the learner's permit. When this portion of the training has been completed, the instructor will give the student a slip authorizing him to apply for the endorsement.

"The law also requires that a person have a valid driver license before he can enroll in the motorcycle training course, making it impossible to take the driver education and motorcycle training courses simultaneously.

"We are also told that some dealers are assuring prospective buyers that they can obtain the learner's permit before enrolling in the course. This is incorrect information and I urge all dealers to see that all salespeople are properly informed."

Susanne Bruggeman Is Northwest Dairy Princess

TOP COW at Northwest Dairy day in Thief River Falls Tuesday was this grade Holstein owned by Kathy Boman of Twin Valley. Since she was competing in the princess contest, the animal was shown by Kathy's older brother Steve. The three - year - old was breed champion Holstein, champion grade animal of the show, overall show champion and best uddered cow. Kathy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Boman of Twin Valley and has claimed many previous top honors at Northwest Dairy day.

A little girl who wasn't there claimed top honors at the dairy show and Susanne Bruggeman of Thief River Falls became the first Pennington county girl in 17 years to win Northwest Dairy princess honors at the 23rd annual Northwest Dairy day Tuesday in Thief River Falls.

Kathy Boman, whose three-year-old grade Holstein was shown for her by her brother while she participated in the princess contest, collected three of the dairy show's top honors. The Twin Valley veteran of the Dairy day show ring claimed the overall show championship, the grade championship of the show and the trophy for best uddered cow of the show. On the way to the top the cow also captured the Holstein breed championship and the Holstein grade championship.

Nineteen-year-old, hazel eyed and blonde Susanne Bruggeman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donovan Bruggeman of Thief River Falls and an attendant to the Northwest Dairy princess a year ago, received her crown from Barbara Winter, 1971 princess. Coronation took place before a good crowd in the city sports arena as weather forced the ceremony indoors.

Named attendants to Princess Susanne were 18-year-old Lynn Finstad, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Finstad of Thief River Falls, and 18-year-old Debbra Thun, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Thun of Strandquist. All are from dairy families with 10 to 55 cattle in production.

Special guests at Dairy day and the princess coronation were Gayle Krogstad of Ada, former Northwest Dairy princess and now American Dairy princess, and Mary Ann Glawe of Detroit Lakes, Princess Kay of the Milky Way. Also visiting Dairy day for the first time was Miss Marcia Kells who began her work June 1 as Dairy Ann for the ADA of Minnesota.

Harold Rosendahl of Ada served as show supervisor for the 180 entries and kept the dairy show competition moving in spite of several interruptions for rain showers. Despite the threatening skies and several showers, however, nearly all of the dairy show was held in the outdoor show ring and attendance was good throughout the day.

Twelve-year-old Lori Kasprick of Angus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Kasprick, showed her three-year-old Holstein cow to the show's overall purebred championship and reserve cham-

JUNIOR SHOWMANSHIP champion at Northwest Dairy day in Thief River Falls Tuesday was Joel Erickson, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Erickson of Badger. His two-year-old grade Holstein was also good enough to qualify Joel as winner of a purebred calf at Dairy day in 1973. Owner of the grand champion grade, Kathy Boman of Twin Valley, had won the top prize before and the prize was passed along to Joel. He is in his fifth year of showing at Dairy day. Junior showmanship was awarded for the first time this year.

RIC To Locate In MCC District

Effective July 1, the office of the Thief River Falls regional interdistrict council for handicapped children (RIC) will be relocated from Thief River Falls to Newfolden in the Marshall County Central elementary school. The move is necessitated because of the new school taxation laws in Minnesota and their affect on local tax levies.

The move follows action by the board of education in Thief River Falls in March when it was announced that Thief River Falls would no longer be a fiscal host for the RIC. On June 1, the RIC board voted to relocate in Newfolden, subject to ratification by the board of education of Marshall County Central school; that board ratified the invitation at its regular meeting on June 8.

The regional interdistrict council was formed in 1968 by 16 school districts in northwestern Minnesota. They are Newfolden, Strandquist, Kennedy, Karlstad, Lancaster, Hallock, Humboldt, Badger, Greenbush, Roseau, Warroad, Baudette (Lake of the Woods), Plummer, Goodridge, Thief River Falls, and Middle River. Grygla-Gatzke district joined RIC in 1971.

Purpose of RIC is the provision of comprehensive services to handicapped children in all schools in the area. By banding together in a cooperative such as this, the school enrollment base approaches 13,000, a population large enough to support comprehensive services and supervisory personnel.

The RIC staff consists of a director of special education (Eric G. Allen), a speech therapy coordinator (Mrs. Beverly Strong) and five speech therapists, two school psychologists (Charles Schroeder and another psychologist to be hired) and an SLBP supervisor (Mrs. Patricia Westman). This care staff works with regular class teachers, special teachers, administrators, parents and various public and voluntary agencies in the development of educational programs appropriate to the needs of handicapped children.

Parents or agencies wishing assistance in educational programming may contact the RIC office in Newfolden, or their local school.

With the move the name of the council will be changed but a new name has not yet been selected. Also, federal funds which have helped to finance RIC under Public Law 91-230, Title VI, will be paid to Marshall County Central district in the future. Services to the member schools will remain the same.

Council Receives Request For New Fire Truck

Thief River Falls city council received a request last night (Tuesday), from Fire Chief Duane Noel, asking that the city buy a new fire truck.

The underwriters who rate Thief River Falls have stated that the 1941 Ford used by the fire department is obsolete and they do not count it as fire fighting equipment. In addition, the 1954 International will soon be in the same category. The city's third truck, the 1965 International, is designated for city use only and can not respond to calls outside of the city limits.

According to Noel, even if the city approved the purchase now, delivery would take about one year. The request was referred to committee for further study.

The council accepted a bid for sewer and water extensions in Magnuson's addition on North Arnold avenue. The bid was in the amount of $7,361 and was received from the same company that was awarded the recently announced contract for the previously scheduled sewer and water construction for this summer in Thief River Falls.

The council agreed to meet with the local board of education July 24.

Insurance for the arena and the dredge were mentioned briefly and referred to committees.

Preliminary figures on the cost of the proposed contracts for city employees as suggested by the Teamsters union were presented. Complete discussion was deferred until Monday when the council will meet to discuss finances.

Heidi Helen Critser And David Schneider Married

Miss Heidi Helen Critser and David J. Schneider exchanged marriage vows in this city on Saturday, May 13, at 4 p.m., at Zion Lutheran church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Billy L. Critser of Goodridge. Parents of the groom are Mr and Mrs Arthur Forsberg, Sr. of Thief River Falls.

Rev. Alexander F. Stoffel officiated at the double ring ceremony attended by approximately 180 relatives and friends. Mrs James Dalager was the organist, playing the traditional wedding marches. Vocalists were friends of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Maze Thompson of Fertile. They sang, "Wedding Song," "The Lord's Prayer," and "We've Only Just Begun." Guitar accompaniment for the first selection was provided by Charles Schulstad of Fargo, N. D.

Baskets of lavender gladioli with white and yellow mums and two-tone lavender satin bows graced the chancel. On either side of the altar was a candelabra with 15 lavender tapers. The pews were marked with purple satin bows with miniature yellow roses.

The bride was given in marriage by her parents. She was attired in a floor-length, hoop-skirt gown of Chantilly lace over satin. The fitted bodice, embroidered with seed pearls and crystals, featured a mandarin collar and long, fitted sleeves. A satin ribbon with a bow in back marked the waistline. Her bouffant skirt swept back into a short chapel-length train, which during the reception was buttoned-up to form a butterfly bow. A toque headpiece of ruffled lace, seeded with pearls and trimmed with a satin bow, held her triple tiered, bouffant elbow-length veil of English netting. To complete her attire, the bride carried a cascade designed bouquet of pale yellow roses and white carnations interspersed with fluffs of white lace and lavender satin streamers.

Miss Bonnie Weiss of Red Lake Falls, a friend of the bride, was maid of honor. Matron of honor was Virginia Cullen, sister of the bride. They wore identical floor-length gowns of purple knit Orlon with rounded necklines. Their full length sleeves of Chantilly lace were accented with small velvet bows. On their heads, they wore Dutch caps, of the same material as their gowns, overlaid with lace.

Wearing similar attire, only in shades of lavender, were the bridesmaids, Misses Barbara Roppe of Newfolden and Cathy Pechelunas of St. Paul. To complete their attire, the attendants carried white baskets of yellow and white chrysanthemums with babies' breath and white satin ribbon streamers. Their double strand golden necklaces with pendants were gifts from the bride.

Irene Critser of Auburn, Neb., cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She was attired in an ankle-length gown of yellow chiffon over silk satin. Her gown, fashioned with a hoop skirt, was styled with a fitted bodice featuring a high fluted collar and long, bouffant sleeves with two rows of ruffled chiffon. A yellow satin bow markked the waistline in back. A corresponding double bow with streamers was worn in her hair. Her basket of flowers was a replica of those carried by the bride's attendants.

Attending the groom as best man was his brother, Archie Schneider of Rochester. Bruce Seaverson, Jim Hulteen, both of Thief River Falls and Douglas Cullen of Goodridge, were groomsmen. Ushers were Clinton Stensrud and Perry Omdahl of Thief River Falls. All were attired in dark trousers and white dinner jackets with black trim on the lapels, matching the trim on their white ruffled shirts. Their boutonnieres were yellow carnations.

Wearing similar attire was the ring bearer, Scott Schneider of Rochester, nephew of the groom. He carried the rings on a white satin heart-shaped pillow, made by the sister of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Critser wore a knit, A-line dress of peach Orlon with a golden pendant at the jeweled neckline. The mother of the groom wore a turquoise knit dress. It was sytled with short sleeves and a peek-a-boo neckline, complemented by a gold pin featuring a white ivory rose, accompanied by matching earrings. Both wore identical corsages of white carnations and yellow sweetheart roses.

Honor guests at the wedding were Mrs. Erma Critser of Osford, Neb., grandmother of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight L. John of Beaver City, Neb., godparents of the bride; and Mrs. Archie Schneider, Eric and Scott, of Rochester, sister-in-law and nephews of the groom.

Other special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Justin Critser of Auburn, Neb., Neome and Alice Blixt, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Blixt and family of Winnipeg, Mr. and Ms. John Blixt, Mrs. Gust Blixt and Hildur, Mrs. Ella Carrier, Shirley and Ronald Blixt, all of Sprague, Man., Canada, and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Dyrdal of Rosewood.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors with the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bogle of Plattsmouth, Neb., as host and hostess. For the reception, the tables were decorated with white daisy mums and greens. Centering the serving table was a four-tiered wedding cake, decorated with yellow sweetheart roses, green leaves and white gladioli. Grecian colonnades separated the tiers. Topping the cake were two satin bells with two white doves carrying a wedding ring. Mrs. Arlyne Forsberg, sister-in-law of the groom, cut and served the cake. Pouring were Mrs. Pearl Larson and Mrs. Albert Sjolsvold, aunts of the groom. All are residents of Thief River Falls.

At the punch table were Mr. and Mrs. Gary LaValley of Thief River Falls, friends of the couple. Served with the punch were groom's cakes which were assorted petits fours and cordial cakes.

Presiding at the guest book was Miss Donna Smith of Grygla, friend of the bride. Waitresses were Mrs. Dick Marquis and Kay and Lori Marquis, neighbors of the bride. Mrs. Gary Johnson, friend of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stuey and Ron, neighbors, arranged the gifts.

For the wedding trip to Winnipeg, Kenora and Warroad, the bride wore a pink knit mini dress with a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses and white carnations.

Watch For Dutch Elm Disease Now Open In State

Dutch elm disease watch for 1972 is now officially open in Minnesota, according to Agriculture Commissioner Jon Wefald.

Samples of wilted elm tree growth now may be submitted to the State Dutch Elm Disease Control Laboratory for free analysis and appropriate recommendations.

State inspectors are now in the field checking for first signs of the disease in several suspect areas where spread of the insect-borne devastation is expected.

New growth of elm trees should be checked for evidence of the European bark beetles. Wilting of the tender new shoots and leaves and insect chewing marks in the limb joints are indications of infection.

Samples for testing by the state laboratory should be at least of pencil diameter and four to six inches in length. Four to six cuttings of wilted new growth should be submitted for each suspect tree and each sample should include the complete name, mailing address and phone number of the sender and location of the tree. Samples should be packaged in plastic or foil wrap to preserve freshness and mailed promptly.

Samples may be mailed to State Dutch Elm Disease Laboratory, 670 State Office Building in St. Paul, Minnesota. The zip code is 55155.

Before butter is sold, it is graded by government inspectors on the basis of taste, aroma, body and texture. Look for these grades on butter labels. Grade AA (the very best), Grade A (very good), and Grade B (standard).

Farmers Advised To Register If Unable To Plant

Farmers unable to plant wheat or feed grain because of adverse weather should sign up for prevented planting to protect the farm history, according to Marcel Dahl, chairman of the Marshall county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee.

Farms not credited for planting approximately 50 per cent of their feed grain base plus the domestic wheat allotment will lose history. This loss will result in a smaller base or allotment in future years. If no planting history is credited to a farm for three years in succession, the entire feed grain base and wheat allotment will be lost.

Set aside acreage payments will not change on farms claiming prevented planting history credit.

Farmers should sign up as soon as they are sure they will not be planting.

supervisor, $7,920; superintendent's secretary, $5,100; and machines-negotiation supervisor, $5,340.

Certificated staff was approved on the basis of 185-day contract for all faculty members and extended contract for those faculty members involved in instruction beyond the 185-day schedule negotiated. At a negotiating session preceding the regular board meeting, the extended contract was discussed and it was decided that the MEA council and school board would submit the contract forms used in this district to attorneys representing the two groups. Tentative meeting on the results of this inquiry has been set for Monday at 7:30 p.m.

Positions remaining to be filled at the time of the meeting were junior high mathematics instructor, first grade teacher at Mark Twain, office education instructor for AVTI and a counselor to spend half time at Lincoln and half time at the vocational-technical institute.

On a split vote with board members Wallace Sparby, Kenneth Murphy and Edgar Naplin voting in favor, Curtis Charlson and E. C. Olson against, Rev. Paul Biegner absent and chairman Maynard Wedul abstaining, lunch prices were set at the same as last year for elementary and junior and senior high schools. Prices will be 25 cents for elementary students and 30 cents for junior and senior high school students. Prices for AVTI and junior college students were raised from 35 cents to 50 cents and for adults from 60 cents to 65 cents.

Approval was given to a resolution authorizing payment of 50 cents per student per quarter for services of RIC personnel under the new program which will be operated from the Marshall County central school at Newfolden.

Bidding was authorized on life and disability insurance for district personnel.

Bid was accepted from the Pierce company for a copy machine at a lease price of $42.33 per month with the option to purchase at the end of 36 months for $125.

Bids on bus body and chassis were rejected and it was decided to readvertise.

Carlson's rainbow bakery was awarded the contract to supply rolls for the 1972-73 school year on the basis of closed quotations received.

Approval was given to employment of personnel for the purpose of curriculum revision during the summer in health, reading, art, social studies and reporting.

Lease of the National Guard armory for elementary classes was approved in the amount of $2,709 annually.

Discussion was held on possible eventual need for additional school property. A resolution was adopted authorizing the school board attorney to determine the property available and the cost of acquiring the two parcels of property previously designated on the south and north sides of Thief River Falls.

Richard Sauer, elementary principal, announced the intention to locate a Mark Twain sixth grade class in room 6 at Knox school and to move the trainable and educable mentally retarded classes so that both will be housed at Knox school. The armory will be used for two sections of Mark Twain's fifth grade.

Mr. Milton Hoff, principal at Franklin junior high, announced that the "Early Bird" schedule for the junior high school would be discontinued this year. Robert Ostazeski, senior high school principal, listed the daily class schedule for traditional scheduling at Lincoln.

Also reviewed by the board was a proposal to locate a 62-stall parking lot which would double for summer use as two tennis courts and a basketball court on the south side of the swimming pool addition to Franklin junior high school. Costs of two proposals ranged from $6,507 to $6,847, depending upon material used.

SBA Provides Some Assistance In Management

Management assistance is one of the major programs which the Small Business administration provides for the small business community, according to Paul W. Jansen, Minneapolis district director.

Assistance is designed for owner - managers of all types of small companies. It is available for the smal businessman who has management problems or by one considering opening his own business or who is having problems putting a new business on its feet.

SBA's management assistance programs are keyed to furthering the establishment, growth and success of small businesses. The need for this assistance can be pointed up by failures that occur in the small business community every year.

It is estimated that nine out of 10 business failures are the result of managerial deficiencies. These discontinuances represent a tremendous economic loss for the small business economy and the national economy.

Many business failures may have been avoided if the small business owner had received the necessary management assistance at the appropriate time.

Today businessmen must understand and use modern methods of managing their businesses to remain competitive.

Small business owners and managers are becoming more aware of this and are seeking new knowledge and counsel to improve management skills and effectiveness.

SBA management assistance officers counsel small businessmen on such problems as marketing, accounting, product analysis, production methods, research and development. They also advise and assist prospective small businessmen who want information on starting a new business enterprise.

SCORE (Service Corps of Retired Exdecutives) and ACE (Active Corps of Executives) programs, both utilizing volunteers, were developed by SBA to increase the availability of management counseling to small business.

A considerable amount of other management assistance programming on clinics, seminars and courses also is available.

Information about SBA may be obtained from: Public Information Office, Small Business Administration 12 South 6th Street, Minneapolis. The zip code is 55402.

Veterans administration officials noted on the June 1 sixth anniversary of the current GI bill that enrollments of 3.3 million already exceed the 2.4 million reached under 13 years of the preceding Korean GI bill.

It has often been said that adults don't need milk. The fact is that 16 ounces or more of milk each day is recommended for an adult to furnish the calcium the body requires. Two glasses of milk provide 54 per cent of the riboflavin, over 30 per cent of the protein, 30 per cent of the niacin equivalents and 14 per cent of vitamin A.

Lutheran Choir To Sing At Zion Church In City

Rev. Alexander Stoffel, senior pastor of Zion Lutheran church in Thief River Falls, announced recently that the All-State Lutheran choir will perform June 22 at 7:30 p.m. at Zion. The program is intended to provide an aesthetic experience and to impart to the local congregation an enthusiasm and appreciation for music, new and old, in the worship service.

The choir will be performing a variety of music from Bach and Ives to Repp Carmiachael including the singing of F. Melius Christiansen's "Psalm 50" and "How Fair the Church". In direct contrast to these, the group will perform "Amen", "Amazing Grace", "All My Trials", and others.

Unique to this group's performances is audience participation. Each concert is closed by seating the choir throughout the audience with everyone participating in singing hymns. This is done to show congregations their potential as singers and the joy involved in singing the hymns of the church.

Another unique aspect of this choir is that only a portion of its concert is performed in the traditional choir formation. Placing itself in other formations and around the congregation, the choir makes an effort to involve the audience in a worship service of songs.

The public is invited and a free will offering will be taken which will go directly to the choir.

Invite Artists To Display At Detroit Lakes

There will be no admission charge to the public.

Interested persons may contact Sue Hesby at 1204 Summit Avenue in Detroit Lakes. The zip code is 56501.

Wednesday, July 19, is crops and soils day at the Northwest experiment station, University of Minnesota, Crookston. The public is invited to attend this annual field day.

Tours of the plot work and other research activity will begin at 9 a.m. and continue through 1 p.m. Buses and tractor-drawn wagons will take visitors to the major plot area. Research specialists from the institute of agriculture, University of Minnesota, St. Paul and from the Northwest experiment station will be on hand to discuss the research work including sunflowers, forage crops, small grains, sugarbeets and chemical weed control.

The livestock barns and feeding lots will be open for those interested in visiting dairy, beef and sheep operations. The cold confinement beef barn where the cattle are on slats will be available for viewing.

The plant problems clinic will be featured again this year. Farmers and others are invited to bring in insect, plant disease, weed and soil problems to the specialists who will be available to diagnose and recommend control measures.

A noon luncheon will be served in the dining hall for field day visitors.

Pests are Expensive

How vital are pesticides to U.S. food producers? According to W. C. Shaw, United States Department of Agriculture, if pesticide use was withdrawn "Farm exports would be eliminated. The number of agricultural workers currently on farms would have to be doubled. Instead of spending 17 percent of family income on food, we would be forced to devote 30 to 40 percent of our income — and perhaps even more — to provide current food needs. Without increasing the amount of land in farm crops, we could not provide food for more than 40 percent of our current population."

The first successful appendectomy operation on record was performed in England in 1736.

Dexter To Speak At ICC Board Meeting June 21

Inter-county community council board of directors will hold its annual meeting in the Erskine school at 8 p.m. on June 21. New board members who were elected on June 7 and June 12 will officially take office at the meeting.

Harpo Dexter, editor of the Bemidji Daily Pioneer, free lance writer and former ICC staff member will be the featured speaker.

In addition to Harpo's presentation, which will deal with community action, inside and out, various staff members will briefly outline the status of their respective programs and be available to answer questions.

Everyone is invited to attend.

JOBS Program Will Hire 16

Hopkins House, a resort hotel in the Pequot Lakes area, will hire and train a total of 16 hard core unemployed persons under the JOBS (Job Opportunities in the Business Sector) program, according to the U.S. Department of Labor.

The labor department will pay $75,564 to cover the extra costs of training the hard core disadvantaged and providing necessary supportive services.

Supportive services may include basic education, transportation services, correction of health problems, personal counseling and other special health.

The JOBS program, launched in January of 1968, represents a combined effort of the federal government and private industry to make job opportunities in the private sector of the economy a reality for the nation's disadvantaged workers.

Under JOBS, participating companies hire and train hard core unemployed men and women under individual contracts with the labor department. The state employment services locate and recruit workers for the program.

Employers bear the normal training costs and the federal government the extra ones caused by the fact that the persons recruited are disadvantaged.

The trainees at Pequot Lakes will be employed as cooks, hotel clerks, maintenance men, housekeepers and catering managers.

Business and industrial leaders have formed the National Alliance of Businessmen (NAB) to help the JOBS program achieve its goals.

Gypsum Is Not Needed For Lawn Care In State

Gypsum has been prescribed to make lawns less hard, but in Minnesota, where there are no significant problems with sodium soils, gypsum is useless, says Curtis J. Overdahl, University of Minnesota extension soil specialist.

The idea of using gypsum, a calcium sulfate, originates in the arid regions of the West where excess salts are a problem. Gypsum, applied at several tons an acre, reacts with dosium carbonates to form an easily washed out compound, sodium sulfate.

After this treatment, the soil will become better structured and eventually less hard, Overdahl explains.

Considerable free sulfur has been added to the soil from the atmosphere in the Twin Cities area for many years. Although sulfur in the air now has been reduced, there is still enough to prevent sulfar deficiency in lawns and gardens, he adds.

Published claims about the need for gypsum are true only for specific problem soil areas—not for general conditions, Overdahl says. Gypsum is recommended to farmers for alfalfa in north central Minnesota as a source of sulfur. Gypsum also contains calcium, but this is not important for Minnesota growers since there is no known case of calcium deficiency in the state, he says.

Except for the north central area where soils generally are sandy and low in organic matter, few cases can be made for the need for sulfur. There may be specific conditions where gypsum can be helpful, such as on lawn spots caused by dogs or salt used on the streets during the winter. Gypsum should not be used in place of fertilizer or lime since it does not perform the functions that these substances do, Overdahl says.

Air Guard Will Accept 2-Year Nursing Grads

Major General Chester J. Moeglein, adjutant general of Minnesota, recently announced a new nurse recruiting program for the air national guard. This program, for the first time, makes it possible for a graduate of a two-year associate degree nursing program to be commissioned as a Second Lieutenant in the air national guard with an assignment as an air guard nurse.

Previously, only certified registered nurses who were graduate of no less than three-year nursing programs were eligible for commissioning in the air force or air national guard. The new program authorizes the recruitment of graduates of associate, diploma and baccalaureate programs (ADN program—2 years) which are fully or previsionally accredited and acceptable to the surgeon general, United States air force.

Additionally, applicants must be at least 20 years of age, have successfully passed the state board examination in nursing and possess current registration in at least one state.

Major General Moeglein, when discussing the program, stated, "The new nurse program will make available to the air national guard a large number of qualified nurses who were not previously eligible. The program will give the two-year nurses an opportunity for additional and varied nursing experience as well as supplementing the individual's income.

In addition, the program is ideal for those individuals desiring to obtain additional school credits needed for advanced education. The part time air national guard assignment will not interfere with school curriculum and will provide an income which may be used to pay tuition, purchase books or defray personal expenses."

Nurses meeting the requirements of the program and having a desire to be commissioned as a second lieutenant in the air national guard should contact the personnel officer at either the Minneapolis-St. Paul or Duluth air national guard base.

21 Counties Are Alerted For Insect Damage

Residents of a 21-county wedge of Minnesota extending north from the twin cities were recently alerted by Agriculture Commissioner Jon Wefald to potentially serious insect damage to white pine trees during June.

"Surveys last fall, winter and this spring by our Plant Industry division personnel indicate one of the highest and most potentially destructive June infestations by the pine sawfly since that insect was first detected in Minnesota in 1939," Wefeld said.

Counties affected are Aitkin, Anoka, Becker, Benton, Carleton, Cass, Chisago, Crow Wing, Hennepin, Hubbard, Isanti, Itasca, Kanabec, Mahnomen, Mille Lacs, Morrison, Pine, Ramsey, Sherburne, Wadena and Washington.

In heavy populations, the pine sawflys defoliate the needles of white pine trees with such rapidity the droppings produce a sound similar to the patter of a light rain.

The pine sawfly does its damage to the white pine trees, consuming the needles, while in the larval stage. In this stage the insect is a tiny caterpillar with a black head and a body of mixed black and yellow. The caterpillar eats pine needles until it grows to a length of about one inch, then spins a cocoon to later emerge as an adult wasp similar to but much smaller than a bee.

Gerald Beach, forest entomologist, said that the expected June infestation is the first of two generations of the pine sawfly expected this year, with the second due in September. Normally the fall hatch produces the most severe defoliation.

According to Beach, this month's hazard is an unusual situation due to the lack of killing frosts last fall. This allowed a high percentage of the September hatch of pine sawflys to mature and seek safe winter hibernation in the soil. Spring soil samples taken in Anoka, Isanti and Chisago counties confirmed the high survival rate and successful emergence of the adult sawflys.

Approved control action may be necessary to prevent tree losses in areas where pine sawfly infestations are very high. White pine trees can survive if less than 90 per cent defoliated, but high populations of the insect will completely strip the trees.

County agents, foresters, or the Minnesota Department of Agriculture (phone 612-296-3347) should be advised of heavy infestations. These agencies can advise the proper control actions to be taken.

FORMER RESIDENT of Thief River Falls, Miles Fiterman (right, above), is shown signing an agreement worth $29,000,000 to him. Fiterman's company, Miles Home companies of Minneapolis, pioneers of a new concept in the sale and financing of precision-cut, ready-to-build homes, was recently acquired by Insilco corporation of Meridan, Conn., for $29 million in cash and convertible debentures. Fiterman will continue as president of Miles Homes. Co-signing (left) is Durand B. Blatz, president of Insilco.

According to a study of the operations of 4,655 retail businesses that failed last year by Dun & Bradstreet (whose business is information about business), 19.6 per cent failed primarily because of general managerial inexperience, 12.4 per cent through lack of experience with the line, and 19.6 per cent because of weaknesses in special areas such as financing or purchasing!

SPACE and AERONAUTICS

SPACE TELESCOPE

WASHINGTON — NASA has decided to proceed with detailed planning of a large multi-purpose optical telescope to be launched and serviced by the Space Shuttle in the 1980s.

The Large Space Telescope (LST) will be able to look at galaxies 100 times fainter than those seen by the most powerful ground-based optical telescope. Within the solar system, it will be able to provide long-term monitoring of atmospheric phenomena on Venus, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn.

Scientists expect the LST to contribute significantly to the study of energy processes that occur in galactic nuclei; the study of early stages of stellar and solar system formation; observation of such highly evolved objects as supernova remnants and white dwarfs; and other studies relevant to the origin of the universe.

The LST will weigh between 9,000 and 11,000 kilograms (20,000 and 25,000 pounds) and have a length of 12 to 16 meters (40 to 52 feet) and a diameter of 3.6 to 4 meters (12 to 13 feet). Its most important optical element will be a diffraction-limited mirror approximately three meters (ten feet) in diameter.

The guidance system will be capable of holding onto a target for extended periods within 0.005 seconds of arc. (This is the angle made by a dime viewed at a distance from Washington to Boston.)

Solar panels will provide electrical power to the LST, and its images will be transmitted to Earth by television.

The spacecraft will orbit Earth at an altitude of 648 to 778 kilometers (350 to 420 nautical miles) at an inclination of 28.5 degrees.

The manned Space Shuttle, which NASA is developing for operations beginning in the late 1970s, will be used to launch, test and retrieve the LST from orbit as required for repair, refurbishment, and updating of its instruments.

Soil Surveys Recommended By Soil Scientists

Local levels of government are becoming more involved with zoning, solid waste disposal, pollution control and commercial or industrial development. In dealing with these, the need for soils information is soon realized.

Soil survey to provide basic soil information dates back to the homesteading era. People would often file a claim and settle because water was near or they liked the vegetation and some other features. Many had no idea that soil conditions were such that an attempt to make a living from this land would end in failure. So after several years of trial and heartbreak, the inevitable happened and the family was forced to move. To prevent this, a program to provide information about the soil was started.

The purpose of soil survey remains the same. They are made to provide information that will help avoid mistakes, save money, material and energy. It is estimated that the cost benefit ration of a soil survey to a progressive farming area is 1 to 175. This should be considered a good investment.

Soil surveys are made by the USDA Soil Conservation and cooperation with your local soil conservation district and the Minnesota Agricultural Experiement Station. For more information on soil surveys and soils information, contact Malvern Johnson at the Thief River Falls district office of the soil conservation service.

Employers Must Give Forms To Former Workers

Internal revenue service has restored the requirement that employers provide forms W-2 to former employees within 30 days after final wages are paid, according to George O. Lethert, internal revenue service district director for Minnesota.

The requirement had been suspended last year while Congress was considering legislation that would affect social security information also entered on the form. While that legislation was being considered, printing of the new forms was delayed. The delay in printing the forms led to the temporary suspension of the 30-day requirement.

Since action has not been completed on the proposed legislation, the IRS has decided to go ahead with the printing of W-2 forms reflecting the current law. Supplies of the form are available at IRS offices.

Lethert said employers should furnish forms W-2 to former workers on or before July 5, if final wages were paid on or before June 5. For employees whose employment was terminated after June 5, W-2's should be furnished not later than 30 days after final wages were paid.

Revenue procedure 72-19, which authorized the suspension, will be modified to reflect the reinstatement of the requirement as of June 5. This procedure will appear in cumulative bulletin 1972-1, which contains all revenue rulings and procedures for the first six months of 1972.

Milk is frequently called "nature's most nearly perfect food" because it supplies high percentages of the dairy food nutrient requirements for people of all ages and is one of the most economical sources of food in the U.S. diet.

FUNNY BIRD

No! Funny looking maybe but functional. Built for work. His natural habitat is high grass, weeds and brush. He mows down little blades of grass or 1-3/8" saplings with his 36" or 44" bill.

He goes over rough terrain safer, faster, easier and with a longer proven life than other birds.

You see more JARI's in the yards and on the grounds of America than any other bird. Insist on JARI—he'll reward you with dedicated service.

Berg Will Head Garden Valley Telephone Co.

More than 300 persons, including 169 registered stockholders, attended the 66th annual meeting of the Garden Valley Telephone company at the cooperative's headquarters in Erskine recently.

Reelected to serve three-year terms on the board of directors were Chester Casselman, Erskine; Elmer Berg Gully; and Elmer Lee, Fosston. Berg is president of the board.

Also continuing to serve on the board are the following directors whose terms did not expire this year: Christ Clausen, Grygla; O.P. Gjerdingen, Red Lake Falls, treasurer; Norman Hendrickson, Gonvick; Simon Knudson, McIntosh; L. J. Lee, Bagley, vice president; and Oris Moen, Fertile, secretary.

General manager Harold W. Peterson, who was presented with an award commemoration his 44 years of service to the company, reviewed the cooperative's progress in 1971. He stated that the financial position of the company is sound although there has been no general rate increase over the past 18 years, during which most costs have risen substantially.

Peterson also discussed the problems involved in providing extended area service and noted that six exchanges (Brooks, Fertile, Maple Bay, Mentor, Minerva and Red Lake Falls) have total one-party service availability and that Bagley is due to be cutover in late 1972 or early 1973. The general manager indicated the one-party service project will be extended next in Clearbrook, Leonard, Grygla and the company's new exchange at Gatzke.

Vice president L. J. Lee, a member of the Minnesota House of Representatives, spoke on the state tax program enacted in the last session of the legislature, noting the emphasis placed on governmental budget reductions. Rep. Lee, who previously announced he will not be a candidate for reelection to the legislature, stressed the importance of participating in the political movement to assure that the benefits in this country's form of government are preserved.

President Elmer Berg presented a report on the continuing growth of the cooperative, noting that company assets increased 9.7 per cent in 1971 to more than six and one-half million dollars. Berg also stated that the number of telephones in service has surpassed 12,000; that some 55,000 more toll calls have been billed to subscribers this year than through the same four-month period in 1971; and that members thus far in 1972 are using an average of nearly $23,000 more telephone service—per month—than during January-April in 1971.

Providing the entertainment for the 1972 annual session was a group of local musicians: Adrian Benedick, Joe DuChamp, M. A. Ness, Bernt Odegard, Milton Sande and Bloyd Talge.

Greene Attends Templar Meet In Minneapolis

Kirby Greene

Kirby Greene of this city attended the 197th annual conclave of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar of Minnesota, held June 9-10 in Minneapolis. Greene is captain-general of Constantine commandery 20 of Crookston, the constituent commandery of northwestern Minnesota.

Knights Templar are composed of Christian Masons of the York rite. They sponsor the Knights Templar Eye foundation, Inc. This year the Minnesota Templars ranked second in the entire nation in financial support of their charity.

Since 1955, $4,770,000 has been spent for eye surgery and hospital costs by the Knights Templar and $577,790 went to medical institutions for research in ophthalmology.

Final event of the 1972 conclave was public installation of the new Grand Commander, the Right Eminent Donald W. Jarvi, and his new officers.

MPCA Monitors Dismantling Of Nuclear Reactor

Minnesota Pollution Control Agency (MPCA) plans to monitor the dismantling of the nuclear reactor at Elk River.

A three party agreement allowing monitoring by the MPCA of the dismantling of the nuclear reactor at Elk River was reached recently between the MPCA staff, the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) and the United Power association (UPA) of Elk River.

The agreement grew out of a meeting in Washington, D.C., between representatives of the three organizations. The MPCA had twice asked the AEC for public hearings on the dismantling, but were denied both times.

MPCA director Grant J. Merritt said he pushed for the monitoring privilege because he thought it "necessary to fulfill the MPCA's responsibility to the people of Minnesota with regard to the radiological impact of the dismantling on the health and safety of those engaged in the work, the public generally and the environment."

The reactor, owned by the AEC and operated by UPA, is being torn down four years after it broke down beyond repair. The dismantling, set to begin either this month or early in July, will result in at least 40,000 gallons of waste discharge to the Mississippi river, according to UPA officials.

"We consider this monitoring activity exceedingly important and are pleased to have worked out the agreement," Merritt said. "We found all parties concerned, from both the AEC and UPA very cooperative and eager to satisfy our desires, short of a hearing" he added.

Under the agreement MPCA may monitor any liquid or gaseous emissions resulting from the dismantling, and any radioactive material removed from the dismantling site by truck for transportation and disposal out of state. UPA personnel will notify the MPCA at least 48 hours before any planned radioactive discharge or removal of any radioactive material so MPCA staff members may obtain samples for analysis in their laboratories.

The AEC denied the MPCA's hearing request because it felt a sufficient public exposure to the proposed dismantling had been made. The AEC also said that it believes the dismantling will ultimately have a positive environmental impact because the reactor will be completely removed and the reactor site returned to its original condition.

The American Conscience

by Dr. RUDY SKOGERBOE

Senator Hubert Humphrey is expected to win only 7 of the at large delegates to the Democratic National Convention. He will hold a bare majority of the Minnesota delegation. It is peculiar indeed that a man such as Sen. Humphrey should be so badly treated by his home state. No one has done more for the DFL than Sen. Humphrey. I remember the day Humphrey carried the DFL to one political victory after another. In spite of the fact that the Senator has dominated the affairs of the DFL for the last 20 years, party people sat back and let well organized, hard working revolutionaries win one delegate after another.

As a conservative, I am concerned about what deficit spending has done to the poor, the old and the working taxpayer. Because of this attitude, I have never been enthusiastic about the vast spending programs promoted by Sen. Humphrey. However, I believe he has grown in wisdom and in a sense of responsibility with the years and thus represents the responsible wing of the liberal scene. It would be very sad if the Democrats would pass up Humphrey for McGovern or any other candidate. To me, who is not involved in this fight at all, the whole primary campaign has shown what apathy and dedication can do. The revolutionaries are dedicated and they work hard. Those who want to conserve the stability of our government are not so dedicated and not so ambitious.

The governor's conference in Houston reflected this concern. Such men as Gov. Mike Callaghan of Nevada were very upset about McGovern and were very vocal against a ticket headed by him. Other democratic governors such as Hearnes, William Waller and Jimmy Carter joined the governor from Nevada. They were furious about his Viet Nam ideas which would result in a pull out first, then negotiation for the prisoners. They were concerned also about what his nomination would do to the democrats in November.

It is a sad day for America that sees one of our major parties actually consider, much less nominate such a man as McGovern. The fact that it happened is an example of what happens when the regular party members lose their loyalty and enthusiasm. It is quite possible there is something more fundamental than pure apathy. This is the lack of anything special to inspire party workers. The two party system is in trouble and the spectacle of someone such as McGovern becoming nominated will happen.

In Minnesota both parties will have their conventions this month and it is quite possible the platforms of neither one will reflect the will of the working taxpayer. It would seem logical that if neither party can produce a consistent sensible platform, it is time for a change. However, if that change is to be for the better, those who know what's going on better get involved.

PENNINGTON ASCS ACTIVITIES

by WALLACE SPARBY
Executive Director

We have just received our reseal rates for the storage period 1972-73 which would carry us through from May 31, 1972 to May 31st 1973 for most commodities.

The rates for the 1971 crops of barley, rye and wheat are 14.6 cents per bushel per year, or if we are to talk about 100 bushel units, then the rate per month would be $1.21 on 100 bushels.

For the 1971 corn crop, the rate is 12.1 cents per month on 100 bushel units; $1.21, based on 10 months storage. The rate on the 1971 oats is 11.3 cents per year or on 100 bushel units, that would be .94 per month.

For the 1968, 1969 and 1970 crops of barley and wheat, the rate is .12 per bushel per year, and for the 1968, 1969 and 1970 crops of oats, the rate is 8.7 cents per bushel per year. For 1969, and 1970, the corn rate is .10 per bushel per year.

The commodities that are authorized for reseal this year, are 1968, 1969, 1970, 1971 crops of oats, 1968, 1969, 1970, 1971 crops of wheat, 1968, 1969, 1970, 1971 crops of barley and the 1971 crop of rye. Also, the 1969, 1970, 1971 crop of corn. The commodities listed above are all authorized for reseal where they can be safely stored on the farm and it will be advantageous to the Producer and CCC for the commodities that remain on the farm under loan.

We have many farmers who want to know if they can request ditching at this time. The County Committee will accept requests anytime during the year up until you are unable to ditch anymore this fall, providing they have funds. At the present time, funds are available for drainage practices within certain limitations. With our weather extremes where it is too wet, occasionally, we do need drainage and the County Committee wants to do all they can to help you.

Anyone planning on planting trees next year should come in and sign up now so a tree planting plan can be developed and site preparation can be requested prior to starting the practice.

Vizenor Hired To Direct BSC Indian Studies

GERALD VIZENOR has accepted the position of director of Indian studies at Bemidji state college and will assume duties July 1. A long list of educational, professional and military experiences gives Vizenor background for the position. His book "The Everlasting Sky" will be released by McMillan company of New York in September.

Bemidji state college announced this week that Gerald Vizenor has accepted the position of director of Indian studies at BSC and will assume duties July 1.

Vizenor, 37 years of age, is a member of the Anishinabe (Chippewa) people and comes to BSC from a position as director of intercultural programs in Park Rapids school district. Prior to that he was a reporter for the Minneapolis "Tribune", writing feature stories, investigative and spot news reports.

Dr. R. D. Decker, BSC president, announced the appointment of Vizenor, saying, "Our Indian studies program is one area for which we have high expectations and I know that Gerry will make great contributions to the college and to this area. I'm delighted that a man of his calibre has accepted the position."

Decker's enthusiasm is reflected by Dr. Lewis Downing, head of the division of behavioral sciences at BSC.

"I feel that the committee of six Indian students and four faculty members at BSC did an excellent job of screening the many applicants for this position," Dr. Downing said. "I'm looking forward to working with him in his programs and welcome him to this division."

Vizenor envisions a number of new areas for the Indian studies program and has met extensively with elected leaders of Indian tribes in the BSC area. He also met last week with Indian students at BSC to gain information on their desires.

The meetings resulted in three priority areas of involvement which he will implement during his first year.

First priority listed is to obtain an Indian student center. Second priority is for special three quarter seminar exclusively for Indian students. This seminar will be taught by Vizenor and under this area he hopes to implement internships for Indian students working in reservation business.

Third on the priority list is establishment of an Indian political party and the publication of a newspaper for Indian people.

One of the things they seek is involvement of Indian college students in reservation matters, either though college-credit internships, or by interesting the students in research projects about Indian history, culture or land transactions.

All of the off-campus activities will be carried out with cooperation and consent of the elected officials on the reservations affected, Vizenor points out.

This will be in addition to academic and cultural studies which have already started at the college.

"We hope to make the Indian student more visible in public schools which have Indian pupils," Vizenor reflected as he pointed out that a frequent problem for Indian school children is the lack of Indian educators and guidance from Indian adults.

A long list of educational, professional and military experiences gives Vizenor an excellent background for the position, his book "The Everlasting Sky" will be released by Mac Millan company of New York in September of 1972.

Other publications include poems in several anthologies; a play "A Season for all Things" with Jerome Downes about Indian life in Minnesota; introductions to several books; and a selected bibliography of Dakota and Ojibway Indians of Minnesota for Minneapolis public schools in 1967.

"The Everlasting Sky" is the story of the Anishinabe people. He also has several works in progress at this time.

The Indian studies minor at BSC is offered through the division of behavioral sciences. Further information is available by writing the field services office at BSC.

Boat Regulations Being Reviewed

Now that the summer boating season is in full swing, the Department of Natural Resources reports they are receiving numerous questions on some of the regulations that went into effect for the first time this year.

Despite the fact that more than 27,000 canoes, sailboats and kayaks have been registered by the department's license center, there are still some persons who don't know that these watercraft must be licensed.

For craft having a length of no more than 19 feet, the fee is $5, covering a three year period. Application for license is made through the center, located at 625 north Robert street, St. Paul.

A distinctive license decal showing a picture of a loon (the state bird) and containing the license number has been designed for canoes, sailboats and kayaks.

Owners should note the instructions in the regulations on where to place the decals.

Another new law this year requires that boats operated after sunset and before sunrise be equipped with lights. Motor powered craft must have the conventional red and green running lights on the bow and a white light at the stern.

Unmotored craft are permitted to use a flashlight or lantern.

This year, for the first time, every person in a watercraft is required to have a life preserver. Resorts and boat liverys are required to provide these to their customers if the customer does not have his own.

However, nothing in the law prohibits them from taking a deposit on the preserver, which can be refunded when the device is returned, or from increasing their rental charges to compensate for replacement costs.

The Department said it has heard few complaints over the new regulation concerning the age of youthful power boat operators.

The law states that no one under the age of 13 may operate a motorboat larger than 24 horsepower without being accompanied by someone at least 15 years old.

How's Your Health

(Prepared in the public interest by the Minnesota Medical Association.)

How do you know you have been infected with syphilis or gonorrhea?

With gonorrhea, it is not easy—especially in women where symptoms are often missing or misread. That is why an infected person may infect others without knowing it and why it is so important to check with a physician if a person even suspects being infected.

Gonorrhea symptoms usually appear three to eight days after infection. In men, urination is burning and painful and they begin discharging yellow pus. Some women may develop a vaginal discharge, but nine out of ten infected women have no symptoms.

Syphilis symptoms are often similar to other diseases. That is why syphilis is sometimes called the "great imitator."

The first sign of syphilis is a chancre sore which appears 10 to 90 days after infection. Usually it is located at the point where the germs entered the body, but it may appear anywhere. In women, the sore may be in a concealed part of the body. The sore is painless and will disappear without treatment but the person is still infected.

The second sign appears 45 days to six months after infection. The person feels ill; he may have a fever, sore throat, chancre sores, rash, falling hair and sores at moist spots. Some never have these symptoms and in some the symptoms come and go for about a year.

After two years, a person with syphilis cannot infect others but damage will continue and may lead to crippling, blindness, insanity and death.

If you suspect you may be infected, see a physician or go to a free public health clinic at once. And, do not expose others, says the Minnesota State Medical Association.

QUESTIONS Answered for VETERANS

Q— Are GI bill educational assistance allowance benefits that veterans receive from the Veterans administration taxable?

A— No. The internal revenue service does not consider these benefits as income for tax purposes.

Q— I am a 74-year-old veteran on Veterans administration pension rolls. I have heard that I will not receive an income questionnaire this November. Is this true?

A— It's true. You will receive information with your November pension check explaining that pensioners 72 years old and older who have been on the rolls during two consecutive years are exempt from filing the questionnaires.

Q— How much truth is there to criticism that Veterans administration hospitals are so crowded with dying old men and old alcoholics that bed space is not available for Vietnam veterans?

A— None. Veterans with service-connected disabilities have first call on VA medical care, and plenty of hospital beds are available. A recent check disclosed that about 84,000 veterans were occupying hospital beds, about 10 per cent of them Vietnam-era veterans.

Q—Am I eligible for benefits under the current GI bill if I served in the regular Army from 1930 to 1935?

A—No. The current GI bill provides GI loans, education and other benefits for eligible veterans who served after January 31, 1955.

Q—I am going to school under the GI bill, and plan to attend summer school. What should I do to have my Veterans administration educational benefits continue through the summer?

A—After you enroll for the summer session, notify the school of your continued eligibility for VA education benefits. The school will certify your reenrollment to the VA, and you will receive your payments effective the date of re-enrollment.

Prowler Thinclads Set Five Records During Campaign

Markoe Hanson

Jim Sims' Prowler track squad set five new Lincoln high school track and field records during the 1972 season, including new school standards in the 440, 880 and two-mile races, as well as in the 880 and mile relay events.

Senior team captain Mike Fitzgerald broke his own 52.0 mark set last year in the 440-yard dash with a 51.7 performance to win the region eight crown, while senior Paul Battleson also topped his own 1:59.5 standard he set last season with a 1:59.1 effort in the Prowlers' first meet of the '72 season. Junior Bruce Johnson provided the Prowlers with their other individual record breaking performance with a 10:31.1 clocking in the two-mile run, breaking Jon Folkedahl's year-old 10:36 standard.

The Prowler 880-yard relay team of senior Steve Beich and juniors Jon Markstrom, Kent Smith and Markoe Hanson lowered the school standard from 1:34.1, set last year, to 1:33.8 during the recent state meet in Minneapolis. Markstrom, Hanson and Beich were all members of last year's record-setting squad, along with injured John Wangberg.

The all senior mile relay squad of Don Reierson, Rande Smith, Battleson and Fitzgerald shattered the 1968 record of 3:35.3 with a 3:30.6 performance in the district 31 meet at UND's Memorial stadium. Members of the 1968 crew were Kim Brandt, Bill Norman, Gary Jordet and Dave Reeve.

Hanson, the team's leading point scorer the past two seasons, has been selected as the Prowler track captain for the 1973 season, it was announced by Sims.

Hanson scored 117 points for the Prowlers this season, including first-place points in the Northwest Conference 220-yard dash, the district 31 100-yard dash and the region eight 100 and 220-yard events. He just missed a clean sweep of the dashes in the conference and district meets with close second place finishes in the 100 at the conference outing and in the 220 during the district meet.

Senior Rande Smith was the second leading point producer for the Prowlers this spring with 70½ points, including first-place points in both the district and region discus competition.

Close behind Smith on the Prowler scoring parade was Fitzgerald with 70¼ points, that included first place performances in the 440-yard dash in both the Northwest Conference and region eight meets.

Following Fitzgerald in the scoring charts were Battleson with 56¼, Doug Aaseby 54½, Beich 50¼, Kent Smith 48½, Rob Swenson with 39¼, even though the senior speedster missed the last half of the season because of an injury, Markstrom 35¾, Greg Bulger 31, John Wangberg with 27½ while also missing the last half of the season because of injuries, Scott Olson 24½, Mark Kaushagen 24, Reierson 23¾, Johnson 23, Jerry Sandahl 21¼ and Jeff Rhoden 20½.

Also, Steve Phelps 16, Tony Dorn 8, Gerald Trickle 7¾, Gary Halvorson 7, Russ Larson and Mark Hamerlinck 6, Lonnie Olson 5, Perry Omdahl 2 1-3, Van Sillerud 3, Joe Sorvig, Kent Christensen and Dave Wold 2, Tom Goddard 1 and Don Dicken, along with Greg McEwen with ¼.

The Prowlers claimed their fifth straight district 31 crown under Sims this season, as well as their second straight region eight championship, while also picking up first place trophies in the Pirate indoor at Crookston, the Park Rapids invitational and the Quentin Jones invitational in Thief River Falls.

Sims was assisted this season by Marv Walter and Quent Jones.

Confusion Over Senior Citizen Fish Licenses

Department of Natural Resources today said there appears to be some confusion over the eligibility and cost of a "senior citizen" fishing license.

To be eligible, a person must be at least 70 years of age (not 65) and be a resident of Minnesota. Cost of the license is the same as the regular resident individual angling license, which this year is $4.

Only single or individual licenses are issued for senior citizens, no husband and wife or "combination" licenses. A man and his wife must each purchase an individual angling license, providing they meet the age and residency requirement.

Applicants must show proof of age and residency. A driver's license, social security card or birth certificate are acceptable.

Department officials said very few license agents handle the senior citizens license and they must usually be obtained from the county auditor.

Pool Schedule

Fri., June 16— 8:30-5:30 swimming lessons. 7-10 open swimming.

Sat., June 17— 10-11 Plummer school. 1:30-4:30 open swimming. 7-10 open swimming.

Archers Donate Money To State For Deer Land

A project to improve deer habitat in three sites northeast of Park Rapids will be financed through a $2,076 contribution from the Minnesota state archery association, Commissioner Robert L. Herbst of the Department of Natural Resources reported today.

The association raised the funds through an archery shoot held at the club's range in St. Paul April 23.

The Department offered the club a choice of areas in which to put their funds to work and they selected three locations in what is known as the "Nectie River Deer Yard". The area consists largely of birch and aspen uplands of the kind archers like to hunt.

Work will consist primarily of shearing off mature aspen and other hardwoods in order to promote new growth which will provide food for deer. Pines will be left to provide winter cover and some oaks will be retained for their value in producing acorns, a preferred deer food.

Fire lanes around the projects will be planted to clover, a favorite food for both deer and grouse.

Last year the club contributed $1,500 to the Department to help finance a research study on black bear being carried out by specialist Lynn Rogers.

First Waterbank Response Is Good

More than 800 applications were received from farmers willing to enroll lands and marshes in the new waterbank program during the first three days of the sign up period, it was reported today by Commissioner Robert L. Herbst.

Game officials at the Department of Natural Resources said ASCS offices in the ten counties eligible for the program reported that a little over 42,000 acres were included in the applications received through May 25.

Sign up for the new program started on May 22 and will continue through June 9.

Under the program, farmers receive payments from the federal government over a 10 year period for agreeing not to drain, fill, graze or harvest a crop from the lands and waters they enroll in the program.

Purpose of the program is to preserve and restore wetlands in order to conserve water, prevent soil and wind erosion, preserve waterfowl habitat and reduce run off and flood effects.

From one to four acres of upland suitable for nesting cover must be included for each acre of marsh enrolled.

MR. MERCHANT!

Here are ten solid facts you should consider in planning your advertising

1—The newspaper is an advertising medium that is WANTED—it is sought after and paid for, and advertising in it is not an intruder in the home.

2—Nearly all of a newspaper's circulation is CONCENTRATED in its market area.

3—The newspaper provides PENETRATION in the primary market by reaching virtually every family or customer in that market.

Plan Symposium On Environment For Teaching

Plans are well advanced for Minnesota's first state-wide meeting on use of environmental teaching resources "outside the classroom."

The day long symposium will be held Saturday, September 16, at Anoka senior high school, according to Bob Kloubee of the Pennington soil and water conservation district.

Demonstrations for more effective use of a pond, court room, airport, local industry, a farm, playground, city hall, woodlands, wildlife populations and other environmental instruction sites will receive strong emphasis.

Lyle Bradley, chairman for this "Minnesota Environmental Site Symposium" sponsored by the Anoka-Hennepin school district, expects educators from most of the state's 87 counties to attend.

"We will be focusing our program on dramatic new dimensions in educational opportunities beyond conventional classrooms," Bradley said. "Our primary objective is to share ideas on the development of practical meaningful skills in students and teachers ranging from kindergarten through college level."

Participants in panel discussions and media presentations will include many skilled environmental teachers and resource specialists. The focus will be on acquiring, developing and utilizing all types of beyond-the-classroom sites.

Environmentalists participating in symposium planning feel duplication and trial and error testing can be eliminated through the exchange of information and ideas.

They feel many of Minnesota's 432 school districts have incorporated environmental instruction in their curriculm but should have more of an informational exchange. A comprehensive Minnesota environmental site directory, being prepared by the department of natural resources, will be distributed at the Anoka session.

The fall symposium will also place heavy emphasis on introducting environmental studies in all phases of school and community organizations.

Symposium inquiries should be directed to Environmental Site Symposium, Anoka Senior high school, Anoka, Minnesota 55404.

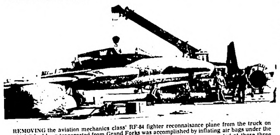
OVERWIDTH at 33½ feet, an RF-84 fighter reconnaisance plane was hauled to Thief River Falls from Grand Forks for the aviation mechanics class of the Thief River Falls area vocational technical institute. The tail section was placed on the trailer in front of the plane's nose, at an angle to reduce the overall height of the load.



REMOVING the aviation mechanics class' RF-84 fighter reconnaisance plane from the truck on which it had been transported from Grand Forks was accomplished by inflating air bags under the wings and lifting the nose, using a crane and sling. When the plane was supported at those three points the truck was driven out from under it. Deflating the bags permitted the plane to be supported by its landing gear.

Yogurt is a cultured milk product usually made from fresh, partially skim milk, enriched by the addition of nonfat dry milk to which a special culture has been added.

Fold, do not stir, yogurt into other ingredients, and it will keep its consistency.

AVTI Receives Military Plane For Class Here

Aviation mechanics students at the Thief River Falls area vocational technical institute received an RF-84 Jet reconnaisance plane Friday from the Nebraska National Guard. The craft is being replaced by newer models though it is still serviceable.

The plane was flown to the air base at Grand Forks because the runway in Thief River Falls is too short for maximum safety, according to military regulations for the F-84. From Grand Forks the nearly 18,000 pound plane was trucked to Thief River Falls.

Several difficulties were encountered. It was necessary to disassemble the fuselage behind the cockpit so that the tail section could be placed at an angle to decrease the height of the load because of underpasses. The operation was also hampered since the wings could not be taken off because of the fuel cells in them which would be extremely difficult to reseal. That left a load width of 33½ feet.

To avoid traffic, the plane left the air base about 3 a.m. Friday with escorts from several law enforcement agencies along the way.

Students from the vocational school removed highway signs and replaced them so the plane could clear the obstacles. Fortunately the wings were high enough to clear mail boxes.

The Air Force furnished trucks and personnel.

Commission Set To Study Clashes At University

University of Minnesota President Malcolm Moos Thursday named a commission of inquiry to study the recent anti-war demonstrations and student-police clashes on the Twin Cities campus May 9 through May 15.

The commission was requested by a meeting of the student-faculty Twin Cities assembly in an emergency session on May 12 while Minnesota National Guardsmen were on the campus.

Moose asked the commission to recommend ways to prevent similar events in the future and to suggest "changes in current university policies and practices that may have contributed to the difficulties we experienced."

The 14-member commission, which will be chaired by Professor John Darley, chairman of the psychology department, includes three students, three faculty members, three civil service employees, three representatives of the community and two exofficio members.

"This commission assumes a very heavy responsibility," Moos said. "For the first time in our university's history, we experienced major violence and the presence of National Guard troops to maintain security and safety.

"It is imperative that we know as completely as possible what happened on our campus and why it happened," Moos said.

Darley, Joyce Hughes, associate professor of law, and Barbara Stuhler, associate director of the world affairs center, will be the faculty members of the commission.

Students in the group are Katherine Sasseville, a second-year law student and president of law council; John Holland, a graduate student and teaching assistant in political science; and Howard Schwartz, college of liberal arts sophomore who is executive vice president of the Minnesota student association.

The three civil service employees on the commission are Janice Bouman, office supervisor in the college of business administration; David Kanatz, assistant director of the student financial aid office; and Bill Huntzicker, a writer for the university news service.

Community representatives will include former Minnesota Supreme Court Justice Robert Sheran, who is now an attorney in Minneapolis, and Robert Forsythe, an Edina attorney. The third community member has yet to be named.

The two ex-officio members are Lloyd Lofquist, assistant vice president for academic administration, and George Donohue, a sociology professor who will represent the university social policy committee.

243 New Jobs

New jobs numbering 243 will be created in Minnesota as a result of 59 loans disbursed in the state by banks and guaranteed by the Small Business administration during May. These loans, according to Paul W. Jansen, district director of the Minneapolis office of the SBA amounted to $2,821,000.

Small business firms wishing to apply for SBA loans can do so by contacting their local bank or the Small Business administration. Information loan booklets are available from the Minneapolis office located at 12 South 6th Street, Minneapolis 55402.

Self-Help For American Indians

Community Development Foundation (CDF), an international voluntary agency, assists American Indians such as these Papagos build a new community center.

The Community Development Foundation (CDF) and its cooperating agency, Save the Children Federation (SCF), headquartered in Norwalk, Connecticut, today reported that American Indians living on reservations within the United States have completed 879 of 1,031 community self-help projects they initiated.

Community development self help projects selected by the Indians included public works, agriculture, education, health, welfare, business and commerce, housing, etc.

Among the highlights of the self-help projects is the program at the Tuba City High School in Arizona. The Tuba City program will enable some 50 young Navajos to learn techniques of farming and raising livestock in an environment which duplicates actual agricultural and livestock experience.

Over 17,200 American Indians have completed 171,175 man-days of volunteer labor in order to complete the projects. When all the community self help projects are completed, over 225,000 man-days of voluntary service will have been volunteered by the Indians.

Some 53 tribes in over 200 locations have thus far participated in the self-help programs now in effect in 20 states.

Community Development Foundation assists communities in this country and overseas to initiate and carry out projects which meet local needs and utilize local resources and local volunteer labor.

Incorporated in 1959, the Foundation was granted consultative status to the United Nations in 1966 by the U.N. Economic and Social Council. The Foundation is a member of the American Council of Voluntary Agencies for Foreign Service, the International Council of Voluntary Agencies and is registered with the U.S. State Department Advisory Committee on Voluntary Foreign Aid.

It's pretty evident that we have toppled the little red schoolhouse. Ideas we had about economics, science, race and education itself, have come and gone. New ideas are broaching the surface of life and thundering over us.

Campus unrest and street demonstrations make us reappraise old values and ideas.

But one idea remains steadfast. It is the idea that God loves man and men, and that He cares about what happens to our lives.

Are shouting television newscasts and bold headlines overwhelming you? Then you need an open mind and a steady faith. God's love is for you. Your church is where you find out about it. Try it next Sunday. It will help you grasp an old idea, even if it is a new one for you.

Ideas... Old and New

4-H'ers Emphasize Health "H" with Information and Service

4-H HEALTH PROGRAM
AWARD

SPECIAL — Drug abuse, the problems of air and water pollution, helping the retarded, caring about the elderly, organizing blood drives and distributing health information . . . These are some of the things that 4-H'ers across the country have done this year, by participating in the 4-H Health program sponsored by Eli Lilly and Company.

Not only do 4-H'ers look for ways to maintain and improve their own health, but they try to go out into their communities and inform and help to improve the health of their friends, their families and their neighbors.

They Accept Opportunities

4-H members have almost unlimited opportunities for service in health projects. In fact, according to the Cooperative Extension Service, many clubs have used novel techniques to put across the message of better health.

In Fayette County, Ohio, one 4-H club sponsored a blood donors drive. With the aid of a "Bloodmobile" the club contacted over 200 new blood donors and raised over 125 pints of blood.

A club in Los Angeles County, Calif., worked with retarded and crippled children at a local hospital. The members of the club devoted their time to entertaining the children and to raising money to speed the cure of their crippling diseases.

Work for Clean Air, Water

Air and water pollution was the pressing health concern of an Urbana, Ill. club. The club's entire activities centered around a program called "Environment Control". Speakers, discussions, personal actions and skits were employed to get the anti-pollution message out.

Mrs. Alex Sawyer, club leader, summed up her club's health activities this way, "Many families participated in recycling drives . . . One half mile of country road is (now) litter free. Hopefully (the program) convinced audiences that there is a problem and that there are solutions."

A leader in North Carolina said of the results of her club's health programs, "Our youth are learning to be leaders in our community, county and state by planning and carrying out these activities."

Those taking part in the 4-H Health program receive other benefits as well. Eli Lilly provides incentives and recognition for clubs as well as members who participate. Four young people from each county are eligible for medals of honor, while outstanding clubs are rewarded with certificates of merit.

Earn Scholarships

The top health winner in each state receives an all-expense trip to the 51st National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Nov. 26-30. During the Congress, Eli Lilly will present seven educational scholarships of $700 each, to national 4-H Health program winners.

For further information about organizing 4-H health programs in the local area, contact the county extension office or state 4-H leader.

"Like its predecessor, our present civilization may be no more than one of those crops farmers sow to improve their land by the fixation of nitrogen from the air; it may have grown only that, accumulating certain traditions, it may be ploughed into the soil again for better things to follow." H. G. Wells

Good Luck, Roxi

Best wishes of Thief River Falls go with Roxie Langlie, Miss Thief River Falls, as representative of this community in the Miss Minnesota pageant in Austin this week. The new Miss Minnesota will be crowned Saturday evening from among 49 contestants in the state event.

During the past year Roxi has worn her crown well and often at events in this community and elsewhere. She played a major role in the Diamond Jubilee last September, added her warmth to the snowmobile races last winter, charmed the retarded at the day activity center's Valentine party and brightened the pages of this newspaper a number of times.

Through it all she was a willing participant and presented a gracious attitude truly befitting to community royalty. The state pageant should be a thrilling experience for her and we wish her well.

A word of commendation is also in order to Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wood who served as chaperones for Miss Thief River Falls during the year. Bill and Nancy devoted a good deal of time and effort in their duties, although the task was an agreeable one.

One note on things to come: The 1972 Miss Thief River Falls pageant should be a gem with nearly 20 candidates already entered for the preliminary event.

The Line Game

Of course it is demeaning to think that court judges would lower themselves to dabble in politics, but one has to have second thoughts about the creation of new Senate District I in northwestern Minnesota. The new district is the former 67th district with the addition of Lake of the Woods and Red Lake counties and portions of Polk and Beltrami counties.

What is unique about the new district is not its total area but its division into House Districts 1A and 1B. While the former district line ran north and south, the new division line runs east and west, right through the middle of Marshall county. That is, almost through the middle of Marshall county. It starts at the west edge and continues until two townships from the east edge, then drops down to include several eastern Marshall townships.

Entirely by coincidence, we suppose, since judges must be above politics and eminently fair and impartial, Rep. Richard Fitzsimons and Rep. Andrew Skaar have residence in the same district. Wasn't that a surprise to the judges when they were all done drawing lines to achieve a population balance?! Don't you think they sorrowfully shook their heads over the coincidence and lamented the necessity of such a situation?

You can bet that matching two Conservative House members with 10 and 20 years of seniority really gave the reapportionment panel pangs of regret. And Gov. Wendell Anderson—if there really is a Governor Anderson—must share their feelings after vetoing the legislature's own reapportionment bill. Christ made Himself known to more people after the resurrection than Gov. Anderson has to northern Minnesotans after his election. He is the Howard Hughes of northern Minnesota politics. . . .you never see him, but news releases tell you he is really alive somewhere, and you almost have to believe it.

It is difficult to believe that the new district could not have been divided on a north-south line as in the past if the panel had chosen to do it. It is also difficult to believe that an impartial panel would have done otherwise.

With the scratching of a pen on a map, three men have dealt a severe blow to the already fast diminishing political muscle of rural Minnesota. It shows that government hasn't changed a great deal over the years. Today, just as in the last days of Julius Caesar, the government has its share of honorable men.

Green Taillights?

Following comments are from the Minnesota department of public safety:

Wouldn't you be surprised if, while driving on a highway at night, you came up on a car with green taillights?

It may become a reality if Senator Frank Moss (Utah) and the center for auto safety convince the U.S. department of transportation that a new system of tri-colored taillights be required under a federal standard.

Under the new concept, the new lighting system would replace the prevailing red taillights with green lights to indicate when the vehicle is moving forward under power, amber lights when it is coasting or idling and red lights when the brakes are being applied. Such a system would serve as an "early warning system" because drivers would know the moment the driver ahead removed his foot from the accelerator.

The center cited the eight research contracts let by the department of transportation, all of which recognize the distinct advantages of color coding.

The research shows that a red - yellow - green system aids the drunken driver in distinguishing the mode of the preceding car, it increases response accuracy because of the yellow "caution" light, and it utilizes the same sequence and colors as traffic signals.

The center also argued that General Motors is using a similar system on emission control test cars at its Michigan proving grounds, and that it is being used for long range lights of aviation, navigation lights of ships and for aids for marine navigation. With yellow lights it is used for the primary signal system for railroads.

Minnesota department of public safety commissioner W. R. Hoaglund recently wrote to Senator Moss commending him for his action and noting that this action should have been initiated by the federal government some time ago.

Room With A View

Laws are different and rights do not exist to the same degree in other countries as they do in the United States. Such is the situation faced by American tourists overseas, particularly young people accustomed to the permissive society of this country.

The Advertising Council notes that drug dealers in foreign countries often play a game of doubles. They sell drugs to Americans, then sell the information of who purchased drugs to the police. At any rate, arrest in a foreign country may be much different than a meeting with the law in our own nation. The following story is supplied by the Advertising Council:

On the outskirts of Rome, under the warm, sunny skies there's a room with a view. As a matter of fact, there are many rooms, but the view is anything but bright.

In one of the rooms there's a 24-year-old girl from the United States. She had been in Rome for three days when she was arrested for possession of drugs. She wasn't carrying anything, but it was found by the police in an apartment she was visiting.

This young woman will wait in her cell six to ten months for trial. It's the law. She doesn't have a chance for bail. There is none. No one can get her out. That's the law, too. And if she's found guilty she faces a minimum of three years and a heavy fine.

In that same prison, there are other United States citizens, arrested on drug charges, and the view is the same for them.

In Spain, there's a veteran from Michigan and a second grade teacher from New York, both serving time. Overseas, you can add up a total of more than 1,000 Americans who have been arrested, tried and found guilty on drug charges.

For some of them, it was a collision course. Here, in the States, they smoked grass. Others used chemicals. Still others were engaged in trafficking. For some, it was a dare; something they hadn't done before. So, why not? And, for the most part, most of them thought that in Europe, the Far East or south of our own border, the laws weren't tough. Or even if they were, the enforcement wasn't as rigid as it is here.

They were wrong. Drug laws overseas are tough. And they're enforced. To the letter. This is by no means an indictment of their judicial system. We can't, and shouldn't, expect them to be the same as they are in this country.

If you're traveling to a foreign country this summer, be sure you know the laws of that country. Understand their interpretation and rights you have as a citizen of this country, and how those rights apply overseas.

To see Europe and the heritage and history that preceded us is a rare and special opportunity. It shouldn't be abused.

Above all, be sure that you end up in a room with the right kind of view.

Borrowed Nonsense

Two men sat at a bar. Suddenly one man pulled a mouse out of one pocket, a tiny piano out of another, then a little piano bench, and finally a butterfly. Immediately, the mouse began to play the piano, and the butterfly began to sing. The onlooking gentleman was amazed. "You've got a great act there," he said to the owner of the amazing mouse and butterfly. "I'll bet you Ed Sullivan would pay a million bucks for that act."

"It's not worth it," said the owner glumly. "You see, the butterfly isn't really singing; the mouse is a ventriloquist."

Economic Stabilization

Internal Revenue Service

Q-- Are landlords still subject to Phase II rent regulations even though small businesses have been exempted from controls?

A-- Yes. Although the cost of living council has lifted controls from firms with 60 or fewer employees, except for businesses in the health service and construction industries, this small business exemption has no application to residential rent transactions.

Q-- In computing the average number of employees for determining whether the small business exemption applies, are part-time and casual employees counted as employees?

A-- Yes. Every employee is treated as if he were a full-time employee for purposes of this computation.

Q-- How does the small business exemption affect master employment contracts negotiated on an industry basis?

A-- Prices and wages remain under direct control in all small businesses where more than 50 per cent of the employees are affected by a master employment contract covering more than 60 workers. In small businesses and small governments where less than 50 per cent of the employees are covered by a master contract or jointly-negotiated contract involving over 60 workers, only the wages of the employees covered by the master contract or jointly-negotiated contract remain subject to controls. Wages of small firm employees who are covered by contracts involving 60 or fewer workers will be exempted from direct controls.

Q-- If after Pay Board disallowance of a wage increase, the parties leave a provision in their collective bargaining agreement which states that any disallowed increase shall be paid when controls are lifted or relaxed, have they violated economic stabilization regulations?

A-- Yes. It is a violation to fail or refuse to comply with a decision of the pay board. Leaving a provision in an agreement which calls for the payment of a wage and salary increase disallowed by the Board constitutes such a refusal.

Q-- If an employer establishes, either through negotiations or independently, an escrow account into which it will pay an amount equivalent to wages and salaries disallowed, is the amount "wages and salaries" for services performed currently? If an amount in excess of that allowed is payable to the escrow account and if the account continues to be maintained for the purpose of setting aside this excess, this arrangement violates stabilization regulations.

Q-- Can a landlord pass-through to his tenants an increase in his personal property taxes?

A-- No. Since a tangible personal property tax is not a real estate tax or a fee for municipal services, it is not an allowable cost and cannot be passed along to the tenant in the form of a rent increase.

notes from the governor

I have long held that the most important task a governor faces is to insure, insofar as is possible, that his state's system of public education is adequately and equitably financed.

Given that starting point, it gave me a great deal of pleasure at the National Governors' conference in Houston last week to vote for a conference resolution on education finance reform.

The resolution is a strong one, and it passed without a dissenting vote.

It states, in part, that state action to achieve equal educational opportunity "must begin immediately, progress rapidly, and have the agressive leadership of elected officials in state government."

The resolution also said many alternates are available by which this goal can be reached, that there appears to be no single "best solution".

But the governors added: "Nevertheless, the states must focus on one prime objective—elimination of local wealth as the major determinant in educational opportunity."

The governors, in short, were endorsing the central tenet of the landmark Serrano decision handed down by the California supreme court last August, and the principle that underlies the reforms made in our own Minnesota school finance system a few months later.

Earlier in the conference, several of us were given the opportunity to lead a discussion on the same subject before the assembled governors.

The panel of four was bipartisan. It included William G. Milliken of Michigan, one of the first governors to forcefully urge full state funding of schools, and Robert D. Ray of Iowa, both Republicans, and Calvin Rampton of Utah and myself, both Democrats.

Other highlights of the Houston meeting were a closed session with Vice President Spiro Agnew, who described in some detail the treaties recently negotiated by the President in Moscow; an address on the need for a national growth policy by HUD Secretary George Romney, and separate meetings between the Democratic governors and the two leading Democratic presidential candidates, Sens. Hubert Humphrey and George McGovern.

While the official conference proceedings were enlightening, I found that the personal contacts with fellow governors—and the opportunity those offered for placing Minnesota problems in a national perspective—was perhaps more valuable to me than anything else.

Treat Father-Son To Father's Day Lunch

With father and son so much on the go, and often in opposite directions, it's thoughtful to plan a Father's Day lunch just for the two. Set up individual trays and let them eat wherever they like — in the backyard, on the porch or patio!

Whether it's a lunch eaten off of trays or at the kitchen table, make it a nourishing yet easy on-you lunch. Soup and a sandwich with fruit and cookies for dessert require little preparation yet offer nourishing benefits. The soup can come from a can or a dry mix, sandwich makings from the refrigerator. Fruit can be any in season. For the cookies, homemade peanut butter oatmeal snaps are a good choice. In fact, let Junior get in on the baking. It can be his contribution to Father's Day. Good choice, too, since peanut butter is not only a favorite flavor but supplies body building protein, a real essential for good nutrition and health. It contains B vitamins and is rich in niacin. Its oil is a good source of essential polyunsaturated fatty acids, a fact that should appeal especially to dad on his day.

Peanut Butter Oatmeal Snaps: Mix together ¼ cup Skippy peanut butter, ¼ cup margarine, ½ cup granulated sugar, ½ cup firmly packed brown sugar. Mix in 1 beaten egg and ½ teaspoon vanilla then 1 cup quick oats, 1 cup sifted flour and ¼ cup chopped nuts. Shape into a roll about 2 inches thick. Wrap in waxed paper and chill about 4 hours or until firm. Cut in ⅛-inch slices with sharp knife. Place on ungreased baking sheet. Bake in 350° F. (moderate) oven 8 to 10 minutes or until edges are lightly browned. Remove immediately from baking sheet and cool on wire rack. Makes about 3 dozen cookies.

Linder, Olson Receive Basic Army Training

Pvt. Dennis A. Linder

Pvt. Charles G. Olson

Private Dennis A. Linder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Linder of Plummer, and Private Charles G. Olson, son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Olson of Salol, members of the Minnesota Army National Guard unit in Thief River Falls, are presently attending basic combat training.

Linder left May 30 to go to Fort Polk, La., and will be on active duty for 20 weeks. Olson left Tuesday for Fort Dix, N. J., and will be on active duty for 19 weeks. The latter part of Olson's time will be spent at Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md., where he will be trained as a recovery vehicle operator.

Upon completion of their initial training, both men will return to their unit at Thief River Falls and complete the balance of their six-year enlistment attending one week-end drill per month and 15 days of annual field training.

Company B, 2nd Battalion (Mechanized), 136th Infantry, Minnesota National Guard, with elements at Thief River Falls and Crookston, presently has openings for men with or without prior military experience.

Gas Consumption Rises In State

Consumption of gasoline in Minnesota increased 5.3 per cent in 1971 compared to the previous year, according to Donald C. Eichten, chairman of the Minnesota petroleum council.

Eichten noted that gasoline consumption was up 4.7 per cent nation wide last year.

Total gasoline consumption for both highway and non-highway uses in Minnesota last year amounted to 2,007,[illegible] gallons, Eichten reported.

By comparison, he pointed out that Minnesota's gasoline consumption in 1970 amounted to 1,907,[illegible] gallons.

Wardrobe Plays Role In Women's Driving Safety

"Few women realize the important role their wardrobe can play in insuring an accident free auto trip," says Arthur C. Tomlinson, executive vice president of the Minnesota AAA.

According to Tomlinson, warm weather fashions generally make driving far more comfortable for women drivers, who no longer must contend with heavy coats and cumbersome boots when operating their cars. However, certain styles also can create safety hazards, so the motoring organization has compiled the following guidelines that won't put a damper on a woman's fashion image but still will assure her a safer ride.

Wide belts are popular this year, and they may contribute to better posture, which cuts down on fatigue during long drives. But they should not be worn to tight as to cause discomfort.

Women are getting used to maneuvering on higher heels and platform shoes once more, and that also calls for a readjustment in operating the brake and accelerator. Extremely high heels are actually unsafe for operating a car.

Since new shoes have soles that are quite slick, a walk in them first is recommended before they are worn while driving. This "roughens up" the soles and helps prevent shoes from unexpectedly slipping off the brake or accelerator.

"This may come as a suprise," adds Tomlinson, "but removing the shoes and driving in stockings or barefeet for short periods, actually is recommended. It relieves muscle tension and causes no safety problem."

When not worn, shoes should be placed well out of the way in a safe place, because straps and the shoes themselves can become entangled in the control mechanism of the car.

Full-length skirts are "in" for daytime wear now, but they can be bad news when it comes to operating a car. They can easily be trapped in the car door. If they are worn, they should be "hiked up" so they don't impede foot and leg movements. Wide-legged slacks and billowing sleeves also hinder free movement. Capes should always be removed before driving.

Hot pants and mini-skirts, on the other hand, are endorsed by the AAA as "safe fashions" – just as long as they're not too tight for driving comfort.

As for such things as dangling bracelets or long beads – "these should definitely NOT be worn while driving," asserts the AAA official. "They can easily become caught in the steering wheel or gear shift." And gloves made of slippery fabrics should be taken off too, while driving. They prevent a firm grip on the steering wheel.

One final tip: Long hair can block side vision while driving. It's best to tie back flowing tresses in a pony tail, or wear a headband or hat to control long hair.

There are several types of butter as well as different grades. There is salted butter, unsalted or sweet butter and whipped butter. Whipped butter has air or inert gas incorporated in it to improve spreadability and increase volume.

SHOWING CATTLE is old hat to Susanne Bruggeman, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donovan Bruggeman of Thief River Falls and reigning Northwest Dairy princess. This little heifer calf is the daughter of a grade cow which Susanne had shown previously at Northwest Dairy day and the Pennington county fair.

Dairy Princess Is Veteran Showman

by Marvin Lundin
Times Editor

To the title of Northwest Dairy Princess, Susanne Bruggeman of Thief River Falls brings a sincere interest in promoting the dairy industry which has been so much a part of her life. The 19-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donovan Bruggeman received the crown last Tuesday to become the first Pennington county winner of the regional title since Barbara Droppo in 1955.

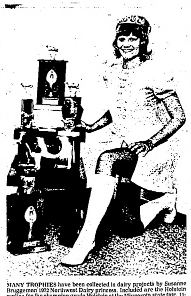
Neither dairying nor royalty are unfamiliar to Susanne. She was the first person to receive an 11-year award for showing cattle at Northwest Dairy day and has also been Pennington county 4-H style revue queen. Her past experience should stand her in good stead as she represents the Region I dairymen and competes for the Princess Kay title at the Minnesota state fair.

That representation is already fitting itself into a schedule. Since her coronation on Tuesday she has been scheduled for the Jaycee Aquadade parade, appearance at the Aquacade pageant, water carnival parade at Detroit Lakes and coronation of the dress revue queen at the Red Lake county fair.

"I want to be very active in making appearances and promoting dairy products," Susanne said. "People have to be told what dairying and the dairy industry is all about and how important dairmen are to everyday life. Without dairy farmers there would be no nutritious milk, butter, cheese or ice cream."

Susanne, who will be a sophomore in fashion merchandising next year at the University of Minnesota technical institute at Crookston, is an 11-year veteran of the City View 4-H club. She also helped organize the university 4-H chapter last year and has participated in that activity. This summer she is working on an internship for fashion at Mr. Duane's in Thief River Falls. She hopes eventually to become a fashion coordinator for a large store.

At Minnesota tech she was selected as a member of the hosts and hostesses club, serves as secretary of the awards committee, is on the student activities committee, holds membership in the Distributive Education clubs of America and was a finalist in the home furnishings event at the DECA state convention in Minneapolis. As a member of the fashion club she has also gained some modeling experience.



MANY TROPHIES have been collected in dairy projects by Susanne Bruggeman 1972 Northwest Dairy princess. Included are the Holstein replica for the champion grade Holstein at the Minnesota state fair, 11-year participation award for showing at Northwest Dairy day and the Hoel dairy award for the top dairy project in Pennington county. She retired the latter by winning it three successive years.

Like several other girls who participated in the princess contest, Susanne had much more experience showing cattle at Northwest Dairy day. She was grand champion in the showmanship contest several years ago. She also won a purebred calf by showing the reserve champion grade animal of the show.

In 4-H club work she carried the dairy project for 11 years, has shown the grand cahmpion grade Holstein at the Minnesota state fair, won three state fair trips in dairying and owned about a dozen animals during her 4-H career. She also gave three live animal demonstrations at the state fair, winning blue ribbons each time. She was the only girl on the county 4-H dairy judging team which competed at the state fair, has given numerious dairy foods demonstrations at the county fair and Red River Valley winter shows and also participated in the dairy judging contest at the winter shows.

As a junior leader of the City View 4-H club, she served for five years as dairy project leader. Her

Post Office At Newfolden Will Change Schedule

Window hours and rural routes for the Newfolden post office will be changed in order to comply with the national agreement.

Beginning Saturday, June 24, the first day of the 1973 fiscal year, window hours will be as follows: Monday-Friday, 9:15 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. On Saturday there will be two hours of window service from 9:15 to 11:15 a.m. The rural routes will run approximately one-half hour later than usual.

The postal service is instigating a program called "area processing" whereby the letter mail will be sorted and cancelled by machine. This machine, when fully in operation, will sort the mail according to route number and box number. This will require proper addressing of mail. "If you live on a rural route, use the proper route number and box number. Many people are using old box numbers from years back which are now incorrect. Persons using post office box numbers are also asked to use the correct box number," said Harvey Stokke, postmaster.

Local National Guard Is Past And Present Mixture

by Dennis Johnson
Times Reporter

Fathers' day is one day that a man likes to spend with his family, preferably at home. For some men that was not possible, including about 150 from the Thief River Falls and Crookston areas who left June 10 and will be away until June 24. They are members of Company B, 2nd Battalion, 136th Infantry, Minnesota National Guard, who are receiving two weeks of training at Camp Ripley, a state-owned military reservation south of Brainerd.

Area residents are aware of the existance of the unit but, unless a relative or friend is a guardsman, knowledge of that group is limited. It is often true that a person is even unaware that a neighbor is a member of the Guard.

Men of the Thief River Falls unit come from many communities of Northwest Minnesota including Roseau, Warroad, Salol, Baudette, Lake Bronson, Greenbush, Warren, Plummer, Fosston, Grygla, Gatzke and Moorhead, in addition to the nearer towns of Red Lake Falls, Goodridge, Newfolden, etc.

They represent many occupations including farmers, truck drivers, cab drivers, filling station attendants, employees of Arctic Enterprises, millworkers, carpenters, mechanics, students, a man from the Minnesota department of agriculture, a forest ranger, an x-ray technician, a bank examiner, a speech therapist and other school personnel. Other citizens may deal with them daily without being aware of their dual roles in their communities.

Recognition of the need for "citizen soldiers" is as old as the United States. This is indicated by the second article of the amendments to the U.S. Constitution which begins, "A well regulated militia, being necessary to the security of a free state. . ."

Company B in Thief River Falls is not that old; but, although the men and unit designations have changed, the history of the 136th Infantry goes back to 1861 when it was organized at Fort Snelling and designated 2nd Regiment, Minnesota Volunteer Infantry, serving on the frontier at Fort Ripley, Fort Ridgely and Fort Abercrombie on the Red River.

The unit was federalized and saw action in the Civil War including participation in the relief of Louisville and Mill Springs. Later the unit fought in battles of Chickamauga, Chattanooga and the famous Missionary Ridge assault. Reaching the end of their enlistments, the entire unit reenlisted to finish the war and participated in Sherman's march to the sea. For their Civil War exploits the unit was nicknamed "bearcats" and members of the battalion still wear the bearcat crest.

The Minnesota Legislature acted to redesignate the organization in 1871 as the Minnesota National Guard and the unit pursued the remaining renegade bands of Indians and protected frontier settlements.

It was again called to federal duty during the Spanish-American war under the designation of the 12th Infantry Regiment, Minnesota Volunteers, though it did not serve outside the continental United States.

As the 2nd Infantry Regiment, Minnesota National Guard, the unit was once again Federalized in 1916 to chase Poncho Villa in New Mexico and Arizona.

Shortly after being mustered out, the unit was called on to lend its experience to the war effort for World War I. Receiving its present designation, 136th Infantry Regiment, the unit was trained at Camp Cody, N. M., and sent overseas where it was dispersed to other units, providing replacements. Though the unit did not see action in the war, many of its men did.

During the 1920's and 30's the unit was known as the 205th Infantry Regiment and participated in normal training activities before being broken up to form the 215th, 216th and 217th (136th Infantry Regiment) Antiaircraft Artillery regiments.

In 1942 the unit was again reactivated as the 136th Infantry Regiment and was cadred by officers and men from the Illinois National Guard and assigned to Illinois' 33rd Division. The 136th served in New Guinea, Morotai and Luzon in the Phillipines before being inactivated from federal service at Otsu, Japan.

COMPANY B, 2nd Battalion, 136th Infantry (Mechanized) of the Minnesota National Guard, headquartered at Thief River Falls with two platoons from Crookston, marched in a parade yesterday (Sunday) at Camp Ripley, south of Brainerd, during their annual two-week summer training encampment. Captain Ronald P. Anderson of Red Lake Falls led the unit which he commands. Harvey Hanson of Thief River Falls is the company's first sergeant.

Federal Offices Move This Month

Three federal offices will move from the Pennington county courthouse into a new building being built for them this month. The building is now under construction west of highway 59 on the south edge of the city.

Highway 11 Will Be Resurfaced

Bids are to be opened June 23 in St. Paul for grading and bituminous surfacing of 25.2 miles on highway 11 from Roosevelt to Baudette. The highway is scheduled to be improved from the east limits of Roosevelt to highway 72 in Baudette.

Included in the project is construction of Bridge 39006 over the Winter Road river 3.6 miles west of highway 72 in Baudette. Work is scheduled to be completed within 100 working days.

Pipeline To Lay 48-Inch Looping

Contract for the laying of 44 miles of 48-inch pipe in Minnesota by Lakehead Pipe Line company, Inc., of Superior, has been let to H.C. Price company of Bartlesville, Okla.

Six loops are slated for construction in Minnesota, extending westward from pumping stations at Viking (seven miles), Clearbrook (five miles), Cass Lake (three miles), Deer River (11 miles), Flood wood (eight miles) and Wrenshall (10 miles). Some work has been done on the two loops near Floodwood and Deer River where muskeg made it imperative to complete the pipe laying prior to the spring thaw.

The major part of the construction is expected to begin early in July and be completed before year end.

The program involves the installation of the largest pipe ever used for the transmission of crude oil on this continent. It is part of a $76.5 million expension program being undertaken this year by Lakehead and its Canadian parent company, Interprovincial Pipe Line company.

In all, 124 miles of the four-foot-diameter pipe will be constructed in 22 separate loops on the 1,100-mile route between Edmonton, Alberta and Superior. The loops are relatively short, ranging in length from three to 11 miles, with 80 miles being added to the system in western Canada. Eighteen miles of 20-inch pipe also will be added by Interprovincial in Ontario.

The company's proposal to begin construction of a fourth line between Edmonton and Superior was announced earlier. The total looping program is extimated to cost $46.5 million, with the balance of the expansion involving the addition of pumping units and tankage.

In announcing the contract, R. K. Heule, vice president and general manager of Interprovincial-Lakehead, said the

In one respect, yogurt is vastly different from sour cream. Yogurt has 10 calories per tablespoon compared to 30 for sour cream. And yogurt has the kind of calories that convert to energy, instead of an extra half-inch around the middle.

Karen Sandland-Ken Dalke Vows Spoken At Grygla

Miss Karen Sandland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sandland of Grygla, and Ken Dalke of Omaha, Neb., son of Rev. and Mrs. Herbert Dalke of Paso Robles, Calif., exchanged marriage vows May 14, at the Grygla Gospel Tabernacle.

Rev. J. A. Riveness officiated at the double ring ceremony witnessed by approximately 130 relatives and friends. Miss Evelyn Dalke, sister of the groom, served as organist. Vocalists were Keith Sandland, brother of the bride, and Brian Loewen, friend of the couple. Loewen sang "Love Faileth Never" and together with Sandland sang, "Close To Thee" and "May Christ Be Seen In Us." Serving as acolytes were Arlen and Lou Ann Sandland, brother and sister of the bride.

For the ceremony, the chancel was graced with candelabra accented with flowers and greens. Artificial arrangements marked the pews and were placed on the piano.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She was attired in a floor-length gown of a sheer fabric over organza complemented by lace appliques scattered across the sheer sleeves, bodice and skirt. Delicate lace trim edged the slightly scooped neckline and cuffs of the long, puffy sleeves. Creating back interest was a butterfly bustle train. Her chapel-length, double mantilla, edged with lace, was made by the bride and featured an attached elbow-length veil. She carried a cascade bouquet consisting of a dozen red roses and three white roses accented by green carnations.

Miss Sheila Anderson of Gackle, N.D., a friend of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaid was Miss Janice Dalke of Paso Robles, Calif., sister of the groom. They wore identical floor-length gowns of lime green sheer over yellow taffeta. Made by the bride, the gowns were fashioned with empire bodices with ruffled collars and sheer, puffy sleeves. To complete their attire, they wore yellow miniature flowers pinned in their hair and each carried a bouquet of green carnations.

Wearing a similar gown, made by the bride of yellow sheer over yellow satin, was the flowergirl, Nancy Sandland, youngest sister of the bride. Timmy Sandland, brother of the bride, carried the rings.

Keith Sandland of Grygla, another brother of the bride, was best man and Dave Ervin of Omaha, Neb., friend of the groom, served as groomsman. The ushers were Steve Basinger of Bluffton, Ohio and Marvin Gustafson of Roseau, friends of the couple. All wore dark trousers, white dinner jackets, white shirts and black bow ties. The groom had a red rose boutonniere. His attendants had green carnations and the other men of the wedding party had yellow carnations pinned on their lapels.

The Mother of the bride wore a light blue and white ensemble, made by the bride. The mother of the groom wore a pink double knit dress. Both wore black accessories and a corsage of white roses and green carnations.

A reception at the church parlors followed. Centering the serving table was a pillared, four-tiered rectangular cake iced in white and decorated with yellow flowers and green foliage. Topping the cake was a satin wedding bell ornament. Mrs. Ruth Njaa cut and served the cake as Mrs. Rose Jacobson, poured. Both are aunts of the bride.

Dolores Dalke, sister of the groom, presided at the guest book as Mrs. Floyd Grindahl, friend of the bride, served the punch. Mrs. Duane Aronson and Margie Gustafson served as waitresses and Amy Kiesow and Eileen Anderson opened and arranged the gifts. Assisting in the kitchen were Debbie Foss and Rae Lynn Sheridan. All are friends of the bride.

For traveling on the wedding trip to the western part of Montana, the bride wore a white two-piece dress with lime green trim.

The newly-weds are now at home in Arena, N.D., where the groom is pastor of the Menninite Zion church. The bride is a graduate of Goodridge high school and attended Grace Bible institute. The groom is a graduate of Adair-Casey high school and Grace Bible Institute. Photo, Bruce Nickels, friend of the couple.

For her wedding, the bride wore a floor-length, empire fashioned gown designed and made by Mrs. Marvin Lundin of Thief River Falls. Fashioned of powder blue polyester, the gown featured white organza ruffles around the scooped neckline. Matching ruffles edged the long sleeves, marked the raised waistline, and formed three tiers around the bottom of the softly gathered skirt. She carried three long-stemmed red roses.

Following a wedding trip to Minneapolis, Mr. and Mrs. Olson are now at home in Baudette where the groom owns and operates Baudette Ready-Mix. Prior to her marriage, the bride was employed in this city by Northwestern Bell Telephone company.

KITCHEN KARNIVAL

Features from the Kitchen of

Mrs. Obert Hovet
of Goodridge

For those living away from here, it is a cloudy, damp day in Thief River Falls, but residents in the city are rejoicing over the muchneeded rainfall received Sunday. Lawns were beginning to turn brown and the flower growth was at a standstill. Somehow, watering with a hose doesn't produce the same affect received in a gentle all-day rain.

It was interesting this morning to note the actions of the birds when they came to get their customary pieces of bread. Instead of bringing their little ones with them, only the older birds came. They picked up pieces of bread and flew off. The flight of one sparrow was followed to a bird house in the next block. Ordinarily the sparrows, blackbirds, blue jays, orioles and robins eat together. A certain robin seems to be the sentinel as he is the first one to appear and whenever a certain blackbird takes a piece of food away from one of the other birds, he is right there to chastise him. Peoples of the world could learn much about living together by watching the birds. We have fed and watered the birds for many years. Maybe that is why they leave our strawberries alone. (EMS)

We are grateful to Mrs. Obert Hovet of Goodridge for supplying us with today's recipe for a very festive salad.

Ribbon Salad

1 pkg. 3-oz., lemon gelatin
1 pkg. 3 oz., lime gelatin
1 pkg. 3 oz., raspberry gelatin
3 cups boiling water
1½ cups cold water
1 cup miniature marshmallows
2 pkgs. 3 oz., creamed cheese, softened
½ cup mayonnaise
1 cup whipping cream
1 can (1 lb., 4½ oz.) crushed pineapple

Method: Dissolve gelatin flavors separately, using 1 cup boiling water for each package. Stir until dissolved. Add marshmallows to the lemon flavor and set aside to cool. To the lime flavor, add ¾ cups cold water and pour into a 9x13 x 2 inch pan and chill until set but not firm. To the raspberry flavor, add ¾ cups cold water and set aside at room temperature. Cream the softened creamed cheese, add to cooled lemon mixture and beat until blended. Chill until slightly thickened. Blend in mayonnaise, whipped cream and crushed pineapple. Chill until thick. Spoon overlime gelatin. Chill until set but not firm. Chill raspberry gelatin until thick and pour over lemon mixtrure.

The Obert Hovet family resides on a cattle and grain farm near Goodridge. They have two children, Kenneth, who was graduated this spring from Goodridge high school, and Dennis, who will be in junior high school next fall.

Mrs. Hovet enjoys sewing, knitting and cooking. She especially enjoys trying new recipes. She stated that during the summer months, she doesn't have too much time for a hobby as she has a large garden.

Memorial Service Held Recently At Satersdal Church

Annual memorial services were held at Satersdal church 12 miles northeast of Thief River Falls recently. Although the congregation has joined Our Savior's Lutheran of this city, each year friends, neighbors and relatives gather for a memorial service.

Mrs. Manvel Moe was organist and Joseph Ose presided. Musical selections were presented by Knute Knutson, Mrs. Hubert DeBoer and Sandy, a trio comprised of Lowell and Clark Dyrud and Joseph Ose, and a trumpet solo during the offering by LeRoy Ose. The audience also joined in singing several hymns.

Mrs. Eddie Anderson read a poem she had written about Satersdal church which included historical items and special events. Rev. David Molstre gave the message at the service, telling the audience that Memorial day reminds us that peace and freedom are costly. Death is very real, but sorrows will be turned to joy when we leave this world, he said.

A pot luck lunch was served by the ladies after the service.

Bids Are Low On Roseau Area Hospital Project

Bids were reported much lower than expected in the Roseau area hospital project bid letting recently. Total bid for the 26 bed nursing home addition and hospital facilities expansion was $678,006 which was compared to the architect's estimate of $926,704.

Administrator Harold Kloempken said the board was pleased with the bid. Because of the low bids, bond sales will be at least $50,000 less than the board had anticipated. "We now may sell about $600,000 worth," Kloempken said.

An eight per cent contigency fund and some air conditioning had been placed in the original estimate but was not included in the final bid. The bid still was "at least $100,000 below the estimate," according to Kloempken.

Successful general contractor bidder was Adolfson and Peterson, Minneapolis, with a bid of $432,400.

The sucessful mechanical contractor was Northern Plumbing and Heating, Crookston, with a base bid of $175,716. An alternate for a sprinkler system, required by law, was $9,080 for a total of $184,796.

The electrical contractor is E&L Electric of Baudette with a bid of $60,900.

The board is considering an additional amount of about $20,000 for air conditioning and will need about $90,000 in equipment and furniture, according to the administrator. This will still be below the original estimates for total cost.

Addition of 20 skilled nursing care beds in a second wing to the north of hospital complex; an extention of the office area; a medical records department; a combination board room-in-service training area; an out-patient clinic area including a laboratory, x-ray area, emergency room, examining rooms, waiting room and ambulance garage make up the major part of the project.

A physio-therapy department and an activities area will be built in the basement of the nursing home wing.

The project is to be completed in 365 working days.

Veterans are urged to write, call or visit Veterans administration regional offices or local veterans service organizations for information or assistance in applying for veterans' benefits.

Pipeline To Lay 48-Inch Loops On Area Line

significance of this year's expansion goes beyond the fact that it marks the start of the largest diameter crude trunk line. The experience gained with construction of 48 inch pipe—and the specialized equipment that must be employed—will be valuable in future construction of major lines in the Arctic.

He said the 44 miles of 48" pipe required for the project in Minnesota is currently being supplied by three pipe mills. Although it is the company's policy to purchase U.S. materials wherever practicable, the one U.S. mill capable of producing 48" pipe can supply only 20 per cent of this year's requirement and it has been necessary to import the balance from Japan.

The construction between Edmonton and Superior will increase the system's capacity by 127,000 barrels per day, bringing it to 1,435,000 barrels per day out of Cromer, Manitoba, the last receiving point for Wester Canadian crude oil.

Ag Department Warnings Save Farmers Money

Warnings and testing services offered by the Minnesota department of agriculture have helped prevent a serious economic loss for the state's barley farmers, according to commissioner Jon Wefald.

Over 40 per cent of the barley seed samples submitted to the state agency's plant industry laboratory were determined to be too highly infected with loose barley smut disease to be used for seed. Farmers were advised not to use these.

Warnings of the apparent serious loose barley smut problem and recommendations that farmers submit samples of intended seed for testing were issued by the department in mid-January and mid-March. Exactly 1,000 samples were submitted and tested, several times the normal traffic.

Tests showed 402 of the samples had in excess of five per cent infection, the maximum for safe seed recommended by the Minnesota Department of Agriculture. But, 510 of the samples failed the four-per cent infection limit for certification by the Minnesota Crop Improvement Association. Over 10 per cent of the samples tested over 10 per cent infection, with the one high sample of 32.2 per cent infection.

According to Clare Floyd, plant industry director, farmers who planted infected seed can anticipate a reduced crop yield usually higher than the degree of infection in the seed. Farmers whose seed tested was found unfit had the opportunity to obtain certified seed or to shift intended barley acreage to other crops.

Commissioner Wefald said that in 1971 barley production in Minnesota was valued at over $37-million. It ranks fifth, behind corn, soybeans, oats and wheat, among the grain sources of Minnesota farm income.

The 5.1 per cent average infection for all samples of barley seed tested this year is the second highest in the past ten years, exceeded only by the 6.6 per cent rate experienced in 1965, according to plant industry laboratory records.

Humphrey Bill Would Suspend Salary Raises

Senator Hubert H. Humphrey recently introduced a bill to suspend high-level government salary increases, scheduled to be reviewed and recommended to the Congress for action this year by a presidential commission.

"I oppose the consideration of pay raises this year for high-salaried people in the executive, judicial and legislative branches of our government, as long as the typical American family bears the dual brunt of inflationary prices and controlled wages," the senator said.

Salaries which would be affected are those of the vice president, senators and congressmen, cabinet members and agency executives.

"I have written to the President indicating my firm opposition to his convening the commission this year.

"Increasing the salaries of these people, among the highest paid in our government and in our society, would only serve to undermine public confidence in both the government and its economic policies," Humphrey continued.

In his letter to the President, the senator pointed to the injustice of the administration's enforcement of economic controls. "Price and profit controls simply have not been effective," he said, "whereas wages have been held down. While prices have continued to rise, exemptions to the price controls have been increased, rather than the reverse. Only the wage earner is forced to observe controls."

The commission on executive, legislative and judicial salaries is to be convened every fourth year, according to the terms of the 1967 law. It last met in 1968, and its recommendations resulted in a $42,500 salary for members of Congress. Cabinet members and Supreme Court justices' salaries were increased to $60,000, and the Chief Justice's salary to 62,500.

The last raise affected 2,047 persons, and cost approximately $23 million dollars annually. Frederick R. Kappel, former chairman of the board of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, was the chairman of the commission whose recommendations of $50,000 salaries for members of Congress and a $50,000 to $40,000 scale for level II-V in the executive branch were later scaled down by Congress.

Rep. Bergland Explains Law On Revenue Sharing

Speaking at the annual conference of the Minnesota state fire departments association in Brainerd recently, U.S. Rep. Bob Bergland said that "loose strings will be attached" to federal funds distributed to local governments under current revenue sharing proposals.

The state and local fiscal assistance act, formal title of the bill being considered by the House this week, directs that revenue sharing funds for local governments be limited to programs for public safety, environmental protection and transportation. "These categories," according to Bergland, "have been given the highest of priorities by the bill's authors."

Specifically, Bergland said that programs for operating and maintaining police and fire departments; existing sewage, sanitation and pollution abatement programs; and existing street and public transit systems will be eligible for funding. "Construction funds under the program are limited to facilities for sewage collection and treatment facilities; refuse disposal system; and creating new transit systems and additional street construction."

The exact amounts distributed to local governments have been roughly determined," Bergland sais, "under a complex formula which considers total population, urban population and need."

Bergland said that funds designated for state governments contain only one restriction: that they maintain past aid to local communities. A state's share of the annual federal contribution is determined by its tax effort.

Marshall County Has High Count Of Grasshoppers

Minnesota farmers were advised by the Department of Agriculture to intensify field inspections for evidence of three major economic insect problems, armyworms, corn borers and grasshoppers.

Director Clare D. Floyd of the plant industry division said none of the problems are at the panic button stage according to state inspectors' reports, but advised the potentials do exist for crop damage.

Moisture conditions and high temperatures that have encouraged rapid growth of grain and alfalfa crops, particularly in the southern half of the state, have provided potentially ideal hatching conditions for the armyworm. June is the month to watch for the armyworm, one of agriculture's most damaging insect threats.

Lodged and lush growing areas of grain fields are most likely places to look for the armyworm. Close inspection will be necessary since the worms are very tiny, Floyd said.

State inspectors thus far have found only light, non-economic numbers of armyworms in alfalfa and grassy field margins in Kandiyohi, Meeker and McLeod counties. Small numbers of armyworm moths have also been caught in light traps at Worthington, Lamberton and Crookston.

Young grasshopper nymphs have been found throughout Minnesota, but significant counts have been made only in western Kittson and Marshall counties. Early treatment with approved pesticides is recommended before grasshoppers move into adjacent crops, when farmers find this insect in significantly high numbers.

Floyd cautioned farmers against apathy on the first generation of corn borers. The corn generally is late and too short for successful egg laying by the early emerging moths. He said favorable weather conditions that stimulate rapid plant growth can, with present heavy moisture supplies, also multiply the corn borer threat. While pupation of overwintering larvae currently rates at 44 to 58 per cent throughout southern Minnesota, the rate was at or near 100 per cent in southwest and Central district fields thtat still have standing corn stalks from last year.

FASHION MERCHANDISING is Susanne Bruggeman's course of study at the University of Minnesota technical institute at Crookston where she will be a sophomore this fall. Susanne, 1972 Northwest Dairy princess, makes many of her own clothes and has twice been named queen of the advanced division at the Pennington county 4-H dress revue. Two years ago she was overall dress revue queen.

DOING CHORES is part of the routine for Susanne Bruggeman, 1972 Northwest Dairy princess. Bruggeman Farms has 60 head of Holstein cattle milking and a number of young stock for which care must be given. Cleaning the milkers and bulk tank equipment is one of the regular chores for Susanne when she is at home.

HHH Introduces Retraining Act To Congress

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey recently introduced his public safety officer retraining act to make manpower counselling services and further training possible for public safety officers wounded in the line of duty, and for those retiring.

"Injuries often abruptly interrupt the careers of the devoted policemen, firemen and prison guards who protect our society," Sen. Humphrey said.

In 1970 alone, 38,583 firefighters were injured in the line of duty. That same year, assaults on policemen totalled 43,171. That is a rate of 18.7 assaults per 100 policemen.

"These are our truly unheralded heroes," Humphrey said, "the brave public safety officers disabled while performing their duties."

"Their public safety training is very often their only marketable skill. They are left, sometimes at a young age, with little or nothing to look forward to in productive, satisfying employment," he said.

The Senator said the employment problem is also serious for the retired public safety officer, who after 20 or 25 years of service, is usually still in the prime of life.

Humphrey's bill would amend the existing manpower development and training law to make available to the public safety officer the vocational counselling, job training and other assistance now provided to others.

States would be able to use federal matching funds to establish such manpower programs. All disabled federal, state or local public safety employees, whether in enforcement, corrections, or other work with potentially dangerous persons through the courts systems, would be able to use these services.

Injured firefighters, voluntary or otherwise, would also be eligible for these services.

Dairy Princess Is Veteran As Dairy Showman

junior leadership scrapbooks won grand championships at the county fair for three seccessive years. "I like to help people with their problems, and helping the younger members in the club was a great experience for me," she said.

Sewing is another of Susanne's specialties and she makes most of her own clothes. In 1970 she was overall dress revue queen for Pennington county and last year was queen in the advanced division. As sweetheart of the Future Farmers of America chapter in 1971, she participated in a dairy demonstration at Knox elementary school by telling youngsters about dairying and the nutritional value of milk and milk products.

Back at the farm, Susanne has found plenty of activity with dairy chores. Bruggeman Farms, which consists of a partnership between Susanne's father and her older brother Mark, has 60 head of cattle milking and enough young stock to bring the total herd to more than 100. She is familiar through experience with feeding calves, cleaning the bulk tanks and milking equipment and washing the cows for milking.

She also enjoys cooking and last year taught a short-term foods project to 10 to 11-year-old girls through the county extension office. Whenever she can find extra time she likes to do craft work and ride bicycle.

Other members of the Bruggeman family include Roxanne, 16, and Kevin, 13, both of whom are active in 4-H club work and on the farm. With 640 acres owned and 500 acres rented, Bruggeman Farms offers plenty of opportunity for farm work.

Last year Susanne was an attendant to the Northwest Dairy princess. "I wanted to enter again this year," she said. "I think it is a good opportunity to do something for the dairy farmers and I know I will benefit from the experience myself."

Won't Forget T.R.F.

Minnesota ADA's new Dairy Ann—Marcia Kelly—and Princess Kay—Mary Ann Glawe—won't soon forget Thief River Falls. They shared a few singular moments here at the conclusion of Northwest Dairy day on Tuesday.

When coronation events were ended and the Dairy day program had officially drawn to a close, the princess contest winners and visiting royalty were swept before photographers for posed photos. The crowd left the arena and only the girls and photographers remained, together with the arena attendant.

After the photographers left the building and the American Dairy Princess had also gone to her waiting car, the arena attendant turned out the lights and locked the doors. This locking procedure included the placing of chains with padlocks around the handles on the outside of the doors and the crash bars on the inside. That precaution is intended to keep intruders from getting into the building.

On Tuesday it also prevented Dairy Ann and Princess Kay from getting out; they had been changing into travel clothes when the other people left and failed to hear the attendant's shouted query if everyone was out.

The attendant had driven away when the mistake was noted by Gayle Krogstad, the American Dairy Princess. A brief search by auto failed to locate the attendant nearby, and the girls were advised through a slightly open door to call him from the phone in the arena lobby. He soon arrived to rectify the error and release the prisoners.

It was an experience which will likely be called to mind each time they hear the mention of Thief River Falls or Northwest Dairy day. And—from the outside at least—it was rather amusing.

Who Has Ability To Pay?

Following editorial is from the Wheaton Gazette:

When we speak about shifting tax loads to the shoulders of those with ability to pay, we are generally talking about such items as income or sales taxes. And here, too, one must draw the rather obvious conclusion that our entire tax structure is something of a muddled mess.

Representative Bob Bergland has come out in support of Congregressional action to review at least one aspect of the federal tax loophole structure—that of tax exemptions.

Bergland, in a bill he has intrdoduced, calls for a review of exemptions every two years. He says that while Congress must "review and approve each year even the smallest Federal expenditure (and there aren't many that are small) we have totally ignored the validity of tax exemptions which provide loopholes amounting to tens of billions of dollars annually."

Bergland claims that some $16 billion annually slips through the most blatant tax loopholes.

Certainly, what the Congressman says makes some sense. There are a multitude of tax loopholes which are built-in for the wealthy. Perhaps the greatest injustice—at least of an economic nature—in this country today are these tax loopholes. There are any number of ways individuals, particularly those with corporate holdings, can very legally evade payment of taxes which the average working man has no possibility of evading.

We support any legislation which would honestly and earnestly rectify injustices in our present tax system. The average man—the working man—has been carrying the cost of supporting our government far too long, while the rich get richer and the poor get aid.

A Party In Trouble

Joe Perrin of the Anoka Union had the following to say about the DFL state convention held recently in Rochester:

The suicidal chaos that passed for the DFL state convention in Rochester must have been embarrasing, frustrating and disgusting to the responsible delegates and their leaders.

Some of the planks of the party's adopted platform, advocating the legalization of marijuana, granting unconditional amnesty to draft evaders and endorsing homosexual marriages, were rightfully described by one prominent DFL floor leader as "irresponsible and questionable" and smacks of far-left infiltration of a group dedicated to running in circles, disrupting the session and bringing the party to a new political low while reflecting a desperate and ill-advised attempt calculated to get votes. Party leaders must have gagged.

Some DFL officers and legislators rightfully so. How would you like to try reelection on such a platform?

However, the DFL has brought a lot of this trouble upon themselves by allowing this free-wheeling liberalism, untempered by logic and hotly pursued by radicals. Perhaps the action shocked some of the DFL'ers sitting on the fence back to reality. The party needs more than a new platform. It needs a broom.

The Kittson County Enterprise stated the following:

After the D.F.L. state convention in Rochester, Minn., last weekend the Minnesota office seekers are shaking in their boots. And no wonder—the left-wing so-called "liberal coalition" were there in full force, just as they were four years ago—using their Marxists philosophy of "divide and conquer."

The D.F.L. platform they passed and are forcing on election hopefuls this year consists of legalizing the sale, use and possession of marijuana; granting unconditional amnesty to draft evaders as soon as combat troops are withdrawn from Vietnam; granting equal rights to all citizens "regardless of sexual preference." The last was a plank sought by homosexuals.

This is the junk that George McGovern has been peddling on college campuses for the past four years. Now that he has emerged as a real possibility for the nomination at the national convention he doesn't talk about these things. He knows he can't do it and still hope to be elected in November.

On the local and state level there is no way that candidates can bring home to their people a platform such as this—they would be defeated before the polls open.

If these proposals are endorsed at the national convention Nixon will win in November by a two-to-one margin.

Another Asterisk?

Commentary on the validity of baseball records is offered as follows in the Appleton Press:

It looks like the great Hank Aaron, outfielder for the Atlanta Braves, just might punch out enough home runs in the next five years to eclipse the record set by the also great Babe Ruth back in the 20's and 30's.

Ruth's mark of 714 has been the record since 1935. Aaron is now about 60 four-baggers short of setting a new record. Although getting up there in years by baseball standards, Aaron has taken care of himself and is still one of the best hitters in the game.

But if the popular Aaron should hit 715 homers, or more in his baseball career we think it brings up a question—that is whether or not to use the asterisk.

In 1961 when Roger Maris bettered one of the Bambinos marks, that of 60 home runs in a season by belting out number 61 in the final game, baseball commissioner Ford C. Frick decided that an asterisk should be placed after Maris' name in the record book and that the designated footnote point out that the new record was set during a 162 game season while Ruth's was set when only 154 games were being played per season.

It's hardly Maris' fault the season went to 162 games, what happened was the owners wanted to make a little more money so they scheduled more games.

Anyway the asterisk still stands behind Roger's record, the only such asterisk in all the record books for all sports. A lot of new football scoring records, and others, have been set during the longer seasons of recent years but as far as the record books are concerned that little mark is the invention of one Ford Frick and he bequeathed it to Maris.

But getting back to Hammering Hank and the home run record. Suppose he does hit 715. It looks to us like Bowie Kuhn, present baseball commissioner, will have to break out the asterisk again.

For one thing, Aaron has already had more times at bat in his career than Ruth did so Hank will have to have an asterisk for that. But then Hank hit a lot of his in nite games and there's a question if it isn't a little harder to hit at night, one asterisk for Ruth; besides that Ruth was playing when baseball was all white and he didn't have to face any of the great Black pitchers of his day like Satchel Paige and others, looks like another asterisk for Ruth; but remember that during his first six years as a baseball player Ruth was a pitcher so didn't get to the plate nearly as often as an outfielder and besides that wasn't expected to hit so give an asterisk to Aaron; then there's the question about Astro Turf and other synthetic playing surfaces, we're not sure how they affect home runs so give both of them asterisk's.

One thing about asterisks, once somebody starts using them its hard to turn it off.

We think it would have been a whole lot better if F. C. Frick would have let Maris have his record without the asterisk. Kuhn should order it removed from the record book.

PENNINGTON ASCS ACTIVITIES

— by —
WALLACE SPARBY
Executive Director

The Minnesota department of natural resources in cooperation with ASCS committees is asking for all farmer's cooperation in delaying mowing of grassy cover on set-aside acres, roadside ditches, odd areas and fence lines until after July 15. Retired acres, roadside ditches and other areas of grassy cover have become increasingly important as safe nesting sites for many of our game birds and other wildlife.

Studies have shown that about 25 per cent of our pheasants, for example, establish nests in alfalfa, however the production there is almost zero. This is one of the reasons for asking for your cooperation in delaying of mowing areas other than your hay land until after July 15. Studies have shown that if mowing is delayed until after July 15, nesting success and hatching success averages about 50 per cent.

When weed control is necessary, spot spray or spot clipping is recommended at least six inches high as an alternative.

This year farmers may leave small grains standing on set-aside acres after July 15 if they report this at time of certification to their local ASCS office. This must be a matter of record on their certification form.

Our participation in the food plot and nesting practices in Pennington county this year are very minimal compared to past years. Most farmers state that the cost share rate is too low for them to be able to have a break-even situtation. We are hopeful that the cost share rate can be increased in the future which we feel will be an asset to this type of practice.

Economic Stabilization

Internal Revenue Service

Q— Will the Internal Revenue Service issue a notice of violation to a landlord who fails to abide by the notice requirements of the rent regulations, even where the rent to be charged is lower than that permitted by the regulations?

A— Yes. The IRS will issue a notice of violation to landlords who violate the notice requirements, even where the rent charged would otherwise be permitted by the rent regulations.

Q— My landlord sent me a brief letter announcing a rent increase. Isn't he required by Stabilization regulations to furnish me with more information than that?

A— Yes. Before raising your rent, your landlord must give you a written notice containing the following information: (1) the amount of monthly rent before and after the proposed increase; (2) the percentage increase and dollar amount of the proposed increase; (3) the effective date of the proposed increase; (4) the amount of the proposed increase attributable to capital improvements, state and local real estate taxes, and state and local fees, levies and charges for municipal services, and any increase allowed under the 2½ per cent rule; (5) the base rent and an explanation of the manner in which it was determined, including identification of the units involved and dates and amounts of transactions where applicable; and (6) the method of computation of the proposed increase.

In addition, the letter must include statements on the right of the tenant to examine the landlord's records documenting the increase and to meet with the landlord to discuss it, as well as a declaration by the landlord that the facts in the letter are true and that the increase is not in violation of Economic Stabilization regulations. The exact contents of these statements appear in the rent regulations.

Q—Now that small businesses have been exempted from controls, can my doctor, who employs only a few people, raise his fees without regard to price regulations?

A— No. The small business exemption, which exempts from controls certain firms with 60 or fewer employees, does not apply to health service and construction industries or landlords.

Q— Can the Pay Board, in considering the first year increase in a contract, also rule on the validity of the second and third year increases and order a reduction?

A— Yes. While nomally the Board is concerned only with increases occurring in the first control year, in circumstances where it appears that the second and third year increases are in anticipation that controls will be lifted by the second or third year of the contract and are so large as to constitute an attempt to compensate for wages reduced by the Pay Board in the first year, the Board has authority to rule on the appropriateness of such increases.

Don't become a summer statistic. American Oil Company suggests you get the lead out and bring your car in for a checkup to avoid vacation breakdowns. Ask a mechanic to do the following: 1) Adjust brakes. 2) Make sure oil, air and fuel filters are clean. 3) Check cooling system to avoid overheating. 4) Replace worn tires. 5) Don't neglect pollution control valve — if it's not working, you're fouling the air. 6) Switch to lead-free gasoline to help clear the air.

TRF Clobbers Newfolden In Legion Baseball Play

Thief River Falls American Legion baseball team supported Bruce Johnson's fine pitching performance with nine base hits to open the 1972 campaign with a 12-0 romp over Newfolden Thursday night.

Johnson, a slender left hander, limited Newfolden to just a pair of singles over the first five innings while striking out five and walking five batters. Bruce Engel hurled the final canto, giving up a single while striking out two and walking one man.

Thief River Falls scored all the runs it needed for the season-opening triumph in the first inning when third baseman Paul Cyr reached first on a fielder's choice and moved to third on second baseman Tom Hanson's double, with both runners scoring on center fielder Jon Jensen's single.

The winners plated four more runs in the second inning to up their lead to 6-0. A bases-loaded single by Cyr scored Terry Wiseth and Johnson, with Cyr later scoring on catcher Ordean Peterson's single. Shortstop Cliff Shumway scored the other run of the inning on a wild pitch.

Three more runs scored in the fifth inning when first baseman Randy Dallmann singled, right fielder Pete Sullivan doubled and Johnson tripled. Johnson's long blast scored Sullivan after Dallmann had crossed the plate on a wild pitch. Johnson later scored on an error at short.

Thief River Falls finished the game's scoring in the sixth when Hanson singled and scored on a passed ball, pinch hitter Mike Goulet walked and scored on an error; and Sullivan walked before scoring on a fielder's choice.

Newfolden managed to advance a runner as far as third just once, in the second inning when third baseman Tim Olson walked, went to second on Dave Halvorson's single and advanced to third when Johnson issued a walk to Rick Sethre to load the bases with two outs. However, Johnson got out of the jam by getting shortstop Dan Magner to ground out to second.

Right hander Don Nelson suffered the loss for Newfolden as he was plagued by eight walks while striking out four batters.

Thief River Falls, rained out of its home opener against Warroad, June 13, will make its home debut tomorrow night (Tuesday) with a 7 o'clock game against Karlstad on the fairgrounds diamond. The Legion team will also see action at home Thursday against Crookston and Friday against Northwoods.

Postal Cards To Depict U.S. Tourist Spots

Tourism Year of the Americas '72 is sanctioned by the General Assembly of the International Union of Official Travel Organizations. One of its goals is to foster friendship and understanding, through travel, among the peoples of the United States, Canada, Latin America and the Caribbean. The United States Travel Service of the Department of Commerce guides these activities in the United States.

Melbourne Brindle is designer of the cards. Each of the five pictorial postal cards has reproductions of four scenes that are high spots for tourists.

First day cancellations of the cards will not contain the name of a city. Instead, the cancellation will read "U.S. Postal Service" to point up the fact that all areas of the country have tourist attractions. Requests for first day cancellations should be sent to "Tourism Postal Cards, Postmaster, Boston, Ma. 02109," enclosing the proper remittance. Price of the set is 42 cents, and these will be returned under separate cover. Specific cards may be requested and for these peelable pre-addressed labels are requested.

Racing Shells Given Relief

Racing shells and sculls will be given some relief from the recent federal regulations concerning lifesaving devices.

On April 17 all recreational boaters, with a few exceptions, were required to carry Coast Guard approved lifesaving equipment in a readily accessible location while on the water. The new requirement, an interim regulation to the federal boat safety act of 1971, excused the racing shells and sculls from carrying lifesaving devices provided that an accompanying boat carried enough life saving devices for all of the participants.

The Coast Guard lessened the regulations when it was seen that the accompanying boats experienced very great difficulty in carrying the required number of lifesaving devices. Also, since many of the racing shells are over 40 feet, the accompanying boats were required to carry the even larger ring buoys or life preservers.

The requirements for racing shells and sculls now are as follows: (1) Any Coast Guard approved flotation devices are satisfactory regardless of the racing vessel's length. (2) There need not be one lifesaving device on-board per person if an accompanying vessel remains in close proximity and carries one lifesaving device for everyone in the two largest racing vessels.

For more than four vessels, in addition to the lifesaving devices required for the two largest vessels, the required number of lifesaving devices can be found by using this simple formula: Take the total number of vessels, subtract four, divide by five, round-off to the nearest whole number and multiply by the average number of persons per vessel.

Melvies Leads Fast Pitch Softball Loop

Right fielder Monte Berand's bases-loaded single with one out in the eighth inning extended Melvies unbeaten string to five straight games Thursday night with a 6-5 extra inning triumph over Grain Belt in Thief River Falls men's fast-pitch softball action on the fairgrounds diamond.

The victory was a come-from-behind effort for Melvies as Paul Walker's two-run homer to left field in the top of the first gave Grain Belt an early lead.

Melvies knotted the game in the second, but their season-long forte, defense, fell apart in the third as Grain Belt took advantage of three errors to score three runs on just two hits.

Grain Belt held onto its 5-2 lead until the bottom of the sixth when Melvies erupted for three runs to tie the game 5-5.

Lee Christianson picked up the win for Melvies as he went the entire eight innings, striking out 14 and wlaking just three. Howard Dalager suffered the setback.

Schmidts continued its sudden upswing of high scores Wednesday night as they rapped two Arctic Cat pitchers for nine hits and 12 runs in recording a lopsided 12-0 shutout win.

Dean Lawrenz surrended just three base hits in picking up the triumph as Schmitdts plated four runs in the first inning, three each in the third and fourth and single runs in the first ioning, three each in the third and fourth and single runs in the fifth and sixth. First baseman Gene Halverson hit his second home run of the year to lead off the fourth inning for Schmidts.

VFW burried L.B. Hartz 21-2 Tuesday evening with Harley Drees and Ron Ostby combining to hurl a four-hitter.

VFW scored five times in the first inning on three walks, two hits and a pair of Hartz errors. Wayne Smith's three-run homer in the top of the second pushed the margin to 8-0.

Home runs by Dana Stromberg and Ostby in the sixth pushed VFW's lead to a commanding 19-2 margin.

Hartz scored their only runs in the fifth, on a pair of walks, a double steal, a passed ball and a sacrifice fly.

Dees picked up the win while Dahl suffered the loss for Hartz.

The leauge standings through Thursday night's games' found Melvies on top with a 5-0 mark, followed by VFW 5-1, with Falls Diesel, Grain Belt, Schmidts and Hartz all holding 2-3 marks and Arctic Cat bringing up the rear with an 0-5 slate.

Melvies will go up against Arctic Cat tonight to start this week's action, with Grain Belt facing Schmidts Tuesday evening, Falls Diesel plays VFW Wednesday, Hartz takes on Arctic Cat Thursday and Melvie will tackle Schmidts, Friday night.

Review Is Held Sunday At Camp Ripley Grounds

Company B, local unit of the Minnesota Army National Guard, took part in the parade and review ceremonies at Camp Ripley yesterday.

Camp Ripley, a 53,000-acre, state-owned military reservation, is located seven miles north of Little Falls. Col. Arnold C. Anderson, Montevideo, brigade commander commanded the infantry troops in the parade.

A helicopter-borne simulated infantry assault highlighted Sunday's event. A platoon of guardsmen from Crookston's Company B, 2nd Battalion, 136th Infantry landed on the Camp Ripley parade grounds in full view of 3,000 other troops and spectators gathered for the annual parade. The helicopters, from the Guard's 47th Aviation Bn., were preceded by a parachutist who marked the landing zone.

Awards were presented to units and individuals, now in their final week of training at the camp. The troops will return to their home armories Sat., June 24.

Summer Theatre Opens Wednesday At Moorhead SC

The Straw Hat Players of Moorhead state college open their eighth season of plays on Wednesday, June 21, with William Gibson's dramatic masterpiece, "The Miracle Worker." Based on athe real-life story of Helen Keller, the play will run through Saturday, June 24 as the first presentation in a season of eight productions playing weekly through August 12. Curtain time is 8:40 p.m. for all summer performances in the air-conditioned Center for the Arts. Box office reservation hours for the summer are 11 a.m. to 8:40 p.m. daily; tickets may also be purchased at the door for all performances.

"The Miracle Worker" was described by drama critic Walter Kerr of the New York Herald Tribune at the time of its premiere as a "really and truly powerful, hair-raising, spine-tingling, touching, and just plain wonderful" play which was both factual and dramatically vivid. Set in Boston and Alabama during the 1880's, the play relives the head-on collision between Annie Sullivan, an indomitable Irish girl, and the blind mute student, Helen Keller, whom she taught.

The summer company of 50 under the direction of Dr. Delmar J. Hansen and Larry M. Foreman is made up of experienced performers from the MSC theatre

NOT A particularly big fish, but rather an unusual variety for the Red Lake river was caught by young Rowdy Harger Wednesday when he landed this 2¾ pound largemouth bass just below the dam around 8 p.m. A number of local fishermen have been reporting good catches of walleyes and northerns from the river, but it's not very often that someone hooks onto the scrappy largemouth.

New Boat Laws Are Explained By Department

Now that the summer boating season is in full swing, the department of natural resources reports it is receiving numerous questions on some of the regulations that went into effect this year.

Despite the fact that more than 27,000 canoes, sailboats and kayaks have been registered by the department's license center, there are still some persons who don't know that these watercraft must be licensed.

For craft having a length of no more than 19 feet, the fee of $5 for a three year period. Application for a license is made through the center, located at 625 North Robert street in St. Paul.

A license decal showing a picture of a loon (the state bird) and containing the license number has been designed for canoes, sailboats and kayaks.

Owners should note the instructions in the regulations on where to place the decals.

Another new law this year requires that boats operated after sunset and before sunrise be equipped with lights. Motor powered craft must have the conventional red and green running lights on the bow and a white light at the stern. Unmotored craft are permitted to use a flashlight or lantern.

This year, for the first time, every person in a watercraft is required to have a life preserver. Resorts and boat liverys are required to provide these to their customers if the customer does not have his own; however, nothing in the law prohibits them from requiring a deposit on the preserver, which can be refunded when the device is returned, or from increasing their rental charges to compensate for replacement costs.

The department said it has heard few complaints over the new regulation which states that one one under the age of 13 may operate a motorboat larger than 24 horsepower without being accompanied by someone at least 15 years old.

Jewels for thought
by Phil Hess
Sociologists say the young of America are declining. But parents say they haven't seen them decline anything yet!
These days, you have to work like mad to earn money to buy labor-saving devices.
We read there are only five authorities on golf. Funny how often you get one as a partner . . .
You can't climb the ladder of success with cold feet.
The man who "folows the horses" often bets on one which does the same thing!
The way things are being speeded up, it won't be long before a person can take a 2-weeks' vacation in 4 days.
Going on vacation . . . why don't you treat yourself to a new waterproof watch . . . the kind that will not get wet when you land that big fish you've been dreaming about . . . See our selection of fine watches.

Local National Guard Mixture Of Past, Present

In addition to notable action on the island of Morotai, the 136th was in combat at better known places including Kennon Road and Skyline ridge on Luzon.

In 1946 the 136th Infantry was again returned to the Minnesota National Guard, bringing with it a Philippine presidential unit citation and a meritorious unit commendation for action in the Pacific Theater. The units from Thief River Falls and Crookston each received, in addition, a distinguished unit citation for action on Luzon.

The 2nd Battalion of the 136th Infantry was formally organized in 1946 with the Thief River Falls and Crookston rifle companies receiving official federal recognition in January of 1947.

In 1948 the unit was ordered to state duty by Minnesota Governor Luther Youngdahl for a riot control operation during the meat packers strike in South St. Paul. The unit spent nine days clearing streets and helping restore order in an operation which has since become familiar for many guard units.

In January 1951 the battalion again received orders activating it into federal service. It was sent to Camp Rucker, Ala., for training. When the men in the unit were ready, as in World War I, they were sent to other units as replacements and new men were assigned to the battalion for training. The battalion served as training unit for two years and never engaged in combat, but many of its men did, however, and rejoined the unit after the Korean conflict when it returned to Northwestern Minnesota.

In 1959 the unit was involved in another reorganization which changed its designation. The battalion became the 2nd Battle Group, 136th Infantry, with rifle companies at Crookston and Thief River Falls, Company C and Company D, respectively. In 1963 the name was changed back to battalion and Thief River Falls became Company B with Crookston remaining Company C.

At the time that the designation was changed, a new mission was added. The unit was given responsibility for preparing to defend the North American continent's northern defenses. Men and officers from the unit were trained at the northern warfare training center at Fort Greely, Alaska, in subjects which included military skiing, arctic survival and tactics, and glacier and mountain maneuvers. Men who participated in the Alaskan training later helped organize and conduct winter training at Camp Ripley.

In 1965 another conflict reached a point which necessitated yet another change in reponsibility. To meet the needs of the Vietnam situation, a "selected reserve force" (SRF), composed of units in Minnesota, Wisconsin and Oklahoma was formed. With the additional responsibility came more changes in organization and training. Training assemblies were increased from 48 to 96 per year for staff members and key personnel and to 72 per year for other members of the unit.

The unit was also restructured to its present position which has headquarters for Company B in Thief River Falls and two rifle platoons in Crookston. The SRF status did not change existing training commitments but only added to them. The unit was required to be prepared for deployment in Vietnam and for arctic warfare.

In 1966 Company B in Thief River Falls was the first unit called on to send men when the Red River flooded. A group of 56 men was sent to help authorities in East Grand Forks control traffic, evacuate homes and protect them from looting. Later another 120 men were called and sent to Oslo, Alvarado and Hallock. About three weeks later the men returned home.

During the following summer training session the battalion displayed such proficiency that the unit was permitted to reduce the number of its training sessions from 72 to 58 per year, though the unit remained on SRF status which was not dropped until 1968.

In 1969 another "first" was recorded for the battalion. The combat loaded unit was airlifted to its bivouac area by helicopters provided by the Iowa National Guard. The operation was not repeated and probably never will be after reviewing the fuel bill presented to the Minnesota National Guard by the Iowa unit!

Company B from Thief River Falls and Crookston brought more honors to the battalion in 1969 when it won both the Eisenhower trophy and the Superior Unit award for being the most outstanding unit in Minnesota during the year. As a result, all members of the company were transported to Minneapolis and participated in the Aquatennial's Grande Twilight parade.

Not all of the efforts of the National Guard have resulted in recognition. Over the past years the company at Thief River Falls has participated in searches for people who have been lost and other, lesser known, operations. In addition, the unit continues to train in preparation for whatever duties it may be called on to perform in an emergency, time of war or civil disturbance.

The unit's responsibility in war is fairly obvious. Company B is a rifle company. It consists of a headquarters section, three rifle platoons and a weapons platoon with a total of about 150 men including 83 in Thief River Falls and the remainder in Crookston. Individual weapons include M-16 rifles, .45 caliber pistols and M-79 grenade launchers. Heavier weapons include M-60 machine guns, .50 caliber machine guns, 81 millimeter mortars and at least one bazooka.

As of January or February 1972, Company B has been mechanized. To equip it for the additional role, the company has been assigned armored personnel carriers (APC's) mounted with .50 caliber machine guns. While at Camp the company is working with the APC's which will be brought to Thief River Falls shortly after the end of the training. Those will be added to the unit's present vehicles: three 2½ ton trucks which include two multi-fuel vehicles; two M151, ¼ ton trucks (jeeps) and one ¾ ton truck. The additional vehicles are intended to give the unit more mobility and increase its effectiveness in modern warfare.

During emergencies the unit uses its capabilities to help in other ways. Some of the activities Guardsmen participate in while assisting local authorities in disasters include rescue and evacuation of people from the effected area, control and direction of traffic and protection against looting of property once residents have been evacuated.

Duty during civil disorders has become frequent, in recent years, for many Guard units. Their responsibilities in them may very from crowd control to anti-sniping activities as well as guarding property against looting.

Preparation for such varied duties includes regular weekend training sessions each month and an annual summer encampment for two weeks. Company B is now receiving that summer training at Camp Ripley.

Recent weekend drills have included a joint maneuver with all elements of the company involved in a simulated attack problem in a wooded area near Crookston. A "Raider" unit from the Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) class at North Dakota state university also participated by "harrassing" and "ambushing" troop movements and "defending" the objective. The exercise was observed by personnel from battalion headquarters in Moorhead who critiqued the operation.

Several comments were made by Battalion officers which apparently reflect the thinking found in the Guard and may surprise many "old soldiers".

One major criticized squad leaders or platoon leaders for not taking time before the operation to explain its details to their men. He said, "An informed soldier is a thinking soldier and a thinking soldier is a better soldier," or words to that effect. A veteran would probably consider that a radical statement in military circles and "blasphemy" in the "old Army". The reaction of the listeners, however, apparently indicated that they were aware of that philosophy and accepted it.

Another statement made during the critique also reflected more modern thinking than has been traditionally characteristic of military units. The company was criticized for serving lunch about an hour late. According to a major, a military unit must feed its men promptly and adequately, saying, "If you feed a man well you can do almost anything to him and he will accept it."

These statements may be characteristic of a trend which is slowly working its way into military circles, particularly the National Guard. The changes are being observed in active duty units but at a slower rate. As a result, active duty personnel often criticize Guardsmen for their "easy" existence, referring to them as "weekend warriors", etc.

It is true that, except for time spent on active duty for training (16 weeks to 20 weeks on the average) and two weeks of annual summer training, Guardsmen are not usually separated from their families for any extended periods of time. On the other hand, it was recently reported that three Guardsmen have died, so far, in rescue operations in South Dakota and it is not uncommon to hear that a Guardsman has been shot or injured during a civil disturbance.

Not to slight the sacrificies of active duty servicemen, particularly those in combat zones, there is an important job being done by citizens who wear uniforms, part time, in the National Guard.

SHARING the last of their water following an assault exercise are members of Company B, 2nd Battalion, 136th Infantry (Mechanized) of Thief River Falls and members of a Reserve Officers Training Corps "Raider" unit from North Dakota state university.

CHOW lines in the field are set up with each serving point far enough from the others so that no more than one would be hit by an explosion. Pfc Hal P. Zutz of Red Lake Falls receives a serving of potatoes from Sp4 Gerald Langness of Grygla.

CONNECTING a field phone during a field training exercise are Ssg Mark A. Bruggeman (front) and Sp4 David W. Fimrite, both of Thief River Falls.

Enrollment For Summer School Down From 1971

Reduced enrollment from previous years was noted when summer school sessions for the Thief River Falls public schools started this morning at 8 a.m.

Elementary enrollment totals about 400, a decrease from last year of nearly 20 per cent. Seven divisions of instruction including reading, mathematics, art, community studies and other subjects are underway with several classes in some of the divisions.

Testing in mathematics and reading is being conducted early this week with a view toward final placement of students in classes for the remainder of the summer school session. Initial placement has been made for testing only.

In the junior and senior high school, enrollment totals 167 with those students taking a total of 209 courses. This is also a decrease from last year.

Enrollment includes 13 from last year's sixth grade class, 39 from seventh, 42 from eighth, 17 from ninth, 22 from 10th, 20 from 11th and 13 from 12th.

Registration for the motorcycle instruction course may be made with the senior high school principal. The course is offered on a fee basis and if sufficient number of enrollees is not received the course will be dropped.

William Desrocher is in charge of the elementary summer school being held at Washington school and Robert Ostazeski heads the junior and senior high school summer school at Lincoln senior high school. Registration is still being accepted.

COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS

OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS
BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS
PENNINGTON COUNTY, MINNESOTA
JUNE 6, 1972

Pursuant to adjournment the Board of County Commissioners met in the Commissioners' Room in the Court House in Thief River Falls at 10:00 a.m., June 6, 1972.

Members present: Hanson, Olson, Anderson, Stenberg and Tasa. All present.

Wallace Sparby representing the Pennington County ASCS Committee presented an explanation of a Water Bank Program that is presently being tested in a few Minnesota Counties. After discussion Commissioner Hanson introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption:

WHEREAS, Pennington County has many natural wildlife areas and much land that is presently being drained, to attempt to provide income to pay taxes, that could be made available for wildlife development and waterfowl nesting areas, and

WHEREAS, Pennington County lies along one of the major waterfowl flyways in the United States and could be valuable in the total concept of waterfowl and wildlife production, and

WHEREAS, A Federal Program known as a Water Bank Program has been developed to provide for development of these areas and within which the land owner may receive payment for providing waterfowl nesting areas and wildlife habitat.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Pennington County Board recommend that the Minnesota State ASCS Committee take such steps as are necessary to implement a Water Bank Program in Pennington County for fiscal year 1973.

The foregoing resolution was duly seconded by Commissioner Anderson and declared carried.

At 11:00 a.m. the board proceeded to hear interested parties that may have comments on the Solid Waste Plan that must now be put in final form. Planners Clark & Einerson were represented by Wayne Jensen. The village of St. Hilaire was represented by the Mayor and members of the council.

The board advised the planners to design the final solid waste plan as it was drawn with the exception that the Village of St. Hilaire and the Village of Goodridge should be allowed to operate their own garbage disposal dump but within the requirements of the State which requires a landfill operation. The Village of St. Hilaire would be permitted to shift their operation on the same site and the Village of Goodridge would have to acquire a new site that would qualify within the guidelines.

The planners were instructed to draw the final plan so that it could be filed with the State Pollution Control Agency before July 1, 1972.

The minutes of the meeting of May 9th were read and approved as read.

Moved by Tasa seconded by Hanson that the Road & Bridge Committee inspect roads, bridges and culverts at 9:00 a.m., June 20, 1972. Motion carried.

Pursuant to the provisions of Minnesota Statutes 375.43, the All Item Consumers Index was read to the board as submitted by the director of Civil Service. The index for April, 1972 was 178.1 as compared to 172.6 on the same date in 1971, an increase of 5.5 points in the index since April, 1971. Converted to percentage, the increase was 3.2 per cent. No action was taken.

Veterans Service Officer Lewis Hill had informed the board that he was changing the office hours of the Vet's Service Office to a day and a half per week. The board agreed to contact Mr. Hill to work out some kind of regular hours but still on a part time basis, over a 5 day week.

Terry Courneya then reported to the board on the progress and the information that the Red Lake River Trail Project had been completed. The project has been financed in a large part by Federal and State LAWCON funds and all that remained was the planning for maintenance of the sites. Various 4-H clubs have agreed to assist in maintaining 3 of the sites and the other 3 sites are being planned. Complete plans will have to be laid out by the County Board.

Mr. Courneya then advised that a great deal of interest has been shown in development of a system of snowmobile trails in this county and adjoining counties and that preliminary plans are at present being drawn to be made into another LAWCON project. The Trails will tie into Red Lake County and also extend into Marshall and as far as the Bemis Hill area to the North and East. It is anticipated that this Multi-County project will be in its final form by fall.

Commissioner Tasa introduced the following resolution and agreement and moved its adoption:

AGREEMENT FOR AREA LOCK-UP & NORTHWEST REGIONAL CORRECTIONAL CENTER

This agreement made and entered into this 6th day of June, 1972, by and between the County of Polk, State of Minnesota and the County of Pennington, State of Minnesota.

WHEREAS, Polk County presently has developed certain plans and facilities for the detention of adults as well as training facilities, and

WHEREAS, Polk County desires to provide to Pennington County, certain counselling services, board and room facilities, recreational facilities and educational training to anyone sentenced to this facility.

NOW, THEREFORE, Pennington County hereby agrees to participate in the Northwest Regional Correctional Center and the maintenance and rehabilitation program, as well as the construction of said facility, provided the majority of the regions Counties participate and the cost estimates to Pennington County are adhered to.

Marshall County Highway Plans Are Revealed

An estimated $734,000 in engineering and new construction will improve Marshall county's highway system this year according to Oliver M. Thompson, county highway engineer. The amount was included in the estimated budget expenditures totaling $1,220,500 for the year in his annual report to the board of commissioners.

Thompson recommended that the board make every effort to place a plant mixed with bituminous overlay on older bituminous surfaced roads for extra strength. He also recommended that local funds, which previously were spent for equipment rental on grading projects, be used in replacing several small bridges on the CAR and CSAH projects.

The year 1971 was a good construction year, according to the engineer, with 31.92 miles of construction work being completed on the county state aid system at a total expenditure of $700,387.94.

The report stated that all projects under contract have been completed except two. Base and bituminous on CSAH 54 between Grygla and the south county line is 46 per cent completed and an 81 foot precast concrete channel span bridge over the Snake River on CSAH 14 is 85 per cent completed.

New construction includes building a 93 foot bridge and approaches on CSAH 1 in Alma Township estimated at [illegible]. Bids for this job were let at the February meeting for $42,778.20. This was $4,778 more than the original estimate. Bridge replacement on CSAH 6, 11, 21 and 52 are estimated to cost $30,000.

Big construction jobs scheduled for the year include grading and granular base on 11 miles of CSAH 14 at a cost of $200,000, bituminous overlay on 11.5 miles on CSAH 6 at $172,500, grade and gravel for 2.2 miles on CSAH 16 at $75,000, grade and gravel on 2.2 miles on CSAH 12 at $82,500, and Village of Strandquist street improvement on CSAH 63 at $40,000 for 0.4 mile.

Other major expenditures include routine maintenance, purchase of two road graders, right of way purchase, utility line moving, work contributions and supplies and materials.

School Will Change Programs For 72-73

Recommendations in program for the 1972-73 school year by the elementary and high school principals have been approved by the administration and board of education, according to the office of Supt. William Corliss. Action is now underway to implement the recommendations for the coming school year.

Major change at Franklin junior high school will be elimination of the "Early Bird" schedule which required a certain number of students to arrive early and be dismissed early in order to make classroom space available.

At Lincoln senior high school, facilities for industrial arts and agriculture will be ready in the recently - acquired Arctic Enterprises building and classes will meet there.

Daily class schedule at Lincoln will begin at 8:45 a.m. and school will be in session daily until 3:30 p.m. Roll call will be taken each period during the day. Instructional time will end at 3:15 p.m., however, the last 15 minutes will be used for announcements, pep fests and other activities. An advanced physical education class will be conducted from 7:45 until 8:40 a.m.

Center school students will be bused from the high school to wherever their center school classes are held. Buses will leave Lincoln high beginning at 12:45 p.m. and return to the high school at 3:05 p.m.

Except for location of the production agriculture course in the Arctic building, the vocational - technical institute program will be basically the same as last year.

In the elementary program, use of the former Carnegie public library building will be discontinued. The trainable mentally retarded class which previously met there will meet in Knox elementary school. The primary special education class which had been located at Knox will be moved into a newly constructed room at the school.

Because of increased enrollment at Mark Twain elementary school, a sixth grade class from that building will be housed at Knox but continue the designation of being a Mark Twain class. Two fifth grade sections from Mark Twain will also be located at the National Guard armory.

Roemer, commissioner of taxation, announced today that eight refund claimants and one gasoline dealer had been charged with violations of the Minnesota petroleum tax laws and regulations during May and prosecuted in various counties throughout the state. In commenting on the year just completed, Heinz expressed appreciation to the board for "an excellent job in carrying out its responsibilities during the year". "The Thief River Falls United Fund has enjoyed unparalleled success in this community the past two years and has been the vehicle for providing financing to a number of charitable organizations," stated Myster as incoming president. "It is our hope that the next year will continue this successful pattern so that residents of the community may 'give once—for all'."

At the meeting last night the board viewed promotional films, selected campaign material for the drive to begin early in October and heard a report by Heinze on the regional United Way of America seminar conducted recently in Fargo, N.D. Reports from committees were also given at the meeting.

Dates Changed As Deadlines For Elections

Along with the change in legislative districts comes a change—for this election only—in two important dates, according to Secretary of State Arlen I. Erdahl.

Legislative candidates have until June 26 to establish residency. This is less than the six months normally required.

Municipalities have until July 12 (60 days before the primary election) to change precinct boundaries. This is an extension of 30 days. Municipal officials are urged to make note of this change, Erdahl said.

Sharon Fay Moen Is Bride Of Kenneth C. Braaten

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Charles Braaten are at home in this city following an exchange of marriage vows at a double ring ceremony at Zion Lutheran church.

The bride, the former Sharon Fay Moen, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Moen of rural Newfolden. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Don Braaten of Bagley.

Rev. Alexander Stoffel officiated at the afternoon ceremony on Saturday, May 20, before an altar graced with candelabra and greens. At the organ was Judy Moen, a cousin of the bride. She played the traditional wedding marches and also accompanied Nancy Vigness, a friend of the bride, who sang, "Walk Hand In Hand" and "The Wedding Prayer", as the couple knelt at the altar.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She was attired in a floor-length gown of white satin designed with bishop sleeves and a lace stand-up collar. Matching lace flowed down the front of the skirt, in redingote style, and edged the detachable chapel-length train. Miniature covered buttons marked the front of the bodice. A lace headpiece, trimmed with pearls and velvet ribbon held her three-tiered, finger-tip veil. She carried a bouquet of yellow daisies, white pompons and babies' breath.

Mrs. Gerald Nelson of Newfolden, a sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Other attendants were Mrs. Kenneth Hjelle of Karlstad, Mrs. Kamron Harstad, of Coon Rapids, sisters of the bride; and Miss Daisy Braaten of Bagley, sister of the groom. All wore spring green gowns styled in empire fashion with long sleeves and full skirts. White lace trimmed their cuffs, marked the empire waistlines and formed the headpieces that held their veils of green netting. Each attendant carried a long-stemmed yellow mum with greens and yellow and white streamers.

Shannon Braaten, sister of the groom, was the flower girl. She wore a white crepe dress with white lace at the empire waistline. To complete her attire, she wore a matching lace headband and carried a basket of yellow daisies and babies' breath with yellow and white ribbon. Carrying the rings was Kent Harstad of Coon Rapids, nephew of the bride. He was attired in gray trousers, black jacket and lavender shirt and tie.

Mrs. Chester Camp was the bride's personal attendant.

Attending the groom as best man was David Rivera of Bagley, a friend of the groom. Delegates from the local unit attending are Lorraine Morben, Ardelle LaValley, Bev Housten and Dorothy Wold.

Guests speaker at the convention is National President Mrs. Paul Hermon of Omaha, Neb. The convention theme, "Harmony in the Falls" and Mrs. Harmon's theme, "Together in harmony", coincide. In her talk, she will especially emphasize her project, "The Veterans return home". It will be based on the problems the Vietnam veterans face as they return from a very unpopular war without benefit of welcoming bands, parades and fan-fare, to a country where few jobs are available, due to their youth and lack of experience.

Presiding at the business sessions will be Mrs. Clyde O. Peterson, department president. Mrs. Peterson was elected president at the 1971 state convention at Bemidji, climaxing 15 years of active service, which included many district and department offices. Her motto is Faith—"For Aid in the Hospital" and "For Americanism in the Home."

A joint meeting of the council of administration was held today (Wednesday) at 9 a.m., and a joint session with the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post is being held this afternoon. Business sessions will convene Thursday at 8:30 a.m., at the Falls Junior high gymnasium. The final session, Saturday morning will include election and installation of officers.

Included on the agenda will be memorial services at 7:30 tonight (Wednesday) at the Backus junior high school. A reception for Gold Star parents will follow. The convention banquet is scheduled for 6:30 p.m., Thursday at the Falls Junior high school and will precede a reception at the Holiday Inn Motel in honor of National President Mrs. Paul Harmon.

Richard Espland, Grand Forks, camping chairman of the Lake Agassiz council of Boy Scouts, announces that Camp Wabaunaquat, the council Boy scout camp 12 miles east of Ogema, will open its gate to campers on Sunday, June 25.

Scouts and their leaders have been working since last summer on making plans for the 1972 camping season. Plans to attend camp involve the earning of camp fees, plans for troop leadership and individual boy plans for camp advancement.

A total of 800 boys and leaders is expected to attend camp Wabaunaquat this season with representation from a total of 50 communities in the council area of northwestern Minnesota and northeastern North Dakota.

Volunteer scouters have been conducting work parties the past three weekends in preparation for opening of camp. Improvements to be completed this year will be on the waterfront and in the campsite area, and the water system which supplies fresh water to the 13 different campsites will be improved.

In addition to the scout skills program which includes camping, swimming, boating, canoeing, rifle range, mo-skeet, archery, crafts, cooking skills, hiking and merit badge work, protestant and catholic chaplains will be at camp to work with the scouts and their leaders. Dwight Penas, Carrington and Robert Dazell of Walhalla will be the protestant and catholic chaplains.

Scout troops from the following communities will be attending camp: Devils Lake, Fort Toten, McVille, Lakota, Tolna, Leeds, Langdon, Edmore, Munich, Grand Forks, Thompson, East Grand Forks, Grand Forks Air Force Base, Larimore, Emerado, Manvel, Northwood, Crookston, Climax, Winger, Fosston, Fertile, Oklee, Pembina, Warren, Oslo, Argyle, Hallock, Stephen, Cavalier, Walhalla, Grafton, Minto, Dunseith, Cando, Mylo, Belcourt, St. Hilaire, Greenbush, Roseau, Thief River Falls, Middle River, Fairdale, Drayton, Park River, Esmond, Michigan and McIntosh.

Les Dever, district executive living in Grafton, will be the camp director for the 1st four weeks of camp. Quentin Karlstrand, district executive living in Devils Lake, will direct camp the last two weeks. Twenty-three staff members work with the scout leaders who bring their troops to camp.

Rapid City Flood Doesn't Damage Black Hills Area

Although a once-in-a-century flash flood scoured the lowlands of Rapid City June 11, geography saved the Black Hills, an area which drew about six million visitors last summer.

Gary Drewes, South Dakota's travel director, said the disaster which hit Rapid City is tragic. But he also said overblown reports have "telepathed" the damage high into the 6,000-foot mountains which flank the city and rumors are now eroding morale in the Black Hills' multi-million dollar torusim industry.

"Famous Mt. Rushmore with its four granite presidents, the wild burro and buffalo herds in Custer State Park, the soaring stone spires of the Needles Highway, beautiful Spearfish Canyon and historic Deadwood were all untouched by the disaster," Drewes said. "In fact only five of the 200 tourist attractions in the hills were hurt by the Rapid City disaster."

The South Dakota high way department reported Interstate 90 and other routes to the Black Hills to be open. About 32 miles of highway in the hills were temporarily closed because of the flood.

Lloyd Keszler, manager of the Black Hills, Badlands and Lakes tourist association, said less than one per cent of the total motel units in the Black Hills were lost. There are 298 hotels and motels with 5,127 units ready to handle tourists. Campgrounds were virtually unaffected, with less than 200 of the 5,000 campsites temporarily out of commission. "In short, the situation is excellent in terms of our ability to handle tourists coming into the Black Hills," Keszler said.

Jack Cahl, a national field representative for the American Automobile Association, flew to Rapid City to examine the area firsthand. His assessment: "We're certainly not touching the panic button in regard to Black Hills travel."

Despite some reports to the contrary, Badlands National Monument was unaffected, the Missouri River dams which form the "Great Lakes of South Dakota" are intact; there are no crocodiles in Black Hills streams (some has reportedly "escaped" from the Reptile Gardens); there is no disease; hills caves are not full of water.

"The devastation we all have heard about was limited to three canyons and a 10-block swath through Rapid City; I'm not minimizing the damage there.

"But the vast, vast majority of the Black Hills offers the traveling public just as much to see and do as it always has. There is no reason for people to change their travel plans to the Black Hills. It's still one of the nation's finest vacation spots," said Drewes.

MILITARY REGULATIONS cover almost everything but are occasionally difficult to comply with as Platoon Sergeant Lyle N. Quist of Crookston and member of the National Guard unit headquartered in Thief River Falls exemplified recently. During a field training exercise when, as in combat, a man is supposed to keep his weapon with him at all times, Quist had his M-16 slung on his left shoulder while ladling gravy onto his potatoes. The sling slipped and struck his forearm as the rifle fell, (see photo above), causing the liquid to be sprayed through the bushes.

THIEF RIVER FALLS baserunner Paul Cyr tried to go around Karlstad shortstop Bob Johnson during last night's American Legion game on the fairgrounds diamond. Cyr's efforts failed however, as Johnson tagged the TRF runner and relayed the ball to second for a first inning double play. Thief River Falls won the game 1-0 on an unearned run in the bottom of the ninth.

Wild Pitch Gives TRF 1-0 Legion Baseball Triumph

Thief River Falls scored an unearned run on a wild pitch in the bottom of the ninth inning Tuesday night to nip Karlstad 1-0 in American Legion baseball action on the fairgrounds diamond.

Jon Jensen scored the winning run with one out in the second extra inning of the extremely tight game after he led off the ninth by reaching first on a throwing error and a controversial call.

Jensen reached base when Karlstad shortstop Bob Johnson's high throw pulled first basemen Mark Hultgren off the bag. Hultgren pulled the ball down in plenty of time to retire Jensen, but the big first baseman couldn't find the bag with his foot and Jensen raced across the base for the safe sign from umpire Ralph Skay.

Jensen stole second and went to third on a fielder's choice before scoring on a wild pitch thrown by Karlstad pitcher Jim Musburger.

The defeat was hard to swallow for tall right handed Musburger who limited Thief River Falls to just one hit over the first six innings. Thief River Falls managed just a total of four hits off the hard throwing 1972 Karlstad high school graduate.

Heads-up play by both teams resulted in a well played contest with three double plays turned in by the teams. Karlstad recorded the first twin killing in the bottom of the first when Thief River Falls put runners on first and second with one out. Johnson fielded the ball cleanly at short, tagged the runner going to third and threw to second for a force out.

Thief River Falls completed well executed double plays in the sixth and ninth innings. In the sixth Karlstad put runners on first and third with no outs before shortstop Cliff Shumway scooped up a hard bouncer, checked the runner at third and still had time to complete a short to second to first double play. Thief River Falls got out of the scoring jam with another smart play, as catcher Mike Goulet picked off the Karlstad runner at third.

Karlstad put a runner on first with one out in the top of the ninth, but Thief River Falls first baseman Pete Sullivan turned in an unassisted double play as he made a diving catch of a low line drive and scampered back to first to double up the Karlstad base runner on a hit and run play.

Thief River Falls threatened to end the game in the bottom of the eighth when third baseman Paul Cyr tripled with one out. Musburger got out of the jam however, as he retired the next two batters on easy ground balls to the infield.

The win upped the Thief River Falls Legion record to 2-0, following a season opening 12-0 win at Newfolden last week. Right hander Bruce Johnson gained his second win of the season with two innings of one-hit relief pitching. Johnson relieved starter Bruce Engel in the eighth and gave up a single while striking out one and walking none. In his seven-inning appearance, Engel gave up seven hits, struck out five and didn't walk a batter. Musburger went the distance for Karlstad, striking out one and walking three.

Right fielder Terry Wiseth collected two of Thief River Falls' four hits while Musburger and third baseman Steve Vik each had a pair of hits for Karlstad.

Thief River Falls will return to action tomorrow night (Thursday) with a 7 o'clock game against Crookston on the fairgrounds diamond. Thief River Falls will host Northwood Friday in another 7 p.m. contest before taking on Roseau in a Sunday double header on the local diamond, beginning at 1:30.

JON JENSEN slides across home plate with the game's only run on a wild pitch in the bottom of the ninth inning of Tuesday night's Thief River Falls-Karlstad American Legion baseball game on the fairgrounds diamond. Jensen scored ahead of the throw from the catcher while Karlstad pitcher Jim Musburger waited for the late retrive. Thief River Falls will put its 2-0 record on the line Thursday night with a 7 o'clock game against Crookston on the local diamond.

Pheasant Count Near 1971 Total

Preliminary reports from the annual May pheasant counts indicate that Minnesota's nesting pheasant population is about the same as it has been for the past two years, the department of natural resources announced today.

Games specialists said the population remains low and that if there is any change at all this fall, it will probably be a slight decline from the past two seasons.

Total populations of pheasants are down about one third in the western and central counties. The decline was caused by several blizzards that occurred this past winter.

Counts were better towards the east, and the southeast portion of the state actually shows a small improvement over last year.

Slow down and live.

State Deer Herd Makes Comeback In Many Areas

Minnesota's deer herd struggled through another in a long line of hard winters and appears to be making a comeback in many areas of the state, the department of natural resources announced today.

Status of the deer population was reviewed at a two-day season-setting conference of DNR game managers, biologists and conservation officers this week.

Recent deer surveys show that the population has improved.

This improvement, however, may not be apparent to hunters this fall under the new November-long, deer hunting framework. Under the new system, deer hunting pressure will be distributed throughout the month. This will mean that deer will not be moving about as much as they have in past seasons. As a result, hunters may not see as many animals.

According to DNR commissioner Robert L. Herbst, there has been measurable increases in the herd in several deer management units. But the overall increase between this year and last in the popular northeastern quarter of Minnesota has been "only slightly upward." This was due to another tough winter in that region, he explained.

Mike Casey, director of the department's division of game and fish, said the deer herd has increased about 20 per cent or more statewide over the two-year period.

Melvies Upset By Arctic Cat 5-3 In Fast Pitch Action

Arctic Cat notched its first win of the season after five straight losses with a stunning 5-3 upset victory over previously undefeated Melvies Monday night in Thief River Falls men's fast pitch softball play.

Arctic Cat scored all their runs in the first inning as the first two batters walked, pitcher Tom Shetler singled to drive in the first run, a fielder's choice, another walk and a bases-clearing single by center fielder John Brahosky. Brahosky went all the way to third on the throw to the plate and came home with the fifth run on another fielder's choice.

Melvies scored one run in the first on two errors and a single, while a fielder's choice, an error and a wild pitch plated another run in the last of the fifth. The final Melvie run came in the bottom of the sixth on Lee Christianson's two-out home run over the left field fence.

Shetler picked up the win with a four-hit performance while walking four. Christianson suffered the loss, although he gave up just three hits and struck out eleven.

Action Friday night found L. B. Hartz posting a come - from - behind 14-9 win over Falls Diesel.

Falls Diesel grabbed an early 4-0 lead after three innings, highlighted by center fielder Jeff Vacura's two-run homer in the third. Hartz cut the margin to 4-2 in the top of the fourth, but a streak of wildness in the bottom of the inning gave Falls Diesel a 9-2 bulge.

In the wild fourth inning, Hartz pitching issued eight walks and hit another batter to give Falls Diesel five runs without the benefit of a base hit.

Hartz came right back in the top of the fifth as they bunched three walks, five hits and two errors together to knot the game 9-9. Tony Johnson then retired the next nine Falls Diesel batters in a row, while his teammates busted the contest open with five more runs in the seventh.

Johnson gained the win with his sparkling four-inning relief job, while Earl Graham suffered the setback.

Melvies loss to Arctic Cat tightened the league standings, as Melvies slid back into a tie with VFW for the top spot with 5-1 records. Hartz holds down third with a 3-3 mark while Grain Belt and Schmidts report in with 2-3 records, Falls Diesel 2-4 and Arctic Cat 1-5. Grain Belt and Schmidts were scheduled to play Tuesday night.

Other games still on tap for this week will send Falls Diesel against VFW tonight (Wednesday), while Hartz plays Arctic Cat Thursday and Melvies faces Schmidts Friday evening.

Delay In Mowing Aids Pheasants

State agencies and organizations involved in land use in Minnesota are cooperating on a program to save pheasant nests by delaying mowing of roadside ditches, the Department of Natural Resources reported this week.

Robert Herbst, Commissioner of Natural Resources said the importance of roadsides as nesting areas grows each year with the steady decline in acreages of small grain fields and other grassy cover in the pheasant range.

"Each year more of these sites are disappearing as croping practices switch from small grains to row crop which offer no nesting cover," he said.

Agencies and organizations that will be cooperating this year include: Minnesota highway department, Minnesota associaton of counties, U. S. Department of Agriculture, soil and water conservation districts, Future Farmer of America chapters and 4-H clubs.

"By agreeing to delay mowing until late July," said Herbst, "cooperators can make a substantial contribution to the state's wildlife resources."

Girls Softball Game Scheduled Friday Morning

Thief River Falls Park and Recreation department will sponsor a girl's softball game for all Thief River Falls girls, ages nine and above, Friday morning, beginning at 10 a.m. on the Eastside diamond.

All girls interested in playing in the game are invited to participate. The department will furnish all the equipment and will provide a playground director to supervise and umpire the game.

Coho Stocking Study Scheduled

Minnesota Department of Natural Resources has completed its fourth, and, perhaps final, experimental stocking of coho salmon in Lake Superior, it was announced this week.

The results of the project will be evaluated in September and October through the use of a creel census and other data to determine if further plantings are justified.

If the results are negative, said officials, more emphasis will be shifted to steelhead (rainbow) and lake trout.

To date, returns to the angler from coho stocking in Lake Superior have been very limited.

During the last part of May this year, 145,000 coho were stocked in Lake Superior including 100,000 placed in the French river.

The balance of 35,000 were put in the Beaver river near Beaver Bay.

Some inland lakes have also received coho salmon and it is planned to stock some again this coming fall.

Lakes stocked in 1970, which should be producing prime salmon to the anglers this summer and fall, are: Beauty lake in Cass county; Greenwood, Hungry Jack, Kimball, Leo, Pancore, and Pine, lakes in Cook county; Caribou lake in Itasca county; and Camp 20 and Hare lakes in Lake county.

Lakes stocked in 1971, which should provide angling next year, are: Kennedy lake in Itasca county; Boys, Surber, Pine and Thompson lakes in Cook county.

Fisheries specialists in the Department said there are signs that some inland lakes may produce better angling success than experienced so far with coho salmon in Lake Superior.

FFA Members To Raise, Release 567 Game Birds

Contributions from individuals and businesses in Thief River Falls and St. Hilaire to the Thief River Falls FFA chapter have enabled them to purchase mallard ducks, pheasants and wild turkeys which will be released in about five or six weeks near Agassiz national wildlife refuge.

For the project, 290 ducks, 265 pheasants and 12 wild turkeys were obtained from Game Unlimited hunting club of Hudson, Wis. Darrel Hursman, Mark Naplin, Greg Hallstrom, Mitchell Bruggeman, Scott Sorvig, Jaye Johnson, Dan Larson, Randy Jorde and Wes Swanson are raising the pheasants.

The ducks are being cared for by Mark Naplin, John Nelson, Rudy Stark, James Carlson, Steve Drury, David Helt, Chester Boman, Randy Jorde, Lyle Olson and Greg Hallstrom. Lyle Olson and David Lee are responsible for the turkeys.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear husband and father Donald E. Lien who passed away three years ago June 20.

The sun and moon are shining
On a lone and silent grave.
Beneath lies one we dearly loved,
But whom we could not save.
Friends may think we have forgotten,
When at times they see us smile.
Little do they know the heartaches
That our smiles hide all the while.
Loving hearts will always linger,
Around his grave.

Dearly loved and missed by wife, son and daughter, Amelia Lien, Edward Lien, Debra Lien. 1150p

State Taxpayer Group Reveals Tax Comparison

Minnesota Taxpayers association this week [illegible] a 12 page statewide and 87 county comparison of property taxes payable this year and last.

Purpose of the comparison was to measure the actual impact of the property tax relief program enacted in 1971, Charles P. Stone, executive director of the MTA said.

In Pennington county the total of property taxes payable this year is $2,[illegible], down 13 per cent from last year's total of $[illegible]. The 1972 levy includes $[illegible] for county purposes, $[illegible] for cities and villages, $[illegible] for townships, $1,[illegible] for school districts, and $207 for special taxing districts.

The figures, compiled by the department of taxation from county auditors' abstracts, reveal substantial inequality as between counties in the percentage of property tax reduction from 1971 to 1972.

The statewide average reduction was only eight per cent. In 68 counties the reduction exceeded the statewide average. In 17 counties the reduction was less than eight per cent. Two counties recorded an actual increase in levies.

The tax levy changes from 1971 to 1972 ranged from a decrease of 24.6 per cent in Beltrami county to an increase of 2.5 per cent in Blue Earth county. In Hennepin and Ramsey counties the reductions were 4.6 per cent and 3.6 per cent, respectively.

Statewide property taxes payable this year total $[illegible], down $83,323,657 from the 1971 total.

"To finance the property tax relief, shared taxes and other aids to local government, and all other state expenditures, a number of tax increases were imposed in 1971," Stone said.

Included were substantial increases in state income taxes on individuals and corporations, in the state sales tax, liquor, beer and cigarette taxes, the bank excise tax, and ore mining taxes. These increases were estimated to produce $[illegible] during the current biennium.

"The property tax comparison MTA has sent to its members draws no conclusions from the rather startling inequalities in the property tax levy reductions as between the 87 counties, and does not attempt to equate this year's $83,000,000 property tax reduction with the nearly $600,000,000 in tax increases which the State will collect this biennium.

"Past experience indicates that the modest property tax reductions experienced this year may well be dissipated, in 1973 and later years, by increased spending at the local levels of government.

"The only real tax relief—in property taxes or other taxes—that Minnesotans can hope for is that which could be brought about by a willingness on the part of those who govern the State, counties, cities, villages, townships and school districts to live within the people's ability to pay."

Many Accidents Noted By Police

Accidents during the past week were more numerous than in recent Thief River Falls police reports. Traffic accidents and thefts were the two most common incidents handled by the department, according to the report.

A car belonging to Richard Bergland of Thief River Falls was parked in the 200 block of South LaBree, about 1:50 p.m. June 13, and rolled into a pickup belonging to Gordon Collin of Newfolden. Both vehicles were unattended. Damage to Bergland's vehicle was estimated at $150 and about $50 to Collin's.

About an hour and a half after the Bergland-Collins accident, Stephen Fadel of Thief River Falls was driving North on Main and collided with a vehicle driven by Joseph Loeffler of Thief River Falls who was driving east on Second street, crossing Main. Each vehicle sustained about $200 in damage.

Ronald Kvamme of Viking was backing a vehicle out of a space in the Red Owl parking lot when it struck a pedestrian, Nickolas Pletschette, 52, of Gonvick. Pletschette reported that his legs were sore as a result but did not request treatment. There was no other damage in the accident.

Thursday, Mrs. Vivian Hiebert of Thief River Falls reported that three 75-foot rolls of fencing valued at $60 had been stolen from her yard.

Kent Lund of Thief River Falls reported Friday that two wheels and tires had been stolen from the rear of his vehicle. The cost of replacing the property was estimated at $100.

Ralph Loehr of Thief River Falls was driving south on Spruce avenue about 6:30 p.m. Friday and collided with a vehicle driven by Delmar Nesland of Oklee who was driving west on Gulf street. Loehr's vehicle will cost about $300 to repair and Nesland's car was considered beyond repair.

Keith Bugge of Thief River Falls reported Saturday that an 8x10 yellow and blue tent and army duffel bag valued at $45 had been stolen from his yard.

Sunday Mrs. Richard Bergland of Thief River Falls reported that she found a juvenile girl going through her cupboards about 3:10 a.m.

Gary Forsberg of Thief River Falls reported Sunday that about $300 in tools were taken from the trunk of his car while it was parked on North Pine avenue. There was no apparent sign of force used to open the trunk.

About 8:45 p.m. Sunday, Scott Stewart of Thief River Falls was driving west on Greenwood avenue and struck the rear of a parked car belonging to Richard Carroll of Thief River Falls. There was about $350 in damage to the Stewart vehicle and $300 to Carroll's.

Michael Hamerlinck of Thief River Falls was driving a school-owned vehicle east on the school yard behind Franklin junior high school about 2 p.m. Sunday when he collided with a motorcycle operated by Larry Liden who was traveling south. The accident occurred at a corner of the building and resulted in no damage to the school's vehicle, $100 to the motorcycle and minor bruises and cuts to Liden who was treated and released.

Muriel Newton of Thief River Falls reported Sunday that small change was lost from her purse while she was visiting an apartment in Thief River Falls.

Robert G. Olson of Thief River Falls was driving east on Frist street about 9:30 p.m. Monday when he lost control of his vehicle about half way between Merriam and Kneale avenues. The car turned left, crossed the curb, struck a four inch tree and went over a smaller tree before coming to a stop against the steps of the residence at 102 North Kneale. The driver was checked and released at Northwestern hospital but a passanger, Janice Weiland of Crookston, was admitted with both ankles fractured and she is presently in good condition. No estimate of the property and vehicle damage is available at this time.

Randall Bruggeman of Thief River Falls was driving south on Kendall avenue about 1:30 a.m. yesterday (Tuesday) and turned left to go west on Hughes street, striking a parked car belonging to Kenneth Rustad of Thief River Falls and pushing it over the curb. An estimate of the damage is not available at this time.

Duane Glass of Thief River Falls reported about 7:45 a.m. yesterday that someone had broken into the Hamm's warehouse and taken 10 tappers and eight cases of beer in cans. Total value of the loss was about $105. Entry was apparently gained by breaking a lock securing the door.

Mrs. Bella Kompelien arrived home after spending two weeks visiting in Minneapolis at the Silas Kompelien home and in St. Paul at the Rev. Art Ramsland home. She also visited with Rev. and Mrs. J. O. Jacobsen, former residents of Thief River Falls, and at the Ella Brustad home in Minneapolis. She made the trip by plane.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Voldness spent the weekend visiting in the Twin Cities with their son Norman Jr., and family in Minneapolis and with the Al Classens in St. Paul. They returned home Monday evening. Enroute home, they were guests at the Art Osmoe home at Glenwood.

Bert Steele To Carry Tourists

A new sightseeing trip for persons on the U. S. side of the lake began recently at Lake of the Woods. The MV Bert Steele, captained by Lawrence Saurdiff, will carry tourists and freight out of Pine Creek at Angle Inlet twice daily all summer.

The Bert Steele formerly ran three times weekly from the port of Warroad to the island section of Lake of the Woods. Announcement of changes in home port and schedule of the Bert Steele was made recently by Saurdiff. The captain worked on the boat for several years before finally buying the boat himself about 14 years ago.

Although the route the boat takes will be different, service will be the same to customers, with additional benefits to sightseers.

"We will be providing the same service to our customers on the lake and at resorts as we have done in the past," Saurdiff said. "The only difference is we will truck out the frieght and deliver it out of the Angel instead of from Warroad across the big lake on the boat. In addition, we will be adding service to the resorts and residences on the lake by providing a twice daily passenger service from the Angle and back," he said.

The new trip begins at the Angle Inlet Pine Creek Post with the boat departure times being set tentatively for 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. The trip covers between 35 and 40 miles before its return to the Angle with stops at several resorts and at Fort St. Charles if passengers wish to make the stop.

Each trip is expected to last between three and three and one-half hours, according to Saurdiff.

"We hope people will understand if we don't get off right on the minute," Captain Saurdiff said, "since we will need to run the trip for awhile before we can pin a schedule right down."

Not being strictly on a schedule will be something different for the Bert Steele and for its captain, who has gained a reputation over the years for "Waiting for no one!"

Saurdiff was once presented a hand embroidered linen sampler with a picture and the modified slogan "Time, Tide and the Bert Steele Wait For No Man!"

Saurdiff, who has been fighting the waters and weather on Lake of the Woods for nearly half a century, is looking forward to the new port and the new schedule. "Running in the islands, the wind will never be a problem, unless it might be coming in to dock. Even the windiest days should be no hazard to those sailors who might otherwise have been good and seasick!"

"It is our feeling that by making this change, we can bring our old customers the same and better service and bring a good sightseeing boat trip into the area," the captain said.

The trip is planned to give tourists a good glimpse of what life on the lake is really like. Saurdiff encourages persons wishing to visit the island to go over on the first boat and wait for the second to make their return trip. This would leave plenty of time for picnicking and visiting with residents on the islands. "It would make a fine all day trip for anyone within a good many miles," Saurdiff said, "and we hope many of the folks who have never seen the other side of the lake will drive up to the Angle this summer and take our trip."

Senate Candidate Asks Clarity In Platform Plank

U.S. Senate candidate Phil Hansen has asked the Republican platform committee to clarify its proposed language on drug use, and was invited to appear at committee sessions Thursday to discuss his own position. The platform will be considered at the GOP state convention.

Hansen, on leave as director of the alcoholism and chemical dependency unit at Northwestern hospital, Minneapolis, also said that he is developing an "encompassing" position on drug use and abuse and would announce it Monday. He has been extremely critical of DFL party planks on legalization of marijuana, complete amnesty for draft evaders and homosexual marriage.

The proposed GOP platform states: "misuse of drugs and alcohol should not be a criminal offense; although hospital treatment may be required for serious addiction problems. Possession with intent to sell these drugs will be prosecuted."

"I am concerned that some people may interpret the proposed platform to mean that we are in favor of legalization of drugs," said Hansen.

"I know that this is not what the platform authors meant, but there is great emotion on the subject and I think we must be more specific on this issue. There is a dramatic difference between 'legalization' and 'decriminalization' when we begin talking about drugs.

"I am unalterably opposed to the free and open sale of marijuana or addicting drugs. Legalization means that a person could buy a package of marijuana the same way he buys a pack of cigarets today," Hansen said.

He said, however, he was for "decriminalization" of the possession of drugs. "The problem must be handled the same way we now are treating people who are picked up for being drunk. They no longer are treated as criminals, but as sick people and are taken to detoxification centers. I was in a large part responsible for this change.

"People who are found in possession of chemicals which obviously were meant only for their own use and not for sale, should be exposed to an education program and those who are found to be addicted should be treated in a medical facility," Hansen said.

"Our society has been guilty of putting people behind bars for up to 20 years if they were caught smoking marijuana. This is a waste of money, life and earning capacity, and should be dealt with more creatively. This is what is meant by decriminalization."

"I endorse the criminal prosecution of drug peddlers, and feel that penalties should be made even stronger," Hansen said.

MEDICS eat lunch and wait with their camouflaged "ambulance" during a field training exercise near Crookston.

Minn. Ranks 2nd In 1971 Mink Pelt Production

Although Minnesota lost one third of its mink ranching operations and cut production one fourth, it still ranks second, among all states for 1971 production of mink pelts. This was noted in a special report compiled by the State-Federal Crop and Livestock Reporting Service of the Minnesota and U.S. department of agriculture. The report revealed that Minnesota supplied the fur garment industry with 459,000 pelts, or 13.6 per cent of the nation's 1971 total. That was 151,000 pelts less than Minnesota produced in 1970.

Minnesota had 193 mink ranching operations in 1971. That was 97 less than there were in 1970.

It was the second straight year of sharp cutbacks for the mink industry, caught in an economic press of sharply depressed pelt prices since 1969, due to combined pressures from imported and synthetic furs and ecology oriented buyer resistance.

However, the report also indicated a slowdown in the production cutback has been experienced in breeding operations for 1972 production of mink kits that will eventually be pelted. The number of female mink bred nationally this year was down 15 per cent from a year ago. Last year breeding numbers reflected a 29 per cent cut.

Minnesota ranchers cut breeding stock 13 per cent, to 119,000 female mink that will bear kits this year.

Pastel continues to be the dominant color mink in Minnesota production, with 171,000 pelts last year. Minnesota also produced 157,000 standard mink pelts, 48,200 violet type, 45,000 pearl, 20,300 sapphire, 4,800 white, 5,200 gunmetal, 2,900 platinum, 1,000 pale brown, 3,400 lavender-hope and 200 unclassified color pelts.

Wisconsin leads the nation with 974,000 pelts produced last year by 366 ranchers, and has 28 per cent of the bred female mink for 1972 production.

Special Permit For Fireworks Display Needed

July Fourth may not seem "just around the corner," but if you already are planning a spectacular fireworks display, the treasury department's alcohol, tobacco and firearms division offers some timely advice.

Persons planning large displays of special fireworks, or persons contracted to put on such displays, will use a federal permit to buy Class B display fireworks outside of their home state or local government are exempt.

A permit is not required for common, or "family" fireworks bought at roadside stands, ATF said. These are known as Class C fireworks. The fireworks subject to federal regulation are those generally used on the displays sponsored by civic groups, veterans' organizations or other associations within a community. Sales of these require a permit because they contain explosive materials regulated under Title XI of the organized crime control act of 1970.

A federal permit is not necessary for Class B fireworks purchased in the home state. In such purchases the buyer is merely required to fill out an explosives transaction record at the time of purchase, the ATF said.

To assure that all individuals and private organizations planning special fireworks displays do not encounter unnecessary difficulty the ATF is asking that persons in charge of such displays obtain permits early.

A federal permit does not exempt the holder from state and local prohibitions, the ATF emphasized.

Permits are avilable for one-time use at $2 for each occasion and for unlimited use during one year at $20. The unlimited permit is renewable annually for $10.

For additional information or to make application for necessary permits in advance of fireworks purchases, contact the nearest IRS alcohol, tobacco and firearms division enforcement office. In Minnesota they are located at:

Happiness Is The Times

HONEYMOON

The wedding bells rang, the bride was radiant, the groom's mother cried, just a little, and the maid of honor caught the bouquet. It was a perfect wedding, and the honeymoon has been ideal.

Tomorrow, this young couple will be going home to begin a new way of life. In it, reality will be combined with romance. There will be the blending of two temperaments under a single roof. There will be all the frustrations of daily living, and the pain as well as the pleasure that comes with just being alive.

How will they adjust? That depends on the basics that were taught to them years ago, in their own homes—and in church.

Alfalfa Growers Urged To Check For Weevil Take-Over

ALFALFA growers, although they may be busy with other crops, are being urged to make frequent field checks for alfalfa weevil.

Winter kill has taken a heavy toll of this year's hay crop in the midwest, so university crop scientists are urging farmers to guard against a weevil take-over of the remaining alfalfa. The weevil is hardiest on first year alfalfa fields and farmers are being cautioned against forgetting about their hay crops while they catch up on corn planting and other tasks delayed by the cold, wet spring.

Mild winter weather was favorable to the overwintering stage of the weevil, and thus high spring populations hold the threat of damage to the first crop. States to the east and west are experiencing heavy infestations this spring.

Spraying for weevil should be withheld until 30 to 50 percent of the tips show weevil damage before growth has approached the full-bud stage. This means frequent field inspection and, if the situation warrants, treatment with insecticides like Alfa-Tox and Supracide at the recommended rates.

Damage to alfalfa is caused primarily by the larval or growing stage of the weevil. The larvae first feed on the growing tips of the plant and developing buds, then they shred the foliage. This feeding may cause complete loss of the first cutting if the larvae aren't controlled.

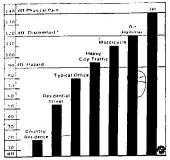
A Graphic Warning—

Noise Pollution Poses Threat To Millions



"Excessively loud noise is more than an annoyance. It is a serious, hazardous form of pollution that requires the concerned attention of business, of government and of the public."

This is the warning of the Beltone Crusade for Hearing Conservation, which produced the chart shown above to verify its contention that daily, millions of persons are being exposed to a barrage of noise, much of which is so loud that it could cause tragic, permanent hearing losses.

The crusade is sponsored by Beltone Electronics Corporation, world leader in hearing aids and electronic hearing test instruments, as a means of making the public aware of the vital need for hearing conservation programs and of the equally imperative need to control noise pollution.

Sound intensity is expressed in decibels (dB)—a unit for measuring sound pressure. "When the noise level reaches 85 dB it becomes annoying to most persons. Sounds of 90 dB or higher can cause hearing losses when exposure is continuous or prolonged. Most persons feel uncomfortable when hearing sounds of 120 dB, and noise of 140 dB causes actual physical pain among many listeners," the crusade officials point out.

"That is why some acoustics experts have predicted that if noise in certain urban areas continues to increase as it has for the past several years—at one decibel per year—by the year 2000 it will have reached such a hazardous level that everyone within such a city could be deaf," they add.

"All ages have said and repeated that one should strive to know one's self. This is a strange demand which no one up to now has measured up to and, strictly considered, no one should. With all his study and effort, man is directed to what is outside, to the world about him, and he is kept busy coming to know this and to master it to the extent that his purposes require." --Goethe

Wanna Join?

There aren't many new organizations which interest us from the point of membership, but the Ely Committee to Save Minneapolis and St. Paul sorely tempts us to enroll. Even if it is fictitious, it embodies in its tenets some of the basic truths with which all rural Minnesotans can readily identify.

According to Bob Carey, who issued a "news release" from the organization, it is intended to return the favor "of more than a dozen citizen groups in Minneapolis and St. Paul who are trying to 'save the wilderness' around Ely."

Carey said the metropolitan area citizen groups have called for the elimination of snowmobiles and outboard motors around the northern community, have suggested stricter limits on fishing, favored a complete ban on cutting trees and back abelition of hunting some species of wildlife.

The release said a delegation of Ely area trappers, guides, bait dealers and pulp cutters visited the Twin Cities to "find out what is behind all this hysteria."

"Those poor people down in Minneapolis and St. Paul have got such a mess they can't cope with it," the committee found. "So they form committees to do things someplace else, like Ely. It makes them feel better."

So the Committee to Save Minneapolis and St. Paul have devised several suggestions to "help" the metropolitans in their dilemma. Suggested are:

—Eliminate all cars, trucks and buses from Twin Cities streets to get rid of the noise and air pollution;

—Use jackhammers to break up the resultant unnecessary parking lots and plant trees in them so that "citizen groups can sit and watch trees not being cut";

—Get the outboard motor off Lake Minnetonka so "the people can go out and listen to no motors any evening or weekend instead of making a 500-mile trip to Ely to listen to no motors";

—Save the fish by eliminating the metropolitan area sewer system, which utilizes the Mississippi river. Go back to the use of old-fashioned outhouses.

—Stop the 'vicious restriction on wildlife' in the Twin Cities, where "dogs and cats are restricted by leashes and pens".

Now there is an organization we can support. Where do we sign?

Farming And Agriculture

We concur with the opinion expressed in the following article which was submitted to us by one of our readers:

The statement that less than six per cent of our population is engaged in agriculture is misleading. It is true that about this percentage is actually tilling the soil and raising livestock, but in reality about 35 per cent of the population is engaged in fulltime agriculture. There has been a transfer of job only.

The man who used to shock grain and haul bundles is now building swathers and combines. The man that once cared for and drove teams of horses is building tractors. Would you say that land occupied by a fertilizer plant, a dairy products processing plant or a farm machine dealership is not on agricultural land? They are all here because we need food and farmers are using or producing products related to their existence.

The advances in food processing and packaging have been as great as the advances in food production and are an integral part of the agricultural scene. They have certainly added to food costs but it is doubtful if we could adequately feed or get enough of certain foods to our population centers without them. In many cases these advances also do much to reduce wastes.

So let us not forget the interdependence of farming and agriculturally oriented employment. One must support the other for both to prosper and continue to provide an adequate food supply.

Baby Dearth

Following editorial is from the Walsh County Record at Grafton, N.D.:

Have you heard of the "birth dearth?" It is replacing the term "baby boom."

The doomsday merchants crying about too many births are not finding many takers any more.

The Census Bureau has just revealed that the U.S. birth rate is lower than it has ever been since records were started in 1820. There are three million fewer pre-school children now than there were ten years ago. One half of all women today are single at 21, an increase of 17 per cent since 1960.

There has also been a sharp drop in the number of children women say they intend to have. At the current rate the nation may soon stop growing altogether, a situation that could be upsetting to economic growth.

As though we can buy our way out of every problem, Rep. Garry Brown of Michigan has introduced a bill (H. R. 15022) that would provide a tax deduction of $500 for every married women who has not given birth within the preceding year. Human nature has a way of solving problems without government coercion or wider welfare benefits.

Most mistakes made by the government are made when it tries to do more than it should.

A Valid Poll?

Question of the validity of the various public opinion polls always exists to a great degree due to the small percentage of people contacted, the way in which questions are stated and the variable temperament of the people polled. And while the polls are often watched with interest and widely quoted, they are often inaccurate as a true barometer of public opinion. The recent poll showing George McGovern as a big winner in California is a case in point; his margin was much smaller than the poll indicated.

So it is with a poll taken of University of Minnesota students and reported by the university news service. The poll determined, for instance, that 90 per cent of the students support the idea of non-violent, anti-war demonstrations, 50 per cent approved the recent demonstrations on campus but 74 per cent doubted that demonstrations have any influence on changing national policy.

The poll showed that 71 per cent were either somewhat dissatisfied or very dissatisfied with the way police handled the demonstrations and 55 per cent did not think the national guard should have been called to the campus. About 20 per cent were satisfied with police handling of the demonstrations and one-third felt the national guard presence was justified.

Of interest is the fact that a random sample of 633 day school students was contacted and that 473 replied—slightly over one per cent of the student body. Four per cent said they had been strongly involved in the demonstrations, 54 per cent said they had been moderately or slightly involved and 42 per cent were not involved at all.

One per cent of the student population is not a large percentage—although it is considerably larger than the percentage in national public opinion polls. We question the validity of drawing any conclusions from the survey.

All Think Alike?

Following editorial is from the Twin Cities Courier which serves primarily the black community in the Twin Cities metropolitan area:

Understanding the black experience still remains one of the most difficult tasks confronting a sizeable segment of the white community.

This was brought into sharp focus recently in a cryptic note, too brief for the "Letters" column, yet too succent to bypass without comment. A single sentence, penned by a white minister, speaks volumes:

"Your editorial policies are much too conservative and therefore disappointing for a black community newspaper."

While the writer has every right to his personal opinion, obviously he has not followed editorial opinion closely or for any appreciable length of time, since that expression runs the gamut in viewing the changing scene with as much objectivity as possible. In this instance, the method of editorializing is relatively unimportant.

Of greater importance and concern is the white tendency to lump ethnic and racial groups into a single category, possessed of single-minded thought and, when pertaining to black Americans in particular, presenting a one-dimensional picture, or else.

Although the black experience is unique on the American scene, it does not rule out those viable traits of humaness peculiar to the specie of mankind. In that respect blacks, reds, whites, yellows and browns have one quality in common—the stubborn determination to individuals first. Together with this firm inclination to be a person, goes the right to be different in thought, action and reaction to any given set of circumstances.

If or when the misguided white sector becomes fully aware of this fact, the nation will be halfway home in solving its major internal problem. Whether the minister wants to believe it or not, skin color and-or heritage does not dictate that all persons of any racial, ethnic or economic group must think alike. Black Americans have as much right as their white counterparts to think as individuals without endangering our common, basic goals in any degree.

To put it quite bluntly, people are people and, contrary to some schools of white thought, the black race is human, too. Not that this factor is much to cheer about for any race or color, considering the present trend of human events.

Minn. Ag Dep't. To Investigate Milk Price War

Minnesota department of agriculture is taking action to enforce state laws for the protection of consumers and the dairy industry in connection with the current metropolitan milk price war according to Jon Wefald, agriculture commissioner.

Two firms are under current investigation for possible violations of state laws.

Summit Farms, an independent dairy plant and retail outlet in Forest Lake, is under investigation to determine if its pricing is in conformity with the Minnesota dairy unfair trade practices act of 1957. The firm has been publicly identified as the origin of the current milk price war.

Shoppers City, which operates five suburban metropolitan retail stores, also one in Duluth, is being investigated for possible violation of the state law on fraudulent advertising.

Dairy Wholesalers will also be audited for compliance with the 1957 state law.

Wefald said the state agency also is attempting to accelerate a court action pending for more than one year against Shoppers City and three other retail chain stores, Penny Markets, Holiday stores and Super Valu, for alleged violations in March of 1971 of the dairy unfair trade practices act.

"The reason for the 1957 state law regulating the dairy industry pricing practices is to assure consumers an adequate supply of high quality dairy products at reasonable prices in a competitive distribution system," he said.

"Year in, year out," Wefald continued, "retail milk prices in Minnesota are the lowest in the nation at normal levels, because we do have a keenly competitive marketing system.

"The consumer is the ultimate loser when competition is destroyed. And price cutting, selling below cost can be a weapon for destroying competition," Wefald said.

Navy-Marine Scholarships Are Offered

Applications for the NROTC Navy-Marine scholarship program are now being accepted.

This program offers financial aid for four years in college. The navy pays tuition and educational fees, books, uniforms and $100 per month subsistence allowance.

Purpose of the program is to provide civilian-educated career officers to serve the American people in the U. S. Navy and Marine corps. Upon successfully completing baccalaureate degree requirements and completing summer training periods, students are commissioned officers in the regular navy or marine corps.

Applicants for the program will be considered, based on scores obtained on either the scholastic aptitude test (SAT) of the college entrance examination board, or the American college test (ACT) of the American college testing program. Applicants must apply for and take one of the tests specified above at their own expense prior to Nov. 30, 1972. Then applicants should arrange with the appropriate testing agency for the submission of their scores to the NROTC Navy-Marine Scholarship program in Princeton, N. J. Applicants must apply for the NROTC Navy-Marine scholarship before Nov. 1, 1972 in accordance with the 1973 NROTC Bulletin.

The 1973 NROTC bulletins containing the eligibility requirements and applications are available from high school counselors in the area or Navy Recruiter Bill Bashaw at the Thief River Falls Recruiting station at 209 East 3rd street.

Food Assistance Given To Fewer People In April

Almost 6,000 fewer low-income persons in Minnesota received food assistance during April than in March in the U.S. Department of Agriculture food assistance program.

An estimated 179,000 low-income persons in the state received food assistance during April from the U.S. Department of Agriculture in cooperation with the state departments of public welfare and public education, according to Dennis M. Doyle, Midwest regional administrator of USDA's food and nutrition service. This was a decrease of 5,983 from March.

The April total included an estimated 162,308 persons in 68 food stamp program areas. Minnesota participants paid $2,067,532 for food stamps valued at $3,954,914. The difference of $1,887,382 or bonus value of the coupons is USDA's contribution to the program. The bonus averaged $11.63 per person, compared with $11.37 in March.

In the food distribution program, 17,299 persons in 20 counties received over 518,000 pounds of some 21 nutritious foods free from USDA.

The Veterans administration's highest research honor, the William S. Middleton award, was presented recently to Dr. Marcus Rothschild for work on pathological biochemistry of the liver in alcoholism and other liver diseases.

Work Will Start On Lakehead Line Loop

Initial right-of-way work on line looping for Lakehead Pipeline company is expected to get underway this week, according to Elwood Roth, superintendent of the project for H. C. Price company of Barlesville, Okla.

The 48-inch diameter pipe to be laid in the line looping near Viking and other loops in several locations along the main line will be the first 48-inch pipe laid in the northern hemisphere, Roth said. Earlier information from per cent of the pipe would be produced in the United States and the remainder would be purchased from Japan.

Railroad carloads of pipe have been rolling into Thief River Falls for the past week with each car containing five double lengths of pipe. The pipe is being stockpiled on the west edge of the city with Dunn Brothers having the sub-contract for stringing the pipe. Ed Faran is in charge of that part of the project.

All of the pipe is now on hand in Duluth, in transit from Duluth to Thief River Falls or on hand here, the project superintendent said. The pipe is received in 40-foot lengths at Duluth and double-jointed (welded to form 80-foot sections) there for shipment.

Because of the large diameter of the pipe to be laid, conventional ditching machines can not be used for trenching. The Price company will use large back-hoses to dig the trenches which will be 10 feet wide at the top, slope to six feet wide at the bottom and be eight feet deep. Once the trenching and pipe stringing begins the crew is expected to lay 4,000 feet of pipe per day. Total crew will be approximately 300 people.

Offices for Lakehead and the H. C. Price company are expected to be moved here this week. Work is presently being completed at Floodwood near Grand Rapids and the crews will be moved to this area when that work is completed. Some of the work in that area was done during the winter due to the bog conditions which prevail there.

Don Burley is project manager for Lakehead and Pat O'Toole is office manager for the Price company. Lee Withington is the chief inspector.

Mrs. Molskness said that the trip was only for recreation and to give the youngsters a memorable experience.

Falls To Falls Trip Is Made By Family

by Dennis Johnson
Times Reporter

While some Americans are turning to sedentary pursuits for enjoyment and relaxation, others, like the wife and three children of a former Thief River Falls resident, are finding them in physical activity.

Mrs. Les Molskness of International Falls and her three children, Sheryl, Susie and Jeff, arrived in Thief River Falls Thursday after riding bicycles more than 200 miles from their home to visit Mr. Molskness' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Molskness of rural Thief River Falls.

The trip was planned last fall and organized as a family project. Les Molskness prepared the bicycles and planned the route to avoid weekend and holiday traffic as well as other hazards. Mrs. Molskness and the children, ages 8, 10 and 11, started practicing about May 15 by riding 10 miles per day to prepare themselves.

The cyclists arrived in Clementson Monday where they spent the first night of their trip. Mr. Molskness met them there with camping equipment so they did not have to carry it. Tuesday night the cyclists stayed at a motel at Warroad. Wednesday evening, Mrs. Maynard Molsness brought camping equipment from Thief River Falls and met the group at Greenbush.

Although the trip was not without incident the cyclists did not have serious difficulty. At one point along the route they ran out of water and were unable to

Arctic's Annual Report Shows $125 Million Sales

Arctic Enterprises' annual report to shareholders for the year ended March 31 shows that while snowmobiles remain the company's primary business, other leisure products are growing as a percentage of total net sales.

The report shows that snowmobiles and snowmobile-related products accounted for $98,121,000 or 78 per cent of Arctic's 1972 consolidated net sales of $125,044,000. In the previous year, these products accounted for approximately 81 per cent of consolidated net sales.

Lawn mowers and related products, produced by Arctic's wholly-owned subsidiary, General Leisure Products of Omaha, Neb., accounted for nearly 12 per cent of the company's 1972 sales. The subsidiary was acquired only two months before the close of Arctic's 1971 fiscal year.

Silverline, Inc., of Moorhead, which produces boats and certain snowmobile components, contributed nearly six per cent of Arctic's 1972 net sales. Mini-bikes and "Kitty Cat" miniature snowmobiles contributed the remaining amount, approximately four per cent of 1972's total net sales.

The report shows that Arctic's working capital at the end of fiscal 1972 was up $20 million over the end of the previous year, due primarily to a common share offering and a 15-year term loan from the Prudential Insurance company of America. As a result, Arctic's current ratio of assets to liabilities at the end of its latest fiscal year was 2.1, compared to 1.3 a year ago.

For fiscal 1972 Arctic reported net income of $6,224,000, or $2.15 per share, compared to net income of $4,703,000, or $1.82 per share for the previous year. Net income as a percentage of sales was 5.0 per cent in 1972, down from 5.8 per cent in 1971, as a result of losses incurred at General Leisure. However, net income from snowmobile operations as a percentage of related sales in 1972 was close to 1971's 6.5 per cent level even though the 10 per cent surtax on imported engines, engine air freight due to the Longshoremens' strike and higher Minnesota state income taxes were absorbed in 1972 operations.

In regard to General Leisure Products, Inc., the report states that Arctic accomplished its objective of losing no more than $500,000 during the first year of ownership. In the current fiscal year, Arctic's goal is to reach a break-even level of operations at General Leisure. Arctic recently announced a six-year agreement with Fichtel-Sachs AG, German manufacturer of the Wankel rotary engine. Under this agreement, Arctic will become the first American manufacturer to use the Wankel engine in its line of power lawn mowers.

The report comments that growth of Silverline has created a need for additional boat manufacturing space. In his letter to shareholders, Arctic president and board chairman Lowell T. Swenson said the company is "presently reviewing several locations with the intention of establishing an additional boat plant".

Arctic Cat And Silverline Ads Receive Awards

Advertising and printed materials created for Arctic Cat snowmobiles and Silverline boats during 1971 has won a special award in national competition and 14 recognition and merit awards presented by the Minnesota Advertising club and the Art Directors club of Minneapolis and St. Paul.

A 60-second television commercial for Arctic entitled "Doctor" won the Agricultural Advertising and Marketing association's "Best of Agriculture" award at the recent national convention of NAAMA in San Francisco. The commercial, which features a rural doctor making house calls during a snowstorm on an Arctic Cat snowmobile, also won top honors in the North Central region of NAAMA.

In competition sponsored by the Advertising Club of Minnesota, advertising created for Arctic Cat and Silverline won five "OLAF" (Outstanding Leadership in Advertising Formation) statuettes and four runner-up merit certificates.

The 1972 Arctic advertising campaign entitled "You Know You Can Count on the Cat" was voted the best campaign in any media. Deer Park Club Holds Its Spring Garden Tour

Deer Park garden club spring tour was held recently with a number of members and guests participating.

The group assembled in the late afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harold South and noted with special interest her collection of Minnesota variety lady slippers, and her collection of iris, peonies, shrubs and perennial plants.

From there the group traveled by car caravan to the home of Mrs. Leo Ellingson. There they viewed the planter she had made using brick from the old Goodridge bank building. Also admired were weeping wills, Manchuria and Red Splendor apple trees and annual flowers.

The third stop was at the Goodridge Lions park to check flower plots planted earlier in the month by members of the garden club. While there, a Deer Park garden club sign was installed near the west flower plot.

The tour continued to the Mordy Morrison home where perennial flowers were accented with rock borders and a water pool. Blooming begonias and fuchias in the greenhouse were of special interest.

At the Ernest Swanson home, houseplants, including African violets, gloxinia and impatiens were viewed as well as a perennial flower garden started in 1969. The garden featured over 50 varieties of hybred irises, several rose bushes in bloom, and a new collection of six varieties of peonies, blossoming for the first time. Nearby was a rabbit hatch with a doe and six black and white bunnies.

The tour of Mrs. Selma Sander's lawn, accented by large oak trees, included plots of peonies, coleus, lady slippers, spiderwort and mums. Evidence of a large number of tulips was visible.

The tour concluded at the home of Mrs. Bert Coan where a double row of Manchuria and Red Splendor apple trees graced the south edge of her lawn. Her flowers plots contained lady slippers, Sweet Williams, roses, blue bells, gladioli, tulips and many peonies, from deep red to snow white.

A supper at the Coan home climaxed the tour. Present were garden club members: Mrs. Ernest Swanson, Mrs. Selma Sanders, Mrs. C. R. Appelman, Mrs. Richard Ranieckl, Mrs. Alive Skreland, Mrs. Orlando Chervestad, Mrs. Mordy Morrison, Mrs. Leo Ellingson and, Mrs. Harold South.

Guests present were Mrs. Lila Stephenson, Mrs. Signe Evenson, Mrs. Sena Chervestad, Mrs. Eugene Fiddler, Mrs. Alvin Fjeld and Mrs. Shirley Bessom and her children of North Dakota.

Sewing of Waist Bands Requires Some Know-how

A waist line is a little like soft butter, both are easy to spread! Maybe that's why many are using elastic waistbands for slacks or gathered skirts; a fit is always assured, especially with knitted fabrics.

However, a conventional waistband can take some ease into account. Miss Sarah Cox, clothing teacher at the University of Minnesota, indicates that about one inch should be eased between darts and side seams on both sides. If the waist measures 25 inches, the skirt before attaching the waistband should measure 26 inches.

If hips are high and full, add up to three inches ease, depending upon the fabric. A knit would require less fabric for easing, she reminds. The ease will prevent the skirt from riding up around the waist.

Be sure to staystitch the waistline before applying the band. This will prevent stretching. If interfacing is not used, reinforce the waistline seam with tape. A stay may be made from a narrow selvage strip of self-fabric. If that adds too much bulk, use a strip of straight seam tape. This is especially important to stabilize waistlines on knits.

If constructing a dress, use a similar idea. Stay the waistline seam and when connecting bodice to skirt, machine stitch through the tape.

Another method of stabilizing the waistline is to use grosgrain ribbon. Pre-shrink the one-half to one-inch width ribbon. Cut the ribbon the length of the garment plus two inches. Attach at waistline darts and side seams. Leave the ribbon free from darts to zipper. Turn under the ends and attach hooks and eyes. The fastened waistline ribbon will take strain off the zipper and seams. It will also keep the waistline in position. This is especially appropriate for princess style dresses.

KITCHEN KARNIVAL

Mrs. Herman Sandberg
of St. Hilaire

The other day, my son-in-law came in and asked, "Is this your stone? I found it outside and I thought one of the kids might have taken it." In his hand, he held a small evenly formed gray stone, about the size of an egg. I checked, but mine was still on the desk. To anyone who has seen our yard, it may seem odd, that I would be expected to know a certain stone when we have them everywhere. However "my stone" is special.

This stone has moved with us from home to home since I received it about 35 years ago from a young, freckled-face boy. His previous teacher said that he was stupid, to supply him with color crayons and forget him. The child wasn't stupid. What he needed was special attention that rural teachers in those days weren't trained to give, nor did they have the time. As luck would have it, he was the only child in the sixth grade. Work in that grade was absolutely beyond his comprehension, but he could do fairly well on the third grade level. Then the problems began. On account of his age, he was ashamed of using books, marked, third grade; and the other children harassed him. Through the efforts of an understanding county superintendent, supplementary books that weren't graded were obtained. After two years, and at the age of 16, he was able to read fairly well, on the sixth grade level, make change, and work simple arthmetic problems. Time passed. When he was drafted during World War II, his bus passed through this city and I met him for coffee. His letters, while in service, were brief, and although the words were often misspelled, he wrote of his experiences. After he returned from service, years passed, and one day, he brought a young lady to our home. Later we attended their wedding. They settled on a farm, and to supplement their income, when crops are poor, he drives trucks or operates heavy duty equipment.

Stupid? Who is to judge? He may not be able to tell you the percent of butterfat produced by his cows, but he is self-supporting. There is pride in his eyes when he speaks of his wife, children and home. He is using his talents to the utmost. (EMS).

Today's recipe is an ideal salad for these hot summer days. It is quick to make and will add variety to the menu. Mrs. Herman Sandberg received this recipe from her daughter while visiting her recently.

Orange Tapioca Salad

$1\frac{1}{2}$ package orange tapioca pudding mix.
$1\frac{1}{2}$ cups milk
1 cup whipping cream
1 can mandarin oranges
1 can crushed pineapples
2 cups miniature marshmallows

Method: Combine pudding mix and milk. Boil until thick. Cool. When cold, add the remaining ingredients and refrigerate until ready to serve.

The Herman Sandbergs live at St. Hilaire where Mrs. Sandberg has served as cook at the St. Hilaire school since 1957. They have three children: Mrs. Roger (Carol) Whitcomb of Cottage Grove, Mrs. Duane (Patricia) Elde of Mound, and Robert Sandberg of Harrison, Ark., where he is a pilot of a mail plane. There are also seven grandchildren in the family.

Mrs. Sandberg stated that during the winter months, she has very little time for other activities, besides cooking. She especially enjoys working outside in the flower garden during the summer.

The Sandbergs are members of the Redeemer Lutheran church in this city, where she is a member of the Lutheran Church Women and a unit of that group. She is also a member of a birthday club.

Patient Writes Thanks Letter To NW Hospital

Norman Peterson, administrator of Northwestern hspital, recently received the following letter from Gary Ellingson who had been a patient at the hospital. Permission has been granted to publish the letter as follows:

Dear Sir:

I was released from Northwestern hospital today after a week long stay. Along with my appendix and gall bladder, I left behind some great people and good memories when I was discharged. They tell me I won't miss my appendix or gall bladder but I will miss every single staff member I came in contact with druing my stay.

This being my prupose in writing, I would like to take this opportunity to express my gratitude and heartfelt 'thanks' for such a fine institution. The term 'institution' as far as I am concerned, is built first upon the staff and then upon the facilities. Nowhere have I seen so many friendly and cheerful people in one place at the same time except in church. The nursing personnel in the med-surg department were friendly, encouraging, and professional. The night before my operation I was briefed as if I ere going on an Apollo mission or doing the surgery myself. You are to be commended for such a fine nursing staff.

Finding an appropriate adjustive to describe the nurses aids is difficult. Among being very helpful and untiring they were never too busy to look happy and cheerful-which is very important. I found their backrubs to be more relaxing and sleep inducing than sleeping pills. In fact, I only took one sleeping pill while I was there and reacted negatively so I was glad the aids were there. The aids I came in contact with were professional yet personable-a good combination.

Although it is 'standard operating procedure' to complain about institutionalized food, I will deviate from the norm and say I enjoyed every part of every meal. The meals were delicious and very well prepared. In fact, I only regret not staying for supper tonight. For the amount and variety of items prepared many restaurants could do no better.

The orderlies were wonderful and very patient. It was nice to have them around when I was trying my 'sea legs' for the first few times. Knowing the hours these fellows put in along with the responsibility of being on ambulance call, they are to be commended.

The rooms were kept neat and clean which is a tribute to your janitorial staff. Cleanliness is important as far as sanitation is concerned, but it is also important as far as general atmosphere is concerned too-both are important.

Last but not least, thank you to Dr. Bray and Dr. Van Rooy and the operating room team. Thank you to the recovery room team also.

One of my more memorable experiences will be the night before the operation I, as a Christian, discovered I was surrounded by other Christians. It is good to be able to meet both the spiritual and physical needs of people in a hospital situation. I must say thank you to Jesus, who must do the ultimate healing, and thanks to Northwestern hospital for the excellent treatment.

AA Has Chapters In Seven County Northwest Area

In the seven county area served by the Northwestern Mental Health center in Crookston, there are 10 groups of Alcoholics Anonymous.

A.A. is a fellowship of men and women who share their experience, strength and hope to solve their common problem and help others recover from alcoholism.

In addition to the 10 A.A. groups there are six groups of Ala-non for the spouses of alcoholics and one of Ala-teen for teenagers with alcoholic parents.

The mental health center uses these groups as a resource of group therapy for clients. The only requirement for membership is a desire to stop drinking and there are no dues. A.A. is not allied with any sect, denomination, political organization or institution and its primary purpose is to help its members stay sober and help other alcoholics achieve sobriety.

It is estimated that A.A. membership totals about 500,000 recovered alcoholics in approximately 11,000 groups throughout the United States, Canada and about 92 other countries. Women constitute about 20 per cent of the membership.

Statistics indicate that about seven out of 10 adults drink alcoholic beverages. About one out of 12 who drink are "alcoholic". Contrary to popular belief, most alcoholics are not "skid row" types. About 19 out of 20 alcoholics are intelligent men and women between the ages of 30 and 55.

In the seven-county area there are A.A. meetings five days per week in various locations.

On Monday there are 8 p.m. meetings at Grace Lutheran church in Ada, First Presbyterian church in Crookston and a member's residence in Oslo.

Tuesday there are two meetings at 8 p.m. One meeting is at Northwestern hospital in Thief River Falls and the other is at a Lutheran church in Fosston.

There is a meeting at the city hall in East Grand Forks at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

An A.A. meeting is held at a Lutheran church in Plummer Thursdays at 8 p.m. and an Ala-teen meeting is held at the courthouse in Warren at the same time on Thursday.

An Ala-non meeting is held at the hospital in Warren at 3 p.m. Friday. At 7 p.m. an A.A. meeting is held at Sunnyrest in Crookston. Other A.A. meetings Friday are held at 8 p.m. at Bethlehem Lutheran church in Mahnomen and First Lutheran church in Stephen.

Clyde Swenson Herd Has High DHIA Average

According to information released by the Pennington county dairy herd improvement association, suprervised by Jerry Hamre, Clyde Swenson's herd was the top producer in the association in April with an average milk production of 1,462 pounds of milk and 52 pounds of butterfat per cow with a test of 3.6.

Other top ten herds belonged to Marlan Augustine, 1,392, 51.9, 3.7; Duane Vatsaas, 1,373, 51.1, 3.7; Donald Erickson, 1,362, 50.3, 3.7; Warren and Lowell Hamrick, 1,263, 49.7, 3.9; James Muzzy, 1,216, 49.7, 4.1; Myron Erickson, 1,282, 48.6, 3.8; Carl and Duane Krohn, 1,416, 47.6, 3.4; Gene Nelson, 1,165, 47.1, 4.0; and Chester Gast, 1,373, 46.9, 3.4.

Fourteen cows tested in the association produced 500 pounds or more of butterfat in a 305 day or less lactation. Gene Nelson had four of the high producers yeilding 708, 699, 628 and 620 pounds of fat. Swanson brothers also had four cows listed with productions of 585, 541, 525 and 517 pounds.

Mylo Carlson had two cows on the list with 667 pounds and 601 pounds. Marlan Augustine had one cow complete lactation with 565 pounds of butterfat. Harry and John Hess had a cow producing 535 pounds of fat. Wallace Reierson had one cow yielding 508 pounds and Chester Gast had one with 505 pounds of butterfat.

During the month the associaton had 36 herds with a total of 1,360 cows on test.

Highway Patrol Will Continue Vehicle Checks

Each week, some 4,000 to 5,000 Minnesota motorists are summoned from state highways into inspection lanes, and their vehicles are subjected to a safety check by Minnesota highway patrol teams.

For some drivers it is a welcome experience. For others, it is unwelcome. The time factor is negligible. It takes eight to 10 minutes to go through the lane. What makes the experience welcome or unwelcome, generally, is the condition of the vehicle.

The driver whose vehicle is properly maintained earns a safety sticker. The driver whose vehicle is unsafe will be given a warning ticket requiring him to have the defects repaired.

Here is how the inspection program works, from the point of view of one driver who went through it:

"I was going through Lakeville on highway 50 at mid-morning when a flagman directed me into a side street which was partly barricaded and marked by a sign 'Vehicle Inspection Ahead'. After a brief wait behind a line of cars, I was directed by a highway patrol officer to move up to a line, shift to neutral, turn on my headlights, and activate my turn signals. While he noted the make and year of the car and the speedometer reading, another officer tested my high and low beam headlight aim with a complicated looking instrument.

"Everything was working right until we got to the brake test. My emergency brake didn't hold properly the first time, but as it turned out, I hadn't set it hard enough. Another application, and it passed. He also checked windshield wipers and tire tread. All OK. The final point of inspection was my driver license, and then an officer put a safety sticker in the lower left hand corner of my windshield, and waved me on, out of the inspection lane. I glanced at my watch. I had been in the lane just a few seconds short of 10 minutes."

Concordia Trip Takes Campers On Russia Tour

Eighteen young people between the ages of 16 and 19 are experiencing Russian language and culture first-hand as they camp through Russia for six weeks this summer.

The opportunity was provided for by Concordia college, Moorhead, as part of its language village program.

The campers will visit Prague, Czechoslovakia; Krakow, Poland; L'vov, Kiev, Moscow, and Leningrad, Russia; Tallinn, Estonia; Helsinki, Finland; Stockholm, Sweden and Copenhagen, Denmark.

After arriving in Frankfurt, Germany, the campers will tour in Volkswagon mini-buses. This will give them the opportunity to meet the people of rural Eastern Europe on an informal basis.

Leading the group of campers from New Jersey, New York, South Dakota, Wisconsin and Minnesota are Al Traaseth, dean of the Russian camp for the past two years; Charles Ritchie, Russian instructor at Blake school, Hopkins; Ralph Olson, Russian teacher at Fridley high school; and Mike Krakow, who has been a counselor at previous language camps.

Concordia language villages sponsor camps for students nine to 17 throughout Minnesota and Montana in Spanish, Norwegian, German, French and Russian, in addition to the experience of vising the "Mother Country" of Russian.

The group left June 14 and will return July 26.

Delegates From Pennington At GOP Convention

Five delegates from Pennington county participated in the Minnesota Republican convention held Thursday through Saturday at the Minneapolis auditorium.

Heading the delegation were Dr. David Brown, county chairman, and Mrs. Roger Worth, county chairwoman. Others in attendance were Ed Turenne, James Winjum and Roger Worth, the latter an alternate serving in place of Patrick Klemisch.

Local delegates voted with the majority of convention delegates in rejecting the majority report from the state platform committee. The platform committee's minority report was accepted and amended as the session progressed. Motions on unconditional amnesty for draft evaders was voted down by the convention, and attempts to include platform planks on legalization of marijuana and marriage of homosexuals were turned aside.

Dr. Brown served on the credentials committee and Mrs. Worth served on the state rules comittee. Both also serve on the state central committee which reelected Rudy Boschwitz as national committeeman and elected Mrs. Harold (Iantha) LeVander as national committeewoman to succeed Mrs. Rhonda Lund who declined renomination.

Debate was held at the convention on diversion of money from the highway trust found for mass transit in the metropolitan area, but the critical need for road funds in the rural areas was recognized by the majority of delegates.

Arctic's Annual Report Shows Increased Sales

President's Report

Swenson's report, to shareholders in the annual report states the following:

We are pleased to report that Arctic Enterprises, Inc. continued its outstanding performance by again achieving record sales and earnings levels for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1972.

Net sales increased 56 per cent to $125,044,000, compared to $80,237,000 in fiscal 1971. Net income was $6,224,000 up 32 per cent from net income of $4,703,000 in fiscal 1971. Net income per share was $2.15, up 33 cents from $1.82 in 1971.

In the fourth quarter, net sales were $17,780,000, compared with $16,858,000 in the last quarter of fiscal 1971. Net income for the quarter was $189,000, or three cents per share, down from the $301,000, or 11 cents per share earned in the same quarter a year ago. Net income per share for both the last quarter and the year as a whole was reduced because of a 12 per cent increase in average outstanding shares in 1972. This increase is due to our public offering of approximately 338,000 shares in July, 1971.

Snowmobile and related service-parts sales were lower than anticipated in the fourth quarter principally due to the lack of snow in some of the key snowbelt states. Replacement snowmobile parts sales are historically a strong source of income in the fourth quarter, however since Arctic Cat owners in these snow scarce areas were not able to use their machines as much as usual, demand for replacement parts was reduced.

A new Minnesota state income tax law, enacted during 1971, increased our 1972 tax liability by approximately $200,000 and reduced 1972 net income by about seven cents per share. The effects of this significant state tax increase will also affect 1973 and future earnings.

The achievement of record levels of sales and earnings in 1972 is particularly satisfying since the year was a period of change and unpredictable difficulty within our primary business—snowmobiles. We entered the 1971-72 snowmobile season intent on marketing a large portion of our production in the first and second fiscal quarters, despite the fact that a substantial inventory of competitor's snowmobiles existed in the marketplace. Even with discounting competition by other manufacturers, we were able to market slightly less than two-thirds of our snowmobile production by the end of the second quarter. Previously, nearly two-thirds of our snowmobile sales occurred in the third quarter alone.

Originally, we intended to manufacture 105,000 machines during the past fiscal year. However, our sales continued at such a brisk pace that by early October, it appeared our dealers would not have enough machines to sell in December and January. To prevent this, we increased our production by several thousand units.

Unusually sparse December and January snowfalls, in many key sections of the snowbelt, contributed to a softening of the retail market in those two months. As a result, we had approximately 14,000 snowmobiles in our dealer-distributor-factory pipeline at March 31, 1972, compared to approximately 3,500 a year ago. With over 2,000 dealers and five different snowmobile models, we do not consider our 1972 snowmobile carry-over excessive. We believe that our distributors and dealers will have little difficulty in marketing these snowmobiles along with our 1973 model line introduced in May, 1972.

Other handicaps encountered by our company and industry last year, included the imposition of the 10 per cent surcharge on imported engines and the West Coast Longshoremen's union strike. As previously reported, these factors combined to increase our operating costs for the last half of the year, and also gave our Canadian competitors a slight price advantage since snowmobiles produced in Canada and imported into the U.S. are not subject to tariff duty.

By moving a much larger share of our sales into the first half of the year, we were, however, able to minimize the impact of these negative factors and achieve annual earnings growth that met our objectives.

General Leisure Products Corporation, our lawn mower manufacturing subsidiary, acquired on February 1, 1971, incurred a loss of $194,000 or 17 cents per share during its first full fiscal year as an Arctic company. General Leisure's profit of $71,000 during our fourth quarter, was somewhat less than anticipated because of production delays in the redesigned lawn tractor line, a key part in the product mix.

Silverline Inc., our boat manufacturing subsidiary, met our expectations in fiscal 1972 and contributed $399,000, or 14 cents a share, to earnings. Silverline is demonstrating its potential as consumer acceptance continues to grow. Since acquiring this subsidiary two years ago, we have definitely established the quality of Silverline boats in the marine industry. We are presently reviewing several locations with the intention of establishing an additional boat plant.

Out latest public stock offering, combined with a 15-year term loan from the Prudential Insurance Company of America, added approximately $17,000,000 to our capitalization during the past year. This capital enabled us to reduce our short term bank borrowings and provide for our future growth on a sound basis. We do not anticipate a need for additional financing in the next 12 to 18 months.

Other highlights of the past fiscal year included Arctic's listing on the New York Stock Exchange and our entry into the ranks of those major U.S. corporations with over $100 million in annual sales. In December, 1971, we achieved another first when we became the first United States manufacturer to produce 100,000 snowmobiles in one year.

Looking ahead we feel Arctic has the productive capacity, financial strength and human resources to sustain its growth. We also have developed the operational and financial controls necessary to control costs and expenses which is a matter of prime importance in any growing company. We not only intend to continue our growth through increased sales, but also through better utilization of facilities, resources and people.

Although no acquisition discussions are presently in progress, we continue to search for companies and product lines that meet our objectives. We are interested in expanding in the leisure and powered products markets by adding products with the family orientation of our present Arctic product lines. Our only interest, however, is in sizeable companies with financial stability, growth potential and existing management expertise.

For the near future, our primary business remains snowmobiles and snowmobile related products. We are a leader in the industry and will continue to be. Our 1972-73 snowmobiles have the most dramatic styling changes in our history and include more safety and performance improvements than any other model line we have introduced. These changes are expected to further increase our market penetration for fiscal 1973. Two new independent consumer research studies, conducted by leading trade publications, indicate that Arctic Cat is now the leading brand choice among all respondents planning to buy a new snowmobile in the upcoming season.

Certainly, our future growth in the snowmobile business is also dependent on the industry's ability to make continued progress toward solving its challenges. Having served as president of the International Snowmobile Industry association during the past year, I can assure you that we are intimately aware of what needs to be done to assure the future growth of snowmobiling.

Another section of this report describes what our industry is doing to meet its responsibilities. Our progress in this area is not widely known, but I believe our industry's concrete response to current environmental and consumer concerns will ultimately set a standard for other industries to follow. As an individual manufacturer, and acting in cooperation with other industry members, Arctic will continue its leadership toward that goal.

July 4 Brings Fun, Fireworks, 500 Fatalities

The Fourth of July weekend will bring fun, fireworks and more than 500 highway fatalities.

Statistics coldly but clearly tell the recurring tale of highway tragedy. Last year 635 died in highway accidents during the July 4th weekend. The national safety council reports that an additional 215 people have died since who were involved in auto accidents last July 4th weekend.

The smart driver is the one who will concentrate on the estimated 20 driving decisions which must be made each mile. To help the smart driver, a safe insurance company suggests five basic tenets of a defensive driving program which the firm has taught throughout the country: Expand your look-ahead capacity, size up the whole scene, signal intentions early, plan an escape route and take decisive action.

Expanding your look-ahead capacity simply means to watch for potentially dangerous situations developing ahead on the road. A problem developing hundreds of yards ahead could be a full-grown hazard for you in just a few seconds. The time gained by early recognition of potential problems could add a lot of time to your life.

In sizing up the whole scene, a driver evaluates his total environment as it is constantly changing. Changes in weather, visibility, traffic patterns, road conditions demand immediate and accurate response, especially when driving at high speeds. If a driver is traveling along at 60 miles per hour and a light rain starts or he sees traffic congested a quarter of a mile ahead, his preparation for the situation developing will help him avoid the need to make a split-second decision.

Even the best decision may be of no value if the driver does not communicate with other drivers. In order to safely share the road with other vehicles, a driver should clearly signal his intentions as early as possible. Use hand signals to warn of sudden or [illegible] slowdowns in addition to four way flashers, lights, tap your horn before passing when entering a blind intersection or when backing into traffic.

The decision driver will always leave an "escape route" or way out of trouble, if the unexpected develops. One way to leave a margin of safety is to allow proper following distance which means at least one car length for each ten miles per hour of traveling speed. Another way to keep yourself out of trouble is to try not to get "boxed in" on both the adjoining traffic lanes.

Finally, the driver must be ready to take decisive action. If the driver has kept in mind the above four principles, his decision-making should be easy. If the driver thinks about what he is doing and concentrates on his driving environment, he will have the needed knowledge to make decisions which will safely get him where he is going.

Falls To Falls Trip Made By Molskness Group

obtain any at a town where they stopped. Another inconvenince was encountered by Jeff, who lost one shoe while swimming in a stream. The group anticipated trouble with dogs but was not bothered by any.

Mrs. Molskness commented on the fine cooperation they received from tourists. In a country like the United States which does not construct its highways in a manner which permits safe bicycle operation, such cooperation is necessary to avoid fatalities and serious injuries to cyclists.

When asked if she and her children would return to International Falls by cycling the route, which totaled about 209 miles when they arrived at their destination, Mrs. Molskness said that her husband was going to meet them in Thief River Falls and drive them back, hauling their bicycles and equipment on a trailer.

Watch Out For Windstorms!

Windstorms—from hurricanes and tornados to severe thunderstorms and high wind gusts—are among the most common and most dangerous weather phenomena.

Windstorms lash at everything in their paths, and everyone should be familiar with safety precautions for those common to their area. However, windstorms are particularly dangerous to mobile homes. Statistics show that almost 13,000 mobile homes will suffer more than $1,000 each in damages from hurricane winds alone in an average year.

According to the Mobile Living Communications Center (MLCC), one of the most effective means of reducing mobile home wind damage is to install tie downs. Tie downs are a system of steel straps or cables which connect the mobile home to anchors imbedded in the ground. A combination of over-the-top ties, which pass over the home, and frame ties, which attach to the I-beam of the frame, is usually used.

Allen Pearson, Director of the National Severe Storms Forecast Center, says, "Almost any time a windstorm strikes, the mobile home court or park where preparations have been inadequate becomes a scene of utter devastation. And it's unnecessary. I believe that 90% of all wind damage to mobile homes could be prevented by solid construction and proper tie down."

To encourage mobile home owners to tie down their homes, the Mobile Living Communications Center has designated June as Tie Down Month in thirty-six states registering high windstorm damage to mobile homes in the last decade.

Tie down equipment should be selected according to the size of the mobile home and to soil type and windstorm conditions in each area. It can be installed by contractors or by mobile home owners. Cost for equipment ranges from $90 to $150 in most states. Contractor installation costs vary with location.

"Wise Up—Tie Down", a brochure outlining tie down equipment and procedure, is available from MLCC at P.O. Box 3431, Chicago, Illinois 60654.

Construction Begins On Three Area Projects

Three new construction projects got underway this week locally according to area businessmen.

Construction began recently on a privately owned 25x107 brick and block building on Knight ave., next to Falls Bake shop. The building, being constructed by Ranum Construction company of this city, should be ready for occupancy by October 1. It will be leased to the Minnesota Department of Manpower services, according to officials of that agency in Thief River Falls.

Ranum Construction also began work last week on a 120x60 concrete and lightweight-block building for Falls Concrete. Located about three and a half miles north of Thief River Falls along highway 59 on a 13-acre tract of land, the building will house a completely automated block plant. Les Sabo, manager of Falls Concrete, says this double current block production. Completion date is late September. The Falls Concrete office and ready-mix plant will remain at the present location.

The fill is in and workers will start forming for concrete this week on a storage building for feed, grain and sunflowers at the St. Hilaire cooperative elevator. The 52x200 Behlen steel constructed building with 12-foot straight-wall construction is being raised by Ose Brothers of Thief River Falls. Minn. Methodist Conference Acts On War Issues

Minnesota annual conference of the United Methodist church completed its four-day legislative session Thursday afternoon with a series of resolutions on some controversial issues. The liveliest debate and the closest votes were on issues related to the war in Southeast Asia and amnesty for those who have refused to comply with selective service regulations.

The war resolution asks for complete withdrawal of all armed forces by Dec. 1, 1972, immediate halt to the bombing, removal of mines from Vietnamese waters, cessation of military aid, an exchange of prisoners supervised by the United Nations, commitment of nonmilitary aid for rehabilitation, and the establishment of adoption agencies for children fathered by United States servicemen in Southeast Asia.

The conference supported "amnesty conditioned upon appropriate alternate service after withdrawal of all combat troops from Vietnam, for those who have refused to comply with slective service regulations or with military orders during the period of military involvement in Southeast Asia."

Another action in which the voting was close requested church agencies, congregations and individual members to "review and analyze their investments that are destructive to mankind, seeking an immediate influence upon policies from within the corporate structures."

In a resolution relating to homosexuality the conference recognized the need for understanding and encouraged pastors and lay people to help in the reconciliation between the gay community and the institutional church.

The conference went on record as being opposed to pari-mutuel betting in Minnesota, and the commendedthestatecommissioner of corrections, Dr. David Vogel, and his department "for the innovative steps they have taken in order to learn better ways to rehabilitate persons and return them to society".

The conference was attended by 850 lay and ministerial delegates representing the United Methodist churches in Minnesota.

Crookston Hosts River Basin Commission

The University of Minnesota, Crookston, will be host to water planners from the United States and Canada when the Souris-Red-Rainy River Basins commission holds its summer meeting July 25-26, according to Dr. B. E. Youngquist, Northwest experiment station superintendent.

About 30 planners are expected to take part in the business meeting and seminar sessions during the two-day meeting. The public is invited.

The commission was established under the Water Resources Planning Act of 1965, and is composed of three states and nine federal agencies. Its jurisdiction, by Executive Order, extends to water and related land resources development within those portions of Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota that are drained by the Souris, Red and Rainy river basins.

Federal members are the departments of Agriculture; Army; Commerce; Health, Education and Welfare; Housing and Urban Development; Interior; Transportation; the Environmental Protection Agency; and the Federal Power Commission.

Youngquist said that among other responsibilities under the 1965 Act, the commission can recommend long-range priorities for planning and construction of projects, and undertake studies relating to water problems in its region. A proposal for such a study, to include a large portion of northwestern Minnesota, has been submitted to the Water Resources Council, Washington, D.C., by the commission to help iron out local problems. Since approval has not been forthcoming, he hoped the Crookston meeting might clarify the situation.

The commission is expected to have the results of its Type I and first Type II studies published and ready for public use this fall. The Type I study is a general inventory of water resources available throughout the tri-basin region. The completed Type II involves the headwaters area of the Red River.

The Crookston summer meeting will be the first for the commission in this section of Minnesota and is expected to give members and planners a first-hand look at area problems. H. A. Hendrickson, Fargo, is commission chairman.

In addition to his University post, Youngquist serves as alternate to the commission for the State of Minnesota. He also is chairman of the Minnesota Citizens Advisory Council, a group whose function is to close the gap between a problem area and the commission planning table.

Chief's Corner

— by —

Roland E. Waller, Chief
Thief River Falls Police Dep't.

In the Times you often see that some person has been charged with DWI. This means that the person was alleged to have been driving while intoxicated. Since I arrived here as Chief there has been a marked increase in the number of persons so charged by us.

In 1971 there were 86 persons charged with DWI as compared with 36 the year before. This is a large increase and I would like to explain some of it. Many persons are of the opinion that I have given an order for the officers to sit outside the clubs and wait for someone to come out after drinking too much alcohol. This is not so. This a common complaint and is not confined to this city only. A chief of police in Gaylord was recently removed with this being part of the allegation against him.

Our officers are hired to patrol this city and are asked to be alert to dangerous situations. As they drive around the city they take note of the manner of driving. You certainly expect that a potential killer or maimer would be stopped and removed from behind the steering wheel. The officers are also called to investigate accidents and, particularly at night, too many persons involved in accidents have been drinking. Alcohol is a definite factor in nighttime accidents.

As I say, I have not given the order to wait outside the bars, but I have told the men that if they spot a good traffic violation and feel they have the evidence to present in court I would stand firmly behind them in the action they took against the violator. This is one of the reasons for the increase. Another reason is the additional manpower and squad car that is patrolling the streets.

The question has been asked, "How come you don't take the drunk drivers home like you used to do instead of putting them in jail?" I don't know how it was before I came, but I do not believe there is any deterrent to DWI if the person thinks he will just be taken home and not prosecuted if caught. For this reason we do not make a practice of taking them home.

There are some other facts that all persons should know concerning the suspicion of DWI. This has to do with the alcoholic content of the blood needed for the driver to be considered under the influence. State law says that if a person drives with as much as .10 per cent of alcohol in his blood, he is considered to be under the influence of alcohol and can be so charged. This can be measured in three ways—breathalyzer, blood or urine. I have five men trained to operate our breathalyzer. This gives an immediate reading. When we use the blood, we call a hospital technician to come and take the sample. Blood or urine samples are then sent to St. Paul for analysis of alcoholic content. Under the implied consent law an officer who suspects a driver has had too much to drink can compel the driver to take one of these three tests. If he refuses and the officers invokes the law, he can have his drivers license revoked for six months. These tests will tell the truth about alcohol. If a person has not been drinking and has the symptoms brought on by some other ailment, the test will indicate this. If the driver knows he has had too much to drink the test will confirm this.

As too many persons have found out, the fine (now $300) is only the beginning of the cost. His drivers license is revoked and this involves time and money to get it back. The increase in insurance rates for the next three years is tremendous. The stigma of the DWI charge is a hard thing to bear. Still we find many times that person has been charged with DWI several times.

One time on patrol in Minneapolis, I was driving across a railroad bridge with a divider. Coming at me on the wrong side of the street was a car which hit the divider just before he would have run into us headon. The driver was under the influence and the charge we placed against him was his seventh DWI charge.

I wish you could have been along as I have investigated fatalities and injuries caused by drunken drivers. At first you are sick to see the injuries, then you are sad for the injured persons, then you are just plain mad at the usually non-injured person that caused the situation. This is a serious problem for our country and it is growing. Please do no driving after you have been drinking!

As an added thought, we in the police department do not control the publishing of names of those convicted in court. This comes from the official court records. Sometimes a name does not appear in the paper and it is known the person was convicted of DWI. This is usually due to a mix-up when the trial is held on a different day than the regular Tuesday court day.

(Editor's Note: This paper publishes all names of violators who appear in the records made available to us by the county court. Although we are asked frequently by defendants to omit their names, it is our policy not to do so. If names are not published, it is because they do not appear on the records we are shown when we ask to see the county court records.)

"I looked more widely around me, I studied the lives of the masses of humanity, and I saw that, not two or three, or ten, but hundreds, thousands, millions, had so understood the meaning of life that they were able both to live and to die. All these men were well acquainted with the meaning of life and death, quietly labored, endured privation and suffering, lived and died, and saw in all this, not a vain, but a good thing." —Leo Tolstoy

Being Neighborly

Crews will soon be moving into this area to conduct the laying of a seven-mile loop of 48-inch pipe for the Viking station of Lakehead Pipeline company. The total crew is expected to involve up to 300 workers will have an economic impact on this community. This is always the case when a large construction project is underway anywhere and the work crew is in the area on a temporary basis.

We would like to remind the people of Thief River Falls and area that this is another time to be neighborly above and beyond the gneral amount of friendliness extended to visitors here. It will also be a test of the community's ability to resist temptation, particularly in the area of housing and rentals.

There have been other pipeline projects in this area in prior years when workers from outside the area have come to live among us for a few weeks or several months. During those projects, we have been embarrassed by some examples of profiteering by owners of rental property—including the eviction of low-income renters for the purpose of charging inflated rental to desperate pipeline workers.

We understand the basics of supply and demand and the tendency to charge what the traffic will bear. And we can understand the all too human attitude toward making a few extra dollars at the expense of strangers who will not stay long in our town.

But we are also aware that the ethic of fair play should still be a business consideration and that the circumstances do not alter the moral responsibility to do what is right. The pipeline work is not a directive to increase commercial rental rates nor a flag to signal the opportunity for profiteering on normally unrentable property.

We are disturbed by rumors that rentals are being inflated because of the expected increased demand. We are disturbed because we think this community has a higher caliber of people than that, and that they can be satisfied with reasonable return from suitable rentals.

The pipeline workers who come here will come because they have a job to do. They have particular skills in their particular fields. Thief River Falls should welcome them as visitors and extend the community's hospitality. That's only being neighborly.

Challenge To Graduates

One of our readers sent us the following excerpts from an address to the graduating class by Eric A. Walker, president of Pennsylvania state university. We seem to recall having read them before, and perhaps even publishing them, but the thought embodied therein is worthy of repetition:

THIS CEREMONY marks the completion of an important phase of your life. No one has more pride in your accomplishment than the older generation. But I am going to tell that older generation how bright you are. Nor am I going to say we have made a mess of things and you—the younger ones—are the hope of mankind. I would like to reverse that process. I will reintroduce you to representatives of some of the most remarkable people ever to walk the earth—your parents and grandparents.

These are the people who within just five decades—1919-1969-have by their work increased your life expectancy by approximately 50 per cent-who, while cutting the working day by a third, have more than doubled per capita output.

These are the people who have given you a healthier world than they found. And because of this you no longer have to fear epidemics of flu, typhus, diphtheria, small pox, scarlet fever, measels or mumps that they knew in their youth. And the dreaded polio is no longer a medical factor, while TB is almost unheard of.

LET ME REMIND YOU that these remakable people lived through history's greatest depression. Many of these people know what it is to be poor, what it is to be hungry and cold. And because of this, they determined that it would not happen to you, that you would have a better life, you would have food to eat, milk to drink, vitamins to nourish you, a warm home, better schools and greater opportunities to succeed than they had. Because they gave you the best, you are the tallest, healthiest, brightest, and probably best-looking generation to inhabit the land.

And because they were materialistic, you will work fewer hours, learn more, have more leisure time, travel to more distant places, and have more of a chance to follow your life's ambition.

These are also the people who fought man's grisliest war. They are the people who defeated the tyranny of Hitler, and who when it was all over, had the compassion to spend billions of dollars to help their former enemies rebuild their homelands. And these are the people who had the sense to begin the United Nations.

It was representatives of these two generations, who through the highest court of the land, fought racial discrimination at every turn to begin a new era in civil rights.

AND THEY made a start—although a late one—in healing the scars of the earth and in fighting pollution and the destruction of our natural environment. They also hold the dubious record for paying taxes—although you will probably exceed them in this.

While they have done all these things, they have had some failures. They have not yet found an alternative for war, nor for racial hatred. Perhaps you, the members of this graduating class, will perfect the social mechanisms by which all men may follow their ambitions without the threat of force.

But they—those generations—made more progess by the sweat of their brows than in any previous era, and don't forget it. And, if your generation can make as much progress in as many areas as these two generations have, you should be able to solve a good many of the world's remaining ills.

Questions and Answers

Question: What organization recently, at a four-day meeting in Minneapolis, took the following action:

Adopted a resolution calling for complete withdrawal of all armed forces (from Vietnam) by Dec. 1, 1972, immediate halt to the bombing, removal of mines from Vietnamese waters, cessation of military aid, an exchange of prisoners supervised by the Unitd Nations, commitment of non-military aid for rehabilitation and the establishment of adoption agencies for children fathered by United States servicemen;

Supported amnesty conditioned upon appropriate alternate service after withdrawal of all combat troops from Vietnam for those who have refused to comply with selective service regulations or with military orders during the period of military involvement in Southeast Asia;

In a resolution relating to homosexuality "recognized the need for understanding and encouraged pastors and lay people to help in the reconciliation between the gay community and the institutional church".

Was it the DFL Liberal-Coalition?

No.

Was it the militant SDS?

No.

Was it any political group?

Not really.

Then what organization took those actions?

The Minnesota annual conference of the United Methodist church.

A church group?

That's what the news release said.

Civil Delinquency

Following editiorial is from the Montevideo American:

An article in the most recent issue of the Minnesota Mason says: "Today there seems to be a great sympathetic concern for the misfit, the pervert, the drug addict, the drifter, the ne'er-do-well, the maladjusted, the alcoholic, the criminal, the loser, the under-achiever, the underdog."

The articles goes on to say that it is high time we stand up and say, "I'm for the upperdog."

We all recognize the fact that it is better to win than lose, better to get an "A" than a "C", better to work for a living and come by it honestly than to cheat our fellows.

It may well be long past time to place the emphasis where it will do the most good, on the acheivers in our society, on the doers. For it is they who will solve our problems, they who will cure the ills of the world and not the ne'er-do-wells.

Some symptoms of civil delinquency, the author says, are tantrums, exhibitionism, violent pacitism and the worship of fire-burning crosses, burning draft cards, burning stores and burning cars.

We may be quilty of civil delinquency. We may be guilty of paying too much attention to the dregs of society while pushing into the background the achievers and the doers who keep the ship of state afloat. Perhaps they are being taken for granted.

Like so many of the other ills that have befallen our society, the sin of civil delinquency is not something one can legislate, it is not something one can require of another. It has to come from each of us to place the proper emphasis, to pick the proper priority. Until or unless we do, civil delinquency will continue to plague us.

Letters to the Editor

In answer to the editorial "A Party in Trouble" of Monday, June 19:

Responsible journalists who have been around a few years should recognize in their accusations of rampant Marxism the same score tactics employed against Farmer-Laborites and Non-Partisan Leaguers of an earlier day.

Members of the DFL-Liberal Coalition are earnestly concerned that legitimate issues be given the open hearing they deserve, rather than being dismissed by the uninformed snickers of back fence gossip or the unfeeling emotionalism of reaction.

If a few of these journalists had listened to some of George McGovern's speeches in the past as well as today they would find no foundation for panicked cries of Marxism or socialism.

Though I disagree with Wallace, men like he and George McGovern offer a refreshing change from most recent national candidates. They openly expose the politics of privilege, and the unresponsiveness of a bureaucratic government. They offer more of a choice than twiddle dum and twiddle de, and many of us feel the answers and solutions of a George McGovern will bring a badly needed new deal. Frankly, Americans should be pleased and proud of a younger generation that is informed and involved. This is a far healthier involvement than that of the Nazi Youth who grew up to be unquestioning SS troopers.

About four miles south of Fairfax near the Minnesota river is Fort Ridgely state park. One of Minnesota's most historic places, Fort Ridgely was the scene of the fiercest battles of the 1862 Sioux Uprising, and its successful defense helped turn the war in favor of the whites.

Yet the story of the fort is one of almost unbelieveable illpreparedness, both in its construction and its lack of trained manpower.

Built in 1853 to protect white settlers and to keep an eye on the Sioux, Fort Ridgely was merely a scattered group of buildings without a stockade. All but two of its buildings were of wood.

The ammunition magazines, made of logs, stood two hundred yards northwest of the main fort, and the stables were across the road some distance to the south.

There was no well, either. The water supply consisted of a spring below the bluff on which the fort was built.

On August 18 and 19 three hundred settlers—many of them wounded—who had been driven from their homes, streamed into the fort and complicated its defense. The Sioux attacked the next day:

But had the Sioux attacked earlier, they would have found only a handful of soldiers, most of them never having faced combat, commanded by a 19-year old lieutenant with the mumps. (Captain John Marsh, the regular post commander, had gone to aid settlers at the Lower Sioux agency but lost his life in the Redwood Ferry ambush).

When the attack came on August 20, reinforcements had arrived and 180 poorly-equipped soldiers defended the fort against 4 to 1 odds. Fortunately for them, however, some cannon and munitions had been left at the fort from when it had been an artillery post; and one Sergeant Jones was an ordinance expert who knew how to put them into action. Thus, attacks on the 20th and the 22nd were repulsed and Fort Ridgely was never taken.

Today, after a picnic lunch, you can walk the fort grounds where events of the battles are well-marked. In a small way, it is possible to appreciate the fears, excitement, suffering and relief experienced at the spot more than a century ago.

notes from the governor

Several years ago John Gardener, national chairman of Common Cause, remarked that "an excellent plumber is infinitely more admirable than an incompetent philosopher."

Those who established Minnesota's system of Area Vocational-Technical Schools fully comprehended the truth of Mr. Gardner's perceptive observation.

They clearly recognized that while we have poured hundreds of millions of dollars into our fine college and university systems, more than 60 per cent of our high school graduates don't go on to college. They recognized that great need for post-secondary vocational—as well as academic—education.

In many ways our network of 33 vocational-technical schools is the finest in the country. These institutions provide training in more than 350 specialties for 22,000 full-time students. They contribute heavily to the economies of the communities in which they are located, and they have produced a pool of talented workers that has proven a magnet for new industry.

Now, for the first time in the United States, students at these schools will have the opportunity to participate in one of the most exciting and rewarding experiences available to any young person—study abroad.

The program, open to students and graduates of vocational schools from across the nation, will get under way in the summer of 1973. Participating students will be able to study cosmetology, foreign car repair, fashion merchandising and design, and chef's training in such countries as Italy, France, West Germany and England. About 200 young people are expected to take part.

The courses for the first year are being designed in large part to meet the needs of Minnesota's growing international trade and travel and tourism industries.

Credit for this bold new program goes to your State Department of Education; more specifically, to Melvin Johnson, director of program planning and development in the department's Division of Vocational-Technical Educaton, and to Johnson's excellent staff.

Advisory committees from business and labor are assisting the state in making foreign contracts, arranging scholarships for needy students and planning curriculum.

I am certain the program will be outstanding, in the finest tradition of a state educational venture that is a proven success.

HARWOOD RETURNS!

If you were old enough to drink back in the late 40's, chances are you remember Harwood with respect, if not affection. A fine rich Canadian with its own ideas about quality. But just about the time you began to enjoy it, we disappeared. We apologize.
You see, our production at that time was limited, so reluctantly we decided to keep most of it at home.
Since we went away, more Americans have developed a taste for Canadians, today's Canadians, the lighter ones. And we have developed a way to supply them with one we can truly call Harwood. Lighter, yes. Lesser, no.
Now that we are returning to America, with all due modesty, we trust America will return to us.
Especially as Harwood costs no more than those Canadians-come-lately.

CROOKSTON BASE RUNNER Mike Davis was tagged out in this run-down during Thursday night's TRF-Crookston American Legion game on the fairgrounds diamond. Thief River Falls second baseman Tom Hanson (right) finally put the tag on Davis, with help from third baseman Paul Cyr (8). Crookston won the game however, 2-0. Thief River Falls will be back in action Tuesday with a 7 p.m. game at Hallock.

TRF Legion Club Sweeps Roseau 10-4 & 8-1 Sun.

Rocky Wilson's Thief River Falls American Legion baseball team swept a Sunday double header from Roseau 10-4 and 7-3 on the fairgrounds diamond to end a busy week and raise their season record to 5-1.

Thief River Falls began the week with a narrow 1-0 triumph over Karlstad Tuesday night before suffering a 2-0 setback at the hands of Crookston Thursday. Thief River Falls bounced back with an 8-1 triumph over Northwood Friday before recording the double header sweep yesterday. TRF opened the season with a 12-0 win at Newfolden, its only road game thus far.

Slender right hander Bruce Engel was supplied all the runs he needed for this first win of the year in the first inning of yesterday's first game as Thief River Falls jumped on Roseau pitching for four runs on two hits—the key blast being Randy Dallmann's bases-loaded double to drive in three runs. Pete Sullivan drove in the other TRF first inning run with a single.

Thief River Falls increased its lead to 5-0 in the third on left fielder Jon Jensen's solo home run.

Another run crossed the plate for the winners in the fourth when second baseman Tom Hanson was issued a bases-loaded wlak. The seventh TRF run scored in the fifth when Dallmann led off the inning with a triple and later scored on a fielder's choice.

Tom Goddard drove in the final three TRF runs with a bases-loaded double in the sixth.

Roseau scored a run in the fourth on a pair of hits and then bunched three hits for three runs in the fifth for its scoring output.

Thief River Falls won the second game 7-1 behind the one-hit pitching of left hander Pete Sullivan.

Sullivan tossed a no-hitter until center fielder Rick Vatnsdal singled with one out in the sixth inning. Vatnsdal later scored Roseau's only run off Sullivan who picked up his first win of the year.

Thief River Falls scored two runs in the first inning when shortstop Cliff Shumway led off with a single and scored on Tom Hanson's double. Hanson scored the second run on a passed ball.

Thief River Falls scored single runs in the second, fourth and fifth innings before scoring twice in the last of the sixth.

Left hander Bruce Johnson picked up his third win of the year Friday night with plenty of scoring help in an 8-1 win over Northwood.

Northwood opened up a short-lived 1-0 lead in the top of the first on three singles, but Thief River Falls quickly tied the game 1-1 in the bottom of the inning when Shumway reached on an error and scored on Hanson's double.

Johnson and Mike Goulet, the team's battery combination, collected back to back base hits in the second to give Thief River Falls the winning run.

Thief River Falls scored three times on three hits in the third and plated three more runs on four hits in the fourth.

THIEF RIVER FALLS second baseman Tom Hanson leaped in vain for a high throw from the catcher on this successful stolen base attempt by a Roseau runner in yesterday's American Legion game. Umpire Gary Monson watches the play as the ball sails over Hanson's head into center field.

FIRST BASEMAN Harlen Iverson waits for a low throw while a Crookston base runner crosses the bag for an infield single in Thursday's TRF-Crookston American Legion game. Rocky Wilson's club will put its 5-1 record on the line Tuesday when they travel to Hallock for a 7 o'clock contest.

Crookston handed Thief River Falls its only loss of the 1972 season Thursday night with a 2-0 shutout performance by big right hander Kyle Pearson.

Pearson allowed just three hits, with Hanson's triple to lead off the seventh being the only TRF baserunner to reach third. But Hanson was picked off the base by catcher Mike Davis after Mike Drury had reached base on an error and stole second.

Crookston scored a single run in the third on an error and a couble by Kevin Tiedeman, and added an insurance talley in the sixth on a walk, an error and a sacrifice.

Pete Sullivan suffered the loss, although he permitted just four hits.

Next action for Thief River Falls will be Tuesday at Hallock.

Cut Nonresident Moose Licenses

Saskatchewan is planning to close four game management zones in the east central part of the province to nonresident moose hunters this fall and drastically reduce the number of nonresident licenses issued for other zones.

Surveys show moose were over-harvested in certain zones during the past two years.

Only 1,100 nonresident licenses will be issued compared to 3,100 last year. Applications will be accepted on a first-come first-served basis.

Zones 21,22,23 and 24 will be closed to nonresident moose hunting entirely and only 100 nonresidents will be allowed in zone 34B.

VFW 6-1 Record Leads TRF Fast Pitch Standings

VFW clobbered Falls Diesel 18-2 while Melvies was upset by Schmidts 6-3 in Thief River Falls men's fast pitch softball action last week, pushing VFW into sole possession of the league lead with an impressive 6-1 record.

The ever improving VFW squad overcame an early 2-0 deficit Wednesday night with a three-run second inning. VFW struck for three more runs in the top of the fourth on a pair of walks, two hits and a costly error.

VFW broke out the big bats over the last three innings with Wayne Smith and Ron Ostby both collecting two-run homers as VFW batters rapped 11 hits over the final three innings. The VFW is the league team batting leader this season with four of their regulars hitting over .400.

Harlie Drees picked up the win for VFW while Earl Graham was tagged with the loss.

Melvies, after opening the campaign with five straight wins, suffered its second straight upset loss Friday night as Schmidts claimed a 6-3 extra inning triumph.

An unearned run gave Melvies a 1-0 advantage entering the fifth, but third baseman Marshall Vagle hit LeRoy Christianson's first pitch over the center field fence to knot the game 1-1. Vagle's hit was the first hit of the game off Christianson.

An error on a pop fly and Vagle's second homer of the game gave Schmidts a 3-1 lead and an apparent win in the top of the seventh, but three errors paved the way for two runs and a 3-3 contest in the bottom of the inning.

A walk, a bunt single, a sacrifice and two costly errors gave Schmidts three runs in the eighth inning.

Dean Lawrenz gained the win for Schmidts while Christianson was tagged with his second loss. In his last two outings Christianson has given up just six hits, and has struck out 23 batters in 15 innings, but has lost both decisions.

L. B. Hartz pulled out a come-from-behind 3-2 win over Arctic Cat Thursday night with three runs in the last of the sixth inning of the well played contest.

Arctic Cat nursed a 2-0 lead into the sixth before a bunt single, an error, a wild pitch and Marv Walter's two-run triple gave Hartz three runs and the win.

Jim Dahl went the distance for the win, with Tom Shetler being pinned for the loss.

The league schedule for this week will start tonight with Grain Belt taking on Falls Diesel. Schmidts will face Hartz Tuesday, VFW plays Arctic Cat Wednesday, Falls Diesel goes up against Melvies Thursday and Grain Belt will play VFW Friday to round out the busy week.

VFW leads the league with a 6-1 record, followed by Melvies 5-2, Schmidts and Hartz 4-3, Graint Belt 2-4, Falls Diesel 2-5 and Arctic Cat 1-6.

Devils Lake Claims Far North Tourney

Devils Lake, N.D. Knights of Columbus, a late meet entry, stopped the Thief River Falls VFW 5-3 Sunday night to win the tenth annual far north fast pitch softball tournament on the fairgrounds diamond.

The annual tournament was originally scheduled to be played June 17, but heavy rains that day forced postponment of the event until yesterday, forcing one of the original 16-teams to drop out of the tournament. The tournament pairings were drawn up with a first round bye scheduled for Arctic Cat of Erksine until a call by meet manager Ray Peterson put Devils Lake into the field Wednesday morning.

Devils Lake executed well placed bunts in the middle innings to build a 5-1 advantage before Scott Kelven bounced a two-run homer off the top of the center field fence to cut the difference to just 5-3 in the seventh. But the winners retired the next batter on an easy fly ball to end the contest. Second baseman Ron Ostby had given VFW an early 1-0 lead with a home run over the right-center field fence.

Devils Lake moved into the championship game with wins over Arctic Cat of Erskine (1-0), Bejou (8-1) and Melvies of TRF (2-1). VFW advanced into the title game with wins over Northwood (5-0), Widman Candy of Grand Forks (9-1) and Roseau (5-0).

Arctic Cat of Erskine came back to edge Arctic Cat of TRF 1-0 to take the consolation title.

Bass Fishing Improves

Bass fishing in the Grand Rapids area is improving according to Jimmy Williams who runs the Grand Rapids tackle shop. In the past week seven largemouth bass weighing over four pounds have been taken and four small mouth bass were caught. The best string of three small mouth bass weighted eight pounds eight and a half ounces and was caught in Pokegama by Jim La Plant of Grand Rapids. The Fisher family of Mt. Vernon, Illinois caught limits of small mouth in Hatch Lake. The largest weighed four pounds 13 ounces.

Walleyes At Walker

Several beautiful walleyes were taken from Leech Lake during the past ten days. The biggest was taken by Anton Rechtzigel of Vesta, Minn. It weighed ten pounds two ounces. Tom Kakala of Akeley took one weighing eitht and a half pounds using a jig and leech. A largemouth bass weighing five pounds 10½ ounces was taken by Floyd Witcofski of Omaha.

Cass Lake Report

Walleye and northern fishing has been good in the Cass Lake area according to Betty Ellis of LeRoy's tackle shop. The biggest walleye weighed eight pounds and was caught on a shiner minnow in Cass Lake. The lucky fisherman was resort owner Lester Schlaich. Scott Baird of Bemidji caught one weighing seven pounds three ounces using a night crawler. Leona and William Durbin of Odessa, Missouri caught their limits of walleye by the Knutson dam on the Mississippi River out of Cass Lake. The largest weighed six pounds 13 ounces. Vern LaDoux of Minneapolis caught a six pounder in Cass Lake east of Star Island. He used a shiner minnow.

Two Big Crappies

Cleve Sletto of the Maryland Resort on Lake Mary at Alexandria tells us that a youngster, Roger Quisenberg of Morton, Illinois caught a string of crappies two of which weighed over a pound and a half. He used a crappie minnow.

National Hunting And Fishing Day

Secreatary of the Interior Rogers Morton said recently that the designation of September 23, 1972 as national hunting and fishing day is especially appropriate.

In a letter to the secretary of the national hunting and fishing day steering committee, secretary Morton wrote: "The American hunter and fisherman through his deep personal interest in our wildlife resources, had paved the way for the growth of our modern wildlife management programs. His pruchase of licenses and permits, his payment of excise taxes on hunting and fishing equipment, and his voluntary contributions to a great variety of conservation projects are multimillion dollar examples of his concern of wildlife populations and habitat preservation."

Governmental and private conservation organizations are planning special activities in observance of the first national hunting and fishing day in honor of the nation's sportsmen. Secretary Morton said that Interior's observance will be primarily by the department's land-holding agencies, stressing wildlife habitat and environmental interpretation.

Sportsmen's club and conservation groups wishing to hold an open house day can receive an open house action manual for $1, and additional information upon request, from : NHF day 1075 Post Road, Riverside, Conn. 06878.

Hunting Licenses Sales Increasing

Warren Page, president of the national shooting sports foundation, reported:

"While one might logically expect the popularity of shooting to suffer in the face of urban expansion and recent anti-firearms sentiment in some areas, this has not happened. Such factors have not lessened the enthusiasm of the recreational shooter nor have they discouraged new shooters from taking up hunting or target shooting. In fact, not only is shooting holding its own in the '70s, it's growing as fast as ever," he reported.

Mr. Page revealed that hunting license sales for 1971 showed the largest increase in over a decade, while marking eleven straight years that sales have risen. More than 600,000 more licenses were bought by sportsmen in 1971 than in 1970, pushing total sales to 15,977,588, with a total license income for conservation of over $108 million.

"The fact that license sales took this very large jump despite some reduction in hunting lands, and in the face of strong criticisms of hunting itself, says a lot for the character and seriousness of the American hunter," Mr. Page pointed out.

The growth of hunting was equalled, if not exceeded, by the rise in the clay target sports of trap and skeet. Major trap and skeet championships in 1971 set attendance records. The grand American trapshooting tournament, granddaddy of all shotgun contests, recorded an all-time high of 16,800 entries. Amateur trapshooting association officials report trapshooting popularity to be growing at about five per cent each year.

Skeet shooting is also winning new participants. Again, this is evidenced by a record turnout of 2,271 entries at the 1971 national skeet shooting world championships. Officials of the national skeet shooting association place that sport's yearly growth at close to ten per cent.

"I find it interesting that the shooting sport growing fastest today is one of the oldest ones—muzzle loader shooting, Mr. Page said. The national muzzle loading rifle association reports membership gains of some 25 per cent in 1971, with attendance at muzzle loading shoots up over 30 per cent. Black powder hunting is also on the increase, with many states offering special seasons for flintlock and percussion guns or allowing the use of the old powder burners during the regular seasons. Over the past five years, New Hampshire reports a tenfold increase in hunting with muzzle loaders.

"These dramatic increases, joined by like growth in rifle and handgun shooting sports, suggest that our American shooting and hunting traditions remain virile," Mr. Page said.

U of M Inquiry Commission To Hold Hearings

Witnesses to the events that took place on the Twin Cities campus of the University of Minnesot a May 9 through 15 are asked to testify at a series of hearings to be conducted by the commission of inquiry beginning this week.

John Darley, chairman of the University's psychology department and chairman of the commission, issued the invitation and requested that those who want to testify contact him at his campus office. The hearings will be open to news media representatives, but not to the general public.

The meetings will be held in Room 238 (the Regents' Room) Morrill hall beginning Thursday, (June 22) at 7:30 p.m.

Scheduled to testify Thursday are Paul Cashman, vice president for student affairs; Wesley Pomeroy, director of safety and development, and three members of the University police force. Subsequent meetings will be held Tuesdays at the same time and location.

Darley emphasized that the commission does not have the power to compel attendance or the authority to grant immunity from prosecution to witnesses. He did say, however, that the commission has reserved the right to withdraw into executive session in order to protect the rights of witnesses.

The Commission of Inqiury was appointed by President Malcolm Moos in response to a request of the Twin Cities Assembly, the faculty-student governing body. The commission has been charged with "pinpointing responsibility for events of the past few days and presenting its findings to the general public as well as the University."

President Moos has asked it to make recommendations (1) to insure that similar events do not recur, and (2) to suggest any necessary changes in current University policies and practices that may have contributed to the difficulties we experience.

Lightweight, Durable, Plastic
ARCH SUPPORTS
10 DAY FREE TRIAL
The combination of a lightweight, strong, injection molded plastic and nylon makes this support extremely durable so that it will not flatten under constant weight-bearing conditions. Recommended for those who must spend long hours on their feet. Ideal for relieving the pain of callouses, cramps, sore heels, etc., when due to weak or fallen arches. Cupped heel cradles and holds heel of foot in a natural position.
METATARSAL BAR — This patented Metatarsal bar extends across the forward end of the support, giving a substantial raise to the Metatarsal Arch at the ball of the foot where the Foot Wings rest on the insole of the shoe.

2—Nearly all of a newspaper's circulation is CONCENTRATED in its market area.

3—The newspaper provides PENETRATION in the primary market by reaching virtually every family or customer in that market.

4—People read newspaper ads when they are ready to make a decision and to act—WHEN THEY'RE READY TO BUY.

5—The newspaper is convenient; it may be consulted at a time most CONVENIENT to every member of the family.

6—People LIKE TO READ NEWSPAPER ADVERTISEMENTS—surveys show 85 per cent of the people want their newspaper to contain advertising.

7—Every issue of every newspaper contains INFORMATION AND FEATURES of interest to every member of the family.

8—Newspaper reading is a habit and a part of people's routine.

9—The printed word is MORE RELIABLE THAN the spoken word and it cannot be refuted because it is easily available for re-checking. More accurate information is obtained by reading than listening.

10—The newspaper is ideal for comparison—items in a newspaper may be easily compared with items in other newspaper ads.

The Most Effective and Most Economical Way to Promote Business Is Through Newspaper Advertising.

Mrs. Spray Selected As Woman Of Year

by Janell Ness
Times Reporter

"Does that mean you have to go live with President Nixon?" That was the question Ellen Spray's Seven-year-old grandson asked when he heard Ellen had been named Woman of the Year by the local chapter of Minnesota Federation of Business and Professional Women.

Ellen, wife of Lloyd Spray of Thief River Falls, was recently awarded a Certificate of honor at the state BPW meeting at Bemidji. Her selection was based on giving of time and skills to her church, community and club.

Mrs. Spray is a member of St. John Lutheran church. She belongs to the East-Side Sewing Circle and has been a member of the BPW for about eight years.

After raising her two daughters, Vivian (Mrs. Will Bartsch) and Judy (Mrs. Judy Olson) and being a housewife for a number of years, Ellen began work at the Thief River Falls Times. She has the position of society editor.

"When he hired me, Clarence (Mattson) asked if I could spell. I told him I couldn't, but that I knew how to use a dictionary," said Ellen.

Mrs. Spray goes through a tedious process of checking for accuracy in items for the social page, but always remains cheerful and helpful to fellow employees.

Jua Nita Liesky, who has worked with Ellen since she began her job at the Times in 1964, said, "I couldn't ask for a nicer person to work with."

"When I started at the Times I didn't know anything about journalism. Newspaper style varies from paper to paper. I do things "Marv-style", said Ellen, who says she has learned a great deal from Times editor Marv Lundin.

Ellen often brightens up the day at the office with little comments during her reading like, "House spray. I wonder if that's any relation to Lloyd Spray?"

Being a busy career woman, Ellen still takes time to enjoy her five grandsons, who live nearby. Though the youngsters are usually eager to come to her, she gets an occasional, "No sanks, Grandma" from the youngest one.

Always happy to entertain, Ellen often rushes home to serve unexpected guests. She manages a tasty luncheon with a quick stop downtown to pick up a ready-made chicken to serve with a potato salad prepared by her husband, "Grandpa Fix", recently featured in Ellen's "Kitchen Karnival" column.

Although she doesn't usually get recipes from male readers, Ellen revealed her secret of selection for her female candidates for the column. "I look through the news to see which ladies have been visiting lately and then call. That way I avoid calling and having some poor man tell me his wife passed away 15 years ago!"

But even in such a situation Ellen's pleasant manner puts others quickly at ease. She had made many friends through her position on the newspaper. Always willing to put in an engagement announcement, a wedding or other local news item. Ellen even recieves calls at home from her readers.

Still Ellen says she doesn't know why she was chosen for the Woman of the Year Award. "There are many others in the BPW who have done a lot more," she says. "I haven't really done anything."

But her friends know better. To many, this one-in-a-million gal is eligible for the Woman of a Lifetime award.

Art Collection To Be Exhibited In Twin Cities

Exhibition of the private collection of Helen-Mary Harding, consisting of over 70 works, opened Thursday at the Minnesota Museum of Art, according to Malcolm E. Lein, museum director. The premiere exhibition will be on display until September 17.

Miss Harding began her collection upon graduation from Macalester college in 1934 with a small etching by the 19th century printmaker George Baxter, purchasing the work with a few dollars down and two dollars a week.

This form of purchase established a pattern of acquisition that has persisted through the years and has enabled her to assemble one of the nation's finest private collections. Several years ago, her collection outgrew her small New York apartment—one room with a sleeping alcove—, and many of the works were transfered to her family home in Hudson, Wis. This exhibition marks the first time all of her works have been publicly displayed at one location.

Included in the collection are works by Delvaux, Lipchitz, Avery, Gatch, Lamis and Roualt, as well as others by famous and less well-known artists. The exhibition will include paintings, collages, drawings, sculpture and jewelry.

The exhibition is on display at the Minnesota museum of art in the St. arts and science center, 30 E. 10th Street. The museum is open to the public Monday through Wednesday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Thursday through Saturday 9 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. and Sundays from 11 a.m. to 9:30 p.m.

Farmers Advised To Take Look At Storage Needs

Now is the time for farmers to take a long-range look at their operations, including sizing up storage capability for the fall harvest, according to Marcel Dahl, chairman of the Marshall county ASCS committee.

The nationwide amount of the farm storage facility and drying equipment loans to farmers by the Commodity Credit corporation is much higher this year than for the corresponding period the year before.

Marshall county farmers have participated fully in this trend toward more on-farm storage of wheat, oats, barley and similar commodities. There are over 700 active loans in Marshall county with more applications being approved every week. Facility loan interest rates were reduced this spring to 5½ per cent.

Many farmers see on-farm storage as a way in which they can have some control of rate of flow of grain to the market.

The ASC committee chairman is not urging farmers to invest in more farm storage. Only the individual farmer can assess his needs and make that decision. He is, however, urging producers to consider farm storage now, well ahead of harvest, and to check with the county ASCS office about the loan program.

Farmers Union Protests Price Ceiling Proposal

Minnesota Farmes Union has protested the reported intention of the Nixon administration to impose price ceilings on agricultural products in their raw state.

Raw farm products have been exempt from the price controls since the August when economic restrictions were first imposed.

Farm prices are now averaging about 73 per cent of parity, more than a quarter below the level they should be to afford producers a fair return in terms of production and living costs according to the Farmers Union news release.

Cy Carpenter, acting president of the Minnesota Farmers Union, sent a telegram Thursday to C. Grayson Jackson, chairman of thee U.S. Price commission, stating the official position of the farmer's organization. The text of that correspondence is quoted here in its entirety.

"We protest the reported decision of the commission to recommend to the Cost-of-Living conuncil that price ceilings be placed on agricultural products in their raw state.

"To assume that farm prices are the major factor in the rise of food prices is a mistake. To conclude, as has been reported in the press, that the agricultural exemption was the "root of the food price problem" is to completely misread the economic facts of life.

"As we advised last year, we beleive that it is entirely unfair to freeze the price of farm products at any level below 100 per cent of parity. Since no major farm product prices, including beef or pork, are even near parity, we maintain that to impose price ceilings on farm products would be to punish farmers for inflationary pressures caused by others in the food system.

"Further, a price feeze at parity levels could only be fair and workable if limits were imposed on marketing margins, retail prices and profits as well.

"Any administrative action would be premature, however, prior to a full-scale investigation by the commission or the Cost-of-Living council of the manner in which marketing spreads have widened at the expense of both farmers and consumers."

The remaining eight of the top ten cows belonged to Warren Gast with 109 pounds of fat from 2,280 pounds of milk, Conrad Zak with 107 pounds butterfat from 2,379 pounds of milk, Northwest experiment station with 99 pounds of fat from 2,240 pounds of milk, Leonard Boucher with 95 pounds of fat from 2,115 pounds of milk, T. Traffic Fatality Rate Is Down For Minnesota

Fatality rate on Minnesota highways dropped in 1971 to 4.37 per 100 million miles of travel on the basis of preliminary travel figures. The fatality rate in 1970 was 4.41.

Public safety commissioner W. R. Hoaglund pointed out that, although the actual number of fatalities was up three per cent last year over 1970, travel increased relatively more; from 22,380 to 23,404 million vehicle miles, or 4.6 per cent.

The 1971 percentage increase in travel was the smallest in at least five years, although the actual mileage increase was greater than in 1967 and 1969.

Travel figures are estimated by the planning and programming section of the department of highways on the basis of a number of criterin such as motor fuel consumption. Minnesota's 1970 fatality rate of 4.41 was eight per cent lower than the national rate of 4.8, and Minnesota was 13th from the lowest among the states.

Although the 1971 decline in the fatality rate was small, Hoaglund indicated that the 1972 experience may be better, on the basis of experience to date. "While it is too early to predict for the whole year, the indication is that the first six months of this year will show a substantial improvement over 1971."

MOVED INTO PLACE Tuesday was the former Little Oak school (District 221) which has been secured by the Pennington county historical society and will be restored for use as a meeting area as well as a historic building. The school was moved to the present site in Thief River Falls near highway 32 from its former location 30 miles east of Thief River Falls. The bottom photo shows the former First street grocery and Horejsh Electric buildings which were obtained by the society earlier and put in place at the site. Restoration is currently underway on one of these buildings. The historical society is now looking for a typical church with steeple to add to the building collection, according to Mrs. Inga Geving, president of the county historical society. She also encourages persons who have items of possible historical interest to contact the society rather than discard the items. Arthur Rambeck, Eric Hammershoy and Rubert Swanson supervised the moving of the school building. Mrs. Martha Matheson and Mrs. Alice Vraa are in charge of compiling county school history. Anyone who has taught in Pennington county schools is asked to contact either Mrs. Matheson or Mrs. Vraa.

Education Board Acts Monday On Insurance Plan

Thief River Falls board of education awarded a contract for long term disability income insurance and authorized advertising for bids on group term life insurance for teachers at a meeting held Monday evening at the superintendent's office at Lincoln senior high school.

Bid of Horace Mann Insurance company was accepted for the long term disability income insurance at 66 and two-thirds per cent of the insured's income with a monthly premium of $915.59.

To be advertised for now will be group term life insurance for all teachers in blocks of $500 beginning at $2,500 and ending at $5,000.

The resolutions followed negotiations with the teachers' negotiating team. Teachers' individual contracts were also discussed at the meeting and new contracts are being prepared to replace the ones presently in use and considered to be outdated. It appeared that agreement between the board and negotiating committee on contracts will be no problem.

Authorization was given by the board to the school administration to continue adult education classes.

Authorization was also given by the board to the administration to "pay certain bills not to exceed the recommended sum". The special authorization was necessary at this meeting due to the end of the fiscal year on June 30 and the fact that the board will not meet in official session until after July 1. Bills are usually approved at the regular monthly board business session. There were no dissenting votes on the resolution.

At the next meeting the board will reorganize for the coming year. Harry Sjulson of St. Hilaire will become a member of the board, succeeding Maynard Wedul, present board chairman. He has been present at the past several meetings of the board to become more familiar with the Thief River Falls school operation.

Crop Production Rose Last Year But Prices Fell

Grain production was up last year in Minnesota, but gross cash receipts to farmers were actually less than for the previous year.

Low prices cost Minnesota farmers over $98 million on the value of the state's record 1971 grain and seed crops, Agriculture Commissioner Jon Wefald reported recently.

"Although grain production last year topped 1970 by 30 per cent, gross cash receipts to our farmers were actually $14,424,000 less or about 2½ per cent lower than for the previous year," he said. The figures were revealed by a new state-federal study.

Sales of 14 selected grain and seed crops last year yielded gross receipts of $595,318,000, compared with $609,742,000 for the same crops sold in 1970.

Value of total production of these crops at the season average prices was estimated at $1,066,353,000 for 1971, compared to $1,023,110,000 for 1970.

"Had our farmers been able to sell their 1971 crops at the 1970 price averages, their cash receipts would have been $49,613,186 greater, and the value of their total grain and seed production would have been increased by $98,098,565," Commissioner Wefald said.

Minnesota farmers sold 7,716,000 more bushels of corn, the principal crop, in 1971 than in 1970, but due to the 18-cent drop in average price received $218,581,000, or $30,240,000 less than they did for the 1970 crop. The value of the 1971 corn at the 1970 price represented an $85,531,500 loss of gross income.

A 22-cent drop in the average wheat price and a 32-cent cut in federal aids represented a $30,137,400 shrink in value for the 55,810,000 bushels of wheat sold for $76,460,000.

Other price drops were experienced in 1971 for oats, barley, rye, flaxseed, red clover seed and dry field peas.

Fitzsimons, Skaar Seek State Offices

Two veteran northwestern Minnesota legislators announced their intentions to seek office today in news releases issued for publication. The announcements answer a question which has been asked since the two state representatives were placed in the same district through state legislative reapportionment.

Rep. Richard Fitzsimons of Warren announced that he would seek election to the state Senate for the new Senate District 1 after being a member of the House of Representatives for the past 20 years. Sen. Donald Sinclair of Stephen announced earlier that he would not be a candidate for reelection.

Rep. Andrew Skaar of Thief River Falls announced his intention to file for reelection to the state House of Representatives after serving five two-year terms. He seeks reelection in District 1B.

Under the reapportionment effected by a court panel, District 1 consists of all of Kittson, Marshall, Roseau, Lake of the Woods, Red Lake and Pennington counties and parts of Polk and Beltrami counties. District 1B includes the south two rows of townships in Marshall county with the exception of Eckvoll, Valley, Moylan and Espelie, all of Pennington and Red Lake counties and the Polk county townships of Higdem, Sandsville, Farley, Brislet, Helgeland, Esther, Northland, Tabor, Angus, Brandt, Keystone, Euclid and Belgium.

Until an accident in a tractor fire three years ago, Rep. Fitzsimons has been engaged in farming all of his life on a farm where he was born and raised near Argyle and which he presently owns.

During his 10 terms in the House he has served on nearly every major committee. For the past 10 years he has been chairman of the House appropriations committee and has served as a member of the Minnesota resources commission since it was established by the legislature 10 years ago.

Besides farming and legislative activities, Rep. Fitzsimons has been active in many civic and farm organizations. He was the first King Agassiz of the Red River Valley winter shows, a 4-H club leader for nearly 30 years, past Grand Knight of Knights of Columbus council 3385, past president of the Argyle Lions club, a township officer prior to being elected to the legislature, active garden club and conservation club member, Marshall county fair board member and active member of the Marshall county and Minnesota historical societies.

In seeking election to the Senate, he pointed out that much of the new district is part of his old House district. "I look forward with enthusiasm to the opportunity to represent Lake of the Woods, Pennington, Red Lake and parts of Beltrami and Polk counties together with Marshall, Kittson and Roseau in the state Senate," he said.

Rep. Skaar, who lives on a farm northwest of Thief River Falls, was first elected from Red Lake and Pennington counties. Six years ago his district was changed to include Pennington and parts of Marshall and Roseau counties.

In announcing his decision to seek to continue in the House of Representatives, Rep. Skaar said he felt that "experienced representation is important for this area, particularly in the face of the decreased rural House membership."

He said his earlier experience as a representative of Red Lake county and his continued representation of Pennington and Marshall has allowed him to know the entire area included in District 1B

Employers Urged To Fill Out Forms

Employers are urged to properly fill out Form 941, employer's quarterly federal tax return, before mailing it to the Internal Revenue service.

George Lethert, district director, said some processing problems are being encountered because Form 941 and Schedule B are not being filled out properly.

"Whenever the IRS service center in Ogden receives forms or returns from taxpayers that are not properly filled out it is necessary for them to contact the taxpayer" Lethert said.

The primary problem is that some taxpayers fail to correctly list the amounts of federal tax deposits on their quarterly returns. If the amounts listed on Schedule B, on the reverse of Form 941, do not correspond with the taxpayer's federal reserve deposits, processing is delayed.

NW Hospital Annual Meet Hears Reports

James Winjum | Marvin Lundin | James Engelstad

Review of the annual report and election of three trustees for three-year terms took place Monday evening at the annual meeting of the Northwestern Hospital association. Robert Wurst presided at the meeting held in the chapel area of the convalescent and nursing care unit of the hospital.

The annual report showed total operating revenues (less deductions) of $2,656,639 for the past year in comparison with $2,423,825 in the fiscal year ended April 30, 1971. Total operating expenses last year were $2,537,579 in comparison with $2,228,364 the previous year.

James Engelstad and James Winjum were reelected to the board of trustees and Marvin Lundin was elected to succeed Wallace Tunberg. Under by-laws of the association, Tunberg was ineligible for reelection because he has served three successive three-year terms. A resolution of appreciation for his service to the association was adopted at the annual meeting.

The association's operating revenues showed room and board receipts of $1,535,978 and ancillary services of $1,154,464. Other revenue of $194,914 was principally a federal agency grant and cafeterial income.

Operating expenses included $816,836 for routine acute patient care services and $207,376 for convalescent and nursing care services. Ancillary services totaled $511,586, general and administrative amounted to $316,167, household and property amounted to $477,437 and dietary totaled $208,177.

Balance sheet of the hospital showed total current assets of $844,180 and total current liabilities of $344,488. Current assets include cash and time deposits of $203,567; receivables of $522,285; receivable for the day-night psychiatric unit staffing grant of $62,360; inventories of drugs and supplies at cost of $44,517; and prepaid expenses of $11,451.

City Council Airs Employee Residency

Last night (Tuesday) at its regular meeting Thief River Falls city council discussed the ordinance which requires city employees to live within the city limits. The subject has been brought up several times during the last few months and it was recommended that action be taken requiring employees to comply with the ordinance or be dismissed from their present jobs.

Under that ordinance which has been in effect for several years, a person who is employed by the city must live within the city limits or move within six months after being hired. Since it was passed, several pepole have complied with the ordinance. At the present time there are about a dozen or more employees living out of the city and about two or three who are known to be planning on moving out of town.

Of those who presently live out of town, about six or seven were living out of the city at the time that the ordianace was passed and should have moved into Thief River Falls within six months of employment to comply with the ordinance.

After discussing the matter with these people, another suggestion was offered. An amendment to the ordinance was proposed which would permit city employees to live within 10 miles of the city limits. It was mentioned that only one person is presently living beyond that limit, in addition to the caretaker at the dump who would be exempted from the requirement. (Another person was mentioned later and there may be more, but these were the only ones named.)

It was pointed out that the extended boundary includes areas outside of Pennington county and School District 564. Councilmen said that the city should not employ anyone who does not pay taxes in the school district so another amendment was suggested which would permit a person to live outside the city but within the school district or county (the council did not state definitely which would be used) but not further than 10 miles from Thief River Falls. The first reading of an amended ordinance is planned for the next regular meeting.

A report from the finance committee recommended purchase of two new police cars with smaller engines as requested by Police Chief Roland Waller. A date could not be set for opening bids until it is known when prices will be available for the 1973 models, so a vote on the matter was postponed until that can be determined.

The finance committee also recommended that the council comply with another request by Chief Waller and authorize an additional sergeant on the police department. This would only be a promotion of a patrolman already on duty and not an increase in the number of men in the department.

Chief Waller had also requested consideration of raises for the deputy chief and himself. The finance committee recommended approval and the council authorized increase of $31 per month for each of them, retroactive to the beginning of the year.

Approval was also given to the finance committee's recommended salary adjustments for members of the Teamster's union.

The council authorized issuance of an on sale 3.2 beer license for Len's cafe and an off sale 3.2 beer license for Ault Marketing, Inc. upon approval by

RICHARD AYERS, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dake Ayers of rural Thief River Falls, is shown with the purebred Milking Shorthorn heifer he received from the Minnesota Milking Shorthorn society. Donor of the calf, Eldo Bentley of Twin Valley, is also pictured. Richard, who owns six head of Milking Shorthorn cattle, received the calf under the state association's youth awards program. He has exhibited at the Pennington county fair and Northwest dairy day, winning the Milking Shorthorn grade championship at dairy day in 1971. Little Advance Planning Could Save Many Lives

Most of the 6,500 persons who perish each year in home fires in the United States could be saved by a little advance planning, Minnesota state fire marshal E. L. Weber advises.

"None of us expects a home fire, of course, and most of us go through life without ever experiencing one. But they do happen—about 600,000 times a year in the United States. They can happen to anybody. Therefore all of us should give thought to what to do about it if one should happen," he offered these suggestions:

First, plan at least two escape routes from each room in the building to the outside, with special attenion to bedrooms. Plan what to do if a stairway should be blocked by fire.

Second, instruct every member of the family about emergency measures. For example, see that they understand that a closed door, with a rug against the bottom crack, will hold back fire and give added time for escape or rescue.

Third, assign duties to each member of the household, such as who will be responsible for younger children and infants.

Fourth, have an agreed to outside meeting place for "roll call" to determine if anybody is missing.

Finally, know in advance how to call the fire department quickly.

About four billion pounds of cotton are sold into the U.S. market annually.

Clearbrook Has Grant To Extend Water Services

Approval of grants totaling $209,600 to help stimulate economic growth and create jobs in Clearwater county was announced today by the Upper Great Lakes regional commission and the economic development administration, U. S. department of commerce.

The grants were approved under President Nixon's program to help rural communities develop the facilities which will attract new industry and allow existing businesses to expand.

The village of Clearbrook is the applicant for the federal funds, which will be used to extend water-distribution lines to an industrial area where increased supplies of water are needed to manufacturing activities.

Local officials state that the larger distribution mains and installation of a 250,000-gallon water storage tank will enable Arctic Enterprises company to expand its snowmobile manufacturing plant. A total of 136 persons have jobs at the plant, and local officials report that this number could be increased with expanded company production.

They added that the company has begun producton of lawn mowers, power boats and ski clothing to maintain a year-round work schedule at the Clearbrook plant.

The increased water service will allow the company to proceed with its plans, officials said.

The economic development administration is making a $183,400 grant and the Upper Great Lakes regional commission is providing $26,200. The village of Clearbrook will provide $52,400 to complete the $262,000 total cost of the project.

Senator Claims Social Security Raise Too Small

"The 10 per cent increase in social security benefits recommended recently by the senate finance committee is completely inadequate to meet the real and pressing needs of elderly Americans," states Sen. Walter Mondale.

"The finance committee's action is a cruel blow to those Americans dependent on social security who are already struggling to make ends meet. Because of inflation—and its particularly heavy impact on those living on fixed incomes—a 10 per cent increase is almost no increase at all.

"In our own state, existing social security benefits are tragically inadequate. Of the 400,000 elderly Minnesotans receiving social security, more than 30 per cent now get less than $100 per month. The average benefit in Minnesota is only $128 per month, which is 25 per cent of what most workers earn before they reture," the Senator said.

"Furthermore, there are approximately 40,000 Minnesotans who now receive no more than the existing minimum benefit of $70.40 per month. Those in this category who do not qualify for the special minimum benefits approved by the finance committee will only receive an increase of five per cent—from $70.40 to $74 per month.

"Considering the fact that 30 per cent of Minnesota's retired couples and 50 per cent of Minnesota's widows have no other income but social security, these terribly low payments mean that many of our elderly face a bleak and difficult existence," he added.

"The hardships faced by these Minnesotans are no different from those experienced by millions of other Americans. That is why the President's own White House conference on aging strongly recommended a 25 per cent increase in social security benefits.

"I have introduced legislation to implement this recommendation and to provide a $100 minimum benefit for all recipients. But at the very least, the senate should accept nothing less than the 20 per cent increase called for in legislation introduced by Senator Church and co-sponsored by myself and many other Senators. Anything less than this 20 per cent figure will do little to help elderly Americans lead a more secure and dignified life," the senator said.

"It is therefore imprerative that the full Senate reject the finance committee's 10 per cent recommendation. . .and approve an increase in social security benefits which is equitable and just. I will do everything I can to assure that the Congress fulfills its responsibility to America's senior citizens."

House Approves Legislation On Revenue Sharing

U.S. House of Representatives passed last week legislation to share $29.5 billion in federal revenues with state and local governments during the next five years, according to 7th District Congressman Bob Bergland. Bergland said that during the first year of the program Minnesota's share will be $114 million, with $51.6 million going to state agencies and $6.5 million allocated to the 7th Congressional district.

If passed by the Senate, in its present form, the revenue sharing program would be retroactive to Jan. 1, 1972 and payments would automatically be sent to state and local governments each of the five years. A state's share is determined primarily by its own tax efforts and local shares are based on a complex formula considering total population, urban population and need.

Bergland has previously released specific figures for 7th District counties and towns of over 2,500. Allocations to smaller communities and townships will be released as soon as they are available, he said.

Funds given to local governments must be spent for public safety, environmental protection and transportation while a state may use the funds for any purpose but replacing present state aids to local governments, according to Bergland.

Lindbergh Book Published By History Society

In a new book just published by the Minnesota Historical society, Charles A. Lindbergh, one of the state's best known sons, describes his boyhood years (1902-20) on the Lindbergh farm, now preserved in Lindbergh state park near Little Falls. Entitled "Boyhood on the Upper Mississippi: A Reminiscent Letter," the book is composed of a long, illustrated letter which Lindbergh wrote in 1969 to guide the society in its restoration of the Lindbergh house and property in the park.

The letter was written during moments snatched on Lindbergh's world travels in the [illegible] on the floor of a [illegible] in Luzon en route to [illegible] aboard a 747 airliner and while locked in a hall on the tenth floor of a New York City office building. It was mailed to the director of the Minnesota Historical society, Russell W. Fridley, in five installments over a four month period in 1969.

Lindbergh's vivid word picture recalls the years before and during World War I with warmth and accuracy: hunting, swimming and campaigning with his father, Congressman C. A. Lindbergh who represented Minnesota's Sixth District from 1907 to 1917, actively operating the farm and experimenting in animal husbandry while still in his teens, and learning to love all things mechanical, from milking machines and tractors to automobiles, motorcycles and airplanes.

The book is enhanced by over 50 illustrations, many never before reproduced, which include letters exchanged by the two Charles Lindberghs, entries from the author's youthful diaries, and photographs from his personal albums, which are now in the collections of the Minnesota Historical society. Fridley has provided an introduction and explanatory footnotes, but the letter itself has not been rewritten. The 64-page book is priced at $4.50 and may be ordered from the Minnesota Historical Society, 1500 Mississippi St., St. Paul 55101.

NW Hospital Annual Meeting Hears Reports

$1,226,906 in accumulated depreciation. Real estate now presently being used in hospital operations is valued at $77,161.

Excerpts from the audit report prepared by Arthur Andersen & company of Minneapolis gave further insight into hospital operations. Net excess of revenue over expenses of $38,048 in total operating revenues this year compared with an excess of $119,501 last year. The excess a year ago included an adjustment of about $76,000 applicable to prior year contract settlements with third party payors.

Reports indicated that births at the hospital had increased to 368 in 1972 from 353 in 1971. Total patient days increased about 3,064 days over 1971 due primarily to the increased occupancy of the convalescent and nursing care unit.

Outpatient visits increased from 4,872 to 5,122; acute patient days climbed from 23,948 to 25,030 and convalescent and nursing care patient days increased from 21,061 to 25,043.

Administrator's Report

In his report to the annual meeting, administrator Norman Peterson commented on the utilization of the acute patient facilities and stated that the hospital statistics for the year ending April 30 indicated an all-time low in percentage of occupancy. This was accounted for in part by the availability of the services of the 90-bed convalescent and nursing care unit where patients can be transferred easily, from the much higher cost acute facilities as soon as their condition warrants the transfer.

"Where these high skilled nursing beds are not available," he said, "surveys and studies point out that hospital stays for the older patients tend to be longer with a much higher cost resulting."

Another reason indicated by the administrator for a lower utilization of the acute service could be associated with the absence of certain medical specialties in the community. It was also pointed out that on a national basis the utilization of acute hospital services has been dropping for many reasons including changes in the practice of medicine with a shift to early detection and diagnosis, and a realization of an overabundance of acute facilities in some areas.

Peterson also indicated that a program of shared services with other hospitals is being reviewed by the board and administration. A program of this type covering fiscal management and group purchasing could be of significant importance in reducing costs of providing health services, he said. Some services at the hospital are now being shared with other area hospitals, and with the acquisition of automated laboratory equipment next month, additional services will be available to these hospitals and area physicians.

Reports were also given at the meeting by Dr. Arnold Berg, chief of the medical staff, Dr. Ronald Young, director of the day night unit, Miss Ruth Bloom, director of nursing services; and Mrs. Les Ihle, president of the hospital auxiliary.

Miss Bloom noted that the nursing service currently has 26 full-time and 20 part-time registered nurses, 63 full-time and 29 part-time nurse aides, 34 full-time and 16 part-time licensed practical nurses, two ward secretaries and six orderlies and ambulance drivers.

Otter Tail To Participate In Utility Research

"Otter Tail power company is deeply committed to and will participate enthusiastically in a greatly expanded program of electric utility research and development to be sponsored by the investor-owned electric industry nationally," states Albert V. Hartl, president of the Fergus Falls based electric company.

Under the goals adopted by the industry at the Edison Electric institute's national convention in San Diego this month, as much as $137.6 million could be provided annually by 1974 for vital research into innovative methods of producing and transmitting electric power with a minimal effect on the environment.

Under the program, each participating company would contribute 0.067 of a mill per kilowatt-hour of elecgric sales in 1974 and annually thereafter. A feature of the plan would permit each participating company to apply 20 per cent of its annual contribution to local research projects of particular interest to the local company, Hartl said.

Police Report Shows Thefts And Accidents

Taking property belonging to someone else by theft, burglary, larceny and shoplifting were the most common of the significant complaints reported by the Thief River Falls police department during the past week.

Mrs. Leonard Helgeland reported June 20 that two boys had burned clothing on a clothes line. As a result, two juvenile boys were contacted by the police and admitted their involvement.

About 9:50 June 21 a pickup belonging to Arctic Enterprises and driven by Hans Anderson of Karlstad was traveling south on Main avenue and collided with a vehicle driven by Lloyd Bernhardson of Thief River Falls who was traveling west on First street. The pickup received about $125 in damage and the other vehicle will cost about $250 to repair.

Two juvenile boys, both 15 years old, were apprehended for shoplifting in a local store and released to their parents by the police department June 21.

On the same day, about 9:15 p.m., Clayton Molstad of Thief River Falls was backing into a parking space on Main avenue and collided with a vehicle driven by Joseph Hasby of Thief River Falls who was traveling south on Main. Damage to the Molstad vehicle was estimated at $140 and $155 to the Hasby vehicle.

A burglary was reported at L. B. Hartz wholesale Monday. Entry was apparently gained by breaking the glass in a door. About $47, some insurance policies and a bank certificate were taken from a desk. Four dollars and a key were taken from another office.

Right Turn On Red O.K. After First Of July

Effective Saturday, July 1, motorists will be permitted to make a right turn on red signals, after stopping, at Minnesota signalized intersections unless specifically prohibited.

Explaining the law enacted by the 1971 Minnesota legislature, Richard H. Sullivan, traffic engineer, state highway department, said, "The law permits deivers to make a right turn when facing a red signal, after stopping. The driver must yield to all traffic at the intersection, both pedestrian and vehicle, in making the right turn."

Certain intersections where the right turn on red will be prohibited will be marked. The message will be "NO TURN ON RED", black lettering on a white back ground with a red ball in the center of the sign, fully reflectorized.

Sullivan urged drivers to be particularly alert for the sign at high pedestrian volume intersections, near shopping centers, in downtown areas of Minnesota communities, near senior citizen housing and in the vicinity of schools.

"Although the pedestrian still has the right of way and the motorist must yeld to people who are afoot, both have their role in safety of movement."

Janelle Hodik, daughter of Mrs. Grace Hodik of Mahnomen and former Newfolden resident, was recently awarded a Concordia college merit scholarship and a Minnesota state scholarship.

Miss Hodik was salutatorian of the Mahnomen high school class of 1972 and a member of the National Honor society. She also received her school's citizenship award, library club scholarship grant and several pins for participating in music groups which earned superior ratings in regional competition.

Annual Checkup Can Help Detect Types Of Cancer

Lives of more Minnesotans could be saved from colon-rectum cancer if people would only have an annual checkup, including a proctoscopic examination.

This observation was offered today by the American Cancer society, which added that a "procto" is particularly important for men and women over 40. The examination employs an illuminated viewing device, called a proctoscope, for inspection of the lower part of the intestine.

"The reason this is so important," the society said, "is that cancer of the colon and rectum is the single most common form of internal cancer today. Three-quarters of these cancers could be detected by proctoscopy in patients who often have no symptoms. To treat them in time we must find them in time. Thus, the importance of the regular physical examination."

There were 727 Minnesotans who died of cancer of the colon and 179 who died of cancer of the rectum in 1970, according to figures compiled by the state vital statistics section, including one death in Pennington county from colon cancer.

The Minnesota division of the American Cancer society currently is conducting a statewide attack on colon-rectum cancer.

Bergland To Ask No Price Freeze On Farm Produce

Addressing a Farmers Union meeting in Fertile recently, U.S. Representative Bob Bergland expressed "shock" at the "ridiculous suggestion" that a freeze on raw farm prices would control food costs and announced he will be introducing legislation or prohibit a freeze "until farmers start getting a fair price" for their produce.

Bergland said his reaction was the result of a national price commission request last week which sought such a freeze.

Noting that cattle prices "are at the same level as 20 years ago" and farmers "get no more than 70 per cent of a fair price" for their produce, Bergland said that farmers "can't possibly survive by receiving 20-year-old prices while paying present day production costs. We are the only segment of the economy expected to stay in business and not complain under such intolerable conditions," he said.

Bergland emphasized that freezing the prices received by farmers "is no way to prevent rising food prices" and suggested that if any controls are needed they should be at the wholesale and retail level.

"When we, the farmers, gain 100 per cent of parity," Bergland said, "they can start talking about controlling our prices—but not before." Bergland will introduce this week legislation prohibiting price controls on raw farm produce until 100 per cent of parity is reached.

WACs Announce New Two-Year Enlistment Plan

A two-year enlistment program has recently been announced by the Women's Army corps, according to Sergeant Francis Trim, commander of the Thief River Falls U.S. army recruiting station.

Young ladies who enlist under this two-year plan may be placed by the corps in any of the career oppotunities available. This placement occurs after the completion of basic training.

"The wide range of opportunities," said the sergeant, "includes data processing, administration, intelligence, broadcasting and journalism, the medical field, drafting and a host of others."

Not only does the corps offer exciting careers, but also the chance to travel anywhere in the United States or free world, he said.

"All I'm asking," Trim said, "is for young ladies to compare what their futures look like now, and what they would look like with the corps."

The corps pay scale starts at $288 a month and increases with each promotion. Plus, it offers benefits such as free medical and dental care, 30 day paid vacation a year, and education benefits to those interested in working toward a college degree.

For more information about career opportunities and benefits offered by the Women's Army Corps, Sergeant Trim can be contacted at his office at 209 E. 3rd St., or by phone at 681-1154.

First Aid Kit Can Make Travel More Enjoyable

When you point your car toward points of fun this summer, take time out first for safety. A travel first aid kit is good insurance against a vacation marred by minor mishaps.

"You don't think you need a first aid kit," says Bob O'Meara, regional manager of a motor club in Kansas City, Mo., "until one of the kids wanders off into a patch of poison ivy or gets a little motion sickness."

Calamine lotion soothes most itches, and a good motion sickness remedy is invaluable. So it just makes good "car" sense to be prepared for small annoyances which have a pesky habit of appearing on the vacation road.

O'Meara pointed out: "Commercially available first aid kits which retail for $10 or more can easily be duplicated for a fraction of the cost if you do it yourself."

A well-stocked kit just takes minutes to assemble, according to O'Meara, and should include the following:

1 package assorted band aids, 1 package assorted sterile gauze pads, 2 roller gauze bandages (2 & 3 inches wide), 1 roll adhesive tape (1 inch), 1 tube petroleum jelly, 1 small bottle mild antiseptic or iodine, 1 small container aspirin, 1 package safety razor blades, 1 snake bite kit, 1 bottle calamine lotion, safety pins, cotton-tipped swabs, small blunt scissors, matches and milk of magnesia.

Play safe when motoring this summer; if you're prepared, it's yours to enjoy.

Crop Losses Total Millions Due To Weather

Agriculture losses due to adverse weather conditions in west central Minnesota counties may run into millions of dollars, according to estimates by agriculture commissioner Jon Wefald.

Crop production has been damaged, destroyed and delayed on thousands of farms in at least 16 counties. Combined preliminary estimates from local agricultural authorities indicate that much over one million acres of crop production is at stake.

Wefald made an air and auto tour to talk with officials and farmers in ten counties last week at the direction of Governor Wendell R. Anderson. He said the adverse weather that has plagued some of the west central counties since last fall threatens a staggering blow to the state's agricultural economy.

"This area produces nearly 30 per cent of Minnesota's cash farm income from field crops. It produces nearly one-fourth of the corn, 42 per cent of the wheat, 34 per cent of the rye, 33 per cent of the oats, 48 per cent of the barley, 27 per cent of the soybeans, and over 70 per cent of the state's flax acreage. In 1968 the cash crops income in these 16 counties was $173.5-million," Wefald said.

Counties involved are Lac Qui Parle, Chippewa, Stevens, Grant, Renville, Pope, Big Stone, Swift, Traverse, Yellow Medicine, Clay, Kandiyohi, Wilkin, Norman, Lincoln and Lyon.

Commissioner Wefald said deep frost, low spring temperatures and incessant rains have seriously restricted planting and seeding operations and inundated hundreds of thousands of acres. Farmers reported up to ten inches of rain fell in some areas between May 8 and June 6. The Morris area in Stevens county and the Benson area in Swift county reported total rain received by June 6 exceeded the normal annual average by over six inches.

Only 20 to 25 per cent of the small grains had been seeded, compared to a normal of 80 per cent by June 1. Corn planting also is far behind. Some of these limited plantings were still under water last week.

Commissioner Wefald said thousands of acres of farm land in west central counties will require one to two weeks of ideal drying weather before farmers can resume field work.

"We're already past the late seeding and planting dates for many crops. So if and when farmers can complete planting operations they face the prospect of sharply reduced yields, unless the summer and fall weather is as unprecedentedly favorable as it has been unfavorable," Wefald said.

Shifting to other, shorter maturity crops is a very limited option, too, because of required modern farming methods. Land chemically prepared for corn can't be used for soybean production—a short season crop and one of the most favorably priced grains on current markets, according to the commissioner.

"Many of our farmers in west central Minnesota are facing serious financial losses, even if maximum federal assistance programs are provided. But government help is critical and may be the determining factor in saving many of our family farm operations," he said.

City Council Airs Employee Requirements

Chief Waller.

The council noted that preparation of material for issuance of general obligation bonds for 1972 street construction and the water intake project are nearly ready for the council's action.

Payment of more than $72,000 to Sornsin construction company for work on the water intake project was approved as was payment of consulting fees to Stewart and Walker, Inc.

The council authorized the installation of a no parking sign on Knight avenue adjacent to the parking lot west of Bugge's oil station. In the past, vehicles have been parked so close to the driveway that trucks could not negotiate the entrance.

A notice of a hearing was received from the bureau of mediation to discuss inclusion or exclusion of the fire chief, street commissioner, liquor store manager, park foreman, water department manager, line crew foreman, sanitaton commissioner and sewer department foreman in labor negotiations with the Teamster's union. The hearing is scheduled to be held at 3 p.m. July 12 in the Pennington county courthouse.

The council approved Mayor A. E. Jacobson's appointments of Glenn Peterson, Al Bacon and Jim Parkins for three year terms on the planning commission. They are members of the commission at this time but their present terms would be expiring August 1.

Approval was given to renew the city's permit for a 20-inch sewer crossing on the Burlington Northern's right of way.

A peddler's license was issued to Dyna-Team, Inc., for the operation of a snack truck. It wa also mentioned that notice should be sent to operators of similar businesses informing them of the license requirement. At the present time no other snack truck operations are licensed by the city.

The American Conscience

by Dr. RUDY SKOGERBOE

Last week the Republican Party of Minnesota had its convention in Minneapolis. As in the Minnesota DFL convention, the headlines were concerned with the platform.

The platform committee had a majority of liberal minded members. There were six members who favored a more conservative approach. The liberal majority of this committee had a professional writer produce a 29 page document and it was on this report the floor fight developed. The so called "majority" platform was a clever, ambiguous and misleading piece of literature. It was not written in a report style, but rather it used a rambling group of statements which did not follow any thought pattern. For this reason, the controversial statements were hidden just enough to make them almost as if they weren't there at all. There would be several statements that everyone could accept and then one sentence on lenience in drug abuse. This would be repeated until another statement such as placing our country at the mercy of the U.N. Further on the process was repeated until a statement on legalizing same sex relationships (homosexual marriage) was slipped in.

How it could have been written at all is the frightening thing. This time it didn't do any harm as there were enough regular members to keep the party in line. The six conservative members prepared a minority report which was also presented to the convention. By a vote of over 800 to a little over 200, the convention threw out the so called "majority" report completely. With several minor changes, the minority report was adopted.

This means that the candidates running for office under the Republican label do not have to come with excuses for what some radical element in their party might have done. It also means that no group or party or even church is safe from these radical and destructive influences. It is just possible we have pushed the idea of tolerance too far so some quite innocent people think these compromises are all right. It is also true that there are ambitious workers who believe enough in these revolutionary ideas to try to gain control of both parties. Time will tell whether these elements have enough strength to nominate their man for the Democrat Party. If they succeed in getting McGovern nominated it is very probable many of their radical ideas will become part of the Democrat National Platform. We will have to wait and see.

I believe this year has shown that the time has long since passed that our working people, our professional groups and our church members can continue to ignore the political process. If only one element becomes involved, it is just possible what happened in Chile can happen here.

Hallock Rally Surprises TRF Legion 3-2 Tuesday

Hallock scored three runs with two outs in the last of the seventh inning Tuesday night to surprise Thief River Falls 3-2 in American Legion baseball action played at Hallock.

Right hander Randy Dallmann entered the last inning with a six-hit 2-0 shutout performance, and retired the first two men he faced in the seventh before a fielder's choice and two walks loaded the bases. Dallmann issued a run-producing walk to shortstop Jim Dahl to trim the Thief River Falls lead to just 2-1 before right fielder Charlie Dahl singled home the tieing and winning runs.

Thief River Falls had opened a 1-0 lead in the top of the fifth when right fielder Bruce Johnson reached base on an error and scored on left fielder Rob Almquist's triple with two outs.

The other Thief River Falls run crossed the plate in the sixth when first baseman Pete Sullivan singled, stole second, advanced to third on an error at short and scored on another error by the shortstop.

Hallock hurler Dan Mortenson held Thief River Falls hitless until Almquist's triple in the fifth, with TRF unable to advance a runner past first until Johnson scored.

Mortenson gained the win as he held Thief River Falls to just two hits while striking out five and walking only one batter. Dallmann was tagged with the loss, giving up seven hits, striking out five and walking four batters. Each team committed two errors.

Rocky Wilson's club will be back in action tomorrow night (Thursday) when they take on powerful East Grand Forks at Stauss Park in Grand Forks. The club will see its next home assignment Friday with a 7 p.m. game against Warroad on the fairgrounds diamond.

Roadside Mowing Delayed To Aid Nesting Birds

Mowing of the right-of-way along highways will be postponed until July 15 to let pheasants, ducks and other fowl nesting there hatch their broods in safety, a spokesman for the Minnesota highway department declared today.

Research by the state natural resources department shows that 25 per cent of our pheasants nest in alfalfa fields, where about one-third of the hens are killed or critically injured during hay mowing, and nearly all of their nests destoryed. According to Maynard Nelson, that department's research expert, Minnesota's pheasant population is now down to 15 per cent of what it was 10 years ago.

"We thought roadside ditches were our 'ace-in-the-hole'," Nelson said, "but even that is failing now. Our pheasant population is tragically low." There was no open season on pheasants at all in 1969. Since then the hunting range has been limited to a relatively small region of southern Minnesota.

Four seasons of field research several years ago revealed that 26 per cent of the pheasant population nests on the right-of-way along highways. "As nesting cover has diminished considerably since then," Nelson said, "the number of birds nesting along roads is probably much higher now."

Aware that diminishing cover for wildlife has led game birds to seek sanctuary along highways, where they shelter in ditches and on grassy slopes apparently undistrubed by high-speed traffic just yards away, the state highway department makes every effort to preserve their asylum there, consistent with motorists' safety.

For example, one of the critieria in selecting trees and shrubs for multipurpose landscaping along highways is that they provide food and shelter for wildlife.

TRF Recreation Programs Held During Summer

Thief River Falls park and recreation department's summer recreation program continues throughout the remaining summer months, it was reminded today.

The Eastside program will be conducted each Monday, while the Northrop activities will be presented on Wednesdays.

The programs feature arts and crafts, along with low games from 9 a.m. to 12 noon; small fry activities from 1-2:15; girl's "T" ball from 2:15-3:30; and boy's "T" ball from 3:30-5 p.m.

*All young boys and girls in*terested in taking part in the program are invited to attend the activities on either Monday or Wednesday, according to the area in which they live.

Special events throughout the summer will be held on Fridays for both areas.

Youth Basketball Drills Continue

Thief River Falls youth basketball program will continue its summer schedule tomorrow night (Thursday) in the Lincoln high school gym, beginning at 7 o'clock.

Any boys in grades 4-9 who are interested in playing in the summer program are urged to attend the session.

Game and Fish Arrests Increase

Some 6,650 persons were arrested in Minnesota last year by state conservation officers for violation of game, fish, snowmobile and watercraft laws, it was reported today.

Donald Fultz, director of enforcement for the department of natural resources, said the figure represented a substantial increase over the average of some 4,000 arrests recorded during recent years.

Fines totaling $136,201 were collected from violators by the courts. By law, one half of the amount is retained by the county in which the violation occurred while the other half is deposited in the state game and fish fund.

SCOTT SABO, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Les Sabo of Thief River Falls, was named as the most valuable player on his team during the Bemidji summer hockey camp June 11-17. Over 200 boys participated in the first session of the camp, including seven young boys from Thief River Falls. Attending the camp from TRF were Tom Bjorkman, Tony and Tim Loffler, Brett Carter, Dan Winjum, Brant Walton and Sabo.

Catfish Story To Be Published In Magazine

For thousands of Minnesotans who love to fish for bullheads or catfish, but have felt inferior to the walleye and muskie crowd, an upcoming article in the July "Field & Stream" magazine should lift their spirits.

Written by Robert Gilsvik of Minneapolis, the story "I'll Take Catfish" describes the sporting thrill of landing what has usually been a downgraded game fish—but a game fish nevertheless. Catfish weighing anywhere from 10 to 25 pounds are commonly taken in such areas as the Mississippi, Minnesota and St. Croix rivers. Mention is also made of a record 160-pound blue catfish taken from the Minnesota river near Hanley Falls.

Gilsvik reports that increasing interest in this fish as a game variety has prompted the Minnesota department of natural resources to make experimental stockings of some waters, including the Rum river above the dam in Anoka.

Included in the article are the "how-to" aspects of catfishing, including tackle, bait and weather information.

Robert Gilsvik, incidentally, was the winner of the biggest fish trophy at the 1972 governor's fishing opener in Deerwood with his 5.2 pound walleye.

Sportsmen Air Goose Lake Plan

Discussion of the Goose Lake project will take place at a special meeting of the Pennington county sportsmen club to be held tonight (Wednesday) at 8 p.m. in the Thief River Falls city auditorium. Howard Hagen, club president, has called the special meeting of the club and urges all members and others interested in preservation of wildlife habitat to be in attendance.

Forest Fires May Benefit Wildlife

Smokey Bear posters that show animals running from forest fires or indicate that fires maim and kill wildlife aren't entirely true, according to one forestry specialist.

"It's commonly felt that forest fires kill animals. That's usually not the case—animals often escape forest fires by hiding or outrunning them," said Rodney Sando, a forest resource development specialist at the University of Minnesota.

There are exceptions: The large catastrophic fire such as the Hinkley and Cloquet fires killed many animals as well as people, he said.

The long-range effect of forest fires is to improve the forest habitat for wildlife. Fires help create structure for cover as well as food for deer, moose, rabbits and grouse, he said.

But this doesn't mean that fires aren't dangerous. They can cause severe damage that cannot be tolerated, Sando said.

Controlled forest fires are now being used by the Minnesota department of natural resources, division of lands and forests, to improve wildlife habitat in northern Minnesota.

AHA Proposes New Program In Health Services

Testifying before the Democratic platform committee recently, an American Hospital association spokesman warned that achieving equal access to health care requires the wise use of more health care dollars, manpower and facilities.

The AHA, representing about 7,000 health care institutions, presented its testimony in St. Louis where the platform committee was holding day-long hearings on health and welfare.

"Emphasizing the urgent need for a national health policy, Martin Steinberg, M.D., a member of the AHA board of trustees, cited legislation recently introduced by Oregon Congressman Al Ullman, ranking Democrat on the House ways and means committee.

The Ullman bill, based on AHA's "Policy Statement on the Provision of Health Services," emphasizes comprehensive benefits and equal access to care through a reorganized health delivery system. It provides for changes in both the delivery and financing of health care over a five-year phase-in period.

Dr. Steinberg said the bill proposes establishing community-based health care corporations (HCC's) for provision of health services. Doctors, hospitals, other health professionals and institutions, along with consumers, would form the HCC to provide comprehensive health services to a defined geographic and population area.

Financing, he told the platform committee, is based on the principle that those able to pay for their own care should do so, through prepayment plans and private health insurance. For those unable to pay, or to pay in full, care would be financed through governmental resources. The bill attempts to deal with the failings of private insurance and to utilize existing resources in a more coordinated fashion.

Pluralistic financing is essential to assure options for patients and providers, according to Dr. Steinberg. AHA believes pluralistic sources of financing are needed to prevent taxation from becoming the major source of financing for health care.

The AHA representative stated that the Ullman bill complements the recommendations already made by the Democratic policy committee, and goes a step further in curbing inflation

State Grouse & Duck Surveys Completed

Minnesota's annual spring census of ruffed grouse has produced a count equal to last year's, which was the highest recorded in the past 22 years, while the survey of the state's duck population has disclosed a 20 per cent decline from last year.

The Minnesota Department of Natural Resources took the annual spring surveys.

Game managers said the best ruffed grouse counts were noted in the north central area and the central hardwoods region. Several counties which annually receive the greatest hunting pressure produced the highest drumming counts.

The census is taken by driving over selected routes, stopping at pre-determined spots and recording the number of drummings heard within a specified time period.

The male ruffed grouse "drums" by beating its wings rapidly against its body and is his way of attracting females.

They said winter conditions for grouse were excellent over most of the bird's range last winter. Light, fluffy snow provided ideal roosting conditions for grouse, which burrow under the snow for warmth and to avoid predators.

Although there is a high spring population of ruffed grouse, said game managers, the number of birds available for hunters in the fall is also determined by the success of the hatch.

The state's duck population was surprisingly down from last year with about 25 per cent fewer mallards in the state this spring with the blue winged teal population down by one-third.

Waterfowl specialist Robert Jessen of the department's game and fish division said that considering the abundance of temporary water areas in west central Minnesota this spring the fact there was only a slight increase noted in this area was "disappointing".

Furthermore, he said, this increase was more than offset by decreases in the extreme northwest portion of the state above Thief River Falls.

Duck numbers also showed declines in the northern forested region of the state and across southern Minnesota.

Hatching success among the nesting duck population appears to be about normal, he said.

Loren Anderson Named to Post At Concordia

Appointment of Loren J. Anderson as director of institutional research at Concordia college, Moorhead, has been announced by Concordia President Joseph L. Knutson.

Dr. Anderson's responsibilities will include institutional reporting activities to various governmental and accrediting agencies, coordination of public grant activities, institutional self-studies of student development, and program analysis and evaluation. Anderson's portfolio includes some duties previously assigned to retiring executive vice-president J. L. Rendahl.

Although the office of institutional research will serve a variety of departments of the college, its direct relationship will be with the office of the vice-president of academic affairs, Dr. Paul J. Dovre.

Anderson holds a Ph.D. from the University of Michigan with major emphasis in communication theory and research. He earned his master's degree from Michigan State University and as an undergraduate, majored in philosophy at Concordia College. Anderson is a native of Rugby, N.D.

Since 1969 Anderson has been on the faculty of Wayne State University, Detroit Mich., where he was awarded one of the university's faculty research awards.

Anderson has contributed to a number of publications, including "Concepts of Speech Communication", published by Allyn and Bacon. Anderson and Donald Byker of Harvard, are preparing a book to be titled "Speech Communication: a Humanistic-Behavioral Approach."

Dr. Anderson will assume his new position July 1.

Prices Of Farm Land Decrease In RRV In '71

In the Red River Valley, prices received in sales of farm land decreased from 1970 levels to an average of $166 per acre in 1971, according to a recent University of Minnesota report. Market activity in the valley was slow with about one-fourth fewer reported sales in 1971 and expansion buyers accounted for 90 per cent of all farm land purchases in the valley.

In spite of the decrease of farm land prices in the Red River Valley, average farm land values for 1971 in Minnesota rose two per cent over 1970 levels.

The highest increases were in the southeast district, including the areas around Faribault, Waseca, Owatonna, Rochester, Albert Lea and Austin, where farm land values were up five per cent.

The study also showed that urbanization is now more of a factor in rising farm land values in Minnesota than demand for agricultural land.

The study shows the sharpest land value increases from 1960 to 1970 occurred in the most urbanized districts of the state: the southeast and east central areas. In the preceding decades, from 1940 to 1950, the sharpest increases took place in the three predominantly agricultural districts—southeast, west central and northwest.

The farm land market is still determined basically by demand for a neighbor's land, researchers Philip M. Raup and Kenneth Emde pointed out in the report. In the southwest and west central agricultural districts, 76 and 74 per cent, respectively, of the farm land buyers purchased land less than 10 miles from their residence.

The study, showed two well defined areas of higher priced land. One area was centered around the Twin Cities, and the other was located in the prime farming land of south central Minnesota. Average values in both areas were well above $420 per acre.

Although farm land values in the Twin Cities metropolitan region continue to rise, the rate of increase in any specific area has not been uniform.

"Proximity to the Twin Cities is no guarantee of continuous farm land value increases," Raup stated.

For example, in one part of the Twin Cities metropolitan area, land prices varied by as much as $200 per acre within a distance of 20 miles.

Non-farm investors accounted for 36 per cent of all land sales in the Twin Cities metropolitan area during 1971. They paid 54 per cent more per acre ($1,230 to $799) in 1971 than in 1970.

Complete details of the study, broken down into six geographical districts may be obtained by writing for a free copy of "The Minnesota Rural Real Estate Market 1971," to the Department of agricultural and applied economics, University of Minnesota, St. Paul, Minn. 55101.

Mondale Asks President Nixon For Disaster Aid

West Central Minnesota farmers have lost considerably this spring as a result of wet fields.

The following is from a news release from Senator Walter F. Mondale, who with other Minnesota politicians, has been working for disaster aid for the area:

For several weeks I have been trying to help obtain disaster aid for the people in West Central Minnesota who have endured an unusually wet spring. More than 15 counties have suffered severe agricultural losses as a result of wet fields. Many farmers haven't much more than begun to plant, and most of what has been planted never came up or has been drowned out.

This is a disastrous situation for thousands of farmers. Following a season of depression-level grain prices for the 1971 crop, they are now faced with the possibility of a season with no crop at all. This would mean financial ruin for many farm families and extreme hardship for the businessmen who serve them.

In an effort to relieve the burdens being placed on these Minnesotans, I joined Congressman Bob Bergland, Senator Humphrey and several other Midwest Senators and Congressmen in a letter to Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz on June 1. We asked the Secretary to re-open the set-aside program and allow farmers in the disaster area to divert from production all the acreage the law will allow.

Because the program signup earlier this year was some 600,000 acres short of the Secretary's announced goal, we felt that this was a reasonable request. This action by the Secretary would be a very humanitarian act for the people in West Central Minnesota. Diversion payments would help pay bills or buy feed for livestock. It would also be consistent with the set-aside program objectives of reducing feed grains and wheat acreage.

We received no answer from the Agriculture Department. When more heavy rains worsened the situation, I repeated the request in a personal telegram to the Secretary. As of this writing I still have received no answer.

Meanwhile, after a comprehensive survey of the area by Jon Wefald, Minnesota's Commissioner of Agriculture, Governor Wendell Anderson asked the President to declare the region a disaster area. I wholeheartedly support the Governor's plea on behalf of the disaster victims, and have myself asked the President to take this action promptly.

Although I have still had no answer, I am hopeful that the President will recognize the severity of this and implement disaster aid promptly. Because this matter affects more than 50 per cent of Minnesota's most productive agricultural land, its outcome is extremely important to our whole state.

Free Choice Of Doctor Necessary In Health Care

Free choice of doctor is essential to patient responsibility and an effective health care system, Dr. Russell G. Stauff of St. Paul, president of the Minnesota Chiropractic Association (MCA), said yesterday.

Speaking before the annual convention of the American Chiropractic association (ACA) being held simultaneously with the MCA convention at the St. Paul Hilton Hotel, the chiropractic leader said: "Doctors of chiropractic tend to defend free choice in relation to the freedoms granted to citizens under the Bill of Rights and other documents of our democracy—but it has some other significant practical advantages. Free choice is an important factor in health education and health maintenance."

Dr. Stauff said that people who are denied choice of doctors or health care programs are not likely to develop a responsible attitude toward the use or abuse of the care they receive, because they may feel they have lost control of their health care.

"The American Medical Association would like to limit healing to AMA-controlled professions, but this does not benefit our health care system," said Dr. Stauff. "All persons, including Medicare and welfare patients, should have the right and responsibility to seek out the best care for their particular health problems. This means they should have the opportunity to have at least two informed options as to the healing method used," he said.

Dr. Stauff said the "free choice" concept, with resasonable quality controls, motivates the patient to maintain his health and gives him more confidence in the doctor of his choice.

TRFinettes Are State Champs

TRFinettes of Thief River Falls captured two first place trophies during the state convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars last weekend in International Falls.

The group of 62 girls won first place in the VFW department parade and then captured the state championship in Class B competition for drum and bugle corps. In winning the state championship they also received a championship flag which they are entitled to carry during the coming year.

Under the direction of Mrs. Richard (Gail) Bergland, the TRFinettes arrived in International Falls last Friday and competed in the color guard competition Friday night. Saturday morning they were inspected by the judges, then participated in the parade Saturday afternoon and the drum and bugle corps competition in the evening. They received their trophies following the evening competition and also won $225 in prize money for their championship showing.

Upon return to Thief River Falls on Sunday the group was met by police escort and officially welcomed by Mayor A. E. Jacobson.

Next competition for the TRFinettes will be parade competition Saturday at Fergus Falls. On July 13, 14 and 15 they will compete at Duluth in Class B drum and bugle corps completion at the American Legion department convention.

The 850 lay and ministerial delegates at the Minnesota annual conference of the United Methodist church, meeting at St. Olaf college in Northfield June 12-15, heard Bishop Paul Washburn read the apointments of ministers for the coming year.

In a total of 314 appointments to churches or parishes there were 63 ministers who were appointed for the first time or whose appointment was chaged from the previous year, and the remainder were reappointed. Among the latter was Rev. Jonathan Law of the United Methodist church of Thief River Falls. He and Mrs. Law attended the four-day conference.

Miss Klitzke Has Resigned Speech Pathology Post

Miss Carol Klitzke, speech pathologist, an employee of the Minnesota Easter Seal society assigned to Northwestern hospital in Thief River Falls, has resigned effective June 22, according to Norman Peterson, hospital administrator. Both Peterson and the Easter Seal society have expressed appreciation for Miss Klitzke's efforts in developing the speech clinic at Northwestern hospital.

Peterson indicated that speech services will continue as soon as the Easter Seal society is able to recruit a well-trained replacement. According to a spokesman for the Easter Seal society, this should be no later than August or September.

While in the clinic, Miss Klitzke provided speech and hearing services to numerous children and adults from the Thief River Falls area. Treatment included service to adult stroke patients who had lost their ability to speak as a result of the brain hemorrhage; individuals who stuttered, had speech problems relating to hearing losses or clefts of the palate; and individuals with other articulation disorders.

With the support of the Easter Seal society, services may be provided to individuals on a reduced fee or no fee basis. Service is never denied because of inability to pay.

Miss Klitzke's plans for futrure employment are uncertain at this time.

Premiums For Medicare Rise

Monthly premium under the medical insurance part of Medicare goes up to $5.80 a month starting in July. This is an increase of 20 cents a month, according to Clifford Kittelson, district manager for social security.

Beneficiaries 65 and older will find the extra 20 cents taken out of social security checks arriving about July 3. Those who mail their premiums will find the 20 cents monthly added to their premium notices.

The increasing costs of medical care made the increase necessary, he said.

Slow down and live.

Senate Candidate Gives Drug Views

(Editor's Note: U.S. Senate candidate Phil Hansen, on leave as director of a chemical dependency unit at a major hospital, is regarded as an expert on drug problems. In the following article, he proposes a new approach to chemical dependency.)

Drug abuse directly or indirectly affects every Minnesotan. Those who are fortunate enough not to be users or relatives of users, nonetheless are giving part of their tax dollars to support programs made necessary only because of the drug terror of the 70's. They may be targets of senseless crimes perpetrated by addicts, or they may be victims of traffic accidents caused by people who are under the influence of chemicals. The problem is serious enough for immediate consideration of the proposals I am advancing in this paper.

(1) Decriminalization — I advocate the decriminalization of drug use. I recommend that the law be changed so that casual users of the so-called "light drugs," such as marijuana, be required to attend drug education courses at currently existing medical facilities or treatment centers. Persons suffering from addiction should be sent to a treatment facility where professionals can help them arrest their addiction, not to prison where drugs may be available. Prison personnel should be trained in early identification of drug problems.

(2) Prison for Pushers—Present punishment for selling or "pushing" drugs is too lenient and penalties should be increased by federal law. Current use of indeterminate sentences for pushers too often result in the premature return of a pusher to society. I propose that drug pushing become a federal crime, punishable by not less than 20 nor more than 40 years in prison for a first offense. Conviction of a second offense should be punished by life in prison.

However, because of the two main types of drug pushers, careful pre-sentence investigation is essential. A user or addict who is supporting his habit by selling drugs should be sent to a treatment facility for as long a time as it takes to convince medical authorities that the problem is under control. It would be folly to send such people to a prison where, unfortunately, indications are that drugs may be more readily available than on the street.

But people who are in drug selling solely for profit must be removed from society without chance of parole until they have served a minimum of 20 years.

(3) Research and Methadone—I support President Nixon's increased funding for both treatment and research. For example, a Twin Cities facility has a grant of some $100,000 per year to support a methadone program. It is estimated that clients treated in the program would be paying collectively $25,000 per day to support heroin habits if it was not for their treatment with methadone. And you can be sure that almost every penny of that $25,000 per day would be obtained through crime.

Furthermore, these people are able to lead outwardly normal lives, working, studying and contributing to the society they might otherwise be preying upon. Methadone is under attack by some critics; but until research finds a more suitable alternative, I endorse continued governmental aid for methadone programs. While Methadone is the best available treatment for severely addicted, the goal for addicts should be a chemical-free life.

(4) Law Enforcement—One of the most productive procedures used by law enforcement to locate and apprehend major narcotics dealers is through the use of agents who infiltrate the drug subculture and are able to make purchases. However, agencies complain that they lack sufficient funds needed to expand this proven detection technique. Therefore, I support redirection of some federal funds now being spent by law agencies to use by agents for the purchase of illegal drugs as evidence for the conviction of suppliers.

At the risk of offending some civil libertarians, I advocate a lessening of certain restrictions currently hampering lawmen in making arrests of drug sellers. I stress that easing of restrictions should apply only to the apprehension of drug sellers.

I further suggest a voluntary listing of persons with drug problems whereby diagnostic treatment files may be banked and shared confidentially by treatment centers. This service is not intended to infringe on privacy but to aid in the treatment of the chemically dependent.

(5) U.S. Drug Control Agency — Currently, about 50 per cent of the legally manufactured barbituate drugs in this country wind up being sold illegally. I propose greater accountability by pharmaceutical manufacturers through a federal agency which would have as its sole responsibility the control of drug inventories. The agency would maintain complete records on the manufacture, distribution and use of every single pill produced in the U.S.

(6) Prescriptions — Limitation of prescription refills and other self policing by the medical profession is commendable and should have legal support. Therefore, I propose a program to require ~~cross~~-registration of prescriptions and refills, thereby permitting detection of abusers who get duplicate prescriptions from more than one doctor. I recommend the centralized computerization of all prescriptions for quick detection of abusers.

(7) Commitment—I support current programs for voluntary commitments for chemical dependency. I advocate the strengthening of involuntary commitment procedures for drug users too ill to help themselves by putting responsibility and authority for the procedure with public health officials rather than with policemen.

(8) Grants — I support federal grants to help educate the public and drug users, but these programs should be governed by local groups representing all areas of interest.

Minnesota leads the nation in the number of beds for the chemically dependent. In 1967 we had but five treatment centers, today we have more than 30. In addition, we have informational crisis intervention centers throughout the state. We have come a long way, but we must go even further.

Finally, I repeat that I am opposed to legalizing the sale and transfer of marijuana and any potentially dangerous drugs.

TO CUT DOWN ON YOUR LUGGAGE WHEN TRAVELING WITH INFANTS, TRY TO BRING THINGS THAT DO DOUBLE DUTY. A CAR BED, FOR INSTANCE, MAY ALSO BE USED AS A CRIB OR A RECLINING SEAT.

PULL OFF THE ROAD BEFORE TRYING TO SETTLE BACK SEAT HASSLES BETWEEN THE KIDS. WHEN YOU'RE DRIVING, YOUR EYES AND MIND SHOULD BE ON THE ROAD AND NOT ON THEM.

ONE WAY TO AMUSE AND OCCUPY THE CHILDREN IN YOUR CAR IS TO OFFER THEM A GAME OR PUZZLE THAT WILL HOLD THEIR INTEREST. MILTON BRADLEY'S NEW "CHAIN REACTION" PUZZLE IS A GOOD EXAMPLE. WITH A POLARIZED WAND PLAYERS MUST MAKE ALL ITS MAGNETIC MOLECULES FLIP OVER ON THE SAME SIDE, AND THAT'S HARD TO DO BECAUSE AS EACH MOLECULE IS MOVED SO IS ITS FORCE FIELD, WHICH TENDS TO FLIP NEIGHBORING MOLECULES WRONG-SIDE-UP.

Norwegian Unit Sets Norway Day In Minneapolis

Norwegian national league of Minneapolis will celebrate its 40th anniversary as sponsors of the annual "Norway Day" festivities on Sunday, July 9, at Minnehaba falls in Minneapolis.

There will be a religious service at 11 a.m., conducted by the Rev. Ivar Aus, formerly pastor of the Norwegian memorial church in Minneapolis, and a band concert at noon.

The afternoon program will start at 2 p.m. with a flag parade and the presentation of national colors and folk dancing by the Oslo lodge junior folkdancers.

The speaker for the day will be Dr. Gordon M. A. Mork, professor of education at the University of Minnesota. Musical entertainment will be provided.

Winners of the Norwegian national league scholarships, one to the Norwegian language camp at Bemidji and two for study at the Oslo international summer school held in Oslo, Norway, will be announced.

Cycle Visibility Is Accident Problem

Motorcycles like little children should be seen and not heard. While the problems of rattling pipes and noisy mufflers might strike some as considerable, it is the visibility problems that pose the greatest danger.

A motorcycle study conducted by a large insurance company, along with data from the company's claims files, clearly show that in 70 per cent of accidents involving automobiles and motorcycles, the auto driver simply did not see the cyclist in time to prevent the accident.

Roger H. Wingate, vice president and manager of the company's loss prevention department, explains why drivers have such difficulty seeing motorcycles. "To get a clear understanding, hold a pencil at arm's length," he said. "That pencil will now completely obscure a motorcycle approaching at a distance of 120 feet. A motorcycle travelling 30 miles per hour—will take 2.7 seconds to cover 120 feet."

The most common type of automobile motorcycle accident occurs when the two vehicles are travelling in opposite directions on the same road. The auto turns left at an intersection or into a shopping center, moving across the lane of the cyclist. The driver of the car does not see the cyclist in time to react and one more tragic highway statistic results.

One way the cyclist can help himself with the visibility problem is to use his headlight during the day as well as night. A study by the Wisconsin division of motor vehicles showed that 65 per cent of the cyclists felt that use of their headlight made them more visible in city traffic and 85 per cent felt the headlights helped in rural traffic. About 92 per cent of the auto drivers involved said motorcycle headlights helped the visibility problem in city traffic and 94 per cent said it was a definite aid to rural traffic.

Several states have already enacted legislation requiring headlight usage by motorcycles during daylight hours and many others are likely to follow suit.

Motorcycling has caught on in the United States, both as a means of inexpensive transportation and as a form of recreation and sport. While auto registrations have increased about 35 per cent in the last decade, motorcycle registrations have soared by more than 250 per cent.

Today motorcycles represent slightly more than two per cent of all motor vehicles registered. They account for only one per cent of all traffic accidents. Yet, due largely to the lack of protection for riders, they represent close to three per cent of all highway fatalities. Motorcycle accidents number among the worst in terms of severity.

Solving the automobile-motorcycle safety problem has to be a two-way street. It requires an equal degree of safety awareness and decision driving on the part of the auto driver as well as the cyclist.

For his own sake, the automobile driver must respect a motorcycle as he would any other motor vehicle. He must allow proper following distance and not attempt to pass the cyclist on a single lane road where passing is not allowed. The car driver should be especially careful about making any turns across the oncoming lane of traffic.

There are a good number of precautions a cyclist can take for his own protection. He can make himself more visible at all times by using his headlight. He can wear fluorescent protective gear during the day and reflectorized clothing and accessories for night driving.

The smart cyclist will handle his vehicle much like an automobile in some respects, especially by holding his own lane instead of weaving in and out of traffic. To save his life and that of his passenger, he should exercise special caution at intersections.

A cyclist should ride just slightly to the left of center in his lane for two reasons. First, an oily residue tends to build up in the center of each lane. Second, he will be more visible in the side mirror to the car in front of him.

The smart cyclists—like the smart child—will be seen and not heard for his own sake.

U of M Marching Band Will Add Women Members

For the first time since World War II the University of Minnesota marching band will admit women to its ranks.

However, questions such as how many women will join the band and what will be the selection criteria remain open while administrators discuss the financial problems of the new arrangement.

"We're pleased something's been done but we're distrubed that it took such an inordiante amount of time," said Beryl Blaustone, a member of the commission on the status of women students (CSWS). The commission began last fall to demand that the marching band be integrated and hoped that the recruiting of women could begin this spring.

CSWS had argued that the all-male band violated the university's own equal opportunity policy and its compliance with department of health, education and welfare regulations for recipients of federal funds. The group also argued that since the band program receives student fee support, no part of the band organization should be closed to any student who wants to apply.

"Our approach to the administration last fall was that there's no case for argument on the question, only a case for implementation," Miss Blaustone added.

William G. Shepherd, vice president for academic administration, said he strongly supports admitting women to the band but he pointed out that there is a need for additional equipment and some modification of facilities before women join.

Frank A. Bencriscutto, professor of music and director of university bands, said the all-male marching band's national reputation for music and marching can continue with proper support for the integrated band.

Bencriscutto added the after the financial questions are resolved he can begin planning what direction the integrated marching band will take. The band, which had 225 members last year, plays during the fall football season and occasionally at convocations.

The marching band was the only part of the band program which was restricted to males.

"We have about 200 women involved in our other band programs," Bencriscutto said, citing the pep band and five concert bands.

Fireworks Are Dangerous As Well As Illegal

Minnesotans were reminded today that the Fourth of July type fireworks are not only highly dangerous, but against the law in the hands of unauthorized individuals.

State fire marshal Eugene L. Weber pointed out that only public fireworks displays handled by experienced and competent operators, are allowed in Minnesota, subject to official permits issued by municipalities or counties.

"Otherwise," he explained, "the law forbids the sale or use of any fireworks, including firecrackers, torpedoes, skyrockets, Roman candles, daygo bombs, sparklers or any other devices commonly known as fireworks."

He added a word of warning to any Minnesotans who might be tempted to go outside the state for supplies of fireworks. "Not only is the interstate transportation of fireworks prohibited by federal law, but transportation of such materials at all is highly dangerous.

"There have been a number of terrible accidents resulting from transportation of fireworks by persons untrained in handling explosives. Every year, it is estimated by the national safety council, more than 5,000 persons are injured by fireworks, some of them fatally. There are some popular misconceptions about fireworks. Many people think that the smaller devices are harmless, but the fact is that even the sparkler can inflict serious injury. It develops heat up to 2,000 degrees, and, with the class C firecracker, is among the worst offenders."

The state law regulating fireworks is no spoilsport's invention for those wishing to celebrate Independence Day, he pointed out. "It permits community displays under proper auspices with trained operators to handle the pyrotechnics."

Unemployment Rate Up To 6.1 Per Cent

Minnesota's seasonally adjusted unemployment rate for May increased to 6.1 per cent from 5.8 per cent in April, Commissioner Emmet J. Cushing of the Minnesota department of manpower services announced today. A year ago the seasonally adjusted unemployment rate was 5.8 per cent.

The total number of unemployed in Minnesota was 101,400—down 10,600 from April, but up 5,600 from a year ago. The national seasonally adjusted unemployment rate was 5.9 per cent in May, the same rate as in April, but 0.3 of a percentage point less than one year ago.

Nonagricultural wage and salary employment, totaling 1,330,000 in May, rose by 20,800 from April. The increase was concentrated in the nonmanufacturing industries. Manufacturing employment in May also was higher than in April.

For the state, the seasonally adjusted unemployment rate was one percentage point above the January level. During this same period, the level of unemployment in the Minneapolis - St. Paul standard metropolitan statistical area remained relatively stable and well below that of 1971, Cushing said. Throughout the rest of the state, however, unemployment has increased continuously to a level substantially above that of 1971.

The Department of Manpower Services identifies four components in their estimate of total unemployment: those receiving regular unemployment insurance benefits, those who have exhausted regular benefits but remain unemployed, unemployed new entrants and reentrants into the work force, and the unemployed with recent work experience but who were not covered by unemployment insurance.

Cushing noted that, since May of 1971, each of these groups experienced increases in unemployment, except for the group currently receiving regular benefits. The number collecting regular benefits declined by about four per cent.

Since May of 1971, notable changes have taken place in the characteristics of those drawing regular unemployment insurance benefits. For example, the percentage of those who have collected 15 or more weeks of benefits increased to 43.6 per cent in May, compared with 38.6 per cent in May 1971. Also, claims related to manufacturing industries declined by 11.1 per cent from a year ago. Within manufacturing, claims from the food and kindred products and the transportation equipment industries increased. Most layoffs in these two industries were outside the Minneapolis - St. Paul statistical area.

Outside of manufacturing, increases in the number of claims were primarily related to mining, construction and trade industries. These claims also were concentrated outside the Minneapolis - St. Paul statistical area.

After adjusting for normal seasonal changes, the number of regular benefit claimants increased by 16 per cent from April to May. The most substantial portion of this increase came from claims related to the mining, construction and trade industries, Cushing said. Also, the number of male claimants did not decline at the normally expected rate.

Increases of 6,700 jobs in the construction and 4,400 in the trade sector were responsible for most of the increase in nonmanufacturing employment. The construction upswing was primarily attributable to increased employment in highway, street and other heavy construction. About 86 per cent of the gain in jobs in trade was centered in the retail sector, as increased employment in eating and drinking places mainly contributed to the upturn.

Manufacturing employment in May recorded an over - the - month rise of 1,700, with jobs in the durable goods sector increasing by 2,300, while the nondurable goods industry posted a slight decrease.

Compared with May of 1971, nonfarm wage and salary employment advanced 24,100 or by 1.8 per cent. About 86 per cent of this increase occurred in nonmanufacturing industries. Manufacturing employment was up 3,400.

The greatest increase in nonmanufacturing employment was in the government sector—up 11,400 from May of 1971—due primarily to additional hiring by local units. Trade posted an increase of 6,100 workers, 4,300 of whom were in the retail sector.

Most of the increase in manufacturing employment was in the durable goods category, with moderate gains reported in nonelectrical machinery (1,500), lumber and wood products (1,300), and fabricated metals (1,000).

Production workers in the manufacturing industries earned an average of $160 per week in May for working an average of 40 hours at $4 per hour. Average weekly earnings declined by $2.51 from April, stemming from a decrease of 36 minutes in the workweek. Average weekly earnings advanced $9.54 from May 1971.

3M Stock Has Seventh Split

More than 22,000 Minnesota residents are among 109,000 3M stockholders who are recieving certificates this month for more than 56 million shares of 3M company stock.

The mailing is the result of a two-for-one split approved at the firm's annual meeting May 9. The present stock split is the seventh in 3M's 70-year history since the company's founding in 1902 at Two Harbors.

It raises to 384 the number of shares resulting from each share held prior to 1920. Two-for-one splits occurred in 1920, 1922, 1945 and 1956. A four-for-one split took place in 1951 and a three-for-one split in 1960.

First Trust company of St. Paul, as transfer agent for 3M, hired 75 extra employees who worked around the clock in crews of 25 for nearly three weeks to process the more than 230,000 stock certificates which were sent to stockholders.

Vehicle Sales Tax Produces $8.9 Million

Motor vehicle division of the Minnesota department of public safety collected nearly $8.9 million in sales taxes during the first five months of this year. About one-third of this amount was on the casual sales (between individuals) of used cars, trucks and trailers. The rest was on dealer sales of new and used vehicles. Collections are turned over to the department of taxation.

Prior to this year, casual sales were not taxed, and taxes were collected on dealer sales by the department of taxation. The 1971 legislature imposed the tax on casual sales and assigned the collection job to the motor vehicle division.

Buyers of vehicles from private individuals are required to complete a form certifying the price paid and remit the four per cent tax at the time the application for transfer is made. If payment is in the form of labor or other non-cash consideration, or if the vehicle is a gift, the purchaser pays a tax based on the market value of the vehicle.

Not taxed are gifts between husband and wife or parent and child, vehicles acquired by inheritance or bequest, and vehicles transferred from joint ownership to one of the joint owners.

The purchaser of a vehicle registered in another state which collects a sales tax on the transaction can apply for credit in Minnesota for the amount of the tax paid up to four per cent. If the tax in the other state is less than four per cent, he must pay the difference in Minnesota.

To summarize, the following actions must be completed when a vehicle is transferred from one owner to another:

(1) Both buyer and the seller must complete the reverse side of the registration card and have their signatures witnessed by a notary public.

(2) The buyer must complete motor vehicle purchaser's certificate. (notarizaton is not required).

(3) Deputy registrars will accept applications and taxes, and will assist buyers in completeing forms. Or applications and tax payments can be sent to the Motor Vehicle Division, Highway Building, St. Paul 55155.

The number of dairy cows in the United States has decreased 38 per cent to 12.4 million since 1957. However, the dairy cows of today produce almost 50 per cent more milk than their sisters did in 1957.

When the big wheel turns clockwise, the little wheel turns counter-clockwise at a greater rate of speed. Thus man controls energy in the physical universe, determining, according to his own will, its direction and effect.

There is a spiritual universe, too. A world in which God, who gave us freedom of will, provides the guidance, help and inspiration which unite our minds with His for purposes which are GOOD.

We realize with trembling in this nuclear age that the physical and spiritual universe are not two—but ONE. We cannot live in the one and forget the other. For the world we know will perish unless man's spiritual vision governs his use of the energy he controls.

Wise and reverent minds have always known this. That is why we have CHURCHES . . . why we share their Life and Work with one another.

Decisions Made

Within the past week a number of decisions have been made within the area political realm and the election picture for this fall comes more clearly into focus. Endorsements by the District 1 DFL and announcement by incumbent legislators were among the actions taken.

Rep. Richard Fitzsimons of Warren, among the most influential men in the House of Representatives as chairman of the appropriations committee, has announced that he will seek the state Senate seat vacated by Sen. Donald Sinclair of Stephen. The move comes as a surprise to some, for Fitzsimons leaves a relatively secure position of political power when he seeks a new office.

But Fitzsimons is no stranger to the world of the legislature, and we are sure he has assessed the situation thoroughly before making his announcement. If elected to the Senate, he will have more legislative experience than any of the incumbent senators who could be reelected this year. It is believed that this situation is unprecedented in the state senate and should give the veteran legislator good basis for important committee assignments.

Fitzsimons' decision clears the way for Rep. Andrew Skaar, Thief River Falls, who was tossed into the same district as Rep. Fitzsimons through reapportionment of the state by a court panel. Skaar has announced his candidacy for reelection to the House, where he has gained valuable experience and seniority in the past 10 years.

Opposition for the present legislators has also been assured with endorsement given by the district DFL to several candidates. Facing Rep. Fitzsimons for the senate post will be John Corbid of Oklee, Red Lake county DFL chairman and teacher in the Oklee school system. Rep. Skaar will likely be matched against Dean Vatthauer of rural Red Lake Falls. Vatthauer was endorsed by the DFL but asked for time to reach a decision on his candidacy and at this writing had not made a definite commitment.

Since the reapportionment panel saw fit to split this district from east to west through the middle of Marshall county—instead of north and south as it was previously—the north half of the district has no incumbent legislators. This leaves District 1A open to all comers, and interest has reportedly been fairly high.

The DFL last week endorsed Art Braun, Greenbush implement dealer, for the House from District 1A. We have heard several other names mentioned in passing, primarily from the Roseau community, but know of no definite candidates yet.

With the decisions already made, however, politics in the area can get a good start toward the November elections.

Shed A Tear . . .

Following is from a column by Rus Walton in the Independent Journal of San Rafael, Calif.:

Weep, good friends. Shed your tears for young Jeff Adams, of Springfield, Ore.

He was 16 and full of life and laughter and all the things boys are full of at that very magical age.

But there is no more laughter in Jeff Adams—and no more life.

He was killed instantly last week. Hit by a vagrant bullet during a gun fight between the Springfield police and a cheap hood from California. Jeff and his dad were driving along when a slug slammed through their car door and his life was over.

"Why," You may ask, "why should we shed a tear for Jeff Adams?"

I will tell you why.

Because we helped kill Jeff Adams. By proxy. Through government.

You see, Charles Hein, the 30-year-old hood who was fighting it out with the police in that Oregon gun battle, should not have been in Springfield. He should have been sitting in a cell back in San Quentin.

Charles Hein had been convicted of murder and sentenced to life imprisonment. But he was not in prison.

Under the soft-headed policies of the California authorities he was about to be paroled and so he had been given a 24-hour pass to look for work on the outside. Sort of a preliminary life-adjustment trip.

Well, Hein never went looking for a job. With his 20-year-old brother, Mel, he took off for Oregon. That is where law enforcement agencies finally caught up with him. And that is where the stray bullet caught up with young Jeff Adams.

This is not the first time the addlepated policies of our correctional system have resulted in the death of an innocent victim.

Not too long ago a young Orange County high school teacher was raped and murdered by two convicts out on a 52-hour pass.

Not too long ago, a 26-year-old Los Angeles police officer was shot down by a convict out on a 72-hour pass.

Not too long ago an inmate out on a 72-hour pass from the correctional institution of Chico beat and raped the wife of a prison guard.

Bleeding hearts will tell you that the parole and probation system works fairly well; that these incidents were unfortunate mistakes. Well, we are sick of burying their mistakes.

The first—the real—purpose of government is to protect its citizens from their enemies, within and without.

And, the first—the foremost—purpose of prisons (or, correctional institutions, if that suits your fancy) is to protect the lawabiding from those who have violated the law. After that comes punishment. After that comes rehabilitation. We need certain reforms in the prison system. You bet. Fair, firm, humane reforms—not those reforms which would risk the lives and well-being of the citizenry.

But, bleeding hearts have a way of making the most noise and wishy-washy politicians have a way of reacting to their pressures. And so it is, in this enlightened age, that the young Jeff Adams of this world must pay for the mistakes of the do-gooders and the gutless.

It's not enough for some parole officer to say, "I guess I goofed on Charles Hein." It's not enough for the Adult Authority to say, "Gosh, we're sorry." Tell that to Jeff Adams' mother.

Last year 30 per cent of those arrested for felonies in this state were already on parole or probation for prior felony convictions.

The prison officials boast that the California prison population is going down (while the crime rate for felonies is going up). Well, Charles Hein's cell was empty for a while last week—and Jeff Adams' bed is empty forever.

Hoods And Horses

Following editorial is from the Fergus Falls Journal:

Horse racing, in every state where it has been legalized, is sanctioned by state governments. State racing commissions issue licenses for construction and operation of race tracks and have an obligation to require standards of performance and integrity from licensees. Governors have a responsibility to insist on strict enforcement of racing laws enacted by legislatures.

Thus the allegations of fraud perpetrated against racing fans over a period of 18 months in 41 races at 12 tracks in nine states, is indeed rather startling. An investigator for the Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau, a private organization that provides security services for race tracks in all parts of the country, has testified in Washington before the House Select Committee on Crime that ringers (horses fraudulently substituted for other horses in races) were run in those 41 racse without detection by track authorities.

Then this week a confessed gambler told the committee how he and his colleagues fixed races at virtually every major race track in the East by drugging the horses he wanted to lose and betting on the others.

The Thoroughbred Bureau investigator was asked at the House hearings if organized crime was involved in running ringers; and he said, "Most definitely. The whole thread is organized crime because the money is there." The confessed gambler said that his crew cooperated with organized crime leaders in New York and Boston obeyed their oders to stay away from three tracks because they had their own fixers working there.

We bring this up because the possibility of legalizing horse racing came up for serious consideration during the last session of the Minnesota Legislature. It didn't come close to becoming reality, but the subject is sure to come up again during the next session, when legislators start looking around for more money to satisfy the ever-increasing financial demands of state government.

We favored legalizing horse racing when it came up during the last session. Our thought was that stringent state control would keep out undesirable elements. Now, after reading about the problems other states are having, we are willing to change our minds. It appears that money and betting combine to be irresistible in attracting unsavory characters who are dedicated to cheating and corrupting. Evidently state officials cannot stay ahead of crooks who are willing to go to almost any length to bilk people out of some dollars.

Questions and Answers

Internal Revenue Service

Q—What happens if a firm fails to file a required report with the price commission or is late in filing?

A—New price commission regulations provide the following administrative penalties for persons who have not complied with reporting requirements:

(1) the implementation of future price increases is prohibited;

(2) action on all pending requests for price increases or exceptions is suspended;

(3) the Commission may order such a person to reduce prices when appropriate under the circumstances; and

(4) each day a person fails to comply with the reporting requirements is a separate violation.

Q—May an attorney who charged a percentage contingent fee (such as 25 per cent of the amount recovered) for a particular service during the freeze base period continue to charge the same percentage fee for the same service, even though the dollar recovery may vary from case to case?

A—Yes. The attorney's percentage fee during the freeze base period is his base price.

Q—If a landlord agrees to accept less rent than provided for in the lease, is the base rent the amount paid or the amount in the lease?

A—The amount actually paid by the tenant should be used to determine base rent, regardless of what the amount provided in the lease is.

Q—Can a private nonprofit university increase its monthly charge for student housing without regard to rent controls?

A—Yes. Fees and charges by private schools not operated for profit are exempt from controls provided that they do not result in income subject to tax as unrelated business taxable income under the internal revenue code. Charges for housing which a nonprofit school provides for its students is not unrelated business taxable income under the tax laws and thus is exempt from controls.

Q—When does a health service provider have to prenotify or report to the price commission?

A—An institutional or noninstitutional provider of health services must prenotify and report to the price commission if it has annual sales or revenues of $10 million or more. A health service provider is subject to Tier II reporting requirements if it has annual sales or revenues from $5 million to $10 million. All other health service providers do not have to report or prenotify, but are subject to monitoring and spot checks by the internal revenue service.

Q—Can I give a supervisor in my firm a 10 per cent pay increase provided it was within an annual aggregate of 5.5 per cent for all of my employees?

A—The supervisor could conceivably receive a 10 per cent increase. However, the determining factor is not whether the aggregate for all the employees in your business is 5.5 per cent, but rather that the aggregate for the employee unit in which the supervisor finds himself is not above 5.5 per cent.

The appropriate employee unit for the measurement of changes in wage and salary levels is a group composed of employees in a bargaining unit or recognized employee categories in a plant or other establishment or in a department of the firm or in a company or in an industry, as best adapted to preserve contractual or historical relationships.

Crew Preparing Fire Test Saves Pilot Of Crashed Jet

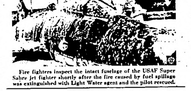
Within seconds after a USAF Super Sabre jet fighter crash landing, a fire truck responded and secured a fire caused by the jet's fuel spillage.

SUFFOLK, ENGLAND — A U.S. Air Force pilot may owe his life to the fact that his jet fighter aircraft crash-landed near a demonstration site for a new fluoro-chemical fire fighting agent.

Captain Richard C. Ames, 27, of Sacramento, California, was returning to his temporary duty station at an air base here when his F-100 Super Sabre jet, carrying approximately 900 gallons of fuel, crashed and caught fire. Only a few hundred yards away, a crew was preparing to conduct a test of a fire fighting foam for military officials.

Almost as soon as the plane came to rest, the fire crew in a test truck used its Light Water aqueous film forming foam (a 3M product for the quick extinguishment of petroleum based fires) to cut a knock-down path to the cockpit within five seconds. Ten seconds later, following several sweeps of the vehicle's foam-spewing turret, the fire was 95 per cent extinguished and the pilot had been rescued. The incident occurred at RAF Station Mildenhall near Suffolk.

Derrick E. Carter, chemical products national sales manager of 3M Company UK, commented: "Light Water agent could not have had a better opportunity to prove itself. I estimate that the fire was extinguished with less than 50 gallons. It is likely that without this foam the pilot could have been killed."



Fire fighters inspect the intact fuselage of the USAF Super Sabre jet fighter shortly after the fire caused by fuel spillage was extinguished with Light Water agent and the pilot rescued.

Anyone who has traveled on highway 169 between the Twin Cities and Mille Lacs Lake is well aware of the Rum river, in that the road crosses it at least a half dozen times. What they may be unaware of is that the Rum is one of Minnesota's finest canoe rivers.

The river's name originally was Wakan, or "fire Water," later perverted by white men to "Rum" and adopted by the Ojibways.

From its beginning at Mille Lacs lake, the river maintains a scenic, northwoods character that changes very little, even to where it empties into the Mississippi at Anoka. Metro area residents are thus afforded an opportunity for a wilderness-like weekend without having to drove for a half day.

From Princeton, the Rum river has been developed for canoeists in "Voyageur Trails," a book of 16 rivers mapped by the department of natural resources and available for $2 from the Documents Section, 140 Centennial Bldg., St. Paul, Minnesota, 55101.

The route between Princeton and Cambridge is particularly scenic as the river flowes through heavily wooded country where wildlife of all kinds can be seen, such as near the Spectacle Lake wildlife management area.

Even in the more populated section of the river between Cambridge and Anoka, homes and cottages are well concealed in the lush trees and foliage which still provide cover for ducks, herons and sandbirds.

Natural campsites abound in the form of numerous sandy islands and the sandy deltas of streams and brooks flowing into the Rum. In the 70 mile trip from Princeton, only one portage is necessary at St. Francis.

In some areas, the canoeist will encounter rocks although rapids, as such, are not to be found. Rocks are mostly a nuisance, however, in times of low water and are easily avoided. Even if the craft gets hung up on one, the water is usually shallow enough to allow one to jump out and shove the canoe away—if such action is necessary at all.

If you want an economical, family-sized outing to test your preference for canoeing, the lovely Rum river is made for you. Try it out this summer.

The American Conscience

by Dr. RUDY SKOGERBOE

The DFL at its State Convention last week has produced a set of resolutions that is simply unbelievable. It is unbelievable because I have many friends who belong to the Democrat Party who not only are against such things, but who wouldn't even think of them. I am not referring to increased welfare programs which are already greater than we can afford. I am not referring to anti war measures that might be controversial. I am referring to something so far out that unless it were printed in plain English, I would have said it was not true. However a majority of the delegates to the DFL State Convention this year passed the following resolutions:

1. Unconditional amnesty for draft evaders. This is a back handed way of proclaiming loyalty to some other country than the U.S. Now the DFL is a part of the American scene and one would think it would remain loyal to the U.S. We are still at war even if it is undeclared.

2. Legalization of the sale and use of marijuana. Industry and the professions exclude those who use the drug. The resolution has officially declared that it is all right to use something that is potentially harmful. It is something that makes it impossible for its users to obtain responsible jobs. Research is going on in the field of the drug culture and marijuana in particular. The preliminary reports are that it is unsafe for habitual use. It is unpredictable and can cause damage to the brain. The resolution says this is all right.

3. Full civil rights for homosexuals, including same-sex marriages. Again industry and the professions exclude overt homosexuals. This type of homosexual is beyond illness and in the opinion of many psychiatric experts, quite incurable. The DFL has by this action put its sanction on the reprobate part of "Gay Society". This is absolutely unchristian and thus totally unacceptable in a nation "Under God". It doesn't make sense to encourage sin by making it legal.

It would seem to me that events such as this would be enough to make people realize what is happening. Now this was not a lunatic fringe of the DFL that did this. It was a majority of the delegates! I have repeatedly stated that all a society has to do to go bad is for the working responsible people to do nothing. By default, then, delegates came to precinct caucuses and took over enough strength to make such a spectacle possible. It is a sobering and a frightening picture.

We can be thankful that [illegible] Humphrey and the 7th District Delegation were against these resolutions. The decision now is up to the delegates whether the standard bearer of this new group will get the nomination in Miami. It is up to the Democrats to decide if they want Sen. McGovern who is represented by this radical group or whether they have enough strength left to defeat him.

Next week the Republicans meet and will face similar testing. We will have to wait and see if both parties can be sabotaged in the same year.

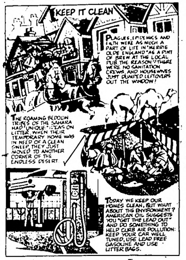
GET THE LEAD OUT



KEEP IT CLEAN
PLAGUES, EPIDEMICS AND FILTH WERE AS MUCH A PART OF LIFE IN "MERRIE OLDE ENGLAND" AS A PINT OF BREW AT THE LOCAL PUB. THE REASON? THERE WERE NO SANITATION CREWS, AND HOUSEWIVES JUST DUMPED LEFTOVERS OUT THE WINDOW!
THE ROAMING BEDOUIN TRIBES OF THE SAHARA HAD "UNIQUE" IDEAS ON LITTER. WHEN THEIR TEMPORARY HOME WAS IN NEED OF A CLEAN SWEEP, THEY JUST MOVED TO ANOTHER CORNER OF THE ENDLESS DESERT.
TODAY WE KEEP OUR HOMES CLEAN, BUT WHAT ABOUT THE ENVIRONMENT? AMERICAN OIL SUGGESTS YOU "GET THE LEAD OUT" AND DO SOMETHING TO HELP CURB AIR POLLUTION: KEEP YOUR CAR WELL TUNED, USE LEAD FREE GASOLINE AND USE LITTER BAGS.

Lip Curbs Are Removed By Highway Dep't.

Lip curb sections totaling more than 414,420 linear feet on 124.5 route miles of Minnesota trunk highways will be removed in projects underway or scheduled to be contracted this summer.

The extent of the safety improvement work was reported by state highway commissioner Ray Lappegaard who explained that less than 575,00 linear feet of lip curb remained to be removed at the beginning of the year. In 1965, there were some 1,485 miles of narrow concrete pavements with lip curbing but a continuing program to remove them gives expectation to their elimination on trunk highways in the near future.

A feature of pavements built in the late 20's and early 30's, the lip curb served to control the water flow on curves and hills. With wider vehicles, higher speeds and greater traffic volumes, the curbed edging became a hazard often causing a car to lurch when driven against it. Maintenance of gravel shoulders, keeping them level to the lip elevation behind the curb, is difficult because of the impact of large commercial vehicles "overriding" the pavement edge, highway engineers explained.

Utilization of detonating cord to blast the raised edge from the pavement, a method begun two years ago, is expediting the lip curb removal program.

Formerly, jackhammers were used. Elimination of lip curb on both sides of a given section widens the roadway by 16 inches, a major improvement on pavements of 20 to 22 feet.

Locations of lip curb and drain basin removal projects which are under contract currently include the 12 miles of TH 79 between Elbow Lake and Evansville, nearly nine miles of TH 14 from Byron to Havana, and sections of TH 75 in and north of Breckenridge.

Scheduled for bid letting by late summer is lip curb removal on more than 100 route miles of pavement. Longest project sections are 25.5 miles on TH 19, from Redwood Falls westward, and 17 miles on TH 212, west of Danube.

Minn. State Fair Horse Show Has $45,000 Prizes

Twelve different breeds of horses competing for $45,000 in premiums will be the principal attraction at English and Western Horse Shows during the 1972 Minnesota State Fair, Aug. 25 through Sept. 4.

Saddlebreds, Thoroughbreds, Hackney and Shetland ponies, Percherons, Belgians and Clyesdales will be exhibited in the English division, Aug. 25 through 30. Arabian, Morgan, Palomino, Apaloosa and Quarter horses will compete in western-style events, Sept. 1 through 4. More than 1,000 exhibitors with 2,000 horses are expected to participate in the shoes.

Featured at all horse shoes will be the Foxfield Equestrian Team from Westlake Village, California. The team is a 16-horse, precision jumping and dressage unit ridden without the aid of saddle and bridle by riders who range in age from 9 to 18 years. They have performed at New York's Madison Square Garden, the Los Angeles Forum and the Hollywood Park race track.

Rounding out the State Fair's Hippodrome program are three complete championship rodeos scheduled for Thursday afternoon and evening, Aug. 31, and Friday afternoon, Sept. 1.

Tickets for all events are priced $2.50, $2 and $1.50 and may be ordered by writing Minnesota State Fair in St. Paul. The zip code is 55108. Tickets may be ordered by telephone through 612-645-2782.
